went to New York this afternoon. He will Hon. William Windom, secretary of the reasury, came up the river yesterday morning to St. Paul, from his home in Winona. He was called hither by legal business-to testify in a suit now pending in Minneapolis, pertaining to the condemnation of certain lands of which he is the owner, which are needed by the Hastings & Daketa Short Line railroad company. He went to Minneapolis, but a few hours' residence there caused him agreed upon between Conkling's friends and the Democrats by which the election of two Republican Senators is to be postponed, if it but a few hours' residence there caused him to yearn for metropolitan life and he took an early train for St. Paul, arriving here shortly after noon. He feels no uneasiwe only want six more votes to make our success assured. I believe that we will get these six votes during the coming week, and if we do you will see a stampede for Conkling that will astonish you. If we don't get them the stalwarts will stand firm, and there will be an adjournment without an election. Governor Cornell will then call a special session of the legislature just before the election next fall. Then if the half-breeds dare risk the success of the Republican party at the polls by carrying this question before the people and continuing the fight in a popular election, on them will rest the odium of turning the Republican State of New York over to the Democrats. Reckless as they are, I do not ness, as far as I know, as to the outcome. But it is a matter of which I know nothing, and I do not care to talk of it."

The secretary is looking remarkably well. He says he possesses the happy faculty of laying aside the cares of business and enjoying a good night's rest, no matter what the worriments of the day may have been. To this he attributes his continued good health. the complicity of the Land League leaders and abetiors with what is now nothing more nor less than a conspiracy to defy the law. The cry of the league is no longer a protest against arbitrary evictions. It is now a moral doctrine that a tenant may refuse to pay what he considers unjust rent, though he is perfectly able to pay. Thus the agitation is now revealed in all its nakedness, of which Archbishop Croke, an appointed minister of religion, professing peace and charity to all men, says it is not revolutionary, not an irreligious movement, calculated to injure anybody. It is difficult to reach such words with common patience. It is not landlords who suffer under the cruel lawless terrorism, but hundreds and thousands who are dependent on them, such as mortgagees of rent charges, holders of joint-HASTINGS, June 3. -- This afternoon ures, etc., all of whom are absolutely guiltless. No word of sympathy for these hapless victims has escaped the sacred lips of the minister of the gospel. Yet Parnell can cooly exhort the government to follow Archbishop Croke's advice. The audacity of Parnell in repeating Archbishop Croke's advice in the house of commons is simply astonishing. "Let us see," said Archbishop Croke, "whether there will be that willingness on the part of the people to submit quietly to the terms of landlords or not." In other words the government is exhorted to leave the landlords to the mercy of a peasantry inflamed by reckless agitation, in order to prove what is perfectly clear already, that they would not get any mercy at all, to say nothing of justice. and St. Joseph, Mo, Peoria, Quincy, Daven port, Moline, Muscatine, and other points in Illinois and Iowa, and Cincinnati, Louisville, New Albany, Wheeling, Rochester, New York city, Brooklyn, Newark, N. The streets present a very gay appearance, for besides the arches which have been erected at various places, a large number of down town business houses are handsomely and some profusely decorated, and hundreds of private residences are literally covered with private residences are interally covered with flags, evergreens, flowers and mottoes. The ceremonies will open to-night with a grand torchlight procession, which will escort the visiting Turners to Schneider's Garden, in the southwestern part of the city, where a complimentary concert will be given, speeches of welcome made, and a grand good time generally be indulged in.

The Procession and Festival Last Night.

St. Louis, June 4.-The opening of the twenty-third Federal Turner festival of the North American Turners Confederates, took place to-night with a Summer night's festival at Schneider's garden, near Lafayette park. The visiting and home Turners formed in procession at Locust market square about 9 o'clock with torches to the number of 3,000, and marched through the streets to Chotcau avenue and thence to the grounds. Members of the various local committees on horseback occupied places in the procession and ladies and prominent officers and members of the bund were conveyed in carriages. The streets were packed with spectators, and the brilliant torches, the thousands of men, Chinese lanterns and pyrotecnic displays at brief intervals along the march, lighting up the decorations which pyroteenic displays at brief intervals along the march, lighting up the decorations which were everywhere fine and profuse, made the scene one of special beauty and almost of enchantment. On arriving at the garden the chairman called the great crowd to order, and in a speech introduced Mayor Ewing, who welcomed the Turners to St. Louis, and tendered them the hospitalities of her citizens, in an appropriate address. Dr. Sporkleoff, president of the North-American Turnerbund, then delivered an oration in German, and Miss Steefle, daughter of C. A. Steefle, presented to the confederation a most beautiful and costly silk banner, ma'e by a number of young ladies of St. Louis, which was accepted on behalf of the bund in an cloquent speech by C. Meyer, of Bellevue, Ill. To the banner was hung a beautiful wreath of silver leaves, presented by the wives and daughters of members of the New Orleans Turners, as a recognition of kindness leans Turners, as a recognition of kindness tendered by ladies of St. Louis during the prevalance of yellow fever in the former city.
