THE COURTS.

Municipal Court.

[Before Judge Cooley.]

The drunk list ushered before his honor, was again extensive yesterday morning.

Michael Lavett, Gus Freepert, Thos. McKay, Wm. Radunard, John Emmerson, C. Oswell, John McDonald and James Anderson, responded to the roll and were each fined $5 or committed seven days to pound rocks and get sober.

Geo. W. Mann, the unruly hickman, received a reprimand and a warning that if he should again be found guilty of blocking a crosswalk he should pay a heavy penalty.

The case of Henry Hoose, who was arrested at the instigation of his wife Henrietta, on the previous day, on the charge of assault and battery, came up for trial.

Henrietta testified that her husband had pounded her with a belt and had pulled a handful of hair from her head. She unrolled from a dirty handkerchief enough hair to make a respectable wig, which she claimed as the identical hair he had plucked. But very strange, if true, the hair was several shades darker than the hair she exhibited on her head.

Henry was sworn and testified that the hair in dispute was pulled from a neighbor's head by his sixteen-year-old wife. He stoutly denied any personal violence upon his part whatever. She explained that she wanted a divorce, and Henry said he "didn't care," but the judge replied that it was not in the jurisdiction of his court, that they would be obliged to take their grievances into the District court. The case was dismissed.

Probate Court.

[Before Judge Rea.]

In the matter of the estate of Warren H. Godfrey, a minor, Martha J. Godfrey appointed guardian.

ALL AROUND THE GLOBE

The result, while all over the land was excitement and indignation on the afternoon of the day he was shot, saying, to his physicians, "God's will be done. My time has come. I am ready." But I believe God intends to answer a nation's prayer, and save him for his nation and mankind, as well as for the noble wife who nursed him back to life from the death's door, and now nurses him so bravely. I know all these thousands join with me, and with millions all over the country, in the prayer to God to save our President.

Hot in New Jersey and Virginia—Cooling Showers in Missouri—A Change at Richmond of Fifteen Degrees in Half an Hour—Storm at Petersburg, Va.—Over Fifty Buildings Unroofed by a Gale in Philadelphia.

BARBENTOWN, N. J., Aug. 13.—To-day is the hottest of the season, 101 in the shade.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 13.—At 1 p. m. the thermometer was at 106. A heavy thunder storm at 2 p. m. caused the mercury to fall 15 degrees, to 91.

PETERSBURG, Va., Aug. 13.—This city and immediate vicinity was visited this afternoon by one of the severest and most destructive winds and thunder storms experienced here for many years. It was a terrific storm, and in some places the wind is estimated to have been sixty miles an hour. During the prevalence of the storm the freight depot of the Norfolk & Western railway, together with a large building, used as workshops, at the Petersburg and Weldon road, at Mount Airy, and Cameron & Bros. large tobacco factory were partially unroofed and badly damaged. The grand stand at the fair grounds was completely torn and scattered in all directions. Seven houses at the city alma house were also demolished. Several houses were struck by lightning and in some instances the occupants were severely stunned by the fluid. Trees, fences, and telegraph poles were blown down and the damage done by the storm is everywhere terrible. It is feared great destruction was done to crops and orchards in adjoining counties, previous to the storm the thermometer registered 106 in the shade. It now stands at 91.

St. Louis, Aug. 13.—The storm last night completely broke the back bone of the heated term and to-day the temperature was quite comfortable. Another shower this evening still further lowered the mercury. It is now hoped we shall have no more extreme hot weather. Showers have fallen in different parts of the State since yesterday morning and hopes are revived that the corn crop, if not wholly saved, will be greatly benefited.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—A violent storm of rain, accompanied by a strong wind, passed over the city this afternoon and did considerable damage. Trees were blown down, cellars and streets flooded, and roofs of buildings carried away. The roofs of the State building, on Ninth street and Montgomery avenue, and of the public school, Twenty-second and Bainbridge streets, were blown off, and the roofs of about fifty dwellings demolished. No lives lost.

CHATAUQUA'S BIG DAY.

Address by Colfax and Others—Garfield's Speech of a Year Ago.

CHATAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 13.—This is a national day at Chatauqua, and Gen. Howard, commander at West Point, presided over the platform meetings. Dr. Vincent read letters from Hon. Robert Lincoln, secretary of war, and ex-President Hayes, and read also an address made by President Garfield at this place one year ago. The reading was applauded. Dr. Vincent said it was worth something to have the privilege of reading such broad, generous utterances, made in the midst of a hot political campaign, from the lips of a man who was afterward struck down by the hand an assassin, and now lies on a bed of pain.

Gen. Howard introduced to the audience and greeted with the Chatauqua salute and waving of white handkerchiefs. The orator of the day, ex
