OUR CITY RAILWAY.

To read the newspapers one would think our public corporations are regular pirates. One would think that the heads of institutions think all day long and dream all night long how they can skin both city and people. Now the writer has always paid gas bills, water bills, electric bills, telephone bills and all the rest of them and sometimes they have seemed a little steep to be sure. In several instances there have come up differences, but instead of howling about it we just went to the head of the department or corporation and in every case the treatment received was most courteous and there has not been a single instance where the difference was not adjusted in a way entirely satisfactory. The writer of these lines believes that if one does the right thing there is not a public corporation in the city of Des Moines but what will treat him right. It takes big men to head big institutions and we believe that Des Moines has only that kind almost without exception.

A STEADY SUBSCRIBER.

How dear to our heart is the steady subscriber Who pays in advance at this time of each year; Who lays down the money and does it quite gladly, And casts 'round the office a halo of cheer. He never says—"Stop it, I cannot afford it— I'm getting more papers now than I can read"; But always says—"Send it; our people all like it— In fact we all think it a help and a need."

How welcome this when it reaches our sanctum, How it makes our pulse throb— how it makes our heart dance; We outwardly thank him; we inwardly bless him! The steady subscriber who pays in advance.

The above is a clipping from the Central Afro-American, St. Louis, Mo. We hope that all of our subscribers will heed this and pay up. Next week we will begin the city collection, so all please be ready to pay on the first call.

WASHINGTON, IOWA, NOTES.

Mr. George W. Black, a resident of Washington since 1866, died very suddenly Thursday a. m. September 17th, at 12:45 o'clock at his home on S. Avenue B. He had started to mow the lawn during the early morning and came into the house complaining of a very severe headache. He had gone into the bedroom, thinking that a little rest would help him, but before he could reach the bed he was suddenly stricken with what seemed to be paralysis and sank to the floor, unconscious, and remained so until death claimed him. Grandpa Black, as we knew him, for years had been a familiar person about Washington, enjoyed an excellent reputation and an unspotted character. He followed the barber trade during his residence here and his steady, industrious attention to his work always kept him a good line of regular trade. He was born in Uniontown, Pa., in 1834, May 21. Came to Iowa in 1855 and to Washington in 1856, and resided here since, with the exception of a few years' residence in Des Moines and Oskaloosa. He was twice married, first to Miss Sarah Flowers, before coming to Iowa, who died in this city in 1888; second, to Miss Emma Buckner of Oskaloosa, January 8, 1891, who, with the daughter, Ruth L., and Mrs. Miles Shelton of Chicago of the first union, survive. N. L. Black of this city is a grandson of the deceased, and Mrs. Lewis Wallace of Allegheny, Pa., is a sister. Deceased had a distinctive war record. He enlisted here first with the 25th Iowa infantry and was with them for about a year, when sickness compelled him to return home. He later helped to organize a colored regiment and he held the rank of orderly sergeant with this regiment till the close of the war. He was a member of the I. G. White post, G. A. R., and was well versed in Masonry. He was also one of the charter members of the A. M. E. church of this city and was always active in the work of that institution, being a steward, local preacher, class leader and secretary of the board at the time of his demise. His friends were legion, which bespeaks for his inestimable character. The funeral was held Sabbath afternoon from the A. M. E. church at 2 o'clock. The service was conducted by the Revs. W. G. Thorne, D. I. Coon and W. R. Sawhill. Music furnished by the choir. Interment in city cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. C. W. Turner, Henry Campbell, A. L. Hall, T. L. Burnett, Frank Walker and Jas. Reed. Floral tributes were bountiful. Jackson and son, Arthur, of Cedar Rapids, Mr. Chas. Buckner of Des Moines, Mrs. Wesley Jones, Mrs. Henry Hockley, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Jeffers and daughters, Faye and Grace, of Oskaloosa, Mrs. J. H.
