

NEXT PRESIDENT!

An Immense Crowd Gathered at Cincinnati to Name the Fortunate Man.

TILDEN'S WITHDRAWAL LETTER Accepted as Conclusive - Complicity Action of the New York Delegation.

THE CONTEST BADLY MIXED With Booms for Payne and Hendricks and Ripples for Hewitt, Seymour, Bayard et al.

THURMAN'S BOOM COLLAPSED, With an Almost Certainty that Ohio Will Go for Payne After the First Ballot.

INDIANS WILD AND FERCE In Support of the Claims of Hendricks, But His Boom Following Thurman's.

THE SOUTHERN DELEGATIONS Non-Committal, but Ready to Follow the Lead of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana.

A STRONG SEYMOUR SENTIMENT In Illinois and Wisconsin, and New York Able to Nominate Him if She Will.

ARRIVAL OF THE MINNESOTIANS And Organization for the Convention - P. H. Kelly Named for the National Committee.

WHO SHALL IT BE? CANDIDATES FOR THE OLD MAN'S MANTLE. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

CINCINNATI, June 21.—The New York delegation has held a meeting and passed resolutions complimentary to Tilden, and accepting his declination to be a candidate. This puts an end to rumors that his letter was, in reality, a bid to have the nomination forced upon him.

MINNESOTA DELEGATION. OFFICERS OF THE CONVENTION. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

CINCINNATI, June 21.—The Minnesota delegation arrived this morning and are quartered at the Burnet house. They have not followed the example of the Wisconsin boomers at Chicago, but have taken an elegant front parlor one flight above the office for headquarters.

NEW YORK. MINNESOTA WILL PROBABLY GIVE HANCOCK a complimentary vote on first ballot and then go for Payne. The Hendricks men are wild and fierce, and there are hosts of them here from Indiana.

NEW YORK. UNABLE TO AGREE. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

CINCINNATI, Tuesday, 1 A. M.—My regular midnight tour develops that the meeting of the New York delegation was not as harmonious as had been claimed to be the case. A bare majority, thirty-six, favored the nomination of Payne, while thirty-eight wanted to nominate Tilden in spite of his letter.

CONVENTION GOSSIP.

CINCINNATI, June 21.—The hot weather hasn't had the effect to lessen the ardor of the friends of the candidates, and the streets have presented an animated appearance since 11 o'clock. The American and Randall clubs of Philadelphia paraded the streets with music and banners, and were soon after followed by the Hendricks club of Indiana. The chief topic of conversation is THE LETTER OF MR. TILDEN, declining the use of his name again for the Presidency.

THE LETTER OF MR. TILDEN.

declining the use of his name again for the Presidency. While some were disposed to read in the closing of the letter a willingness to serve the party the majority of leaders look upon it as a final declination. Hon. Samuel J. Randall and Hon. Henry Waterson took the view of the latter. The New York delegation, as will be seen by the resolution given below, regard the letter as expressing a definite refusal on the part of Mr. Tilden not to be longer considered a candidate. It is announced with some authority that the New York delegation will support the name of

DISTRESS IN IRELAND.

Home Rulers Decide to Ask for a Gift of Church Funds. LONDON, June 21.—The Standard says the home rulers have requested Parnell to introduce a new bill for relief of the Irish people in view of the increasing distress on the outbreak of typhoid fever in several distressed districts. The bill will ask for £100,000 from the Irish church fund as a gift, and will propose a committee of distribution to be composed of the chairman and secretary of each of the four boards of assessors for relief already existing, and Foster, chief secretary for Ireland. At a meeting of the home rulers, Parnell presiding, it was unanimously decided not to oppose the government bill for compensation for disturbances either on the second reading or on the motion for going into convention, but to reserve to themselves the right of moving amendments in convention.

Gen. Grant's Western Tour.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

A WIFE'S DEVOTION STARTLINGLY PORTRAYED AT KANSAS CITY.

Her Husband to be Hanged Friday—She Agrees to Die With Him by Suicide—Her Agreement Faithfully Executed by the Shot of a Revolver—The Husband Caught in the Act of Poisoning Himself and Prevented After a Desperate Struggle—Miscellaneous Crime and Casualty Record. STARTLING TRAGEDY. KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 21.—A startling tragedy was enacted here to-night, resulting in the death by suicide of the wife of Hayde Brown, condemned murderer. The execution of Brown is to take place at Moberly, Friday. He is now confined in jail in this city. His wife, an intelligent and prepossessing woman of 26, came here with her three year old child a few days ago and spent nearly all her time in her husband's cell since her arrival. During the entire day & night she has been there and it appears an agreement was made between the doomed man and his wife that both should commit suicide at half past seven to-night. Accordingly as time approached the woman in her boarding place wrote a note of explanation, pinned it to the child's breast, and making a bed on the floor, placed a revolver to her temple and put a bullet through her brain. She expired immediately. Two policemen went to jail to notify Brown of his wife's act, and as they called him into the corridor, saw him put something into his mouth hastily. They immediately grasped him by the throat, and after a protracted struggle succeeded in removing half an ounce of morphine from his mouth. The morphine had been given him by his wife. When called to the corridor Brown emitted oaths after oaths, and cursed after curse, and after the police were removed he begged to be killed, and cursed his fall. Brown is a thoroughly bad man, and the strange devotion of his wife is the subject of much comment.

THE GLOBE HOROSCOPE.

As it Casts its Light on the Chicago Market.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.] CHICAGO, June 21.—Cables lower on spot and cargoes. The only feature of importance on our market to-day was the urgent demand for cash or June. However, I think it was mainly from short opening sales. Milwaukee No. 2 advanced sharply from 90c for closing sales on curb to 92 1/2c and the demand apparently vanished. July was principally dealt in with a disposition by traders to sell this option and August freely. It surely seems hazardous to sell these at the discount with cash wheat in active demand. However, there is no recounting for risks in the market, and the boys are evidently betting on a continuance of the present favorable weather and security of the crop in its present beautiful condition. God help the grangers with this pack of wags after them. Curb closed 90 1/2c July; 84c selling August. Corn rather quiet at a shade lower range, July 35 1/2c; August 35 1/2c. Shipments continue and our stock is being rapidly reduced. Provisions strong and higher, closing July, $11.87 1/2; August, $11.95. The boss bulldozer is still holding the boys on the anxious seat and evidently intends to squeeze the internal viscera out of every one of the shorts. If he keeps this thing up much longer he will make himself disliked.

KITTIE'S ADVENTURES.

ABDUCTED IN TEXAS—RECOVERED IN NORTHWESTER MINNESOTA.

Misfortunes of Mrs. Sarah Hall, of Michigan, Emigrating to Texas—Stricken Down With Fever She Recovers to Find Her Baby Girl Abducted and Carried Away—After Four Years Recovery of the Stolen Child Brought About Through an Anonymous Letter Mailed at Minneapolis—Found at Osakis Lake, Douglas County, Minn. These passed through St. Paul yesterday a brother and sister for Bangor, Van Buren county, Michigan, parted in Texas and reunited in Minnesota, after four years of separation. The story of the separation and reunion, as told a GLOBE reporter by the brother, contains all the elements for a first-class sensation, all the more interesting because that the main characters were suffering persecutions, joys and sorrows, are bona fide characters. In 1876, in the month of May, Mrs. Sarah Hall, a widow with seven children, then aged 40, her children from seven to three years, J. M. familiarly known as "Matt," and a printer, being the oldest of the children, his age 10. Of her children, a black-eyed girl, then 12 years old, with a handsome features, was the youngest, and the pet of the family circle. Mrs. Hall went from Michigan to Sherman, Grayson county, Texas, a city of 10,000 inhabitants, where Matt, the eldest boy, soon secured employment, and sticking on the Daily News. In a short time after arrival Mrs. Hall was prostrated by a lingering attack of fever, incident to new comers, as were two or three of the children. Kittie, the pet, got so weak that she could not get up, and a very active temperance, her presence was very troublesome to the invalids, and finally in the fifth week of the mother's illness consented to be taken to the city, to be revived with the family just outside the city, to take the child home with him, during the remaining illness of the family. The next week and but four days after the child was taken away, Matt was dispatched to bring her back home. Instead, however, of soon returning to his mother with the beloved, he came back with the startling intelligence that Gray had suddenly moved away, taking Kittie with him, and that she was living in a city with her mother, brothers and sisters, may be imagined, it cannot be portrayed on paper. Promptly search was instituted for the whereabouts of Gray, and the abduction of the child, but long months passed by and still no clue. Finally a letter was received by acquaintances of Gray's at Sherman, that he was living at Osakis, Minn., but this report upon investigation proved untrue, and no movements, until the family settled down to the conviction that Kittie was lost to them. Thus matters stood until about a year ago, when Mrs. Hall, disappointed with her life in Texas, resolved to go back to her old home at Bangor, Mich. Here nothing transpired to throw any light upon the abduction and fate of Kittie, until about a month ago, when a letter was received, dated at Minneapolis, Minn., saying that Gray was living at Osakis Lake, Minn., that Kittie was with him, and concluding as follows: "I ask you in the name of God to come and get your child, Kittie, and her living mother. Her treatment is brutal, shameful, as she will testify. When she is taken from him where she can have the freedom of speech, you will hear a story equal to Uncle Tom's Cabin. The man is all right, but he is a miser, and he will take her home with him, and she will be his property, but he will give her away if you have to beg your way to her. This is no picture, but facts. The poor little girl will tell her story. It is too bad. If you turn a deaf ear to this, rest until you see her, so you can not find rest until you see her. THE CHILD'S PARENTS. Upon this information the son and brother Matt, now grown to a young man of twenty, started for Minneapolis, Minn., where he found the child, going on to Osakis station on the Breckenridge division of the St. Paul & Manitoba road, the following day. Arriving at Osakis, he commenced inquiries for Gray, which resulted in the information that he was living on the Osakis farm, some five miles from the station. Thither Matt went, and after shadowing the house for some time, was so fortunate as to discover Kittie in the timber, along the bank of the lake. He quickly informed her of her mother's alarm, and she fled to the station. At first she failed to recognize her brother, but he soon carried her memory back to the old days, and she was awakened in making up her mind to return home with her mother and sisters, almost forgotten by her four years' absence. Confidence thus established Kittie was warned against saying anything of the discovery, and Matt retired to consider his next step. Taking into confidence a neighbor of Gray's whom he had met, Matt told his story. Then another neighbor was brought in, and between them it was decided that Matt should go to the station and demand the child. The next day this programme was carried out, several of the neighbors going along to render Matt assistance if it should be needed, but keeping in the background at his first attempt to get Gray.

DISTRESS IN IRELAND.

Home Rulers Decide to Ask for a Gift of Church Funds. LONDON, June 21.—The Standard says the home rulers have requested Parnell to introduce a new bill for relief of the Irish people in view of the increasing distress on the outbreak of typhoid fever in several distressed districts. The bill will ask for £100,000 from the Irish church fund as a gift, and will propose a committee of distribution to be composed of the chairman and secretary of each of the four boards of assessors for relief already existing, and Foster, chief secretary for Ireland. At a meeting of the home rulers, Parnell presiding, it was unanimously decided not to oppose the government bill for compensation for disturbances either on the second reading or on the motion for going into convention, but to reserve to themselves the right of moving amendments in convention.

Gen. Grant's Western Tour.

TOPEKA, Kansas, June 21.—Gen. Grant accepted by telegraph the courtesy of the A. T. & S. F. railroad, and the programme of his Western trip will be as follows: He will reach Kansas City the morning of July 2, go direct to Merriam park, on the Fort Scott & Grand, and receive the people of Kansas during the day, returning to Kansas City in the evening.
