AGUSTA, Me., Jan. 7.—The large crowd began to make its way into the State house as early as 8 o'clock this forenoon. The police at the capitol were without badges and had no appearance of bearing arms.

At 8:45 o'clock the assistant clerk of the House, W. E. Gibbs, called the roll for selection of seats. The Republicans did not respond to their names, neither did the Fusionists, who have been reported as non-affiliating.

The Senate. At 10 o'clock the senators elect were called to order by Samuel M. Lane, secretary of the last session. Prayer was offered by Rev. Samuel Uphorn.

A PROTEST. Senator Locke, of Cumberland, at once gained the floor and read a protest from the Republican members against the senate proceeding to business. The secretary refused to entertain the motion, and a message was sent to the governor and council informing them the members elect of the senate were necessary for the purpose of being qualified.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT. The election of president then began, the Republicans refusing to serve on committees or participate in the election of officers. James D. Sampson was elected president.

THE ASSEMBLY. The Assembly was called to order by Assistant Clerk Gibbs. John C. Talbot announced the drawing of seats.

REPUBLICANS WITHDREW. Objections were made to the motion from the other side, and Hale was ruled out of order by the assistant clerk, who refused to put the motion, on which the Republicans withdrew from participating in the proceedings.

A QUORUM. After notification to the governor that a quorum was present, the governor appeared and qualified the members. He then announced that seventy-six members, being a quorum, had taken and subscribed the necessary oaths, and were the regularly and duly constituted house of representatives.

Mr. Hale objected. Overruled, and Mr. Talbot was conducted to the chair. Three cheers were given for Hale.

W. E. Gibbs was chosen clerk by a vote of 74.

Mr. Hale again raised the point of no quorum, but was again overruled.

The Republicans claim fraud in counting the quorum, and that names were signed to the list of persons not present.

H. Carleton Cheever was chosen assistant secretary by a vote of 68. Again was the point raised that no quorum voted, and again was it overruled.

The question of notifying the Senate of the organization was debated, Hale taking the ground that there had been no legal organization of the House, and no other body could be informed thereof.

The protest of members from five cities was presented by Mr. Hale, who proceeded to address the House in an impressive and telling speech, urging that the people of Maine are waiting with the most intense anxiety for the settlement of these cases.

The only way to allay the great excitement prevailing is to admit these members, who are clearly elected according to the expressed decision of the supreme court.

Mr. Dickey remarked the supreme court had nothing to do with the action of the legislature, which drew forth a plea from Hale defending the court, and asking that constitutional barriers be not swept away.

Also, a message from the President of the United States transmitting the draft of a bill submitted to provide for the reclamation of marshes in the harbor and cities of Washington and Georgetown before other improvements, and recommending its passage.

Also, a message from the President transmitting, in response to Senate resolutions, a communication from the secretary of the interior concerning money paid to the Ute Indians, under the agreement of September 3d, 1873.

Also, a communication from the secretary of the interior transmitting a response to the Senate resolution for information relative to the establishment of mining claims on the Ute reservation.

Also, a communication from the secretary of war calling attention to the failure of the Ute Indians to comply with the terms of a treaty made at Fort Union, N. M., on the 10th of August, 1862, and for an estimate of the probable cost of improving the navigation thereof.

On motion of Senator Pendleton the Senate took up and considered a bill to authorize the secretary of the treasury to invest Indian funds held in trust by him at 4 instead of 5 per cent., except where the treaties stipulate otherwise.

Gov. Garcelon's term of office expires to-night at 12 o'clock. The president of the Senate, James D. Lamson, will temporarily fill the place.

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 7.—The legislature assembled to-day, and the Democratic officials were elected in both branches.

By Mr. Cox, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, reported back the bill to regulate immigration. It was read and sent to the committee of the whole on a point of order.

By Mr. Coffroth—Calling on the postmaster general for his reasons for not complying with the law requiring him to furnish a double postal card.

By Mr. Aikin—For the regulation of interstate freights and passages, and to relieve the same from the restrictions of local quarantine.

By Mr. Barber—To prevent the use of the United States flag for advertising purposes.

By Mr. Mills—Directing the President to prohibit all Indians on reservations from going into Texas.
