

MAKING WIDE OF THE BALLOTS

IMPORTANT ACQUISITIONS TO THE DEMOCRACY OF INDIANA.

Prominent National Nominees Withdraw in Favor of Landers and the Democratic Ticket—The Paroxysmal Reciter to Take the Stump for DeGolyer, Jim—Verdell of Democratic Arkansas Against Republican—Words of Cheer From the Gallant Gen. Slocum of the Prospects of Indiana and Ohio.

WARD VICTORY IN FERREBORG COUNTY. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

ALBERT LEA, Sept. 26.—The most exciting canvass ever held in this city took place last evening. The contest was between A. C. Wedge and A. P. Sawyer, candidates for Senator. Wedge carried every ward in the city by an aggregate majority of seventy.

WARD AHEAD. [Correspondence of the Globe.]

MADRID, Sept. 24.—Thursday night quite a large Ward meeting here with Mr. Thomas Mellon as chairman. Upon a test vote Mr. Ward had one majority, as between Ward and Dannel.

INDIANA. A BOOST FOR LANDERS. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 26.—The withdrawal of J. B. Yeagley and Nash W. Parker from the national committee, announced yesterday, has been the theme of conversation in all political circles. Yeagley was the Green-back candidate for secretary of state and Parker for the State senate, and both withdrew in favor of their Democratic opponents, giving as their reason the conviction that the National party is and will be unable to secure the financial reform which its platform demands, and that in the Democratic party they see a chance to secure it, as the mass of that organization are Green-backers at heart.

JOHN KELLY'S VICTORY. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—John Kelly, leader of the Tammany hall Democratic organization of this city, has secured what is conceded to be a big victory for himself. He yesterday forced the Irving hall faction of the party, the faction that elected Edward Cooper mayor, and which is now composed entirely of would-be leaders of the Democratic party, to submit to his whim, that the conference between the Tammany hall and Irving hall factions shall be deferred until after the State convention. There is great rejoicing among the Tammany hall Democrats. The State convention to nominate a chief justice of the court of appeals is to be held in Saratoga on the 28th inst. The State committee is reorganized. The seven members of this committee on the committee are Irving Hall Democrats. It is believed that in the reorganization Mr. Kelly will secure four out of the seven members for Tammany hall.

REBUFIATION DEFEATED. DEMOCRATIC ARKANSAS STANDS BY HER OBLIGATIONS.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 26.—The governor, secretary of state and attorney general, canvassers of the vote on the repudiation constitutional amendment, submitted at the election of September 16, have been counting the vote for two or three days past, the returns having not yet completed, but the official figures are known, and the amendment is defeated, falling short on the direct vote about 1,500 votes. The majority against it will be increased to over 7,000 when the whole number of votes cast at the election, as shown by the poll books is ascertained, as the failure to vote upon the question was virtually a vote against the amendment. Certificates of certain clerks already in as the whole number of votes cast at the election show an increase of seven per cent. Estimating the same increase for the counties yet to be certified, the total vote of the State will be about one hundred and fifty thousand.

MISCELLANEOUS. CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Gen. Grant who has been two days visiting friends, leaves to-morrow for Warren, Ohio, where he will preside at a Republican mass meeting, the only one in which he will take an active part during the campaign.

Gen. Slocum Confident of Success. [Brooklyn Eagle.]

Gen. Henry W. Slocum, of this city, is doing yeoman's service on the stump in Indiana, for his old associate in the field, Gen. Hancock. Slocum during the war commanded regiments made up almost solely of the gallant sons of the Hoosier State, and he is well known to the soldiers by these names as they appear. The general will private letter to a friend estimates the Democratic majority in Indiana at figures which surprise even sanguine Democrats in the East, and Slocum has never been accused of any partiality in making political calculations.

Gen. Slocum expects to remain in Indiana until about the 5th of October. He will then go to Ohio where he will remain until after the election. The accounts from Ohio are such as to give the Democrats full control of the State, and the President-elect will be the President of the country.

Cal. Wagner Hissed. [Cincinnati Enquirer.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—O. Wagner, the minister, was hissed off the stage to-night at one of the Sunday night theatres, on account of something derogatory to the house printed in a morning paper, purporting to come from him.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES

A Case for Judge Lynch in Missouri—A Young Man, a Woman Drugged from Her Horse and Brutally Outraged—An Iowa Actor Arrested at Washington for Forgery—Fires and Other Disasters.

BEWILDERED. CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 26.—Gen. Garfield was called upon last night at his home in Mentor by a deputation of citizens of the neighborhood, headed by a band of music and a company of torchbearers. The general briefly returned thanks for the compliment.

A MADMAN'S RIDE. [Cincinnati Enquirer.]

CLINGING TO THE WINDSHIELD OF A TRAIN RUNNING THROUGH A TOWN. [Reading Eagle.]

DEPOTMASTER THOMAS BOONE, of this city, relates the details of a most dangerous ride of a madman on the Reading road. When the train in charge of conductor Figaner arrived in Port Clinton, and while the conductor was tapping the wheels of the forward car, he observed the figure of a man extended on the front track. Finding himself the center of attraction, the man slowly made his way from his unbecomingly position, and at last stood upright and addressed the train.

WARD VICTORY IN FERREBORG COUNTY. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

ALBERT LEA, Sept. 26.—The most exciting canvass ever held in this city took place last evening. The contest was between A. C. Wedge and A. P. Sawyer, candidates for Senator. Wedge carried every ward in the city by an aggregate majority of seventy.

WARD AHEAD. [Correspondence of the Globe.]

MADRID, Sept. 24.—Thursday night quite a large Ward meeting here with Mr. Thomas Mellon as chairman. Upon a test vote Mr. Ward had one majority, as between Ward and Dannel.

INDIANA. A BOOST FOR LANDERS. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 26.—The withdrawal of J. B. Yeagley and Nash W. Parker from the national committee, announced yesterday, has been the theme of conversation in all political circles. Yeagley was the Green-back candidate for secretary of state and Parker for the State senate, and both withdrew in favor of their Democratic opponents, giving as their reason the conviction that the National party is and will be unable to secure the financial reform which its platform demands, and that in the Democratic party they see a chance to secure it, as the mass of that organization are Green-backers at heart.

JOHN KELLY'S VICTORY. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—John Kelly, leader of the Tammany hall Democratic organization of this city, has secured what is conceded to be a big victory for himself. He yesterday forced the Irving hall faction of the party, the faction that elected Edward Cooper mayor, and which is now composed entirely of would-be leaders of the Democratic party, to submit to his whim, that the conference between the Tammany hall and Irving hall factions shall be deferred until after the State convention.

REBUFIATION DEFEATED. DEMOCRATIC ARKANSAS STANDS BY HER OBLIGATIONS.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 26.—The governor, secretary of state and attorney general, canvassers of the vote on the repudiation constitutional amendment, submitted at the election of September 16, have been counting the vote for two or three days past, the returns having not yet completed, but the official figures are known, and the amendment is defeated, falling short on the direct vote about 1,500 votes.

MISCELLANEOUS. CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Gen. Grant who has been two days visiting friends, leaves to-morrow for Warren, Ohio, where he will preside at a Republican mass meeting, the only one in which he will take an active part during the campaign.

Gen. Slocum Confident of Success. [Brooklyn Eagle.]

Gen. Henry W. Slocum, of this city, is doing yeoman's service on the stump in Indiana, for his old associate in the field, Gen. Hancock. Slocum during the war commanded regiments made up almost solely of the gallant sons of the Hoosier State, and he is well known to the soldiers by these names as they appear.

Cal. Wagner Hissed. [Cincinnati Enquirer.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—O. Wagner, the minister, was hissed off the stage to-night at one of the Sunday night theatres, on account of something derogatory to the house printed in a morning paper, purporting to come from him.

OLD WORLD NEWS

Largely Increased Inquiry for Standard Dollars and Fractional Silver. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 26.—The demand for silver dollars and for fractional silver is rapidly increasing. During the week just ended the treasury received orders for 640,992 standard silver dollars, as compared with 297,489 issued during the corresponding week of last year.

GREAT BRITAIN. LAND DEMONSTRATIONS. DUBLIN, Sept. 26.—Land meetings were held to-day at Kilrush and New Ross. There were 10,000 people at the former meeting. Parnell attended the New Ross meeting, at which 20,000 people were present.

THE SICK MAN. ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 26.—Count Von Hotzfeldt, German ambassador, had a four hours' interview with the Sultan and vainly tried to persuade him to consent to a peace in the Balkans.

STILL DEFERRED. CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26.—Count Von Hotzfeldt, German ambassador, had a four hours' interview with the Sultan and vainly tried to persuade him to consent to a peace in the Balkans.

DETERMINED TO RESIST. SCUTARI, Sept. 26.—The Albanian Consul recently invited the Albanian Chiefs at Dulcigno to Sontari, that he might represent to them the necessity of the surrender of Dulcigno. The Chiefs were more than ever determined to resist.

RECOGNIZING. RAOUA, Sept. 26.—The British despatch Lord Hallifax, with Admiral Seymour and all other commanders except the French on board, has gone to make a reconnaissance in Albanian waters.

POSTPONED. GRAYASA, Sept. 26.—The ships which sailed to reconnoitre the Albanian coast have returned to Ragusa. The Albanians are flocking to Dulcigno. The Montenegrins are ready to engage the Albanians, but do not wish to fight Turkish regulars.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

W. A. Calhoun, of Willmar, died last week. He was one of the first settlers of the town. He built the Pacific house and presided over it for several years as landlord. He leaves a wife and three children.

STILL WATER AROUSED.

A Live Hancock, English and Sibley Club—Address Speeches by Gen. R. W. Johnson and Judge Flandrau.

The Hancock, English and Sibley club which has been organized at Stillwater is one of the live organizations of the State. Hon. E. W. Durant presided, and it was largely due to him that the meeting on Saturday night was held.

Gen. R. W. Johnson, of this city, was the first speaker, and after the applause which greeted him, and after he had spoken in substance as follows: Just thirty-one years ago on the 4th day of October I arrived in this city, then a small village nestled away under the hills. To-day you have a large and flourishing city, whose public buildings and improvements testify as to your intelligence, enterprise and public spirit.

Thirty years ago we had two national parties—the Whig and the Democratic. The Whig party has sprung from its ruins, and has controlled and governed these United States for twenty years. In a few weeks you, in common with 50,000,000 of free men, will be called upon to decide upon your rulers for the four years ensuing the 15th of March, 1881. The candidates are Gen. Hancock and Judge Flandrau.

The speaker referred to the fact that the Republicans made no objections to one candidate, General Hancock, but urged the objection to his election lay in the party preference of him. He said the brilliant and pure record of the General completed this concession from the enemy, that they will now support the Whig party.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

THE COMING CHANGE.

No Danger of Its Unfavorable Effect on any Business Except Office Holding. [Philadelphia Times.]

THE FOLLOWING COMMUNICATION COMES from an intelligent and prominent Republican manufacturer of this city: To the Editor of the Times: I am a member of the following communication comes from an intelligent and prominent Republican manufacturer of this city:

It is evident to all intelligent business men that the election of General Hancock is now much more probable than the election of Gen. Garfield, and I sympathize with many Republicans of my acquaintance in a desire to change the political control of the executive power of the government. The history of the past few years has shown that the present administration has lowered the standard of integrity and efficiency to the public service, and that a change in the Presidency would, for the present at least, result in a more efficient administration, just as the change in Congress in 1874 has given the country energy and vigor.

But will such a change affect business injuriously? On this point some hesitate who would be glad to dismiss offensive Republican politicians from office, and to give the Democratic political power twenty years ago, and as the offensive Van Buren political power was proclaimed by the present administration. The Times has discussed this matter in its editorial columns, and I ask its views on the probable effect of Hancock's election on the business interests of the country.

A REPUBLICAN MANUFACTURER. Philadelphia, Sept. 22. The election of Hancock would be no political revolution at all. Democratic Congresses have been elected since the year 1875; a Democratic President was elected in 1876 by a popular majority of a quarter of a million, and the Democrats are now in the majority in both Senate and House. All the legislation of the past year, affecting both political and business interests, has been the result of the Democratic administration, and the restoration of the South to proper industry has come from a revolutionized popular branch of Congress, and the present administration has been a revolutionized Senate, and commerce, industry and trade have recovered from the revolution of 1873, when Republican authority was supreme.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.

There is a branch of business that would be better affected by a change in the Presidency, and that is the office of the President. There are one hundred thousand of them, and they are the empty, noisy instruments of strife. They, or their political associates, have been in place for twenty years, and the present at least, result of the office is, that there is only one business they think about, which is to be violently revolutionized in case of a new political domination in the White House.