ST. PAUL, WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1881.

CONKING has been in a stew for the past ten days. The Maine Senator gave him a Frye on Monday. He may conclude that broils are not to his liking and avoid a roast by retreating.

MRS. GARFIELD is reported to be seriously ill with nervous prostration. She has evidently taken too much interest in the affairs of state with which her husband has been so much concerned. It is to be hoped that she will have a speedy recovery.

The Marquis of Lorne, governor general of Canada, will shortly pass through St. Paul en route for Manitoba. The business men of this city should see to it that he receives that recognition that befits his exalted position as well as his personal worth.

The monetary conference at Paris, from which so much was expected, does not appear likely to arrive at any definite conclusion. There have been protracted discussions, but no conclusions have been arrived at, and the conference will probably adjourn indefinitely within a few days.

The grand jury say they had a "mass of vague and ill-arranged testimony" before them relative to the Sixth ward election. This was supplied by the committee which was selected to do this work instead of the county attorney. The proper officer to arrange this before the jury thought they knew better.

CONKING is defiant. He tried to justify his course in opposing the confirmation of Robertson before the Republican caucus, but succeeded only indifferently, probably because of the reluctance of his associates to fly in the face of the President. It has come to be understood that those Senators who side with Conkling in the pending contest need hope for little consideration from the President in the future.

The world's fair that was projected at New York, and to take place in 1883, having been abandoned, Boston has taken up the idea and proposes to hold an exposition in 1885, designed to illustrate the progress made by the world in art, science and manufactures during the past decade. The leading capitalists of the city have taken hold of the matter, and are determined to make it a brilliant success. It is to be hoped that something of the sort will be undertaken and carried forward to a successful issue.

The rate of mortality in all the leading cities of the union during the month of April has greatly increased over the year previous, and the newspapers generally are speculating as to the cause. It is no doubt due to the extraordinary severity of the winter, which has been almost without a parallel in the history of the country. The physical conditions induced by the vigorous climate have not been suitable to withstand sudden transition from the temperature of midwinter to that of midsummer. There have been a good many deaths from zymotic diseases, but these are more the result of climatic conditions than of the filthy condition of the cities, for the most cleanly cities show a large percentage of mortality as those cities where filth is predominant.

ABOUT twenty-six and a quarter million dollars are expended annually by the people of the United States for daily newspapers. The sum appears large, but is not as large as it should be. It is but half a dollar for each inhabitant. Theatrical amusements cost the people one-half more, and yet more benefit is derived from the perusal of the newspapers than from theatrical performances, however excellent they be. Tobacco and cigars cost the people six times more than newspapers, and yet tobacco is but little benefit and oftentimes an injury to those who use it. Alcoholic and malt liquors cost ten times the amount expended for newspapers; and yet, except in rare instances, their consumption is a positive detriment to the consumers. While the American public no doubt patronizes the newspapers liberally, there is room for improvement.

It is very apparent that the Pennsylvania Republicans have become wearied of the dictation of Don Cameron in the politics of that State, and are determined to depose him from his self-assumed throne. A movement, which had its origin during the Senatorial contest last winter, has now taken definite shape, and opposition to the Cameron dynasty is to be made one of the requisites of all candidates for office. The movement is under the control of some of the ablest politicians of the State. There is every present prospect that it will succeed, but there is danger that another boss will arise in place of Cameron who may prove as intolerable as he has been. The only relief the people of Pennsylvania need hope for is in the restoration of the Democratic party to power—a party in which the bosses bow to the rule of the majority, and carry out the wishes of the people, whether they comport with their own interests or not.

LITIGATION THAT SHOULD BE ENDED. As the traveller leaves St. Louis on the Iron Mountain route, he will see, tied up at the river bank, a number of once fine steamboats. It is just the paper for the freeman, containing in addition to all the current news, choice miscellany, agricultural matter, market reports, etc.

THE GRAND JURY. The grand jury completed their labors yesterday morning, and submitted their report to Judge Brill a few minutes before 10 o'clock. They also returned three indictments, in addition to the ones heretofore reported in the Globe. The indictments were against H. R. Harris, the colored shootist, indicted for assault with intent to do great bodily harm, Frank Gray, charged with the larceny of wheat. There was one other indictment in connection with the investigations of the grand jury into the alleged election frauds of the Sixth ward. The bench warrant against the person pending his arrest the name is withheld. The charge is that he was not a legal voter in that ward.

The report of the grand jury is as follows: To the Hon. H. R. Brill, Judge of the district court of Ramsey county, Minn. Sir: We, the grand jury, respectfully report that we have examined the various cases presented to us and carefully acted thereon. We have discovered gross irregularities in the late election in the Sixth ward of this city, arising as we believe from a neglect to observe the strict requirements of the statutes; votes were received and deposited in the box the parties voting being unknown to the judges, but being supported by affidavits, the judges accepted the votes, and assigned the parties that they supposed that they knew the parties vouching for the voters, although they did not recognize the signatures, nor did they know that the persons vouching for the voters were present at the polls, nor were the names of the voters on the list of voters for that ward recognized by any one, so far as their testimony goes to show.

We are satisfied from a mass of vague and ill-arranged testimony that these irregularities were the result, in large part, of an incorrect understanding of the law by the judges. We feel it incumbent upon us to report these facts to your honor, since we find them to be in large part the failure of the judges to understand their duties, and we believe from the testimony that the failure was the result of a misunderstanding of the requirements of the statutes.

The committees of our body appointed to examine the public buildings have done so, and their reports will be found herewith and are a part of this report, especially submitted. Chairman of the Grand Jury, COUNTY JAIL.

Your committee appointed to examine and report concerning the condition of the county jail building and the efficiency of the management, report as follows: We have made two separate visits to said building and find that the fare furnished to the prisoners is in quality and quantity good and sufficient. We find no complaint as to the food, except the disordered and deficient condition of the plumbing apparatus, which, we have been informed by the custodians in charge, may be found in almost chronic disorder. We beg leave to recommend that if the present apparatus cannot be substantially repaired that it be replaced by new material. As it is strange law that will not protect but will actually rob creditors and stockholders. The judge before whom these cases were tried carelessly enough find law and reasons for selling piecemeal all the property of this once great corporation at ruinously small prices, but he can't accept a proposition for the payment of every debt the company owed, and an ample bond to secure any debts not known or not adjusted.

It seems as though boards of trade and shippers might bring some moral pressure to bear that would result in this large property being released and placed free in the river to pursue its legitimate business. It is truly a new and very surprising case of corporation law where all the creditors, and three fourths in amount of all the stock is controlled and dictated to, by a minority of one fourth of the stock. Such however seems to be St. Louis law as administered by Judge Lindley.

Malice Thwarted. When the stool pigeon of the Pioneer Press was fairly and squarely deflected for alderman in the Sixth ward, the Minneapolis newspaper concern sent up a tremendous howl of indignation. The Governor, Attorney General and grand jury were invoked to carry out their vengeance. County Attorney Egan was insulted by having the attorney general and other outsiders called in to prepare matters for the grand jury, all it was given out that the population of Stillwater was to be largely reduced from the Sixth ward. The report of the grand jury elsewhere given in full, shows that there was no ground whatever for the charge, and that the whole hue and cry was as infamous a piece of political claptrap as could be devised. Instead of smirching Aid. McCarthy as they hoped to do, not a shadow of evidence was produced against him and the jury can only say that the judges did not fully understand the election law. There never was a more base attempt to convert the votes into a political machine, and the ignominious failure should serve as a lesson.

A Very Proper Sentence. There is a radiant beauty in the face of innocence that enfuses adoration. It is as radiant in rags as when clothed in the daintiest product of the loom. Two shop girls, with honest faces, were proceeding home Monday night when they were addressed by a drunken man who proposed to put a stop to such proceedings, and he was sentenced to a fine of $100 or ninety days. He went to the bastle. As a defense he stated that he was so drunk he didn't know what he had been doing.

Too Much Dog. To the Editor of the Globe. There is a dead dog lying on the vacant lot in rear of SS College avenue, whose offense is rank and smells to the neighborhood. It is all the qualities and possibilities of St. Paul dust, so vividly described by Oscar Stephenson in yesterday morning's GLOBE, with the addition of prospective hypochondria, diphtheria and other pleasant things. The inhabitant of the locality for the removal of the dog. "It matters not how it is done, so that it is done, and done quickly." We pray for dust, at least enough to cover the dog.

EASTERN AND EUROPEAN MARKETS. NEW YORK, May 10.—Money 3/4c per cent. Prime mercantile paper 4 1/2% per cent. Sterling exchange, bankers' bills steady at 48.55. Sight exchange on New York 44.80%. Produce exports for the week, $7,124,000. Governments strong and active, with a general advance of 1/4 to 3/4 per cent. Bonds—Railroad bonds generally strong and active. State securities dull and nominal. Stocks—The stock market opened strong and higher and at the first board an advance ranging from 1/2 to 1/4 per cent. took place, the latter in Alton and Terre Haute common, preferred selling up 1/2 points. Speculation was irregular and unsettled and in the late dealings a pressure to sell was developed which resulted in a decline of 1/4 to 2 per cent. in the general list, Memphis & Charleston, Wash. St. Louis & Pacific, coal and granger shares and Western Union Telegraph leading in the downward movement. Louisville, New Albany & Chicago was an exception and rose 2 per cent. Elevated railroad shares were notably weak, Metropolitan Elevated declining 3 per cent., Manhattan Elevated 2 1/2 per cent. and New York Elevated 2 per cent. from the highest point of the day.

THE POSTS. As we write a dispatch from Washington comes to the effect that the treasury estimates for the fiscal year 1882 are not yet applied for extension at 3 1/2 per cent., and with this one day more to hear from and including bonds in Europe estimated at $15,000,000, on which option to extend runs till the 20th inst. Those in a position to judge the outlook for the treasury will not be obliged to pay cash for more than twelve, or at the outside fifteen millions, provided there is no extension in this country, of time. Orders for London for 30,000 shares of Chicago & North Western railway stock have been filled here within the last ten days, and another order for 5,000 shares came this morning. A good part of the floating supply of this stock in this market has now been absorbed. No part of the floating supply has been bought for great improvement in the last year or two than the South, where people seem to be giving less attention to what is called politics and more to material development, so that it is not strange that southern investors are now looking up in all markets.

THE GRAPHIC NEWS. Conservative operators have no confidence in the present high prices of stocks. United States bonds were very strong to-day, as advancing to 110 1/2 and 4 1/2 to 115 1/2, the highest prices ever paid. There is a strong feeling to warrant the opinion that the decline in the stock market this afternoon is anything more than one of the periodical reactions which attend a great bull movement. A report was circulated in the last hour that the railroad engineers throughout the country had voted for higher wages and this helped stocks down.

DOES GARFIELD BELIEVE SO? "I don't know that and I don't predict to speak for him, but he knows all the facts to which I have alluded and he knows too few facts to appreciate them." "Of one thing," said Nichol, in conclusion, "I am very certain. The people of other parts of the country are heartily tired of these incessant bickerings about New York affairs, and of the fact that neutral legislation for the whole country should be made to wait on them, and pretty soon they will place the seal of their displeasure so emphatically upon the man who intrudes his own interests or selfishness in the way of public business, that he will step down and out from the position of leader of the Republican party."

FIRE IN THE MISSOURI PENITENTIARY. ST. LOUIS, May 10.—Fire in the penitentiary at Jefferson City at a very late hour last night destroyed the saddle tree shop of Sullivan & Priemeyer and the shoe shop of Brice & Meyer, contractors. Also, the engine, boiler and considerable machinery belonging to the penitentiary. The roof of the new cell building was also destroyed, but all the convicts were removed to another part of the building safely and in order. Loss not yet known, but will be considerable.

PLIES. Plies are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. In some symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, heaviness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, particularly at night after getting warm in bed, is a very common attendant. Internal, external and itching piles attend on the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, alleviating the intense itching and effecting a permanent cure where all other remedies have failed. It is sold at the drug stores of every city, or by mail, on receipt of price 50 cents. Ask your druggist for it, and when you cannot obtain it of him, we will send it prepaid, on receipt of price. Address The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Fiqua, Ohio.
