Official Paper of the City & County... Printed and Published Every Day in the Year by H. P. HALL, No. 11 WABASHAW STREET, ST. PAUL.

Terms of Subscription for the Daily Globe... By mail (with Sunday edition), 6 papers per week, 60 cents per month.

THE WEEKLY GLOBE... The Weekly Globe is a mammoth sheet, exactly double the size of the Daily.

THE HOME... Number eleven of this new and admirable family publication is now ready, and can be obtained at the news stands and at the GLOBE counting room.

Some idea of the proposed barge line from St. Louis to New Orleans can be inferred from the fact that one shipment was made yesterday equal to 10,065 tons.

Window is undoubtedly indebted for his appointment to Garfield's desire to steer clear of complications in New York.

GARFIELD'S CABINET... The cabinet of President Garfield, was officially promulgated yesterday.

The cabinet of President Garfield, was officially promulgated yesterday. With the exception of the Secretary of the Interior, the cabinet is the same as announced in Saturday's Globe.

Wayne McVeagh's selection is politically pure and simple. As the Pennsylvania delegation at Chicago contained the "original Garfield man" he could not overlook that State in making up his cabinet.

Kirkwood is somewhat eminent in his own State, but either Wilson or Allison would have been stronger men and would have brought national reputations to the cabinet.

Hunt was selected because it was necessary to recognize the South by a cabinet position. As Republican timber in that region is not a flourishing article, Gen. Garfield may be pardoned for not securing a very distinguished man in that quarter.

And being fully persuaded that what he had promised, he was able also to perform.—ROMANS IV: 21.

Truthfulness is justly esteemed by people in all walks of life as one of the chief of the moral virtues.

Among business men the failure to keep an engagement has a tendency to impair the credit of the delinquent, and to awaken distrust as to the honesty of his intention or his financial responsibility.

It is quite as important to society that social engagements be kept as scrupulously as business engagements.

Religious people should be exceptionally careful to fulfill their obligations of every description.

The safest course for all to pursue is to make no promises they cannot keep, and to keep all promises that are made, no matter at what cost or inconvenience.

The law punishes those who violate their business pledges. Society should and sometimes does punish those who set at naught their vows to their neighbor.

None of the remaining members of the cabinet are particularly noticeable except Postmaster General James. That is undoubtedly a practical selection.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Gus Williams has made a success as "The German Senator."

Salvini will play "The Gladiator" at Milwaukee to-morrow evening.

Frederick Paulding fainted during a performance in Georgia recently.

The wife of William R. Hayden, the manager, is an accomplished artist in oils, and has executed some very fine portraits.

Theodore Thomas' concert at Chicago has been highly successful.

Genevieve Ward's engagement in Philadelphia in "Forget-Me-Not" was one of the most profitable of the season.

Miss Lizzie Webster, formerly very successful as the Evangeline, is living quietly at Milwaukee with her husband, a wealthy citizen of that place.

Miss Ada Cavendish has recovered from her recent severe and dangerous illness, and will return to England soon.

John McCullough says New York critics are no longer discriminating judges of the merits of a play or the abilities of an actor.

THE SOCIAL AGE.

Entre nous, that is to say, between ourselves and the paste pot, the gentle reader who will receive his back pay and the fee simple to a section of swamp lands, if he considers himself wronged by the insinuation, is entitled to a secret.

Still we admire his pluck. It is an act to be penitence this season of the year, and your society editor is nothing, if not in the fashion.

The market for balls, parties and engagements last week was sluggish and inactive.

The lights are out, most of the clubs have disbanded, the last strains of music have faded away.

It is proper to state right here that in connection with the Lenten season, there should be no foolishness, no levity, no sham seclusion, no make-believe fasting.

During the week there were several lively fundagoes.

Mr. R. B. Angus of this city, arrived in London, England, Thursday last.

Prof. Stein celebrated a double birthday as it were last Friday.

Mr. A. Smith, widow of the late Pascal Smith, has leased a house on Pleasant avenue, which she will occupy after May 14, with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith.

Prof. Bond said he hated a man who made a hobby, but that he did think that the study of penmanship should enter as a marker in examinations for the roll of honor.

Prof. Slack moved to amend, by omitting German and physiology.

Inspector Donnelly being present, the teachers' meeting closed.
