

HIGH OLD COURT.

Another Day of the Page Impediment.

Manager Campbell opens the case for the prosecution and outlines what it is expected to prove against Judge Page.

The impeachment proceedings were dry and uninteresting yesterday. All of the forenoon session and a large part also of the afternoon sitting was occupied by Hon. S. L. Campbell, of managers, in presenting the points depended upon by the prosecution.

The court being opened in due form, the President announced that the Senate had decided to overrule the plea of respondent as to jurisdiction.

Manager Campbell then proceeded to open the case for the prosecution. He said that the facts upon which it is expected to prove against Judge Page are as follows:

The people always stand by the law, and stand by their officers, but they would not be tyrannized over. There was a little of the spirit of '76 left, and when tyranny is attempted, rebellion follows.

To prevent breaches of the peace at such times, and at the same time provide a means for the removal of such officers, courts of impeachment were provided for in the organic law.

The duty of the court then is to decide upon their own judgment and the rules of the law, whether accused has ever committed a crime; if so, its enormity, and to affix the penalty. Judicial officers have been impeached for offenses as various as those brought to trial.

In this portion of his remarks Mr. Campbell referred frequently to Judge Storey and other authorities upon the rules governing impeachment trials.

Mr. Campbell then took up the specifications in the articles of impeachment, reading each one with the answers, and commenting upon them seriatim.

The first article refers to the prosecution of D. S. E. Mollison, for publishing what is designated as a libelous article on Judge Page in the Austin Register, and with having commenced proceedings, maliciously and oppressively used his power as judge to prevent the same from being brought to trial.

In this case, Mr. Campbell said, indictments were pending on the 18th of June, and the term of court subpenas were issued and placed in the hands of the deputy sheriff to serve.

GOING TO HIS REST.

Early last evening our citizens were shocked by the report that Mr. John Holland, one of our old and esteemed citizens, had committed suicide.

For a time those who knew him refused to believe the rumor, but when his truth was finally ascertained, a general feeling of gloom it seemed to pervade the city.

It seems that for some time past Mr. Holland has been in an enfeebled state of both mind and body, and has required the constant care of those about him.

Mr. Holland lived with one of his sons-in-law, William Dawson, Esq., where he had been for some time past.

CITY GLOBULES.

The "sweet singers of Israel" went home last night without escort.

John Briggs was rather more comfortable yesterday. The usual weekly special term of the district court opens to-day at 10 A. M.

The great Western band had a glorious reception last night, and it is to be hoped the weather will be favorable to-night for the Rice Park concert.

The New Orleans minstrels, sixteen of them; breakfast at the Windsor yesterday, on their way through the city to Hastings, where they appeared last evening.

The orchestra hall at Lake Como is all but completed, and the instrument will soon be in position. Meanwhile, the hotel building, including the kitchen, and other improvements are in progress.

John Hennessy, the prisoner in the county jail who was supposed to be suffering from delirium tremens, developed no aggravated symptoms yesterday, and his incarceration is still continued.

Teams were put to work yesterday at the Driving park, scraping the track, and that other work will be continued until both the track, the grounds and the stables are put in first class condition.

Mower County may be said to be on its official feet. The Senate has voted to allow the county to sue for $100,000 for the loss of its tax revenue.

The Senate special session has one good purpose. It acts as a kind of safety valve for the talking members, who suffer the torments when compelled to sit without argument and hear those who are not.

The patient nimrod is satisfied now-a-days, if after a day's waiting and watching over the border of the river, he succeeds in making a haul of catfish, and marches triumphantly through the streets with his prey dangling to a string.

The Standard club gave a pleasant surprise party on Thursday evening to Miss Sophie Smith, on the occasion of her departure for Cleveland, O. Dancing was continued with the rafter and much enjoyment until daylight yesterday.

A good track, faultless rolling stock and excellent management have enabled the St. Paul and Sioux City railroad to achieve a triumph in speed unequalled by any Western line.

The new apartment of the Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of Secretary W. D. Rogers, is going to be an elegant affair.
