The work of removing the snow from the trotting track on the river was commenced yesterday afternoon, but owing to the solidity of the snow, caused by Monday's thaw, only slow progress was made. It will be continaed, however, and the track put in good shape with a view of having a trotting matinee 8atarday, at which it is expected quite a number of flyers will be down from Minneapolis.

The ladies of the St. Paul Lyceum and Dramatic club are making elaborate preparations for the second grand social hop, which is entirely under their management, to be given Friday evening next, at Seibert's dan-eing parlors on Seventh street. Those parties have become so popular and so many of the friends of the club wish them to be continued, that the club has finally decided to hold them every two weeks, commencing Friday, Feb.

A decision was rendered by Judge Simons yesterday denying the application to confirm the assignment of G. Anderson, with leave to renew the application upon producing evidence of the value of the property sold. The decision is based upon the disparity of the face value of the accounts, $211, and the amount for which they were sold, being $1. The assignee confesses his inability to collect the accounts, which are considered bad.

The defendant was arrested about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, having been detected in the act of stealing wheat by an employe of the company mamed C. H. Lewis. The latter, in company with Officer De Corsey, took positions outside of defendant's house and encountered him as he was about to enter with a sack full of grain. A large quantity of stolen grain was found in the house, and he confessed to the theft. When arraigned yesterday he waived examination, and was held to the grand jury, being committed in default of $300 ball.

The Plasterer's Union.

The Journeymen Plasterers society held a regular meeting last evening at the old court house. They received a committee from the Plasterer's union in Minneap-olis. Messrs. McLaughlin and Christopher addressed the society and explained the working of their society in Minneapolis. A committee was appointed by the society to go to Minneapolis and perfect a union between both societies for their mutual benefit.

SABIN'S COUP D'ETAT.

dating the telegraph in advance of the appointed time, to guard against injunction and dverse legislation, Mr. Sabin concluded to get his contract for prison labor fixed quick. The inspectors, after voting the contract to Seymour, Sabin & Co. last week, adjourned to meet at the attorney office in St. Paul to-day and execute the contract. On Sunday and execute the contract. On Sunday Sabin smelled a mice, and he took the evening train for Stillwater. He was delayed by the snow, and did not reach Stillwater until 2 A.M. Monday. He did not lose any time for sleep, but as soon as he could get Inspector Butts and Warden Reed out of their beds he presented them the contract for the prison labor to sten. Of course they stened it with presented them the contract for the prison labor to sign. Of course they signed it without a murmur. Inspector L. E. Reed, of St. Paul, having refused to vote for the contract, was not applied to, but Inspector De Laittre, of Minneapolis, was notified to come to St. Paul and keep out of sight until Sabin could reach him with the papers.

The snow blockade interfered and it was 5 P. M. Monday before he could leave Stillwater. He, however, managed to reach St. Paul Monday night, and De Laittre also signed. This the prison gang considered a clincher.

Mr. Tarbox drove to Stillwater with the writ of mandamus on Monday and served it on Butts and Warden Reed, but it was too late as they had already signed. Mr. Forepaugh hied himself to Minneapolis in search of De Laittre, but as he was concealed in St. Paul he could not be found. The writ was left at his residence about 4 P. M., several hours before he surreptitiously signed the Sabin contract in surreptitiously signed the Sabin contract in Messrs. Forepaugh & Tarbox claim that their mandamus is still good because the court allowed its service at the residence of the par-ties and it was served at DeLaittre's residence before he signed. Inspector L. E. Reed was not advised of their proceedings and will probably first learn them from the GLOBE. This sharp practice was not performed by Sabin on account of his desire for the contract but purely owing to his interest in the health of the convicts.

EDUCATIONAL.

Meeting of the Board of Education-Two New Buildings Ordered-Asking for $50, 000 for a High School and a Vote by the People.

An adjourned meeting of the board of education was held last evening, President Lienau in the chair.

Inspector Abbott, from the committee ou property, submitted the contract with Henry Jansen, for the construction of a three-stroy addition to the Franklin school, accompanied by a bond in the sum of $20,000. The building is to be completed by the first day of next September, at a cost of $21,500. The contract was approved.

was approved.

The committee on property also submitted plans for the construction of a two-story eight-room school building on St. Anthony hill and Dayton's bluff, the same plan to be durbined. duplicated. On motion the committee was authorized to advertise for bids for the proposed buildings. Mr. George L. Otls, the attorney of the board, reported that in his opinion the board was not liable for the claim of school district No. 10 for the tuition of children. The opinion was not liable for the claim of school district No. 10 for the tuition of children. ion was adopted.

Inspectors Hamilton and Benz were in favor of employing a suitable person to superintend the buildings under way or proposed by the board. On motion it was decided to employ such a person.

It was voted to close the schools Feb. 22d, Washington's birthday.

THE HIGH SCHOOL QUESTION.

The High school question came up and was discussed at length by Inspectors Benz, Abbott, discussed at length by Inspectors Benz, Abbott, Turner, Superntendent Wright, Donnelly and Dr. Murphy, the last of whom made an amusing speech on the action of the legislature, which made it a penitentiary offense to employ the appropropriation for building a high school. Inspector Abbott offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Ramsey county delegation in the legislature be requested to obtain the passage of a bill submitting to the people, at a special election, to be held this spring, the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $50,000 for the purpose of erecting a high school building.

of $50,000 for the purpose of erecting a high school building.

The question of allowing extra compensation to Treasurer Renzand Comptroller Roache for extra services rendered the board, came up, and the committee on legislation were directed to confer with the Ramsey county delegation concerning an amendment allowing fair remembership to these efficients.

After the transaction of minor business the board adjourned.

THE TREE GROWERS IN COUNCIL. They Agree to Ask For More Money to Carry On Their Work.

The State Forestry association held an adjourned meeting at the office of the railroad commissioner, last evening. Not a single member of the legislature, from the treeless region, was present.

The members present talked over the situation, and what was best to be done. Gen. Becker, the president, advocated asking for sufficient appropriation to carry on the work for two years longer. He said that $5,000 per annum would be needed. He did not think that the plan of State nurseries proposed at a previous meeting would meet with favor from the legislature legislature.

Mr. Hollister said that one of the most important works to be done was the publication and distribution of a new edition of the manual, so that the people can learn how to raise trees.

All the other members present coincided with the above views, and spoke of the value and importance of the work which the association was engaged in.
On motion of Mr. Hollister the chair appointed a committee to memoralize the legislature and ask for the amount necessary and specify what the money is to be used for. Messrs. Marshall, Hodges, McClung and Hollister were appointed such committee.

Gen. Becker said the asocciation should C. C. Smith, La Crosse, contractor for the endeavor to have a fuller and more gen-North Wisconsin railroad extension, was at eral attendance at the next annual meeting. All the successful and promi-nent tree growers in the State, as well as eminent ones from abroad, should be invited to be present, and present their views and experience. His suggestion was concurred in, and himself and Gov. Marshall were appointed a committee to endeavor to get reduced fare for members

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS, No. 5 East Third St., St. Paul.

FEBRUARY 9, 1881. Because he is a stranger, kick him. Because he has no friends, hit him again. That's right boys, go it; five or six on to one. That's right boys, go it; five or six on to one. That's the way to do it. There's "fair play," "American chivalry," and all the rest of it for you.

The Monforts are down on me; Hall is down on me; Col. King is down on me; McIntyre is down on me; and last, but not least, the high and mighty William de Courcey Smith is down on me. And what is all this terrible tempest in a tea-pot about? It is simply because I call a spade a spade and a hoe a hoe.

I once heard Dr. Day, the present very popular and efficient postmaster of this city, say that the Anglo-Saxon was good enough for him, and that he believed in calling things by their proper English names. The doctor was right, and this namby-pamby, milk and water, mode of expression which has become so prevalent of late, makes me sick, and is degenerating our strong and vigorous tongue into a language fit only for the use of the male idiots who part both their hair and names in the middle. If I want to state that a man stole something, I don't go Miss Nancying around by Robin Hood's barn, and gently insinuate that I fear he is afflicted with kleptomania, but simply call him a thief.

gently insinuate that I fear he is afflicted with kleptomania, but simply call him a thief.

I may have been a little rough on Bill Smith in my former atticle, and if so, am willing to apologize, as I would not knowingly do an injustice to any man.

As a matter of fact, I presume he means well enough, and if he was a little less of a hyprocrite, and liar, and fanatic, and not quite such a consummate ass, he would really be a very clever fellow. There William, if you are not satisfied with that, you may go to the—"demnition bow-wows."

So far as the Monforts are concerned, I don't care whether they like what I write or not. They hired me to help advertise their business, and I intend to do it, and to do it in my own way, whether that way pleases them or not.

or not Judging from the quantities of goods they sell, I presume they understand the grocery trade well enough, but they know about as much about advertising as a cat does about muste, and if they had common sense they would leave that department of their business to some one who has some knowledge of it, and not make themselves ridiculous by interfering in matters they don't understand. The white hared one seems quite intelligent but white haired one seems quite intelligent, but the one with a bald spot on his head wouldn't be injured by a little baking over.
