DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

Register of Deeds—C. H. LEBNAU. County Treasurer—JOHN X. DAVISON. Clerk of the Court—RICHARD W. BELL.

POLITICAL MEETINGS.

Democratic candidate for governor, will address his fellow citizens upon the issues of the present campaign at 7:30 p. m. as follows: St. Cloud, Monday, October 31.

Not until after the regular session of Congress will the public mind be fully made up. When that shall have passed Mr. Arthur, no doubt, will have surrounded himself with advisers of his own choosing.

There is great perturbation among the Chicago half-breeds because Gilbert, assistant treasurer, has been dismissed to make room for ex-Gov. Beveridge.

To-morrow is the last day to register your vote in this city. Those whose names are not recorded when the books close to-morrow night, will find it very difficult to vote on election day.

The raw Scandinavians who are being transformed into citizens before they can understand a word of English, will bear watching. They do not know who understand our laws but the men who are endeavoring to secure their illegal votes, know better.

JIM BAKER and Dave Blakely used to fall upon each other necks and weep when they worked the pension racket together. They ought to do a little masquerading during this campaign, inasmuch as General Jim is a candidate for a State office.

SOME of the post-office officials are trembling in their shoes lest they, having nothing to lose, may tell some of the things he knows. It is surmised that he is not of the temperament to enjoy the position of scape goat.

A RURAL exchange announces that ex-Gov. Marshall—more popularly known as the bald-headed charger of the prairies—has abandoned the Republicans and gone over to the prohibition party.

What has become of Hon. E. B. Washburn, of Illinois, late candidate for the presidential nomination? When last heard from before the Chicago convention he was "for Grant, first and last and all the time."

THE Dispatch essays to ridicule Gen. Johnson because he has taken the stump. The Republican organ ought, instead, to announce that it is disgusted because the Republicans can find no one to take the stump in their behalf.

CITY GOBULES.

A new sidewalk, greatly needed, has been laid in front of the Merchants, on Jackson street.

Rev. Dr. Dana, of this city, goes to Fargo on Wednesday of this week, to attend a council of ministers to aid in the organization of a Congregational church in that city.

Yesterday Dr. Dana, the pastor of the Plymouth church, introduced into his pulpit, for the first time, the revised new testament, which he proposes to use hereafter in the Sabbath services of the sanctuary.

A hack driver named George Wilson was arrested yesterday for assaulting a patron who disputed his bill by slapping him in the face.

Mr. Presley & Co., open their new store on Third street, near Cooper, this morning and will be pleased to extend the compliments of the season to friends who may give them a call.

Two men, both apparently under the influence of liquor, appeared at the police station yesterday and demanded that an officer be sent to rescue a 3-year-old girl from a house of prostitution.

Mr. Arthur did not succeed in his high position amidst the hearty acclaim of the people. In fact he was looked upon with doubt, even with suspicion, and almost all the elements of encouragement were lacking.

With the adjournment of the extra session of the Senate this probationary period may be said to end, and the country will try to judge what kind of a man it will be their ruler for the next few years.

The decision will hardly be unanimous. That is hardly to be expected, under any circumstances, and in the present case so few changes have been made where it was the obvious intention to make many, and so little has been accomplished where it was beyond doubt intended to do much.

Not until after the regular session of Congress will the public mind be fully made up. When that shall have passed Mr. Arthur, no doubt, will have surrounded himself with advisers of his own choosing.

MINNEAPOLIS NEWS.

The pinkie disease has appeared among the horses in Le Sueur.

The Fergus Falls Journal reports that considerable hay is being destroyed by the annual fire.

The Albert Lea sugar cane syrup works have produced this season 5,000 gallons of syrup.

Of the judges of Minnesota, seven are natives of Vermont, and six natives of New York.

John Smith, of Athens, Traverse county, had his stable and his hay burned up by a prairie fire.

Ex-Gov. Marshall is reported to have sold one section, 640 acres, of his farm, near Bird Island, for $6,400.

One night last week burglars entered the house of Col. J. P. Owens, at Taylors Falls, of $302 in money.

Diphtheria is reported to prevail in a very malignant form among the Indians on the White Earth Reservation.

Fifteen pastors are now waiting to supply vacant Presbyterian pulpits within the bounds of the synod of Minnesota.

The general impression among farmers seems to be that wheat in the stack has not been so well protected by the recent rains.

The Hastings Union says the house of Thomas Spaul, near Graveline, was burned last week. Loss $10,000, no insurance.

The hotel keepers in St. Peter have advanced the price of board from $3.50 to $4, on account of the advance in the price of provisions.

A successful journalist is the editor of the Crookston Journal. He raises this season 400 bushels of potatoes from one acre of ground.

The Red Wing Republican says J. A. Porter has manufactured 10,000 pounds of sugar cane syrup this season at the Trout Brook sugar works.

The Polish Roman Catholic societies of Duluth are about to build a church edifice on their lot on the corner of Third street and Fourth avenue.

Mr. A. L. Teale, publisher of the Argonaut, at Moorhead, proposes to publish a daily paper if $4,000 worth of advertising patronage can be secured.

The other day O. S. Geer, of Burbank, Kandiyohi county, had one of his arms badly crushed and mangled in the gearing of a threshing machine.

The Olmsted County Democrat, a six column folio, has just made its appearance at the printing office of the property, it is devoted to the tenets of the Democracy.

The boiler of a threshing machine exploded, a few days since, in the township of Lake Andrew, Kandiyohi county, killing one man and seriously injuring three others.

The Verdala, Wadena county, Journal, says "the note raised as to the property of the threshers, is excellent throughout. Wadena county has no cause to complain."

In grinding 150 queshels of wheat at the City Roller mill in Waseca the magnet-separator gathered one and a quarter pounds of bits of wire that had been used in binding the grain.

During the late rains the basement of the Episcopal church in Wells became so flooded with water as to put out the furnace fires, thus interfering with Sabbath school and church services.

The house of C. C. Kelly, of Verdala, was destroyed by fire, with its contents, the other day. The recent heavy rains had saturated the property he possessed. He and family are left homeless and quite destitute.

Last week F. Young, of Oshawa, Nicollet county, when feeding a threshing machine with wheat bound with wire, had a piece of wire fly into his eye, which so irritated it as to destroy the sight.

The Taylor's Falls Journal says it is considered a settled fact that D. M. Sablin has purchased from the heirs of Caleb Cushing the St. Croix Falls property and now owns one of the best water powers in the west.

In Anoka, the other night, Henry McCauley dialed a revolver and shot the windows of the store stealing gun. He fired a revolver at them and one of the men cried out, "My God, I'm shot." They made good their escape, however.
