AMONG THE COURTS

THE "GLOBE" GRAND JURY PRO-GRESSING RAPIDLY.

A Number of Indictments Found Yester day-Maria Hicks and Maud Murdock to be Wrestled with To-Day - A Report Promised this Forenoon.

Judge H. R. Rrill on the bench.

Gov. Davis ask d the court to set case 38. entitled B. Presley et al vs. Thomas Lowrey et al, to be tried on some other day than Oct. 1st, as now dated. He wanted it set forward on the calendar, as material witnesses were absent, and Mr. Warner, also engaged in the case, was absent. The counsel further stated that he would be engaged in the United States dis-tober term. The court advanced the case on the calendar to Oct. 15th. W. G. Gates, petit juror, was called to trict court during the first week of the Oc-show cause for absence. He was rel from attachment on payment of costs. Set case No. 77 was called:

The St. Paul Fire Insurance Company vs Jansen Brothers et al.

Suit on promissory note.

Messrs. Davis, O'Brien & Wilson for plaintiff, and Jacob Mainzer for Wm. Jansen and Jacob Jansen in person. The jury was called.

On motion, by agreement, the case was dismissed as to Wm. Jansen. The jury was sworn, and a statement of the case made by Mr. O'Brien. Timothy Reardon was examined for plaintiff.

No appearance for defendant.

The case was given to the jury, and without leaving their seats a verdict was returned against the defendant, Jacob Jansen, and damages assessed at $518.80. The court then adjourned until 10 o'clock

THE CALL.

Sept. 27: Case No. 57. Catherine Seibert vs. Jacob Mainzer. Sint to recover a note given in trust

Davis, O'Brien and Wilson for plaintiff; S. L. Pierce for defendant. COURT ITEMS.

Just after adjournment of the court yesterday, Jacob Jansen came, and was infomed his case had gone against him for $518.80. He expressed profound astonishment: didn't know his case was coming up, and in an aggrieved manner said he couldn't be dancing daily attendance on the court. This latter difficulty can readily be avoided by the purchase of the DAILY GLOBE, which contains an accurate report of the court proceedings for each day, together with the call of cases. THE GRAND JURY.

The jury's labors of deliberation were resumed, in secret, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The same desire to hurry up matters was expressed, and the opinion was ventured that all the jail cases could be disposed of by a continuous day's work, omitting the recess at noon. Though this part of the programme was not adopted, nevertheless the jurors did a steady day's work, and almost accomplished the task allotted when the jury convened in the morning. Many of the cases met with a prompt indictment, the consideration given being-brief, and the indictment found without a dissenting voice. A few received negative votes, and in several cases no bill was found. The work was done rapidly in the morning, but full speed was developed in the afternoon. Phroughout th was vigorously pushed along, and resulted in a clearing up of all the cases except three. Among these excepted cases is that of Maud Murdock, the cyprian, who assaulted a Jew named Rosenweig, who had foully insulted her. The case of James Sullivan, committed for bigamy about Aug. 22, also went over un-

Wm. Harris, the colored man who stole a revolver from Frank Kelly, had a true bill found against him for the crime of larceny. Over John Abrahamason's case, that of an assault upon Officer Gibbens, a little longer delay accurred than in the two former cases Carl Anderson, who burglarized Heimbach's saloon in the Sixth ward had his case dealt with very speedily, and a unanimous vote for an indictment will bring him up before a jury of his fellow-citizens.

Joseph Somers' case hung fire for some time, and the jury were very deand comparatively coming for the alleged assault.

The first case that afforded any degree of amusement was that of Mrs. Maria Hicks. charged with "malicious mischief" in throwing a lot of slops into a private room belonging to H. R. Smith. The testimony went to show that the bowl of slops, which did the damage and constituted "the malicious mischief," had been preceded by several chips and other missiles tossed through the same window. It appeared that the shower of fluid as well as solid; was provoked by Mr. Smith's conduct, or inmates of in no aggressive sense on Mr. Smith's part. but more on the part of the tossers, in a spirit of pure and simple mischief, not mal-Maria's case was de-to be one with which police court can as effectually deal, as the higher one.

John Osterberg got into Charles Olson's bed room Tuesday night. He went before the Municipal court Wednesday, and yesterday his little affair was brought to the attention of the grand jury, and immediately a true bill was found against him for larceny. John probably will realize that justice has picked him up in a whirlwind to rush him along.

The Merchants' hotel cutting scrape in which Joseph W. Connallin was the assailant, received a short notice, as the day's labors were nearing an end, and resulted favorably to Connallin. The circumstances connected with the cutting, the condition of Connallin at the time, and the slight injury inflicted, were taken into consideration, and the affair was not deemed to be of sufficient importance to carry it into court. The indictments found will be returned in court, to-day, at 11 o'clock. The jury have mooted the question of taking up the social evil after a disposal of the few remaining jail cases. This investi-gation, if taken up, will be approached cautiously. Already the opinion is hazarded that considerable difficulty will be experienced in finding convincing testimon against any one of the mesdames. But even with this to contend against, the opinion is generally prevalent among the jury, that public interest and morals demand an investigation into this matter. After a tedious day's work, the jury adjourned at 5 o'clock P. M.

DODGING A CONTRACT.

low a Contractor Who Was not the Lowest Bidder Got a Contract but Does no Come to Times-Sewall Criticised Again. The special committee, composed of Ald ermen Smyth and Rhodes of the Fifth ward, to whom was referred the matter of grading Bates avenue, and the establishment of grades on certain streets in the Fifth ward, met at the city hall yesterday at 3

'clock P. M. Besides the committee, there were presen Clerk Gorman, of the board of public works; City Attorney Murray, Messrs. Kiefer, Gotzian and Dean.

The first business presented was the Bates avenue matter. The affair stands about thus: Mr. Dean was awarded the contract for grading at 20 cents per yard, and surfac ing at 5 cents per yard. The next lowest bid being 17 cents for grading and 50 cents for surface work. Mr. Dean, the contractor, wishes to escape from the requirements of the contract, and the property holders wish to hold him to it, or at least to have the treet put in a passable condition.

The committee invited a general expres sion of opinion by all the parties to the mat ter. An informal talk of some length fol-

Mr. Rhodes contended that Mr. Dean was ot the lowest bidder by $100, excepting the urfacing of the streets.

Mr. Murray said that at first the property holders didn't want the surfacing done, but finally concluded to have it done. Mr. Dean bid on the supposition that the surfacing was not to be done.

Mr. Smyth said, for all that Mr. Dean had bid to do the surface work, and if it was the intention not to have it done, bids should not have been asked. Any contract under such expressed or implied agreement or understanding was altogether wrong. Mr. Murray-The surfacing was left to b lone at the discretion of the city engineer.

Mr. Rhodes-The contract doesn't say so The property owners in chorus--That's so. Smyth thought the case required only a payment to Dean, in a ratio to the oid made by Cleary, the lowest bidder on the whole work, for work done, provided the property holders would not hold Mr. Dean to the full letter of his contract. Dean's estimate for the work is $1,441, and according to Cleary's bid the same work would have cost $1,292. Col. Kiefer found objection to the gener he sidewalks such as met the approval of the property holders, nor corresponded with the original grade. Mr. Dean's and Sewall's (city engineer) attention had been invited to this, but no notice had been taken of the

Col. Kiefer was asked if the propertyolders were determined to have the street surfaced, and answered, yes, they were. He continued that since the grade, the street was worse than before, the topp ng being altogether faulty, and the sidewalks were objecionable.

Mr. Smyth stated that the owners had a ight to have the work done at the lowest possible rate, and in that Cleary's was a lower bid, yet Dean hal undertaken the contract, he should be made to do it at the rate bid for by Cleary.

Messrs. Kiefer, Freeman and Rhodes took ecasion to criticize Engineer Sewall. Mr. Freeman said he didn't believe that Engineer Sewall had ever looked at the

"Yes, he has," said Mr. Murray. Col. Keifer—"Well, he ought to have had the work done satisfactorily."

Mr. Rhodes-The trouble with Mr. Sewall is that he is rather too fond of his individuality. He will not do anything that he want to do Time after ters acted upon by the council are subsequently passed upon by Mr. Sewall and his ipse dixit must be final, so he thinks. Mr. Murray-"Remember he is a professional man.' Mr. Gotzian said he world consent to a substitution of Cleary's terms for Dean's, provided the latter would remove the loose sand he had put on the street.

Mr. Smyth said the contract was a horrible one, and ought never to have been let.

At the suggestion of Col. Kiefer, the matter was further postponed until inquiry could be made of property holders as to what adjustment could be made with the contractor.

The committee then took into consideration certain proposed grades, and alterations in the original grade in the fifth ward. The committee approved the grade on Olive street from Seventh to Grove street: Pine street from Seventh to Grove; Locust street from Seventh to Tenth street; Neill street from Seventh to Ninth; Williams street from Seventh to Grove; Seventh street from Kittson to Broadway; Eighth street long from Neill to Broadway; Ninth street from in coming to a conclusion Neill to Broadway; Tenth street from Grove whether to return a bill or not against him to Broadway; Fifth street (grade already made) from Jackson to Broadway; Eleventh street from Pine to Broadway.

The committee will present a resolution to the council at the next regular meeting for the adoption of these grades. Adjourned.

SUITS AGAINST THE CITY

During the present term of the district ourt four cases will be tried, in each of which the city of St. Paul is defendant.

Col. Kiefer, county clerk, received a letter yesterday from Vienna, and it may be termed a family affair. Each member had dotted down a paragraph or two. The letter contained inquiries from a gentleman and his family in regard to ocating in America. THE BOOM BOOMING.

The Plan for Building a Boom at St. Paul Assuming Shape-A Meeting to be Held Next Tuesday.

Some two months since on motion of Mr.

. W. McClung, the chamber of commerce appointed a committee of six to inquire into e feasibility of forming a boom company in this city. The committee consisted of the following gentlemen: J. W. McClung, street from Olive to Broadway, and Twelfth chairman, J. S. Prince, C. S. Uline, Geo. H. Warren, Daniel McCaine and J. Smith, Jr. Since that time the committee have not been idle; on the contrary, they have made diligent inquiry among lumbermen, manufacturers and dealers, log men and others whose opinion is worth having upon the subject, and, as announced in these columns Four Cases to be Tried at the Present Term a few days since, the result arrived at was that lumber could as easily be manufactured here as at Minneapolis or any other point. Lumber manufacturers were of opinion that the cost of manufacture by steam power would b · no more expense than water power, and all that was necessary was to find a $1,000 damages. His complaint sets forth point in the river where a boom would be practicable at a small cost. Since that time the committee have examined several locations and find that an excellent position exhis buggy and horse were precipitated into ists at the ferry below Fort Snelling. The chairman had intimated to Mr. Pusey that it was the desire of the committee to consult Governor Pillsbury, and that gentleman had telegraphed the Governor to that effect. The Governor, however, did not visit the city all day and the committee continued in secret session poring over those complicated, bewil-dering and inexplicably intricate accounts of Mr. Kerr's. The decision that the committee have come to in connection with these accounts is that which has been intimated in the Globe. Two experts—the present secretary of the committee and present secretary of the committee and nother whom the committee will ask the Governor to appoint-will be instructed to prepare balance sheets from the State auditor's vouchers and also from Mr. Kerr's books; and these will be compared in the same way as Mr. Smith has already done for two years. Disastrous Storm at Chicago Damage Done--Rev. H. A. Hayden Ac-Mail Coach in Wyoming "Jumped" By Masked Men--Various Fatalities and Misdeeds.

A PAIR OF CHICAGO BLIZZARDS. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 26 .- Until to-day nothing was really known of the extent of damage perpetrated by yesterday's storms. Since the estab-lishment of the city such a pair of blizzards have never visited this section. The morning storm dropped more water and executed perhaps more pluvial vengeance than the later endeavor, but the afternoon effort got its work in in good shape and did more business than the ordinary bucolic visitor, Early in the morning the sky was pictureque.

air was fearfully oppressive. Towards the north and in the northwest the sky was a brilliant green, and fitful gusts flew in from every quarter, held caucuses and sent messengers in every direction to whip in delegates for the grand convention.

At about 11 o'clock everything was in readiness, and the elements combined for the grandest meteorological demonstration of the season. fifteen minutes the convention adjourned. but it had done as much damage during that time as the Radical party and the yellow fever combined. Tons upon tons of water fell. Hailstones as big as a Minneapolis girl's fist rattled like cannon balls, and windows, chim-ney-pots, signs and general deviltry "streaked the pale air" as far as the eye could swept downward through the streets, and the see, and the thoroughfares were filled with mashed and shattered wagons, carts, buggies and hacks.

It is estimated that the damage to running gear and horses will reach $25,000. The roof of the exposition building was blown in, and about $12,000 in damage was done to the vari-ous articles on display. Among the other houses was Brewster's, the hatter, and Brewster was seriously injured. A $300 pane of glass in the store of M. Selz was blown far enough to meet Bubby Hale, and on the west side the fronts of houses, and the north sides of the streets, and the backs of houses on the south sides, looked pretty much as the Radical party felt when the news came from Maine.

Altogether the damage to the city amounts to petween $300,000 and $400,000, not counting in the beer consumed, (for which no recompense was offered) by the citizens, who sought their general resorts to escape personal danger. MATE JUMPED.

FORT FETTERMAN, Wy., Sept. 26 .-- The mail rom McKinney was jumped this afternoon about twenty-two miles north of here by twenty-two masked men. They succeeded in escort, getting the drop on them before they had an opportunity to draw their weapons. The horses and arms of the cavalrymen were taken, and the mail thoroughly ransacked. Messrs. Tillotson and Snyder, post traders here and at McKinney, were passengers on the mail wagon, but having been robbed of upwards of $300 a few days before, while on their way from old McKinney to a new post on Clear Fork, the high waymen, seared year, little beach, the highwaymen secured very little booty from them. This part of Wyoming is infested with horse thieves, robbers and scoundrels at the present date.

DAMAGE BY A STORM. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—This evening, durng a heavy storm, the wall of the new house at Fifth and Chestnut street blew down while the workmen were engaged on it. Several were injured, three dangerously.

Military Movements. CHEYENNE, Wy., Sept. 26 .- Gen. Bradlev's expedition, in camp at Jenney Stockade, Sept. 25: The expedition reached here this afternoon en route for Fort Laramie, where it will arrive about Oct. 2d and break up, the com-panies going from there to the various stations assigned them for the winter. Five companies of the Third cavalry under Major Carlton left camp on Red Water on the 22d for Camp Rob-inson via Custer City, in anticipation of trouble with Indians in that neighborhood, but if Indians are quiet, will reach Fort Laramie soon after the 12th of October.

Indian Agents. WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 .- The President has appointed Thos. B. Eilis, of Brooklyn, Indian agent at Fort Berthold agency, D. T.; L. M. Kelly, of Elgin, Ill., at Los Penos agency, Colorado; Jos. A. Stephan, af LaPorte, Ind., at Standing Rock agency. Smash the Washburn Robber.

[St. Cloud Times.] Farmers of the Third district: The prinsipal men of that wheat ring, organized for the purpose of preventing free competition, and thus robbing you, are the Washburns, one of whom asks you to send him to Congress. On the contrary, Mr. Donnelly has for years been trying to get protection to settlers through the legislature, but has failed through Republican opposition.

met at Northfield on the 17th inst., and nominated Mr. Chamberlain for Congress, who declined the honor. This leaves only two candidates in the field, Poehler and Strait, and the Greenbackers will support Poehler, notwithstanding he is a Democrat. "Spear, the Hatter."

Number ninty-eight East Third street, the fanous remodeller and refinisher of soft, silk and stiff hats, is the busiest man in town. Under his manipulation old hats become new, soiled, dingy "stove pipes" are restored to their origi-nal shape and lustre. Soft and stiff hats are cleansed and put into fashionable style, retrim-ed, turned out as good as new, in the most ex-peditions man nner, and at a small cost. His patrons increase daily and the universal satisfaction expressed by them, is proof that it is real economy to patronize "Spear, the hatter."
