

MINNEAPOLIS NEWS

Specialty Reported for the Daily Globe. Business Office. The Business Office of the Minneapolis end of the DAILY GLOBE will, from and after this date, be found at No. 213 Hennepin avenue...

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBELETS.

Dime concert-to-morrow night. Helen Potter again next Wednesday evening. Temperance convention Monday evening next. Take down your storm-doors and double windows.

Yesterday will take the prize for fine weather. Reserved seats for sale to-morrow for the Dime concert.

Farnham & Lovejoy's mill will soon resume operations. Hon. D. M. Sabin, of Stillwater, was in the city yesterday.

Early sowers report blades of wheat two inches above ground. A full fledged game of base ball appeared in lower town yesterday.

Mud where there was plenty of travel yesterday, and dusty elsewhere. New ballot boxes are being constructed for the approaching election.

The excavation for the new bank building is already nearly completed. The name of Hon. Durand Morrison is being increased by the award of the sums below stated:

City of Minneapolis $15,639 99. City of St. Paul $18,937 24. City of Duluth $4,204 86.

Out-door evening serenades are in order. The boot-jacks have not yet thawed out. The new up-town Minneapolis & St. Louis railway office will be opened the first of next week.

The Barlow House is undergoing improvements which will give it to fifteen additional rooms. Society Norden will present the play of "Joy and Sorrow" at Pence Opera House this evening.

Mrs. Clayton has resumed her classes in German and music, temporarily suspended by the severe illness of her son. C. S. Effelt, representing the firm of Averill, Russell & Carpenter, was looking after business interests in the city yesterday.

The examination of witnesses in the matter of the appointment of a guardian for Ovid Pinney was continued at the probate court yesterday. Minneapolis is so economical that although the city lock-up is supplied with gas, the police are instructed to use kerosene for illuminating purposes.

The Hen convention at Brackets Hall yesterday attracted its usual share of visitors, and another good day's record was added to the successful undertaking. In a city the size of Minneapolis, people ought to have the privilege of sending and paying for a telegraph dispatch as late as 12 o'clock at night if they so desired.

The Cecelia Quartette, the Pioneer Quartette, and the Great Western Band, are expected to comprise the next quarter dollar entertainment at Association Hall. The genial countenance of Frank E. Hessler loomed up under a silk hat yesterday. Frank is running his Wisconsin flour mill night and day, and stores about 300 barrels of flour per week.

The old ladies called it "charming." The young ladies called it "lovely and exquisite." The children called it "splendid," and the masculine gender called it "d--n fine." We refer to the weather of yesterday. A permanent reduction of fare to 3 cents per mile has been secured for State University students who have occasion to travel over the St. Paul & Sioux City, St. Paul & Duluth, and Northern Pacific railways.

Superintendent Prior states that never since his connection with the railroad business has there been such a rush of persons to this State. Most of the number are seeking for farms and homes and should be warmly welcomed. The considerations paid for Minneapolis real estate which changed hands during the two weeks ending March 13th, amounted in aggregate to $218,125. A bracket so it is recorded in the office of the register of deeds. Wm. Welch was before the municipal court yesterday, charged with being found in a house of ill-fame. Owing to the recent decisions of district court juries, however, Judge Cooley decided that it was doubtful if there were any houses of ill-fame in the city, and the prisoner was discharged.

The public school interests of Minneapolis are the most important of any that will be affected by the coming spring election. The board of education will meet on Monday next, and it is probable that a liberal policy will be pursued or not, and whether any change in the superintendency will be made. Hamlin & Brown have sold to John A. Christian, Esq., the Taylor property, corner Sixth avenue south and Eighth street. The price paid was $78,000 cash. They also have sold a lot on Tenth street, near Nicollet avenue, for $1,000, and a lot on Park avenue, named in honor of the late Charles Brewster, of Pittsburgh, by whose generosity many emigrants have been able to reach Liberia. The Pennsylvania Senate, by an almost unanimous vote yesterday, adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, That we hereby respectfully, but most earnestly urge upon our Senators and Representatives in Congress the importance of united action on their part in opposing any change in the present tariff system so far as the same affects the material interests of this State." The Pennsylvania colonization society has authorized the American colonization society to send at its expense fifty emigrants to Liberia. They will leave the 1st of May, and will locate at the flourishing settlement of Brewerville, ten miles from Monrovia. It is named in honor of the late Charles Brewster, of Pittsburgh, by whose generosity many emigrants have been able to reach Liberia. Storm in Ohio Wednesday and Tuesday. CINCINNATI, March 14.—Advices from the interior of this State indicate that the storm of the past two days has been one of great severity. A great amount of damage has been done property generally, especially railroad property. A large portion of the lower part of Mansfield, Ohio, was covered by water to the depth of four feet, covering the floors of many dwellings, and a number of barns were swept away. A number of bridges upon the Fort Wayne road have been injured, and one carried completely away. At Zanesville the bridge over the river was destroyed. The roof of the Presbyterian church, and that of a number of dwellings were carried away. A freight train ran into a cinder wrecking the train and killing the engineer.

THE ELECTIONS

WHICH DESTROYS SANCTITY OF BALLOT BOX.

Section Eight and See the Nice Little Game for Ascertaining How Every Man Votes—How Tickets Must be Printed—Machinery Enough for the Government of the United States.

We give below the new election law in full. As the first election under it will soon be held both in this city and Minneapolis it will be found of particular interest.

AN ACT to provide for elections and registration of voters in incorporated cities of over 15,000 inhabitants, according to the census of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota: Section 1. The common council of each incorporated city of over 15,000 inhabitants shall, at least one year before a general or special election, appoint three qualified electors of the city to receive and count the ballots at such election, and to certify the result thereof to the clerk of the city.

Section 2. The clerk of the city shall be the returning officer, and shall be the person to whom the ballots shall be delivered, and who shall be the person to whom the certificates of the result of the election shall be delivered.

Section 3. Any officer or constable attending citizens may call to his aid a sufficient number of citizens to assist him in the execution of his duty, and any person who refuses to assist him in the execution of his duty shall be liable to a fine of not more than five dollars.

Section 4. The polls shall be opened at the hour of five o'clock in the forenoon and continued open until five o'clock in the afternoon, and shall be closed at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon, and shall be closed at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon, and shall be closed at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon.

Section 5. Each elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 6. The manner of voting shall be by ballot. The ballot shall be printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, upon plain white paper, and shall be folded so that the name of the elector shall not be visible to any other person.

Section 7. The names of all candidates for whom the elector intends to vote shall be written or printed upon the ballot, and the elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 8. The ballot shall be folded by the voter and delivered to one of the judges of election, who shall forthwith lay the same on the top of the ballot box, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 9. The names of all candidates for whom the elector intends to vote shall be written or printed upon the ballot, and the elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 10. Immediately upon closing the polls the judges of election shall count the ballots, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 11. If more persons are designated for any office than there are electors, the judges of election shall draw lots to determine which of the candidates shall be elected, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 12. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 13. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 14. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 15. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 16. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 17. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 18. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 19. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 20. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 21. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 22. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 23. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 24. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 25. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 26. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

THE ST. PAUL DAILY GLOBE, FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 15, 1878.

THE ELECTIONS

Section Eight and See the Nice Little Game for Ascertaining How Every Man Votes—How Tickets Must be Printed—Machinery Enough for the Government of the United States.

We give below the new election law in full. As the first election under it will soon be held both in this city and Minneapolis it will be found of particular interest.

AN ACT to provide for elections and registration of voters in incorporated cities of over 15,000 inhabitants, according to the census of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota: Section 1. The common council of each incorporated city of over 15,000 inhabitants shall, at least one year before a general or special election, appoint three qualified electors of the city to receive and count the ballots at such election, and to certify the result thereof to the clerk of the city.

Section 2. The clerk of the city shall be the returning officer, and shall be the person to whom the ballots shall be delivered, and who shall be the person to whom the certificates of the result of the election shall be delivered.

Section 3. Any officer or constable attending citizens may call to his aid a sufficient number of citizens to assist him in the execution of his duty, and any person who refuses to assist him in the execution of his duty shall be liable to a fine of not more than five dollars.

Section 4. The polls shall be opened at the hour of five o'clock in the forenoon and continued open until five o'clock in the afternoon, and shall be closed at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon, and shall be closed at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon.

Section 5. Each elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 6. The manner of voting shall be by ballot. The ballot shall be printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, upon plain white paper, and shall be folded so that the name of the elector shall not be visible to any other person.

Section 7. The names of all candidates for whom the elector intends to vote shall be written or printed upon the ballot, and the elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 8. The ballot shall be folded by the voter and delivered to one of the judges of election, who shall forthwith lay the same on the top of the ballot box, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 9. The names of all candidates for whom the elector intends to vote shall be written or printed upon the ballot, and the elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 10. Immediately upon closing the polls the judges of election shall count the ballots, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 11. If more persons are designated for any office than there are electors, the judges of election shall draw lots to determine which of the candidates shall be elected, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 12. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 13. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 14. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 15. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 16. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 17. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 18. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 19. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 20. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 21. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 22. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 23. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 24. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 25. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 26. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

THE ST. PAUL DAILY GLOBE, FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 15, 1878.

THE ELECTIONS

Section Eight and See the Nice Little Game for Ascertaining How Every Man Votes—How Tickets Must be Printed—Machinery Enough for the Government of the United States.

We give below the new election law in full. As the first election under it will soon be held both in this city and Minneapolis it will be found of particular interest.

AN ACT to provide for elections and registration of voters in incorporated cities of over 15,000 inhabitants, according to the census of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota: Section 1. The common council of each incorporated city of over 15,000 inhabitants shall, at least one year before a general or special election, appoint three qualified electors of the city to receive and count the ballots at such election, and to certify the result thereof to the clerk of the city.

Section 2. The clerk of the city shall be the returning officer, and shall be the person to whom the ballots shall be delivered, and who shall be the person to whom the certificates of the result of the election shall be delivered.

Section 3. Any officer or constable attending citizens may call to his aid a sufficient number of citizens to assist him in the execution of his duty, and any person who refuses to assist him in the execution of his duty shall be liable to a fine of not more than five dollars.

Section 4. The polls shall be opened at the hour of five o'clock in the forenoon and continued open until five o'clock in the afternoon, and shall be closed at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon, and shall be closed at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon.

Section 5. Each elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 6. The manner of voting shall be by ballot. The ballot shall be printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, upon plain white paper, and shall be folded so that the name of the elector shall not be visible to any other person.

Section 7. The names of all candidates for whom the elector intends to vote shall be written or printed upon the ballot, and the elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 8. The ballot shall be folded by the voter and delivered to one of the judges of election, who shall forthwith lay the same on the top of the ballot box, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 9. The names of all candidates for whom the elector intends to vote shall be written or printed upon the ballot, and the elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 10. Immediately upon closing the polls the judges of election shall count the ballots, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 11. If more persons are designated for any office than there are electors, the judges of election shall draw lots to determine which of the candidates shall be elected, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 12. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 13. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 14. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 15. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 16. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 17. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 18. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 19. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 20. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 21. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 22. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 23. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 24. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 25. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 26. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

THE ST. PAUL DAILY GLOBE, FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 15, 1878.

THE ELECTIONS

Section Eight and See the Nice Little Game for Ascertaining How Every Man Votes—How Tickets Must be Printed—Machinery Enough for the Government of the United States.

We give below the new election law in full. As the first election under it will soon be held both in this city and Minneapolis it will be found of particular interest.

AN ACT to provide for elections and registration of voters in incorporated cities of over 15,000 inhabitants, according to the census of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota: Section 1. The common council of each incorporated city of over 15,000 inhabitants shall, at least one year before a general or special election, appoint three qualified electors of the city to receive and count the ballots at such election, and to certify the result thereof to the clerk of the city.

Section 2. The clerk of the city shall be the returning officer, and shall be the person to whom the ballots shall be delivered, and who shall be the person to whom the certificates of the result of the election shall be delivered.

Section 3. Any officer or constable attending citizens may call to his aid a sufficient number of citizens to assist him in the execution of his duty, and any person who refuses to assist him in the execution of his duty shall be liable to a fine of not more than five dollars.

Section 4. The polls shall be opened at the hour of five o'clock in the forenoon and continued open until five o'clock in the afternoon, and shall be closed at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon, and shall be closed at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon.

Section 5. Each elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 6. The manner of voting shall be by ballot. The ballot shall be printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, upon plain white paper, and shall be folded so that the name of the elector shall not be visible to any other person.

Section 7. The names of all candidates for whom the elector intends to vote shall be written or printed upon the ballot, and the elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 8. The ballot shall be folded by the voter and delivered to one of the judges of election, who shall forthwith lay the same on the top of the ballot box, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 9. The names of all candidates for whom the elector intends to vote shall be written or printed upon the ballot, and the elector shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 10. Immediately upon closing the polls the judges of election shall count the ballots, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 11. If more persons are designated for any office than there are electors, the judges of election shall draw lots to determine which of the candidates shall be elected, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 12. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 13. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 14. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 15. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 16. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 17. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 18. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 19. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 20. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 21. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 22. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 23. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 24. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot.

Section 25. The judges of election shall have at least one, and not more than two, legal voters of each party to be present at the election, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall be provided with a ballot, and shall