WASHBURN.

His County Convention Assembles—His Man Hicks Chosen Chairman—His Plans for Securing Only One Town Representative Outside of the City—Where, Oh, Where, Was Keith?—Fletcher's Resolutions.

Where was Dr. Keith? The convention passed off without the slightest trouble. Of course Fletcher was there, but he was never known to be so quiet for such a length of time.

The convention was called to order by Charley Johnson promptly on time, and (according to previous arrangement) Charley Johnson's friend, Col. H. G. Hicks, was chosen chairman.

It was the most harmonious convention that ever assembled in Minneapolis—in fact, it was so frightfully harmonious that the fighting Republicans were mad and began to inquire, "Why is it that Bill Washburn owns us?"

To come down to details, Ald. Smith moved that a committee of five be appointed to select and recommend to the convention a list of delegates to the district State convention.

Resolved, That the Republicans of Hennepin county, represented here in convention by an earnest and united sentiment, presents the name of Gen. W. D. Washburn as their unanimous choice as candidate for Congress.

Resolved, That the action of the Republican congressional district committee in giving to the various counties of this district the fullest representation in the coming convention to which their party fealty and vote entitled them, performed but a simple act of justice.

Resolved, That the thanks of the convention is hereby tendered to the Democratic party in general and the Democratic national House of Representatives for the Potter investigating committee and its report of Fletcher's committee.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Regular Meeting of that Body Held Yesterday Morning—Contracts for Building Schools Awarded—Prof. Marsh Re-elected Teacher of Music—The Teachers Chosen for the Present Year.

The board of education held a regular meeting in Prof. Tousey's room yesterday forenoon. The board was called to order by President D. Morrison soon after nine o'clock.

In the absence of Secretary Ottfeldt, Dr. Simpson was chosen secretary pro tem. The roll being called it was ascertained that the members save the absent secretary were present.

A communication was received from Prof. French, in relation to his proposal to take the supervision of the primary department of the public schools.

The petition was first laid on the table, but was afterwards taken up and, as the board could not see their way clearly towards gratifying the wishes of petitioner, the matter was indefinitely postponed.

In regard to the Humboldt building, it was stated that the contract had been drawn up with Mr. Hollister of the East side.

TRAPS. The Tragic Termination of Master Sloane's Fondness for Trapping Wild Animals.

Next to piracy and fighting the Indians there is nothing so dear to the juvenile heart as traps. From the mouse-trap up to the elephant pit there is no form of trap of which the small boy does not read with interest and with a desire to practically test its efficiency.

One of the leading boys of our country in this line of industry is Master Samuel Sloane, of Clinton, Ill. He has made traps without number, and has caught specimens of every kind of small game to be found in the neighborhood of Clinton, including three babies under two years of age and small pigs and dogs without number.

It was with the view of leading his mind away from the excessive contemplation of traps that Master Sloane's father recently gave him a book of travels in Central Africa, and directed him to read it carefully.

The boy did so, but unfortunately the book treated quite extensively of the Central African methods of trapping game. Master Sloane thus learned that when a native king wishes to capture a young lion or a good-sized antelope he constructs a rillipose of things and attaches it to the top of a stout staking, which is bent down and temporarily fastened to the ground.

Of course, Master Sloane determined to try the Central Africa trap without delay. There was a beautiful shady road near the village, which was bordered with any quantity of stout saplings. It was just the place for a Central Africa trap, and Master Sloane had high hopes that he would succeed in catching a cow or a horse, although, of course, he could not expect anything so completely satisfactory as a lion, tiger, or antelope.

Chief of Police Ingram identified the remains as that of the man, Christopher Lynn, who has been missing from Minneapolis for several days, and whom it was supposed fell or was thrown from the St. Paul & Pacific railroad bridge several nights ago.

The police are greatly bothered in trying to keep people from hitching their horses to lamp posts. If some of the guilty ones were occasionally brought before the municipal court and fined $5 in accordance with the city ordinance in such cases, made and provided, there might be less complaint.

The enterprising firm of Smith & Day, burned out in the Lumber block fire, will open up in the course of a few days at the corner of Sixth avenue south and Washington avenue. That will be the boss opportunity for obtaining bargains in saws, chisels, squares, wrenches, and tools of every kind, shape, form and variety, not to speak of locks, cutlery and tinware in endless variety.

The fare has been reduced to $4.25 for the round trip, and the train will leave Monday morning at 6:30 a. m., June 24th, the return tickets good until Tuesday. The Masons and citizens of Albert Lea have made extensive arrangements for "lots of fun"—a grand basket picnic, speeches, music, and a regatta. The sale of tickets will commence Saturday, at the company's office, No. 8 Washington avenue.

William Dambrecht has opened a fine saloon and restaurant opposite the city hall, where he would be pleased to see all his old friends, and will, of course, make many new ones.

The Hot Springs Reservation. WASHINGTON, June 21.—At the cabinet meeting to-day there was some discussion as to the possibility of taking any action to carry into effect the will of Congress concerning the Hot Springs reservation, which was expressed by the adoption of the conference committee in the closing clause on that subject.
