

Daily Globe.

BY H. P. HALL. NO. 17, WABASHAW STREET, ST. PAUL. Terms of Subscription to the Daily Globe. By Carrier, per month, 25c; By Mail, per month, 30c; 3 months, $1.00; 6 months, $1.80; 12 months, $3.00.

THE WEEKLY GLOBE. The Weekly Globe is a mammoth sheet, exactly double the size of the Daily. It is just the paper for the freholder, containing in addition to all the current news, choice miscellany, agricultural matter, market reports, etc.

Daily Globe Advertising Rates. Fourth Page 5 cents per line every insertion. Third Page 6 cents per line for the first week. All subsequent insertions 4 cents per line.

The Winona Republican thinks it will be very difficult to make the Globe a success. The able editor of that affair is a post master.

The Globe greets its journalistic brethren with hearty good will and wishes them one and all that measure of success and prosperity which it expects to attain and deserve for itself.

When the Presidential contest was in doubt and Bill Chandler was down in Florida aiding in stealing the electoral vote of that State, he was spoken of in the most respectful terms by the republican papers as Hon. Wm. E. Chandler. Now they style him Bilco Chandler.

The Globe was probably launched more rapidly than any other first-class journal on record. The Associated Press franchise was not secured until late on Thursday.

The un wisdom of the biennial sessions is made painfully apparent at the very threshold of its inauguration. It is customary to divide the Governor's message and refer it to appropriate legislative committees.

The fact that three prominent Life Insurance officials have been sent to the penitentiary in New York, renders the subject of annual statements a very serious matter.

The message of the Governor of Ohio made two newspaper columns, and that of the Governor of New York four columns.

The entire absence of vital principles in the Republican party is sadly manifest by the plaintive wail uttered by the Chicago Tribune in behalf of Mr. Hayes.

BEFORE THE PUBLIC. The Globe makes its morning bow to the public to-day, and, without further ceremony enters upon the fulfillment of its mission.

But for the expense of obtaining a franchise in the Western Associated Press (with which no journal worthy the name of newspaper can survive) a second morning paper would have long since made its appearance.

THE GLOBE will be a first-class journal in all its departments. It will be a first-class journal in all its departments. It will be a first-class journal in all its departments.

THE GLOBE will be a first-class journal in all its departments. It will be a first-class journal in all its departments. It will be a first-class journal in all its departments.

It will give great attention to the Markets and to Commercial matter generally, and will furnish the news of the world in such condensed and attractive form that the business men will be able to keep fully posted upon current events.

THE GLOBE publishes this morning the somewhat remarkable manifesto recently issued by Bill Chandler of New Hampshire. We publish this not as news, but as history.

MINNEAPOLIS NEWS

Star Lodge A. O. U. W. will install officers this evening. Hook and Ladder Company No. 2, give a ball at their house to-morrow evening.

The Minnesota Board of Trade met and adjourned yesterday, there not being a quorum present. During Sheriff Thompson's absence at the Hot Springs his efficient deputy, James Stoddard, will officiate.

The Board of Trade will try it again to-morrow morning, at which time officers for 1878 will be elected. A ten-pound boy is the latest person "taken up" by Deputy Sheriff Stoddard.

One of the employees of the M. & St. L. Railroad, had a foot severely crushed at the round house on Sunday. Justus Bragg, a former well-known citizen of Minneapolis, now doing a rushing business in Bismarck, is visiting friends in this city.

Wendell Phillips lectures on Daniel O'Connell at Association Hall on Saturday night. Positively his last appearance before the public in Minneapolis. Four hundred and fifty members of the the Firmans' Life Association, during two years, the first day of January, have paid losses aggregating $2,211.

Grand Chancellor Knights of Pythias, Dr. A. A. Ames, will go to Faribault on Wednesday next, to institute a new lodge of the order in that city. Judging by the results of the pertume the use of the Iowa soft coal in the Milwaukee depot is not an entire success.

A little daughter of John Monahan, residing on South Eighth street, fell down stairs yesterday and was injured seriously, but not fatally. Willis Young, aged 15, was sent to the Reform School, and John Hundersdott, aged 18, was given 30 days in jail by Judge Cooley for stealing skates from the Skating rink.

The case of the State vs. Stevens drags its slow length along at the District Court. It is rather an expensive luxury to the county to undertake to establish the character of citizen Edwards. The ice-packers are cutting away, but find the julp-mattress a little attenuated yet for good solid work.

Over 78,000 bushels of wheat was purchased on the various lines of the Milwaukee road, west of the Mississippi river, on Saturday last, the heaviest transactions during the winter thus far. The Board of Trade is an applicant for the use of the room formerly occupied by Long & Haglin, in City Hall.

The Council committees on claims, roads and bridges, and public grounds and buildings were in session yesterday at the City Hall, preparing reports for the meeting of the Council on Wednesday night next. It is just now reported that a well-known man from Racine, Wisconsin, contemplates opening a first-class retail dry goods store in Minneapolis early the approaching spring.

Personal tax is now due, and must be paid before the 1st of February. Treasurer Huntington yesterday mailed a large number of postal cards reminding delinquents of the fact and asking the people to walk up and settle. In the District Court yesterday Frank Sherman was arraigned for larceny, pleaded not guilty and his trial fixed at next term of the court.

Rev. J. H. Tuttle, of the Church of the Redeemer, (universalist) delivered an eloquent and scholarly sermon against the hell idea in sacred history, on Sunday. The clergy seem determined to destroy hell if possible, among them. Lambert Hays will let them fight it out hereafter. In trying to separate two dogs that were engaged in a slight physical discussion on Sunday, one of them bit him so severely that the services of a surgeon with a needle and thread were in demand.

Treasurer, and gentle Charles Clark as Secretary, has been organized in this city, and purpose holding an exposition on the 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th of September next. Whether this is meant to supersede or co-operate with the State Association has not as yet developed.

Ralph Hemmenway is in trouble again. Kennedy & Bohan, boot and shoe dealers in the East Division, have caused his arrest for obtaining money under false pretenses, by giving them a time check which failed to bring them cash when presented at the bank counter. He was on trial yesterday afternoon before the Municipal Court, and was held for his appearance in bonds of $300.

The newly elected officers of the Germania Hose Company, No. 3, are as follows: Foreman, C. Gaehringer; First Assistant, A. Beck; Second Assistant, H. Dehn; Third Assistant, F. Rath; Secretary, C. Boehr; Treasurer, A. Knablauch; Finance Committee, J. Weimard, H. Gehle, and M. Burfinger; J. Weimard, of the State Convention, C. Goehringer, and P. Weimard.

Fire Limits. The Council met Wednesday will probably consider, amend and pass the new fire limit ordinance. The limits as proposed by the pending ordinance are as follows for the West Division: Commencing at a point on the Mississippi river three hundred and thirty feet above the northwest line of Hennepin avenue; thence on a line parallel with Hennepin avenue to River street; thence along River street to Second avenue north; thence along Second avenue north to the central alley running through blocks ten (10) and nine (9), in Minneapolis (as platted); thence along said alley to Fourth avenue north; thence along Fourth avenue north to Third street; thence along Third street to First avenue north; thence along First avenue north to Sixth street; thence along Sixth street to First avenue south; thence along Fourth street to Tenth avenue south; thence along Tenth avenue south to the Mississippi river; thence along said river to the place of beginning.

For the East Division they are as follows: Commencing on the easterly shore of the east channel of the Mississippi river, where the same would be intersected by the center line of First avenue northeast if extended to said shore; thence down the shore of said river to a point where said shore would be intersected by the center line of Bank street if the same were extended thereto; thence easterly and along such extension to the center line of Bank street in a right line to Third street or University avenue; thence northerly along the center line of said University avenue to First avenue north; thence north to the place of beginning of First avenue northeast to the point of beginning.

The changes made are very important and generally speaking very satisfactory to a majority of the public. There will probably be an effort to amend in some slight particulars, but if the council conclude to establish the limits pretty near as the ordinance reads, there will be no particular damage to any one, and the average business man will sleep far more comfortably. PERSONAL MENTION. Ex-Captain of Police Bernard Hunt, will leave for his new home in Oregon as soon as his health is sufficiently improved to justify his traveling. He will go west accompanied by the good wishes of a large circle of friends in Minneapolis.

H. F. McNally, formerly agent for Beatty's line of Steamers, at Duluth, now employed in the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad office, has gone to Chicago after his wife. Hon. B. G. Caultfield, ex-Member of Congress from Chicago, spent Sunday in Minneapolis, the guest of Hon. Eugene M. Wilson. Sheriff Thompson and wife left for the Hot Springs, Arkansas, yesterday morning, by the Milwaukee road. They will be absent about a month.

The Minneapolis delegation in the Legislature spent Sunday with their friends, attending church and talking over prospective legislation. Senators Langdon and Pillsbury, and Representatives Morse and Brown are located in St. Paul, at the Metropolitan. We are not advised as to the location of other members. Captain Davis, of the Red Wing Argus, listened to Dr. Tuttle's demolition of the bad place in the Church of the Redeemer, on Sunday night.

Fire in Western Avenue. Yesterday about half-past ten o'clock "a solitary horseman" visited the various engine houses in the central part of the city, and notified them in a bewilderingly excited manner that there was a fire raging on Western Avenue, near the crossing of the St. Paul & Pacific railway. This "solitary horseman" was from the country, and utterly ignorant of the fact that there was a fire alarm box within two squares of the fire.

Obeying the summons, however, Hook & Ladder No. 1, and No. 2 or three hose companies arrived at the place, where the fire was burning, in time to assist in extinguishing it, after about $50 worth of damage had been done. The fire originated in the second story, from a crack in a cooking stove, which deposited a few live coals on the piano floor. Insured with Gale & Co. for $1,800.

Turner's Exhibition. Fenice Opera House was filled last night, the occasion being the closing of the exhibition of the Turner's school of this city. The exercises consisted of performances, music, speeches &c., &c., and was one of the most creditable ever given in this city. Speeches were made in English by Messrs. Monahan, J. A. Wood, Tompkins, Dr. Ames, Mr. Morris Adler, the new teacher, has had charge of the school for the past three months, and under his instruction and guidance there has been wonderful advancement among the pupils. The exercises of the previous two evenings were received with marked approval by the large audience present, and if we are to judge from appearances will have a good effect in persuading the Americans who were present that it will be a wise thing to unite physical with mental culture in the public schools of the city.

Reform Club. A very lively and interesting temperance meeting was held at the new Reform Club rooms, on Friday evening last. This club is doing a noble work, and is rapidly increasing in numbers at each meeting, which are held twice a week. It is a home for the unfortunate drinkers, and a cheery welcome extended to all who are interested in the association. Mr. Brackett is to read a paper before the body on some subject concerning their work. Ex-Alderman H. A. C. Thompson has been heard from again. On the 29th day of December he was seated on the piazza of his domicile in Seattle, Washington Territory, gazing pensively out on the bay, fanning himself with the hurricane deck of a steamer, and longing for the breezy breezes of Minnesota. Rev. W. C. Gannett, of Unity Church, St. Paul, delivered an able and eloquent address before the Liberal League, in this city, on Sunday, on "The Free Thinkers of yesterday, and the Free Thinkers of to-day." His audience was large and attentive, and unanimously expressed the desire for a repetition of his visit. The essay on the Free-thinker of yesterday and the Free-thinker of to-day, delivered before the Liberal League, by W. C. Gannett of St. Paul, on Sunday afternoon, is to be printed in pamphlet form we understand. It is one of the most finished and scholarly productions ever listened to by a Minneapolis audience. A new Agricultural Association, with Col. W. S. King as President, D. Morrison as State some service, was fined $5 and costs for a drunk. Paid. A heartman paid $6 for a common drunk, and A. Johnson was released on agreeing to leave town.

The Governor and the Bonds. To the Editor of THE GLOBE. That portion of Gov. Pillsbury's message relating to the swindling railroad bonds is a direct and intentional insult to every voter in Minnesota who cast his ballot against the payment of the swindle, and Mr. Pusey should be condemned for putting it in. We who voted against the swindle, are quietly relegated to one of two classes, fools or scoundrels.

Now, as a voter who was in Minnesota at the time the bonds were issued, as one who has tried hard to get at the exact equities of the case, I protest against being crowded into either of the above classes. I distinctly remember, prior to the last general election, how the leading politicians of both the great parties, plead and begged that the swindling bonds be not brought into the campaign as a disturbing element.

But Mr. Banning, with rare honesty and independence, declined to endorse the bargain, and dared to speak the truth wherever he addressed audiences. Governor Pillsbury distinctly held his tongue on the subject until after election, and then takes occasion, in his first public utterance, to brand his opponents on this question as either fools or rascals. If I knew nothing about the merits or demerits of the question itself, and was a stranger to every fact in its history except the means of wholesale bribery and corruption used always to force its settlement, I should suppose it simply on that ground. A man who needs a corrupting profit to secure its passage by a vote of the people must either be inherently bad, or else the people must be set down as innately dishonest. I prefer to consider the first proposition as true, and denounce the bond proposition voted against by the people as a trick of designing men, subsidized by the bondholders to consummate a transparent fraud and swindle.

Gov. Pillsbury should know that on the stamp of his forehead, pending the vote on the proposition, he Governor Pillsbury interested party, of having a hand in the plot. This I do not assert, because I do not know it to be true; but the ready and valuable manner in which the Pillsbury makes to his defense as "an honest man" would lead one to the suspicions of those who did accuse him of being an interested party in the passage of the fraudulent measure for the payment of a fraudulent debt. At a new meeting, Pillsbury and Mr. Pusey should be more cautious how they denounce other people as knaves or fools. RIGHT. Minneapolis, Jan. 14th, 1878.

Eternal Punishment. It was a very generally expressed desire by the exceedingly large audience that listened to Dr. Tuttle's discourse on eternal punishment, Sunday evening, that it should be published. It was a fair, candid, scholarly exposition of the Universalist view of the problem, and would doubtless obtain a large sale. The audience that listened to it was one of the largest, if not the very largest that ever gathered within the walls of a church edifice in this city.

Citizens Relief Association. The annual meeting of the Relief Association was held at the Nicollet House yesterday, and after receiving reports of the officers a new list of names was chosen and the following officers elected: President—A. B. Barton. Vice President—Richard Chute. Secretary—R. M. Baker. Treasurer—G. H. Hask.

To Our Minneapolis Patrons. It takes time for all new enterprises to become settled in their rut. Our new subscribers will pardon our seeming anxiety in the delivery of this paper until we get the horses comfortably on and prepared for the fight. Please have orders at the business office, which for the present will be found in the City Hall, second floor, front door to the left.

The Libel Suit Against Ed. Stevens. The summing up of the case of the State vs. Ed. Stevens, for libel, was brought to a close at the closing of the court this afternoon. At the close of the hearing, Judge Van derberg decided to wait till this morning before giving the case to the jury.

A St. Louis Hanging on Friday. A St. Louis letter of the 12th says: The murderer of Max Lawrence, the Theatre Comique man, was hanged on Friday. His case having been affirmed by the Supreme Court. At 11:30 o'clock this morning the following dispatch was received at the Four Courts: ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 12.—W. C. Jones: Weir was executed on Friday.

The dispatch was from the Secretary of State, who was formerly Clerk of the Criminal Court, and who has taken great interest in the fate of Billy Wiener. Judge Jones on one notified Jailer Conway, who sent the information immediately to the prisoner. Wiener was reading the papers when the Jailer appeared. "What is it?" he said, looking up. "Billy, I have some bad news for you. Well, can you bear it?" "Yes, I can bear anything now, is about the case?" "Yes," said the jailer. Wiener pale from long confinement, and with the sickly complexion that jail inmates always acquire, even with the best of care, turned even paler than usual. He cast his eyes down to the iron floor.

On Monday last, while the eleven-year-old son of the above named family was descending into a well, to recover a bucket that had been lost, the rope broke, precipitating him to the bottom and breaking his thigh. The well is 126 feet in depth, and that the boy should sustain such a comparatively slight injury is a matter of some interest. He is now under the care of Drs. Lewis and Cook, and is doing well.—Cass County Free Press. Mr. C. Hildebrand, of Alden, suffered the misfortune, on Monday, of having his house and all its contents, including some grain, destroyed by fire.—Freeborn County Standard. There is not a single prisoner in our county jail, if not which speaks well for the county.—St. Peter Tribune. SPECIAL LOCALS. Bind your magazines and papers. Harper, Scribner, Galaxy, &c. 50 cents per volume. E. H. Milham, News Dealer and Stationer, 169 East 7th street, St. Paul.
