THE GLOBE FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

Aid the Cause by Circulating Democratic Literature. Democratic county, city and town committees cannot do more efficient service than by extending the circulation of the GLOBE. Let the people of the land receive light. The price of the daily GLOBE is sixty cents per month. Committees or others can make their own computation of time and remit ac cordingly. Anyone sending five daily subscribers for the campaign will receive an extra

The weekly GLOBE is $1.15 per annum, postage paid. It will be sent from date till December 1st for fifty cents.

Friends of the cause should interest themselves to see that the circulation of the GLOBE is rapidly increased.

Ir Gen. Hancock is elected he will take his seat. There is no doubt of it. He is the candidate of a determined party that will elect and inaugurate him at any cost. The majority must and shall rule in this country, and those who are opposed to majority dominion may oppose it at their own Says the Louisville Courier-Journal: "Bluff Aleck," of the War Department has discharged two clerks for speaking well of Han-cock. The administration is mad, and it will be madder still in November.

"Bluff Aleck" has simply been practicing for his own experiences of the future. He expects to be discharged himself, and wants to give his subordinates a realizing sense of the sensations he expects to experience.

ANOTHER of the Grant league has succumbed, like Don Cameron, to physical disability. Logan has reached Chicago and pronounces himself worn out. He says he will not be able to do much for the cause of the party for a month or so, but in course of onlar how sickness invariably strikes disappointed politicians at about the same time.

We had supposed from reading his organ, that the high-toned and supremely lofty Gorthe nominating convention at Farmington for fear that he might be supposed to be cation and chagrin to find that Cole was in Farmington yesterday "early and often" begging for votes on bended knees. He was letting the office seek the man-but to prevent accident he thought it would be just as well to have the man around in the vicinity. Hence Cole was there with his hat in his band seeking for a crumb.

THE SECOND DISTRICT.

others will literally sulk in their tents. Strait stands in the campaign as a dead fail-

DUNNELL AND WARD. Republicans of the First district who try to fix their choice between the two candidates nominated at Waseca by the machine test of regularity of nomination will be sadly embarrassed by contradictory claims and evidence. If they undertake to choose by the apparent qualifications and disqualifications of the two men, they will be even more embarrassed, for while Mr. Dunnell has had greater experience in public life and possesses the secretive habits which are in the common estimation associated with power and shrewdness, he is undeniably so unfortunate as to be continually weakening his party by making enemies for himself among its active and influential men. Mr. Ward, impulsive and open in manner and speech, though he thereby makes some enemies, yet gains more warm friends than Mr. Dunnell can with his official patronage. Furthermore Mr. Ward has had larger experience in public life and in business affairs than Mr. Dunnell had when he was first elected to Congress, and his education and capacity, though differing, are at least equal to Mr. Dunnell's in all the requirements for a legislator.

But really, the contest between these two candidates of one party in the first district, is not as to regularity of nomination or the personal qualifications and merits of the two men. It is a contest between the ins and outs of the district, or between the office-holding fraternity created by Mr. Dunnell and the leading Republicans of the district who through choice or Mr. Dunnell's disfavor are not of the office-holding fraternity. The movement resulting in the nomination of Ward, as Gen. Baker expressed it in his speech at Waseca Wednesday, is a revolutionary revolt against machine of the party, or against the one man power and tyranny has been ailing for some days and Monday of Mr. Dunnell's party management. As was taken seriously ill, death resulting from carbolism of the heart at 3 A. M. to-day. The Judge Page expressed it, the movement is a rising against the machine and the man of the machine. As S. P. Child expressed it the movement is in resentment for insults and humiliation put upon Republicans of the district, and is influenced by the feeling that Mr Donnell having reduced two-thirds the Republican majority in the district, would, in two more terms of his rule make the district Democratic. These leading Republicans and many others of the party who are more highly esteemed, who acted with them at Waseca, appeared to consider the matter of legitimacy of nomination as of secondary if not small importance. They By mail, (wihout Sunday edition,) 6 papers per have inaugurated a contest within their party, as they conceive, for the benefit of their party, and which contest is strengthened and embittered by the personal interests involved on either side.

Mr. Dannell will be vigorously supported by the office helders of the district, including the classes of Republican voters with whom petty offices are the chief aims of life. and the large constituency which follows the office holders or is controlled by their methods of conducting a political compaign. Mr. Ward, with the men who nominated him, largely representing the strongest Republican sections of the district and the intelligent elements of the party, are pledged to an active campaign. The whole Republican vote will be called out, but it will be divided probably nearly equally between the two candidates.

It is a fight within the Republican party with which Democrats of the First district should have no sympathies to turn them from their duty. It is their duty to take advantage of the situation. This they can do by nominating for Congress some man who, uniting with something of Dunnell's tact something of Ward's popular attributes, will be able to meet either or both before the people in discussion of the issues of the campaign, and who will also have the faith or zeal to influence him to make an earnest contest. With such a man the First district can be won and Minnesota send a solid Democratic delegation to Congress to assist in the apportionment of representation to be based upon the pending census.

AN INDEPENDENT MAN.

The only serious accusation against Gen the campaign, both gubernatorial and presi- Hancock thus far made is based upon an interview with Gen. Harry Bingham, who was formerly upon the staff of Gen. Hancock. In this interview Gen. Bingham asserted that Hancock is a man of strong will. and that if the Democracy elect him they will have a man who will himself be President; and who will not receive directions at the hands of any set of Democratic leaders, no matter how prominent. Though Bingham expresses great admiration for Gen. Hancock personally, he considers this characteristic a serious objection to his election. The GLOBE is not at all fearful on the score indicated. It does not fear a man who has a mind of his own, but would re joice to record the inauguration of such a content, for they have the official figures on man as President of the United States. We have had too many impotent Presidents -men who were subservient to the dictation of a few self-constituted leaders ocratic ticket has existed in the past, it may of the party they represent. It would be a refreshing change to see a man in the Presidential office with sufficient independence to do right under all circumstances without regard to whether this or that party The Democratic party may be proud of having a candidate who is open to the accusations preferred against Gen. Hancock. It is acknowledged that Hancock is a man of positive convictions; it is acknowledged that he has the bravery to assert his opinions and to maintain them; it is acknowledged that he is not the mouthpiece of any clique or cabal of politicians. Though the Republicans regard such a man with peculiar horror all sensible men will respect a candidate with sufficient independence to have a governmental policy of his own and to enforce it. whether party leaders like It or not. Unless the Republicans can bring a more serious charge against Gen. Hancock, they will not be able to diminish his popularity. Gen. Hancock is free from all entangling time will be at work in the field and remain alliances. His nomination was not brought on the stump to the end, It is a little sin- about by bribing this or that party manager with the promise of patronage. It was as nearly spontaneous as any nomination that was ever made in the country. This fact will inspire confidence in his acts-confidon E. Cole would go to Alaska the day of dence that he is not actuated by sinister motives, and is not paying up obligations incurred in the canvass. The fact that he is seeking the office. Judge of our mortifi- pronounced an independent and fearless man by his opponents, will add to, rather then detract from, the credit he will receive An independent man in the Presidential chair has been what the country has long needed, and by the election of Gen. Hancock that need will be supplied.

It has never before happened that a party was willing to admit as true every charge brought by its opponents against its candidates. Though many of the silecations as The result of the Republican nominating to Gen. Hancock are of doubtful authenconvention in the Second District was just ticity, none of them do him any discredit. as the Glone forecast, Strait having exactly He has been accused of asserting his intenfifty-six votes. They are proud of the fact, however, them will work for the nominee at once, but that no charge affecting his bravery or his integrity has yet been made or could be substantiated if made. He is peerless, bearing an unblemished record. If elected he will prove to be a President of discretion, nerve and ability. And he will be elected and inaugurated, despite the tricks and dishonesty of his opponents. A CARPET BAGGER'S ALLUSION. The distinguished carpet bagger from Oregon-Mr. Fitch-was a little unfortunate in his allusion to the possible Democratic candidate for Congress from this district as being the possessor of a bar'l. It is very evident that the speaker was a carpet bagger or he would never have invited compariso by making such a remark. Mr. Washbarn and the gentleman alluded to as the candiditate with a bar'l, (who by the way don't seek the office), came to Minnesota, we believe, about the same time. Whatever Mr. Kelly has obtained of this world's goods, has been by intelligent and industrious work and good business management and sagacity. He has never called his creditors together and traded off a lot of stolen cats and dogs at fabulous prices in payment of his debts, winding up with a trip to Europe for his health, and the complaisant announcement that three hundred thousand dollars remained after the settlement. Mr. Kelly's bar'l has been obtained in a legitimate manner. He has made his own way in the world, and was not, like the titman of the royal family of officeseeking Washburns, born with a silver spoor in his mouth. Mr. Kelly don't belong to the class of men who buy Congressional seats and stand in with timber and other

> An inquisition taken at Excelsior, Minnesota, in the county of Hennepin, on the eighth day of July, A. D. 1880, before Petrus Nelson, coroner of the said county of Hennepin, upon view of the bodies of P. D. Platenburg, William Chadwick and Cornelius Gaines, lying there dead, by the oaths of the jurors whose names are hereunto subscribed, who being sworn to inquire on behalf of the State of Minnesota, when, how and by what means the said P. D. Platenburg, William Chadwick and Cornelius Gaines came to their death, upon their oaths do say: That it was by the explosion of the boiler of the steamer Mary, on the first day of July, A. D. 1880, at the dock of the St. Louis House, on Lake Minnetonka, in the State of Minnesota. House, on Lake Minnetonka, in the State of

But we do not find from the evidence introduced before the jury that the engineer was incompetent, or that he was not careful and faithful to his duty; but we do find that the naturation is duty; ont we do find that the boiler was entirely unfit in material and design for the steam power required for steam-bost purposes, and that the owner, George B. Halsted, was criminally negligent in not having a careful inspection of the boiler by competent authority. We desire to call the attention of the Legislature to the urgent necessity of putting the steam payingting of inland lakes. of putting the steam navigation of inland lakes under legal surveillance similar to that exercised by the general government upon our rivers.

Barnum's Day. The event of the season; the advent of Barnum's "Greatest Show on Earth," will take place to-day. A grand parade will take place in the morning previous to the pitching of the mammoth tents. From the moment the grand procession appears upon our streets until the last act of the evening perstreets until the last act of the evening per-formance, the veteran showman will be first in the hearts of the children, and a test vote among the boys and girls of St. Paul would give him a good outlook for the Presidency The furore his great show has created in Chicago and the Eastern cities is beyond all precedent. The wonderful little foreigner, Zazel, seems to have captured all classes, and posed largely of people who never before visited a canvass exhibition. The Boston Barnum allows none to beat him, but Barnum himself. This sesson the veteran seems to have eclipsed all previous efforts, and the crowds each afternoon and evening are unprecedented in the history of Boston amusements. Last evening after ten thousand tickets were sold the doors ware closed, and it was estimated by the managers that nearly as many were turned away. Zazel, as usual, kept the vast audience spell-bound during her thrilling performance. As an illustration of nerve, daring and presence of mind in sudden emergencies, her exhibition is wonderful and will be discussed long after the intrepud little foreigner has left us.

Barnum's audiences, this season, are com-

An attempt was made Wednesday night to rob a man just down from the boom who had considerable money. The man who made the attempt had spotted his man, and when the first opportunity presented itself be snatched the wallet. The robbed man at once gave the alarm and the frightened into dropping the roll. The money was recovered, but the thief made his escape. He is known, and if he ever returns to the city will most likely go over the road

FIRE! Four o'clock yesterday afternoon the fire bell sounded the alarm, and the engine came tearing down Commercial avenue at a fearful pace. When it reached Mair street the driver succeeded in running the horses astride a pile of lumber which lay in front of Simmons' shop. The engine was cut loose from the panting horses, and was hitched on to a farmer's wagon which happened to pass. After much trouble the engine and hose cart reached Isaac Stoples mill in time to learn that the fire had already that the fire originated in the shavings back of Staples' planing mills.

Washington, July 8 .- An official statement compiled at the postoffice department shows the issues of postage stamps, stamped envelopes and postal cards during the fiscal year, foot up an aggregate of $31,932,519. being an increase of nearly $3,500,000 over the total for the preceding fiscal year, or 12 2-10 per cent. This percentage is about double the average rate of increase during the previous five years. The greatest proportional increase is in item of postal cards, the issues of which amounted to $2,753,470 during the last fisamounted to $2,753,470 during the last fis-cal year as against $2,217,970 for the year ended June 30, 1879, an augmentation of 24 per cent. The largest actual gain to the postal revenue was in issues of ordinary postage stamps which during the last fiscal year aggregated $22,414,928, being an in-crease of $2,297,669 or 11 4 10 per cent. over the preceding year. The issues of newspaper and periodical stamps increased five and one-tenth per cent., the totals being $1,088,412 for the fiscal year of 1880.

Local Trade Reviving-Bran Higher-Telegraphic Market Reports-Wheat Advancing-Provisions Tossed-The Stock Market Fluctuating-Granger Share

Leading the Day's Decline. Sr. Paul, July 9. The local market is recovering from the par tial suspension of business through the patriotic holidays, and trade in seasonable commodities is quite active. In wheat there is nothing select stock of staple and fancy goods in the doing beyond the continued withdrawal for store for consumption, and quotations are of no use. The forwarding movement of corn continues in lessened volume and the dealing in oats are only moderate. Bran is somewhat scarce and higher, being worth $6 on track and $7 from the store. The fruit trade is large with the demand only fairly supplied and prices quite steady.

The upward movement in the lake and east

The upward movement in the lake and eastern wheat markets was continued yesterday. August opened at Chicago le higher than on Wednesday, and closed on the call board at a further advance of ½c. In Milwaukee August opened at an advance of 1½c from Wednesday's closing, and closed at a further advance of le. In New York spring wheat was strong with free bidders. It is evident that operators in these wheat markets, as well as operators on the New York stock market, are better informed as to spring wheat prospects than they were last week. The GLOBE's interviews of yesterday, as elsewhere published, with men best informed as to wheat prospects in Minnesota, will indicate the tenor of their late information, and it may be added that the wheat prospects are no better in Iowa of their late information, and it may be added that the wheat prospects are no better in Iowa or Wisconsia than they are in Munnesota.

The loss of Minnesota by the probable partial failure of the wheat crop will, therefore, probably be made up by the wheat having a much higher value than if there was a large yield. An important consideration this fall will be the quality of the grain, and farmers can doubtless save or make considerably by care in the harvesting and threshing season.

A New York dignatch of last evening save.

A New York dispatch of last evening says: A New York dispatch of his certains so, "Cottons are rather more active and there is an improved tone in the market, Prints quiet and less active. Men's wear woolens in light demand and flannels and blankets remain quiet. Kentucky jeans in better request. Foreign goods quiet."
