THE WEEKLY GLOBE.

The Weekly Globe is a mammoth sheet, exactly double the size of the Daily. It is just the paper for the fireside, containing in addition to all the current news, choice miscellany, agricultural matter, market reports, etc. It is furnished to single subscribers at $1, with 15 cents added for pre-payment of postage. Subscribers should remit $1.15.

ST. PAUL, THURSDAY, JULY 28, 1881.

CONKLING's Spartan band may have been very heroic, but like the bull that tried to buck the locomotive off the track, they exhibited but little discretion.

For as foul a body as the Pennsylvania legislature proved itself it consumed a large quantity of cleansing materials. During the first two months of its session the bills paid for soap and bay rum for the use of the members amounted to five hundred dollars. With such a supply it ought to have been the most cleany body in existence.

THERE is considerable excitement in Chieago over the lax manner in which the inspectors of fish have performed their duties. It is claimed by the newspapers that the people of that city have been eating decayed fish for some weeks past. They will receive but little comfortor sympathy, however, from other quarters, for people in these quarters know whether they eat a fresh or a foul fish. The protection required by the people of Chicage is simply a matter of taste. THE Indian question seems now to be in a better condition than it has been in the last ten years. Sitting Bull has surrendered, and all the tribes in the West seem to be at peace with the whites. There is a charge that the Apaches in Arizona and southern California are still obstreperous, but mildly energetic measures may induce their submission to the laws of the United States. The Apaches are not as bad as they have been painted. They have been subjected to many outrages, and naturally resent them by the only power they appreciate—that of brute force. By the exercise of proper appliances the interior department can no doubt make of the Apaches good citizens or at least as good citizens as Indians ordinarily make.

THE receipt of a considerable quantity of dynamite in England from America seems o have excited the phlegmatic Briti . to an altogether unnecessary ex-No American citizen shipped the goods in anticipation of the destruction of life in the ranks of our British consins Those who made the shipment were no doubtedly vandals of the worst sort, who ought to be hunted down as outlaws in every country on the globe. They will, no doubt, be ultimately brought to justice, but it is hardly charitable or just to charge their offense upon the American people. But, by the way, the Liverpool police officials declare that no such consignments have been received in England Perhaps it would be better to allow the English police to settle this question before attempting to defend the American from such an accusation against their

THE WASHBURN $5 BENEFIT WAKE There is little to be added to the report of the GLOBE envoy, who, in behalf of an appreciative public, contributed alms on Tuesday to the amount of $5, for the benefit of the man who represents Minneapolis exclusively on the floor of Congress. It was an ignoble affair through-

The record has its sad feature in the crushed and shapeless form of poor Minnie Reeves, who was sacrificed in order to clear the track for the alms

It has its expensive feature for the stockholders of the Minneapolis & St. Louis road, who will be called upon by the relatives of the young lady for five thousand dollars-the amount allowed in such cases by law-and two or three thousand dollars more for repairs to rolling stock

It has its remunerative feature in the shape of 241 tickets, multiplied by $5, which sum will exclusively grace the pockets of the exclusive Minneapolis Congressman.

It has its shameless feature on the part of Mr. Washburn, who accepts charity when appeals are going up from the homeless and penniless sufferers of Brown county for the means of subsistence suddenly swept away by a terrible cyclone. There is no record of any similar scheme to secure a little money, for a wealthy man, and in view of the plain recital by the GLOBE, the experiment is not likely to be repeated, even if Minneapolis continues to be able to keep a representative in Congress to care for her interests exclusively, and misrepresent the remainder of the district.

THE SUPREME COURT. The death of Justice Clifford leaves the Supreme bench almost wholly Republican. It is true that Justice Field claims to be a Democrat, but his Democracy is a matter of great doubt. It springs from personal considerations rather than from settled principle. Justice Clifford was the only man on the supreme bench who has, ever since the outbreak of the war, dared to stand forward in defense of Democratic principles and of the Domocratic party. He was a stalwart Democrat, who believed in the party with his whole heart and soul.

A partisan supreme court is not a desirable acquisition to the country. But such an institution we now have. The court as it now exists is grossly partisan, will remain as politicians to the end of their lives. Scarcely one of the number can be regarded as above the level of the common ward political trickster, and none of them can be pronounced competent to occupy the exalted positions which, by the grace of Grant and Hayes, they have been permitted to fill. The suggestion is made that the vacant judgeship be offered to Roscoe Conkling. While he would adorn the bench by his intellectual gifts, he is not of a judicial turn of mind, and it is questionable if he would accept the office if tendered him. It would be a graceful compliment to him if the President would tender it to him, however, and would go far towards healing the breach that now exists in the party.

"Happy Excursionists" and Poor Minnie Reeves.

In its account of the benefit excursion to Washburn the Minneapolis Tribune says: The train was advertised to leave at precisely 2:30 o'clock, but owing to the fact the track at Hopkins was known to be partially blocked by a wreck, a delay of fifteen minutes blocked by a wreck, a delay of fifteen minutes occurred, and at Hopkins another brief delay occurred, and the train reached Solburg's Point at 4 o'clock, being just forty minutes late. But the happy excursionists cared little for the delay, and thoroughly enjoyed the fine scenery all along the route.

It is evident the Washburn party was composed of Minneapolis Mark Tapleys, who were bound to be jolly under any circumstances. The "brief delay" at Hopkins, "for which the happy excursionists cared little," was caused by the death of Minnie Reeves, who went out upon an engine, in her capacity as railroad telegraph operator, to clear the track for the "happy excursionists." A Minneapolis paper says: "She was thrown against 'the boiler with sufficient force to fracture her skull, and the coal in the tender was "emptied upon her, burning her terribly. It 'was twenty minutes before the 'caping steam from 'the wrecked en-'gine would allow the trainmen to go 'to her rescue and then they could secure only "the almost lifeless body." This was the sad fate of poor Minnie Reeves, but our member of Congress secured his "benefit" of a thousand dollars and his friends-"the happy excursionists-cared little for the delay."

ADDITION TO KITTSONDALE.

Rumor that Commodore Kittson has Purchased the Three-Year-Old Wonder. Phil Thompson-The Sport at Cleveland. Parties who returned yesterday from attendance upon the Chicago races, report that Commodore N. W. Kittson was a most interested spectator of the colt trot Tuesday, for four-year-olds and under, so handsomely won by Phil. Thompson, a three-year-old, in three straight heats, in the remarkable time of 2:25, 2:24 %, 2:21, the last heat beating the three-2:24 %, 2:21, the last heat beating the three-year-old record by 2% seconds, and the report was current after the race that the Commo-dore had bought the winner to add to the galaxy of trotting stars already gracing Kittsondale. While the report lacks confirmation, it can be stated the com-modore is an admirer of the colt's breeding, and that he has had his business eye on him for some time, and as he generally buys what he likes, with little reference to the price, it is not at all improbable he has made the pur-chase. Mr. Kittson is expected home to-day, and upon his arrival the truth of the reported purchase can be ascertained. Phil. Thompson, urchase can be ascertained. Phil. Thompson are colt in question, was named after a well known Congressman. To the Editor of the Globe.

ST. PAUL, July 27 .- The undersigned, citi zens of the Fourth ward, for themselves and others connected with the movement recently brought to the attention of Mayor Rice by a deputation from their number, in order to correct erroneous statements published in some of the newspapers, feel called upon to say that this movement is directed to the suppression of certain netorious houses of ill-fame which are intolerable nuisances in the neighborhood The residents of this neighborhood were also residents of this neighborhood were also greatly annoyed by a saloon on Exchange street known as the Emmert's brewery saloon, and to some extent by a saloon at the corner of Third and Exchange streets, which were complained of at the same time.

Mr. Hopping, who is well acquainted with the Harwood surroundings, thinks that Mr. Harwood is not only dangerously, but fatally ill, otherwise he would have received no such telegram. The son telegraphed for is 17 years of age and is partially paralyzed. He was sent from the South some two months ago sent from the South some two months ago upon the recommendation of physicians, who said he could not live there. The fact that he is called back by telegraphed, Mr. Hopping thinks, is evidence that Mr. Harwood is dangerously ill. The son, who is almost helpless, left yesterday morning in charge of a trusted friend for Florida.

Mr. Joseph Lathrop, residing at Seventh and Church streets, Wilmington, Del., says court as it now exists is grossly partisan, in a most obnoxious sense. [Stillwater Report for the St. Paul Globe.] Yesterday morning when the time came to start up the sawmill of C. N. Nelson & Co., some forty of the men refused to go to work, and immediately left the mill. They then proceeded to the mill of Schulenburg, Boeck eler & Co., and endeavored to get their men to join in the strike, and what the result would have been, we cannot tell, had not Mr. Ernest Hospes appeared on the scene of action at the time. Mr. Hospes told his men that all who wanted to join in the strike could go, but he wanted them to leave the mill peaceably and not to trouble those who to stay. He talked to them some time and advised them to keep on with their work and pay no heed to the other party, and as a result not a man left.

The strikers made some threats to shut down the mill, when Mr. Hospes pulled from his pocket an instrument that looked very much like a revolver, and told them that the first man that put his hand on to a machine would be shot down on the spot. They saw that Mr. Hospes meant business, and net wishing to take any chances they left the mill. After a short consultation they proceeded in a body to the mill of Hersey, Bean & Brown, where they were met by the mayor, who advised them to leave and let the men alone who wanted to work. He advised them to be peacable or they would get into trouble, as he should protect all parties who wanted to work. They then went into the mill, wanted to work. They then went into the mill, when the mayor came up and ordered out the police force, and a squad of the Grand Army. Sheriff Holcomb and Officer McKusick, with a few police, went down and cleared the mill, and dispersed the strikers. A guard of men, well armed, was statinged at each of the mills, with orders to protect the mill and all men who should wish to work. The strikers after having met with to work. The strikers after having met with defeat on all sides gave up the business, and catered about on the street.

It was reported that the men at South Stillwater had made a strike, but they had no idea of doing so nor is it believed that had the strike been general that they would have joined. It was started by some tramps or roving Frenchmen who work a while in one lace and then go to another.

About all of Hersey, Bean & Brown's men left this noon, leaving only enough to run one circular saw. C. N. Nelson started up at circular saw. C. N. Nelson started up at noon, with about fifteen men. About 1:30 o'clock the strikers got together on the corner of Main and Chestnut streets, and marched in a body to Mr. Staple's mill, intending to take charge of the engine room and stop the mill. The police got wind of the matter and a squad of them went up and succeeded in arresting two of the ring leaders and locking them up. This action put a damper on the rest of the crowa and they left. None of the men at Staples' have left, and every man keps men at Staples' have left, and every man kep-at his post during the time. The mob con-sisted of some forty of C. N. Nelson's men and some twenty-five of gravel train men. It is feared that by to-morrow the strike will be is feared that by to-morrow the strike will be more general.

Extra police have been put on and the mills will be strictly guarded and any move that they will make will be promptly met. At present there is no organization to the strike and there has not been any demand made upon the mill owners, but it is supposed that they strike for ten hours. C. N. Nelser & Co. have succeeded in getting a force of men from outside and their mill will start up this morning with a force to work all the machinery.

LATEST. [Special Telegram to the Globe.] STILLWATER, July 27, 11 p. m.-All the men strikers and is now between one hundred and fifty and two hundred men in the strike. The police force has been doubled, and the mills were guarded last night with men well armed, and a strict watch kept all over the city.

DISASTROUS LUMBER YARD FIRE. Yesterday, about 5 p. m., a fire broke out in the rafting shed of McKusick, Anderson & Co., across the lake, and in a few minutes the whole building was in a flame. The steamer from this city was sent over, and, after workirom this city was sent over, and, after working a few minutes, it gave out. The flames next caught the boarding house, and it seemed for a time that the mill must go, but the bucketforigade, from C. N. Nelson & Co.'s. mill was sent over, and all the men that could be got from the mills and other places were taken, and they commenced passing water to save the mill.

By this time the flames had caught into the umber piles in the yard and was raging with all its fury. Hose was then attached to the hydrant at the corner of Chestnut street and nydrant at the corner of Chestnut street and Stimson's alley, and run across the bridge, a distance of 3,000 feet. With this stream there was hopes of saving the mill.

A telegram was then sent to Hudson to send their engine, and that came about 7. o'clock, and got to work, but not until the whole lumber yard was in one solid fame. From one solid fame. er yard was in one solid flame. Every one hat could lend a hand did so, in throwing the umber into the lake, until they were lriven away by the fire, but as the flames swept hrough the piles on the lake shore, that which was thrown into the lake caught, and little fo it was saved. By the use of the buckets the mill was saved and also the stable at the upper end of the yard.

The lumber piles was upon made ground, consisting of slabs and sawdust, which is now all on fire, and there is danger that it may work underneath and yet catch the mill. The Hudson steamer and the steamer from this city was kept at work all night to keep down the fire.

The lumber already burned will not fall much short of one million feet. MINOR NOTES.

War of the Trunk Lines in Passenge

New York, July 26.—The warfare in passenger rates to the West, between the trunk lines, continues unabated, and it is probabl it will continue for some time to come. In fact, the struggle between the companies, which has for the last few days been some what limited in character, was renewed this morning with increased energy. Yesterday afternoon the New York Central road announced they would sell tickets to Chicago for $8.50; to Chicanati for $8.50, and to the Louis for $1.75. This was followed by the Pennsylvania Central, New York, Lake Erie & Western, and the Baltimore & Ohio airroads. When the ticket brokers or scalpers opened their offices this morning there was, a great rush for tickets, which were offered at the following rates: To Chicago for $8, Cincinnati $7.50, and $t. Louis $13.25. At the regular ticket offices tickets were sold at the same rates as were established by the Pennsylvania road yesterday, until about 10:30, when Samuel Carpenter, ticket agent of the Pennsylvania Central railroad, sent dispatches to all ticket offices of the line, instructing agents to sell tickets. afternoon the New York Central road an ine, instructing agents to sell tickets to Chicago for $8, to Cincinnati for $7.50, and St. Louis for $13.25. As soon as we hear that the scalpers are selling below our rates we shall instruct our ticket agents to sell at the same price asked by them, and ill keen un this fight as long as an We are not waging warfare against scalpers, but it is against the Erie and New York Central roads that we are fighting, for they are selling tickets to these scalpers and allowing them to sell them at rates lower than they are sold over their own counters.

New York, July 27.-Passenger tickets to Western points still continue to decline in western points still continue to occure in price. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad are selling to Chicago to-day for $7.50, and 8t. Louis $13. Other agents are selling tickets to 8t. Louis from $11.50 to $12.50. Tickets to Gincinnati can be purchased for $7. Some scalpers think the fair to Chicago will be reduced to $5 in a few days.

Ex-Attorney General Devens and Chief Justice Gray, of Massachu Devens and Chief Justice Gray, of Massachusetts, are candidates for appointment, and it is said every New England State will have one or more candidates, as it is assumed by that section that the appointee will be from New England. The talk of giving the place to Exsenator Conkling is regarded as absurd, and Conkliag's friends do not hesitate to say that he would not have it. Theve are some prominent Republicans who hold that a Democrat should be appointed, and by some it is thought probable that if President Garfield survives he will appoint a Democrat.

and James N. Davidson, appellants. Syllabus—Action upon a policy upon the life of the plaintiff's husband payable upon his death to his wife, or in case of her death before his, then to their children, the husband having paid all the premiums: Decker vs. the Charter Oak Life Insurance

Decker vs. the Charter Oak Life Insurance company, followed, upon the points that such policy belongs the moment it is issued to the beneficiaries named therein, that the life insured has no legal or equitable interest in it, that if it has been delivered to and is held by him he holds it as a naked deposit, and that therefore he cannot assign or transfer it for any purpose in pledge or otherwise.

The plaintiff, her husband joining, made and delivered a written assignment of the policy mentioned to secure the payment of two described notes, one payable in sixty days and the other in six months after date, given by her husband for his prior indebtedness, and for his benefit and in his business, and not for her benefit nor in his business, as the assignee her husband for his prior indebtedness, and for his benefit and in his business, and not for her benefit nor in his business, as the assignee well knew. The assignment provided that if the notes were not paid within two years and six months from date, the assignee might surrender the policy, receive the full surrender value and pay the notes from the proceeds, and if the life insured should die at any time before the notes were paid, the assignee was authorized to receive from the insurance money the sum due upon the notes, and upon their payment the assignment was to be void. When the 60 days' note became due it was satisfied and surrendered. When the other fell due, new notes were given in its place, payable in 3 and 6 months, and thereupon the old note was surrendered to the maker. Sometime after they fell due these new notes were surrendered to the maker, who gave two other notes in their place, payable in 4 and 6 months. Of these changes plaintiff had no notice or knowledge. One of the notes last given is still unpaid. The plaintiff made no agreement respecting the policy except that contained in the assignment before mentioned. Held, That the plaintiff, in assigning the policy, became at most merely a surety for her purpless.

Held, That the plaintiff, in assigning the policy, became at most merely a surety for her husband, and that the time for the payment of the debts for which she became surety, having been enlarged without her knowledge or consent (even if not actually paid by the surrender of the old note), discharged her and set her policy free.

Held, also, That the provision in the assignment, authorizing the assignee to "realize" from the policy in case the original notes were not paid in two years and six months, in no way extended their time of payment, nor authorized anyone to extend the same, or waived any of the plaintiff's rights in case of such extension. tension.

Held, further, That at least in the absence of any objection for want of proper sureties plaintiff by demurrer or answer, the plaintif done is entitled to maintain an action for the recovery of the policy against mere stranger having no right to its possession.

Honored and Blest.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.nemocrat.
