THE FIRST NUMBER OF "The Home"

Will be issued on Saturday of the current week. It will be a splendid Christmas Number, replete with illustrations and entertaining reading.

Advertisements are allowed upon the cover only, and a small portion of that space remains. Parties desiring to obtain the advantage of the large sample issue should send in their favors by Friday noon.

Published weekly at one dollar per year. H. P. HALL, Publisher, No. 17 Wabash St.

There is less interest in Pennsylvania as to the individual preferences of the members of the legislature than in what the Camerons want the legislature to do.

The discussion of the refunding bill has commenced in the House, and will probably be continued till some action is arrived at.

The retired list of the army comprises over four hundred officers, most of whom are drawing the full pay of their rank.

MR. RAMSEY will have but a brief authority over the affairs of the navy department, as the law provides that one cabinet officer cannot fill the place of another for a greater period than ten days.

JUDGE McCARY happily terminated the controversy yesterday relative to the railroad crossing at Moorhead. It was unreasonable to suppose that the courts would permanently retard railroad development.

GEN. McCOOK's bill to place Grant on the retired list as general of the army has been referred to a sub-committee that will probably allow it to sleep forever.

SARA BERNHARDT's wardrobe has been admitted to this country free of duty by virtue of a decision of the assistant secretary of the treasury, who holds that an actress' wardrobe is a part of her implements of trade.

PRESIDENT McCOSH, of Princeton college, informs Mr. Hayes that he never heard of civil officers in England or Prussia being accused of corruption.

A DISPATCH to the Chicago Tribune says that Gen. Grant, in alluding to the Morgan resolution relative to the electoral college, that he believed the Democrats had more serious purpose than they avowed in pressing the concurrent rule for the electoral college.

THE NEW YORK HERALD publishes an elaborate review of the Senatorial contest in Minnesota, which is elsewhere reproduced in the GLOBE.

DISEASES OF DOMESTIC ANIMALS.

Senator Williams, of Kentucky, has introduced a somewhat extraordinary bill in the Senate. It is designed to prevent the introduction and dissemination of infectious or contagious diseases among cattle and other domestic animals.

All power to prevent the importation of diseased animals from foreign countries or their transfer from one State or locality to another, is given into the hands of the national board of health.

The scheme is an absurdity from first to last, and if it becomes a law it is likely to prove an expensive one. In place of the reference of the matter proposed it would be far more sensible to appoint a commission of competent veterinary surgeons to examine the condition of the animals imported from Canada and elsewhere.

MR. RAMSEY will have but a brief authority over the affairs of the navy department, as the law provides that one cabinet officer cannot fill the place of another for a greater period than ten days.

THE CANADA PACIFIC. The Dominion agitation over the Pacific railroad is a matter which is viewed with special interest in this section of the country.

A great contest is now in progress in the Dominion parliament at Ottawa, relative to the ratification of the contract and the passage of an act granting a special charter to the proposed Canada Pacific company.

THE Montreal Herald indulges in this very just criticism: It is a pity that its advantages should be marred by the absurd obstinacy which insists on the immediate construction of the eastern section from Nipissing to Kamistiquia.

IT is to be hoped that this "absurd obstinacy" will not be adhered to and it will be strange if the populous portion of the Dominion does not awake to the fact that they cannot force trade and travel into an unnatural channel by simply laying iron rails.

THOUGH the friends of Mr. Hayes disclaim that he is actuated by partisanship in his late retirement and promotion of army officers, his conduct is certainly open to that suspicion.

PLACE ARE OF THE SAME CHARACTER.

It is evident that Mr. Hayes intends to fill all the offices possible with his own personal friends before his term of office expires.

AN IMPORTANT AND VALUABLE PUBLICATION.

We have been permitted to examine some of the proof sheets of Gen. R. W. Johnson's forthcoming work on the "Life and Services of Gen. G. H. Thomas," and from the glimpse thus obtained have no hesitation in assuring the public that a valuable and entertaining historical work is soon to be added to the literature of the day.

IT is admirably printed, everything connected with the issue being first-class, of the fact that it is being issued by Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia, is sufficient guarantee.

THEY were elected in time enough to fall into the embraces of Officers Broseau and Nygard. From the testimony it appeared that Hedman had been the ringleader and Nash had carried out his dictates, while the defendant, Scully, had been roped into the party by accident.

THE Abbott Opera Season. The Emma Abbott Opera company is playing a very successful engagement at St. Louis this week, the theater being crowded nightly by the most fashionable people of the city.

THE sale of reserved seats for the season will begin at the Opera house box office at 9 o'clock this morning. In order to avoid the rush it will be necessary to apply early.

ARMY OFFICERS, Department of Dakota. Under date, St. Paul, December 14, (special orders No. 171), General Terry commanding the department, orders as follows:

THE COURTS. U. S. Circuit Court. [Before Judge Nelson.] Thomas W. Kentry vs. H. S. Dale; action on bill of exchange. Verdict for $784.08 in favor of plaintiff.

INTERNATIONAL STEAMBOAT LINE vs. Wm. H. Lyon; motion of plaintiff for continuance granted on condition that plaintiff pay costs.

PROBATE COURT. [Before Judge O'Gorman.] In the matter of the estate of D. E. Smith, deceased; petition filed for administration. Hearing January 10th.

MUNICIPAL COURT. [Before Judge O'Brien.] The City vs. R. Lewis, M. J. Branch, Wm. Perkins, Wm. Bean, James Brown and Jack Evans; gambling. Reprimanded and discharged.

IT will stop itching, moisture and all unpleasant sensations. It will cure Blind and Bleeding Piles without a failure. The above can be proven by the purchase of a bottle of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy.

OF THE TERRIBLY GREAT MEN OF MINNESOTA.

THE Coming Senatorial Contest in Minnesota—The Great Men Who are Struggling for the Prize and Their Wonderful Endowments—A Chance That Dummell May Knock the Brains Out of McMillan and Windom With One Fell Swoop.

THE election of United States Senator by the approaching session of the Minnesota legislature is a topic of interested discussion among active politicians, although the matter commands much less than the usual amount of attention at the hands of the press of the State.

THEY were elected in time enough to fall into the embraces of Officers Broseau and Nygard. From the testimony it appeared that Hedman had been the ringleader and Nash had carried out his dictates, while the defendant, Scully, had been roped into the party by accident.

TENSIONS TO ORATORY, AND HE IS DEEMED DEFICIENT IN POLITICAL ADDRESS; BUT HE COMMANDS THE RESPECT OF ALL.

IT is urged that he is entitled, by precedent, to the compliment of a re-election. Against his opponents argue that his previous election was an accident, since he was the first choice of but one man in the legislature of 1875, and that it is the privilege of the State to avail itself of the "rotted rights."

RAMSEY, Alexander, the present secretary of war, is supposed to be "in the hands of his friends" as a Senatorial aspirant, although it is not likely that any aggressive fight will be made in his interest. His long and eminently successful political career of nearly forty years is now being honorably rounded out by service in the cabinet, and it would be crucial to cloud it by defeat in a race for the Senatorship.

SANBORN, John B.—General Sanborn is very favorably considered among the avowed candidates for Senator. He has considerable personal following, and is, in the esteem of the people, his long experience in public affairs and his wide acquaintance with public men are pronounced reasons in the minds of a large element of the party for retaining his services.

WASHBURN, William D.—William D. Washburn, of Minneapolis, who has just been re-elected to Congress by over twelve thousand majority, is also classed among the Senatorial possibilities.

STILLWATER. Davy Crockett Thursday, December 30. All serene at the "seat of justice" yesterday.

THE thirty front on Chestnut street, east of the Central house, was recently purchased by Mr. Nick Hefty, who proposes to erect a fine building on it next spring.

A severe burst of the water mains on upper Main street, near Staples' mill office, was discovered yesterday, and the work of repairs commenced immediately.

ROCHESTER. ROCHESTER, Dec. 15.—The election of officers of the St. John's (Catholic) Society will take place at their hall Sunday.

A Temple of Honor and Temperance will be organized next week. Thirteen charter members have been secured.

THE Ohio State grange yesterday adopted a resolution that hereafter all candidates for office, acting in support of grangers, shall be required to publicly express their sentiments relative to railway corporations and their relation to the people.

MINNEAPOLIS NEWS.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBELETTERS.

Col. M. A. Buckley is absent on a business trip to Atchison, Kansas. W. G. Telfer, of Telfer, Irish & Co., is sufficiently ill to compel his absence from business.

Several candidates for admission to the Hennepin county bar will be examined to-morrow afternoon before Judge Young. The old water wheel in the Crosswell mill, east side, was taken out yesterday and a new and larger turbine will be put in.

A little grandchild of Dr. Ortman received injuries by falling and sticking a slate pencil into its eye, that resulted in death yesterday. The grand lodge of Knights of Pythias of Minnesota, will hold the annual meeting in this city, commencing on Monday, January 18th.

MINNEAPOLIS is bound to have a new bridge, but whether it is to be of iron, wood, wrought or laughing gas, is the question now before the house. The meeting of the State Grange, which assembled in this city Tuesday, has been a very quiet affair thus far, and the proceedings of no special importance to the public.

THE petition of the city council on that new Plymouth avenue bridge is apparently hung on a swivel. The next step will be to patch up the old structure and let it go that way. A benefit to the Zouave corps will be given by the managers of the Criterion theater on Thursday and Friday evenings of next week, when the play of Jesse Brown or the Siege of Lucknow, will be presented.

BEFORE the legislature gives the city power to issue bonds for a new bridge across the Mississippi, it will probably want to know whether the bridge is to be a mud structure or some other unknown quality. Wm. B. Kitchin, a Milwaukee & St. Paul baggage man, got his right hand smashed and broken by a heavy trunk yesterday.

JOHN Wilson, a brakeman on the Minneapolis & St. Louis road, was knocked down by the timbers of the Western avenue bridge yesterday while standing on the track, and he was not thrown from the train, but was picked up in an insensible condition, with his cheek badly cut.

THE Republicans have a safe majority in the city council, and that accounts for yesterday's back pay scheme. Congress passed such a bill once, but the Minneapolis Republican council have foregone all about it.

THE iron bridge builders, who spent two or three weeks in the city arguing the immense advantages of their respective works over every other, and used up wind enough to kill anyone but a book or bridge agent, begin to think that Minneapolis is a hard place to stop in, if they have any business to do.

THERE was a large attendance and much enthusiasm at the second meeting of the Irish land league last night. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws for definite organization. Nearly $70 have been collected, which will be forwarded at once for their suffering countrymen.

MR. P. Scully, the railroad contractor, trotted out his submarine diver yesterday, and the bottom of the river in the line of the new bridge was thoroughly investigated. The bottom in some places was filled up with old booms and a number of other things in the way of obstructions.

THERE was a bit of a conflagration on the east side yesterday morning. A shanty at the corner of Main street and Sixth avenue south, owned by Ole Olsson, was discovered on fire, but the department on that side of the river shanty on the same spot was burned down a week ago Monday, and Mr. Olsson believes both fires were set by incendiaries.

NORA Jarrell, a ten-year-old girl, arrived in this city yesterday morning under peculiar circumstances. She was put on board the train at Granburg, Texas, by a farmer with whom she has lived for some time—at least this is what she claims. She is a native of Iowa, being her name and stating that she has two married sisters in this city, one of them having married a man named Fern. The police found her brother, John Fern, on the East side, last night, but both her name and her name were set by incendiaries.

THE Academy of Sciences will hold an interesting meeting in this city on the 12th, 13th and 14th of January. Many scientific papers and subjects will be discussed, and the attendance of eminent scientists and professors promises to be large. Among those who have promised to attend are: Prof. Calvin of the Iowa State University, Prof. Rehdolt of Mankato, Prof. Weibrecht of Winona, and Dr. J. W. R. W. Dodge and Prof. Winchell, Downey, Wing and Hall, of the State university, and Mr. Hallock of Winona.

TUESDAY evening a billiard tournament was inaugurated at R. P. Dunnington's billiard hall, initial game being played by Harry Liverman and Frank Miller for 300 points. Liverman won the game by a score of 290 to 138. J. W. Meyers challenged the winner to a game last night. The game was for 800 and 400 points, Liverman having odds of two to one. After the close of an exciting contest, Liverman came out winner by a score of 400 to 221. Sixty-three innings were played; Liverman's highest run 42, Meyers 54. The contestants were even two to one nearly a dozen times.

THE regular meeting of the city council was held yesterday afternoon. A communication was presented from the mayor appointing Herber Bromson a special policeman, without pay from the city. Also William Roling for a similar purpose.

A communication was read from Daniel Wait asking that a committee be appointed to investigate the alleged charges of dishonesty against J. B. Brown, street commissioner of the Third and Fourth wards. Referred to the auditors of the wards.

got the funds to build a bridge of any kind whatever—iron, wood or stone.

Alderman Glenn finally withdrew his motion. He is understood to have rest until the 22d, the previous motion for an adjourned meeting being adopted.

THOMAS Lowry, attorney for the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba railroad company, submitted a bill for an ordinance in reference to the extension of the main line across the river, and through certain streets and lots on the East side. Referred to the committee on railroads and ordinances.

A bill to pay Mr. Williams, superintendent of the poor, for clerk hire several months ago, led to a discussion in which Alderman Glenn said he believed for further consideration of three months. He said if one city officer could hire his help at his own discretion, all could do the same. He said he was opposed to all back pay schemes.

Alderman Glenn said that Mr. Williams is paid $200 a year. He "lobbied" like sixty to get the office, and he did not do the work. After he got the office he went ahead without any authority and hired a clerk. The bill was finally ordered paid by a vote of ten yeas to four nays. The bill amounts to $124.

AN ordinance was read for the first time to allow the St. Anthony Falls water power company to build a tunnel down Main street, East side, from Second avenue south to Eighth avenue south. The special committee on charter amendments reported progress, but that they have not completed the work and will hold other meetings for further consideration of the proposed amendments.

AN ordinance and petition from the American Union Telegraph company, to construct lines through Farwell and bridges. Alderman Glenn presented a resolution in regard to the crossings of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba, and Minneapolis & St. Louis railroads, at the intersection of Fourth and Fifth streets, and on Fourth and Fifth streets, inquiring if the police had any instructions to keep the tracks clear, and if so, why so carelessly neglected.

NOT From Australia, South America or Beyond the Sea, but a Resident of Our Own Park-Seeking City, who Emerges from Obscurity to Claim a Fortune of Nearly $250,000—A Citation, Already Great, Doubly Intensified.

THE celebrated Pinney will case, which has attracted the attention of the courts to a greater or less extent since the first trial in June, 1879, has broken out in a new place, and new and deeper litigation is promised in the future.

BY $250,000 was a big pile of money, and newly striving for by any and all of Mr. Pinney's relatives, no matter of how distant relationship. After Pinney's death, the disaffected relatives began proceedings to obtain the property, claiming that Pinney was incapable of making a will, etc.

LEWIS Taylor, however, prosecuted the case, as one of the defendants, with great vigor in the courts of this county, but the litigation has not yet terminated, and it came off in the district court Tuesday. The case, however, went over until the latter part of the term.

THE old man and entirely unexpected phase has been reached, and a revelation made that will probably cause a great amount of additional litigation. It has transpired that a person claiming to be the only son of Ovid Pinney is living in California, and he claims the property left by his father. His name is William H. Pinney. His mother's name was Maria Bristow, married to Ovid Pinney.
