

Daily Globe

BY H. P. HALL. NO. 17, WABASHAW STREET, ST. PAUL. Terms of Subscription to the Daily Globe...

THE SUNDAY GLOBE. The Globe will be furnished every day in the week to city subscribers at 70 cents per month...

THE WEEKLY GLOBE. The Weekly Globe is a mammoth sheet, exactly double the size of the Daily. It is just the paper for the freeholder...

Fourth Page 6 cents per line every insertion. Third Page 5 cents per line for the first week...

THE GLOBE offers no yearly space, but proposes to charge for the line for the space occupied, and for the first day for the last day will be the same as for the whole...

THE GLOBE. Will be sent by mail. For the Campaign. From September 10th to November 10th for ONE DOLLAR!

ONE DOLLAR! The last two months of the campaign will be interesting and exciting. This price of One Dollar for Two Months is for six papers per week.

ST. PAUL, MONDAY, AUGUST 26, 1878. THE "GLOBE" DURING FAIR WEEK. During the entire first week of September the GLOBE will be issued as a double sheet...

EXPLANATION. Business men should understand that the GLOBE advertising rates are by the line and inch and not by the deceptive "square" which none but a printer understands...

THE TENNESSEE REPUBLICANS failed to endorse Key. What's the matter? Are they disappointed in their favorite son?

BOB LINCOLN declines to run for Congress in Chicago against James R. Doolittle, Jr. He has more sense than we gave him credit for.

THE REPUBLICAN ORATORS—the big guns—announce that they will make a vigorous canvass of Iowa. As the Hawkeye State is certain to give a round Republican majority...

THERE is a bolt among the Republicans in the Third Congressional district of Vermont. By the way, where is Vermont? We haven't heard of any of her Congressmen for years...

TWO opponents of Tom Ewing in the Congressional race is V. B. Horton, aged 76, who was a member of the peace Congress that preceded the war.

IT is true that victory perches upon the banners of the heaviest battalions, there need be no doubt of the result in Indiana. The Democrats have on the stump Senators Voorhees and McDonald, Gov. Williams, ex-Congressman Landers, Judge David S. Gooding, Gen. Manson, Hon. John E. Neff, and Judge Turpie...

THE Charleston News declares that the South has had enough of Tilden. "We must have," it says, "as the next Democratic candidate, a man of large ability, lofty character, pure record, and game to the back-bone; one who, if elected, as Tilden was, will be installed, in spite of the world, the flesh, and the devil."

CALEB CUSHING, it is said, favors Ben Butler for Governor of Massachusetts. This is perfectly proper, and in accordance with the eternal fitness of things.

THE investigation of the St. Peter insane asylum is developing some very crooked things. The investigation of the St. Peter insane asylum is developing some very crooked things.

precipitate the war, and it is fit that they should be working hand in glove to-day. Gen. N. B. Burnow declines the Greenback nomination for attorney general of Arkansas...

The calibre of Hod Strait is well shown by the insane asylum investigation. Charging $75.00 for twelve days service and expenses from Shakopee to St. Peter...

We cannot too often or too strongly repeat our warning to the Democracy to see that every delegate to the district convention next week is heartily opposed to Washburn. The evidence increases that Washburn is using money to secure a weak and vulnerable opponent...

It is very evident from the testimony before the Potter committee that Sherman's character was fully understood by one person, at least, previous to the beginning of the last session of Congress. One of his letters was accidentally found in a package of documents submitted by Major Burke.

This writer, who is at present anonymous, expressed his opinion of the pirate very bluntly, and his letter shows that he understood the policy he would pursue thoroughly. He says: "The country will condemn a bargain. It will damn the man who made it, especially if he got Federal keys of any kind for themselves."

Mr. Hayes and his friends need no squeamishness relative to associating with anybody. They cannot find any one guilty of an offense who will bring them into disrepute by personal contact. The Minnesota annual conference of the M. E. church will commence its session in Rochester, September 18.

Red Wing (Goodhue county) Republican: Mabel Cole ran away from a cow, fell into a ditch and broke her left arm. Her father has just recovered from the fracture of a leg which she sustained before.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: The town has been filled with strangers the last week. Some of whom have been looking around with a view to locating here, and are well pleased with what they see and the prospects of the town and country.

Watsonia Review: Notwithstanding the fact that during the past week of last week, Mr. J. C. Harlan, of Gilford, fell from his reaper, and received severe injuries. Mr. H. is a large man, and the shock of the fall has, we learn, rendered his arm a crippled one.

At Pine Island, Dodge county, the other day, a young lady, with a small boy, in the field picking blackberries, when a ruffian accosted her, and told her if she made any noise he would shoot her. She called the ruffian a villain, and he, in retaliation, inflicted a painful wound on one of her hands.

Madame Du Pree and E. E. Miller walked fifty miles on the afternoon of Aug. 21 for a purse of $100. They began their walk at four minutes and 45 seconds past 11 o'clock at night. She rested 6 1/2 minutes, and he 73 minutes. They were to complete their 50 miles in eleven hours, which she lacked 45 and he fifty seconds of accomplishing.

How This Section of the Country Improves a Stranger. To the Editor of the Globe. How ignorant we strangers are with regard to this great and good region. Yes, we have been ignorant and many will remain so if not enlightened.

It is pretty in scenery and rich in resource, though the wheat crop is not so good as others on account of heavy rains and hot suns. At Minneapolis the traveler sees the rough areas bladed at the approach of the soft and gentle zephyr.

gentlemen(?) obtained the allowance of the monstrous sum of $142,000.55, all of which was taken from the allowances of the soldiers and sailors who participated in the engagements which resulted in the capture of New Orleans.

This is the man who wants himself before the country to-day as the special friend of the poor and down-trodden workmen and the foe to capital. He owns himself nearly a million dollars in the bonds of the government, and almost an equal sum of bonds of the District of Columbia.

The Chicago Times makes the following editorial mention of Mr. Hayes' trip to St. Paul: It has been publicly stated that President Hayes was going to the "Minnesota State fair at Minneapolis," as the guest of the Ansary political breaker, Bill King.

The correction, so far as Hayes' trip being to the State Fair at St. Paul is concerned, is proper, but we are sorry to see the Times' unnecessary fling at Bill King. Mr. King is out of politics and is entitled to immunity as a private citizen.

Red Wing (Goodhue county) Republican: Mabel Cole ran away from a cow, fell into a ditch and broke her left arm. Her father has just recovered from the fracture of a leg which she sustained before.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: The town has been filled with strangers the last week. Some of whom have been looking around with a view to locating here, and are well pleased with what they see and the prospects of the town and country.

Watsonia Review: Notwithstanding the fact that during the past week of last week, Mr. J. C. Harlan, of Gilford, fell from his reaper, and received severe injuries. Mr. H. is a large man, and the shock of the fall has, we learn, rendered his arm a crippled one.

At Pine Island, Dodge county, the other day, a young lady, with a small boy, in the field picking blackberries, when a ruffian accosted her, and told her if she made any noise he would shoot her. She called the ruffian a villain, and he, in retaliation, inflicted a painful wound on one of her hands.

Madame Du Pree and E. E. Miller walked fifty miles on the afternoon of Aug. 21 for a purse of $100. They began their walk at four minutes and 45 seconds past 11 o'clock at night. She rested 6 1/2 minutes, and he 73 minutes. They were to complete their 50 miles in eleven hours, which she lacked 45 and he fifty seconds of accomplishing.

How This Section of the Country Improves a Stranger. To the Editor of the Globe. How ignorant we strangers are with regard to this great and good region. Yes, we have been ignorant and many will remain so if not enlightened.

It is pretty in scenery and rich in resource, though the wheat crop is not so good as others on account of heavy rains and hot suns. At Minneapolis the traveler sees the rough areas bladed at the approach of the soft and gentle zephyr.

Minneapolis, (laughing water), near Fort Snelling, is an enchanting spot. The pleasure grounds of forty acres around the city, are laid out with taste. Mr. E. C. Donnell, the proprietor, is a gentlemanly, genial and genuine. Mr. Booth's flower garden adjoining on the south, is a perfect picture of cultivation, and the buildings alone would entail an enormous expense.

Very Crooked. (Novelty Press.) The investigation of the St. Peter insane asylum is developing some very crooked things. The investigation of the St. Peter insane asylum is developing some very crooked things.

MINNESOTA NEWS. An incendiary fire destroyed a barn in Red Wing the other day. The other day a son of Mr. P. Clark, of St. Charles, was thrown from a mule and had a leg broken.

The residence of J. Schorenke, of North Rochester, Olmsted county, was partially destroyed by fire the other day. Burglars entered the Wolcott mill, near Fairbault, the other night, blew open the safe and secured $166.80 in cash.

The Anoka Union of Aug 24th says "the three lumber mills in that city paid out over $20,000 to their workmen last week." Many tramps seem to enjoy a little rest in jail until their diet is reduced to bread and water—then they are ready to tramp.

Dodge Center Press: A new town named Goodwin has been laid out by the railroad at the point formerly known as Prairie Siding, Dakota. The cars (construction trains) are running to that point.

Red Wing (Goodhue county) Republican: Mabel Cole ran away from a cow, fell into a ditch and broke her left arm. Her father has just recovered from the fracture of a leg which she sustained before.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: The town has been filled with strangers the last week. Some of whom have been looking around with a view to locating here, and are well pleased with what they see and the prospects of the town and country.

Watsonia Review: Notwithstanding the fact that during the past week of last week, Mr. J. C. Harlan, of Gilford, fell from his reaper, and received severe injuries. Mr. H. is a large man, and the shock of the fall has, we learn, rendered his arm a crippled one.

At Pine Island, Dodge county, the other day, a young lady, with a small boy, in the field picking blackberries, when a ruffian accosted her, and told her if she made any noise he would shoot her. She called the ruffian a villain, and he, in retaliation, inflicted a painful wound on one of her hands.

Madame Du Pree and E. E. Miller walked fifty miles on the afternoon of Aug. 21 for a purse of $100. They began their walk at four minutes and 45 seconds past 11 o'clock at night. She rested 6 1/2 minutes, and he 73 minutes. They were to complete their 50 miles in eleven hours, which she lacked 45 and he fifty seconds of accomplishing.

How This Section of the Country Improves a Stranger. To the Editor of the Globe. How ignorant we strangers are with regard to this great and good region. Yes, we have been ignorant and many will remain so if not enlightened.

It is pretty in scenery and rich in resource, though the wheat crop is not so good as others on account of heavy rains and hot suns. At Minneapolis the traveler sees the rough areas bladed at the approach of the soft and gentle zephyr.

Minneapolis, (laughing water), near Fort Snelling, is an enchanting spot. The pleasure grounds of forty acres around the city, are laid out with taste. Mr. E. C. Donnell, the proprietor, is a gentlemanly, genial and genuine. Mr. Booth's flower garden adjoining on the south, is a perfect picture of cultivation, and the buildings alone would entail an enormous expense.

Very Crooked. (Novelty Press.) The investigation of the St. Peter insane asylum is developing some very crooked things. The investigation of the St. Peter insane asylum is developing some very crooked things.

WISCONSIN NEWS. Adam Freis had a leg broken by a fall at a mill in Milwaukee, the other night. The hay crop in Rock county is immense but much of the crop is damaged by wet weather.

Ferdinand W. Hartman, of Milwaukee, fell the other day and broke his right leg above the ankle. Two fellows were arrested in Fond du Lac the other morning for passing $10 counterfeit bills.

The seventh annual fair of the Waukesha Agricultural and Mechanical association will be held Sept. 3, 4 and 5. On a late evening Max Sobilo, a Polish boy aged 15, was drowned in the Kinnickinnic river. He was seized with spasms.

A couple of drunken sailors indulged in a bloody fight in a saloon in Racine the other night. One had his fingers half bitten off, the other had one of his ears chewed up. The capsizing of a small boat near the railroad bridge at Racine, a few evenings since, came to the attention of two small boys. They were rescued by a passing boat.

Alfred H. Woolsey, charged with perjury in swearing false to pension papers, had an examination at Oshkosh a few days since, but was discharged, there not being evidence enough to hold him. A few days ago a house in Powaukee, occupied by W. H. Thomas, and owned by Mat Corby, was totally consumed by fire in the afternoon. It was insured for $1,000.

Alfred Merrill, of Milwaukee, the other morning, caught in Forest Lake a pickerel which weighed twenty-five pounds, and was three feet ten and a half inches in length. He was pulled in with an ordinary line. About 250 of the patients of the insane hospital were treated to a ride on Fourth lake on the large Uncle Sam, on a late evening. Faust's band provided dance and promenade music, and a very pleasant time, without accident, was enjoyed.

The Sun Prairie Countryman says that Mrs. A. M. Young, daughter of J. E. Mann, proprietor of the Grand Hotel in that village, was quite severely injured a few days since by being thrown from a double buggy, the hind wheel of which ran over her. While the firemen of Milwaukee were fighting the fire the other night in the four-story stone structure owned by the limits, known as the Meiner distillery, two other alarms of fire at brief intervals were given, causing a division and sub-division of their forces, and making an extremely lively time for the members of the department.

During a thunder storm the other night since, lightning struck the Catholic church at Poygan, tearing off a portion of the shingles from the roof and making sad havoc with the plaster. The current darted from the church to the parsonage, entering by a bay window, and stunning a servant girl who was carrying a lot of dishes. No other damage resulted.

A foolish, giddy and silly Fond du Lac girl of 10 or 12 years of age, though reported to be bright and intelligent, with unusual and other accomplishments, was induced to leave her home with a traveling salesman, seduced and taken to Milwaukee, where her broken-hearted father found her, and took her back to a home where happiness is blighted and ruined forever.

The other day, Richard Gray, of Milwaukee, saw a little German boy struggling in the water, and without a moment's hesitation plunged in, caught the drowning boy, and swam to the dock where he was assisted to land by the members of the city. The boy was highly applauded. The boy had stumbled and fallen into the water. He is the son of a laborer.

A little five year old girl in Oshkosh, a few days, pushed a stone in her ear about the size of a small hazel nut. Nothing was thought of the matter till the girl complained of great pain. She was taken to Dr. Wilkie, who put her under the influence of chloroform, and extracted the stone, in which he found great difficulty, as the ear was highly inflamed. No permanent injury is likely to ensue.

A Portage telegram of Aug. 21, says, an alarm of fire was given last night about 11 o'clock, which proved to proceed from a dwelling house in the Fourth ward. The house belonged to Jonathan Clark, one of the editors of the State Register, and was entirely consumed. The house has been vacant since last spring, and the origin of the fire is supposed to be the work of tramps, of which the city is full just now. Loss on the building about $500, with no insurance.

Wisconsin State Journal: While visiting the scenery at the Dalles recently, Henry Nunn, of Madison, and friends, had a terrible fright for a few moments. As they were leaving the steamer and were just stepping on the floating pier, Miss Annie slipped into the water and was over fifty feet in depth. By good fortune she arose at the same place, and was caught at the fortunate moment by Rev. J. N. Hughes and her father, with no great danger, but a thorough wetting of her clothing.

A short time ago, August Ziebell, of Oshkosh, met with a severe accident. Ziebell is employed on the Northwestern road, and while engaged in cutting a rail, a piece of iron, about the twentieth part of an inch, flew up and lodged in the corner of his eye. Drs. Wilkie and Lawrence attended the case. They found the eye slightly inflamed, the piece having entered below the surface of the corner. The patient was put under the influence of chloroform, and the iron extracted. Ziebell has not lost sight of the organ, and the wound has healed up without the slightest perceptible scar.

CROPS IN MINNESOTA.

Waseca (Waseca county) Radical, Aug. 21: Reports from those who have threshed indicate a better yield of wheat than was anticipated during the harvest. St. Cloud Times, Aug. 21: Reports from different portions of the county say that the grain yield is turning out much better than was expected. This county will probably average twenty bushels to the acre.

Monticello (Wright county) Times, Aug. 22: E. K. Chamberlain threshed 1,250 bushels of wheat from fifty acres—twenty-five bushels per acre. George Govari had about ninety acres in wheat, and the yield was 1,600 bushels. Jackson Taylor, of Buffalo, had twenty-six bushels of wheat to the acre.

Worthington (Nobles county) Advance, Aug. 22: C. Z. Sutton has threshed some wheat on his farm north of town, and the yield is about twelve bushels to the acre. F. Bloom, of Seward, was in town yesterday with some wheat. This yield was about ten bushels to the acre. He has threshed ten oats which went about sixty bushels.

Long Prairie (Todd county) Argus, Aug. 21: More wheat has been raised in Todd county this year than ever before. The crop was never better in our county on an average yield than this year. Messrs. Newell and Ely, of Reynolds, have done their threshing. Their yield in wheat were respectively sixteen and eighteen bushels per acre.

Windom (Cottonwood county) Reporter, Aug. 22: The amount of wheat sown will exceed the acreage shown by the statistical report sufficiently, we think, to make the acreage shown run at least ten bushels to the acre. Our oats and barley are good, and the crop is far better than the average. On the whole the outlook is encouraging, and the people have little to complain of. We expected too much of the wheat crop. That's all.

Le Sueur Sentinel, Aug. 22: The reports from the threshing machines during the past week show about the same general results as to the wheat crop. There are some good yields and an occasional field of good wheat. The yield, in fact, is not so much to be complained of as the poor quality. The wheat thus far threshed on the small prairie in this county, near Le Sueur, runs from 8 to 15 bushels per acre—with an occasional heavier yield.

Ansley (Mower county) Transcript, Aug. 22: Late sown wheat this year is the best all over the State. We are told a drunken fellow has the best crop of wheat ever raised in this vicinity. He was drunk when every body else was sowing. He waited to sober off, got his seed in late, and reaps a good crop. No. 2 wheat, which is the best, was had a scorching sun when in the milk, and the late sown did not reach the milk till after the heated term had passed.

NEW YORK'S FALL. Dr. Francis Hogan, reported to have died in Roosevelt hospital of poison, has been identified as Father Fagan, pastor for many years of the Church of the Transformation, Hooper street, Brooklyn. Fagan, who some time ago was dismissed from his charge, had been away from home on a drunken carousal for a week. Last Wednesday night he went to Bishop's lodging house, Eighth avenue. Shortly after retiring he called for whiskey. At 3 o'clock he came down stairs and called for more, and carried it with a shaking hand to his room. At 5 o'clock he again got out of his bed and went to the room of another lodger and begged him to go out for a pint bottle of champagne. He drank the champagne and went to bed again. About 2 o'clock he went out to a saloon near by, where he drank some champagne and brandy. Soon after he complained of being sick, and said he thought he had been poisoned. Mr. Bishop sent to the West Forty-seventh street police station, and made a large cause to the house, and made a large cause administered an emetic, but Fagan grew worse. He was taken to the hospital. He was suffering from alcoholism only, and seemed threatened with delirium tremens. He became violent, and was put in a straight jacket. On Friday he was better, on Saturday worse, and on Sunday almost comatose. Father Dwyer, of the Paulist church, opposite the hotel, was sent for, but Fagan's mind was gone. He died on Monday morning. The inquests of Deputy Governor Miller revealed that on Wednesday night, while at Bishop's house, Fagan had drunk a part of the contents of a bottle of liniment by mistake. It was also found that his skull had at one time been fractured. He had Father Timmer, who was assistant pastor under Father Fagan, heard of his death and repaired at once to the hospital, where he identified the body. Fagan's sister went to the hospital later in the day, accompanied by a large number of friends, and made arrangements for the funeral, which will probably take place at noon to-day, from the hospital. Fagan had $57 when taken to the hospital, which will help pay the funeral expenses. Father Fagan was regarded as a model priest. During last year his friends noticed that he was becoming dissipated. He was discovered on several occasions under the influence of liquor. Last March Bishop Houghton suspended him, and he ordered him into retreat. He refused to obey, and remained at the parsonage. In June last he was paid $500 by Father Hill, and with that money went on a prolonged debauch. On the 7th of July he wandered to Coney Island, created a disturbance, and beat several persons with a cane. He was arrested, but friends interceded for him, and he was discharged. Some time afterward he appeared under the name of Father Hogan, in the Tombs police court, in this city, as a complainant on a petty case, being drunk at the time. He had sufficient respect for his calling to conceal his identity during his drunken carousals. In hotels where he stopped he registered himself as a physician, although when in retreat he paraded himself as a Catholic clergyman in order to help himself out of it.

Don't Vote For Washburn. (Litchfield Independent.) The Republicans who supported and voted for Bill King for Congress are the same fellows that will work and vote for Bill Washburn. They would throw up their hats and hurrah for Boss Tweed or any other scoundrel, provided he was on the party ticket. But there are scores of honest Republicans in this county that didn't vote for Bill King, and they won't vote for Bill Washburn, either.

The Sunday-School Times complains of the stinginess of many of the respectable-looking people who attend church at or near the fashionable summer resorts, and are glad to see them have to have so many copper cents in their pockets. The Sunday-School Times complains of the stinginess of many of the respectable-looking people who attend church at or near the fashionable summer resorts, and are glad to see them have to have so many copper cents in their pockets.

The Russians in the race with England for the trade of Northern India, are first at Cabul, the capital of Afghanistan. The caravans between Persia and India pass through Cabul, and the city is the centre of a trade which the Russians desire to control. A Baptist church at Lagos, in Africa, has sent within a year $100 to the foreign missionary board of the Southern Baptist convention. This for a colored church in a heathen land is considerably better than the majority of churches in this land are doing.

Thirty-seven of the ninety-one annual conferences of the Methodist church which were held their conferences since Jan. 1 report 676,544 members and 112,277 probationers. There is an increase of fifty-two preachers, 17,133 members and probationers, 187 churches, ninety Sunday schools and 16,266 Sunday school scholars.

The Rev. Dr. B. F. Cray, a minister whose work is in Utah, expresses the opinion that the churches in that Territory have failed to make any impression on adult Mormons. He says: "Nearly all their attempts to evangelize Mormons have been failures. What they have gained has been by slow, persevering work at the foundation—the education of children."

GLOBELETS.

Mr. Kieckheaf is on the St. Louis police. Charles Reade will meet a man some day who kicks equally well with both feet. The average Boston milkman "ex tends" his milk with only 2 1/2 per cent of water. A Minnesota woman has lost two husbands by lightning. She ought to marry a conductor.

Last year's revenue of the German central exchequer falls short by 15,000 marks of the estimate. The new Pope is said to be an enthusiastic amateur of music, and is able to sing mass with fine effect. Great preparations are making in Cincinnati for the reception of General James Shields, who will shortly lecture.

The Belochians think so much of the telegraph that they steal several hundred feet of the wire every night. Queen Victoria has sent $30,000 to Quebec with which to build the "Kent Gate" to the memory of her father. Edison has been in the Yosemite Valley, and he is willing to admit that he can't invent a better valley than that.

The Hungarian ladies have abandoned the picturesque national costume and now appear in pullbacks of Worth. A fashion item says "marigold" is now a popular shade of yellow. The ladies always were partial to marigold. The Independence Belg's American correspondent speaks of the well-known Southern statesman, "M. Jefferson Davis."

The Tramway company of Edinburgh pays a dividend of 8 1/2 per cent. Street railways in that city have been elected a corresponding member of the French institute by 26 votes out of a total number of 43. The Anti-Murphyites in the West have christened a new drink the "Red Ribbon." They wear the colors on the end of the nose.

The London World has a rumor that the Grand Duke Nicholas, of Russia, has fallen ill because of official prostration. The Prince of Wales has accepted an honorary membership in the "Boston Ancient and Honorable Artillery. He is regarded as its biggest gun. The birth rate of the thirty millions of the Madras presidency has decreased to less than one half of what it was before the famine in India began.

Mr. Marble calls McLin "an ague-smittin' Parish." Kearney doesn't know what that means, but he will treasure it up to fling at the howlers. A shark was hauled ashore at Branford, Conn. After five hours, and when he seemed dead, he snarped off a finger that was stuck into his mouth. Gen. Lafayette once stopped over night in Biddeford, and the people are so proud of it that they show you eleven different houses where he slept.

The real issue in Indiana this fall is not one of finance, but turns on the question as to whether or not certain candidates wear embroidered night-gowns. Dr. Brown-Sequard has been presented by the French Academy of Science as a candidate for the chair of medicine made vacant by the death of Claude Bernard. Two branches of trade are brisk just now in Paris—fashions for men and muzzles to prevent dogs from going mad, or to make them so, according to some people.

Salsbury, we are informed, wears his garter on his breast. At first glance this looks peculiar; but perhaps Salsbury's extend further up than those of the ordinary pedagogue. The schooner that was taking Dom Pedro's car to Brazil got seasick and was abandoned by her crew. The old man will have to make his bicycle do the work a while longer. Leste, the unfortunate wretch in the Potter investigation, was driven crazy by attempting to discover whether Ben Butler was looking at him or at a grocery store around the corner.

Another recent aristocratic marriage in England is that of Lord Ralph Drury Kerr, son of the late Marquis of Lothian, to Lady Anne Fritcher Howard, daughter of the late Duke of Norfolk. Miss Beatrice Stafford, the actress, has brought suit against Thomas P. Wright, a New York broker, for breach of promise. Mr. Wright advertised for a wife and Miss Stafford responded. The marquis of Londonderry, with the Marchioness his wife, and his son, Lord Castle-rough, and the latter's wife, lately gave a dinner to more than 1,000 of his tenants on his Irish estate.

An active volcano has put in an appearance in the State of California, and is throwing up stones and fire. This is in harmony with the periodical earthquake shocks experienced on the Pacific coast. France, so fortunate in its wine-yield since the war, is now a heavy sufferer. The phylloxera has already appeared in thirty-four departments, and done damage computed at $200,000,000. Burgundy has escaped as yet.

Portugal has but one university, Coimbra, founded in 1259. It has seventy instructors and 1,100 students. There are 425 elementary schools, and perhaps 100,000 children cannot read and write by 15 their political rights. A man was fined lately in London for insisting on riding on the platform of a street car, instead of going inside, but no instance has been recorded of the fining of the company for providing no adequate accommodation inside. Eight Hartford girls hired a house at Old Hadly, Conn., in which to spend their vacation by themselves. They cooked their own meals, drove their own horses, fished in their own boats, and permitted no man to enter the building.

A new rope-making material has been found in the fibrous leaves of a New Zealand fern. The long, tough threads are said to exceed in strength the same thickness in tenacity, and they are not affected by immersion in salt water. The citizens of Munich have good lager-beer, and are great drinkers of it. There is a popular resort called the Chinese Tower, where between 7 and 9 of a Sunday morning 6,000 glasses are emptied. But there is no drunkenness, notwithstanding. The Russians in the race with England for the trade of Northern India, are first at Cabul, the capital of Afghanistan. The caravans between Persia and India pass through Cabul, and the city is the centre of a trade which the Russians desire to control.