

CITY GLOBES.

M. W. Kittson, Esq., sent $250 to Gov. Pillsbury yesterday for the New Elm sufferers.

The Ramsey County Pioneers are contemplating a re-union at White Bear about August 10.

The new members of the police force were put through the regular drill last evening, and departed themselves nobly.

Teacher's bible class today at 4:30 p. m., conducted by Thomas Cochran, Jr. Young men's meeting this evening at 8 o'clock at rooms of Y. M. C. A.

Hon. George Ben is absent in Europe, and the GLOBE regrets to learn that one of his children is dangerously ill. At last accounts it was feared that the father would not see his child alive.

John Thill, who resides at No. 245 East Seventh street, has been keeping open house ever since last Sunday, and all on account of a fifteen-pound barkeeper, who applied for a situation with him on that day.

Sheriff Holcombe, of Washington county, took Nelson, the stolen certificate man, back to Stillwater for trial, yesterday. He still stoutly maintains his innocence, notwithstanding he was confronted with the original Nelson.

Caroline Dorman, whose case was mentioned in the GLOBE yesterday morning, was adjudged insane by Judge O'Gorman, upon the report of Drs. Hand and Stamm, and Sheriff Richter will take her to the asylum at St. Peter this morning.

The residence of Judge Hale, on Lafayette avenue, was entered by some boys, it is supposed on Monday night, but nothing is missing so far as known. The family have been absent two months or more, and the house is in charge of the gardener.

Nothing but a small stone monument marks the spot where that imposing tent was pitched about a year ago in the midst of court house square. It was pitched in silence and it is silently moved away, and the supposition is that its mission is ended.

Patrick Lamb, an employee of the gas company, was one of the sufferers by the fire Thursday night, at the corner of Third and Commercial streets. He lost his entire household effects and $45 in money. Seven dollars was in silver and was recovered from the ruins. He had no insurance.

Edward Simonon, Esq., who was appointed referee to take testimony in the divorce case of Helen Dorn vs. John Dorn, filed his report with the clerk of the court yesterday. The testimony goes to show desertion, ill-usage, neglect, etc. A decree of divorce will not doubt be granted at the special term to-day.

Poor Hannah Welsh, who was released from the House of the Good Shepherd, was found near the market yesterday afternoon by Officer Lowell, fearfully and wonderfully drunk. Of course she was run in, and will be sent back to the old quarters to-day. The query is, who sells or gives her the whiskey?

R. B. Fulton, of Mabel, and John Taylor, of Riceford, were before Commissioner Cardozo yesterday charged with retailing liquors without having taken out the special license. E. H. Coleman was charged with selling tobacco and cigars without paying the special tax. All three gave bonds in the sum of $200 for their appearance.

Our citizens generally will regret to learn of the death, at Stamford, Conn., yesterday, of Mrs. Emily M. Walsh, the venerable mother of James R. and Silas B. Walsh and Mrs. Thomas Cochran, Jr., of this city. Mrs. Walsh was an estimable lady, highly respected by all who knew her, and her death will be universally regretted.

The national schutzenfest which commences next Tuesday will be a marked event in the history of St. Paul. Representatives will be present from every portion of the United States. The grand parade will take place on Wednesday, and it would be a graceful recognition of the same on the part of our business men to decorate Third street, at least, in honor of the event.

The beautiful and costly contribution made to the national schutzenfest, which commences its regular annual festival in this city on Tuesday next, August 2, was received by Arthur Koenig yesterday, and will be on exhibition at Peter Bender's to-day, at Grothe's Tivoli on Sunday, and at Charley Hagemiller's on Monday. As a work of art, as well as for its intrinsic value, it is well worth seeing.

A man named Ole Peterson, reported to the police yesterday, that he had been assaulted and robbed, near the corner of Fifth and Minnesota streets, by three men, who knocked him down and stole his pocketbook, containing $25.00. Chief Webster investigated the matter, and found the fellow's pocketbook on his person, and in it some $4.00 in change. His story was too thin, and the chief declined to be complainant with an admonition to keep sober.

About a year ago, a young man, who had been measuring tape at a prominent dry goods house on Third street, tried his luck at bucking the tiger, and was successful so far as to draw out some $2,000, he salted it down, and a short time ago started a gin mill with the proceeds of his venture, and of late has done a rushing business. Some two nights ago he tried his luck again, and dropped $60 in good dust. He went home and told his wife, who posted off the next morning to the mayor's office, and demanded that an officer be dispatched to the lair of the tiger, to reclaim the lost booty. As gambling is not recognized as a legitimate trade in St. Paul, her request was complied with, and the money was restored. It is probable that the place will be again visited by the dispenser of liquid damnation.

The two fires which occurred almost simultaneously on Thursday night demonstrated the serious want of additional facilities to put out fires. The first alarm on Thursday evening came from the corner of Third and Commercial streets, and was promptly responded to by the fire department. Hardly had they commenced work before another fire broke out in the frame building adjoining the Athenaeum. The latter fire was within two blocks of No. 3 engine house, yet when the alarm came there was not a hose cart or even a nozzle in the engine house to respond to the call. Private teams were pressed into service to carry over the hose, and the water had to be thrown upon the fire without the use of a nozzle. Nothing but prompt and efficient work saved the building, and the Athenaeum also. Is it not about time that the city authorities provided additional facilities to meet such an emergency as that of Thursday evening?

As is well known, Fort Snelling has for some time past been practically a military prison. At present there are some forty convicts confined there, for various offenses, ranging all the way through the different grades of desertion, larceny, insubordination, etc. Last evening, between 7 and 8 o'clock, the officer of the night discovered that three of the prisoners, together with the sentinel on guard, were missing. The names of the escaped men are: Allen, Bennett and Slack, and the sentinel who must have conspired with them in their escape, was named Robbins, a member of company H, Seventh infantry. The prisoners and the sentinel cannot have gone very far, and in all probability the quartette will be arrested before many hours. Details from the fort were scouring this city and Minneapolis last evening for the missing men, and no doubt all four will be in custody this morning.

Dr. H. W. Thomas' Lecture.

Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas, of Chicago, pastor of "The People's Church," is stopping for a few days at Lake Elmo. He will speak in Sherman hall on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, on "Social Forces."

The well known eloquence of the reverend gentleman will no doubt draw a large and intelligent audience. The lecture will be under the auspices of the ladies of the Jackson street M. E. church, and they are fortunate in being able to secure his services.

A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a United States flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her. She is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.
