Official Paper of the City & County

Printed and Published Every Day in the Year ST. PAUL GLOBE PRINTING COMPANY, NO. 17 WABASHAW STREET, ST. PAUL.

THE WEEKLY GLOBE.

The WHELLY GLORE is a mammoth sheet, exactly souble the size of the Daily. It is just the paper for the freside, containing in addition to all the current gews, choice miscellany, agricultural matter, market reports, etc. It is furnished to single subscribers at 31, with 18 cents added for pre-payment of partage. Subscribers should remit $1,15.

ST, PAUL, MONDAY, JAN. 2, 1882.

THE GLOBE FOR 1889.

Seven Papers Per Week for $7 Per Year If Paid in Advance Prior to Feb. 1.

The GLOBE, when it was first issued, adopted the plan of publishing every day in the year. Sundays and holidays included, and is now closing its fourth year without the loss of an issue under any pretext whatever. This was an innovation in Minnesota journalism, which the public have not been slow to appreciate. In addition to this the GLOBE inaugurated the style of supplying all the news of the entire world in a condensed, compact form, at a moderate price, placing the paper within the reach of all who desire a daily paper at all. The GLOBE has full associated press privileges and invites comparison with any other paper in the matter of publishing the news of the day. Space is too valuable in the GLOBE to waste it upon shocking headlines, but let the reader take any issue and compare it with other papers of the same date, and the news will be found in its columns.

In order to still further extend its field, the GLOBE now offers to supply the paper by carrier or mail for an entire year, seven issues per week, for SEVEN DOLLARS. This offer is conditional upon the whole amount being paid in advance, and applies to all, old and new subscribers alike.

This offer will hold good to all who accept It prior to Feb. 1st, 1882.

MINNEAPOLIS makes a splendid showing in the lumber trade during the last year. But a St. Paul firm carries a larger stock than any firm of that city by 5,000,000 feet, just the same.

THE Pioneer Press took another turn at Minneapolis statistics, vesterday, and marked them up nearly forty millions-above the figures it gave on Saturday. There is evidently a mean intention about the P. P. when dealing with Minneapolis figures.

A SPECIAL committee on the inter oceanic canal is to be appointed by Speaker Keifer, and the chairmanship of this committee, it is said, is the tub to be thrown to Mr. Kasson, the political whale of Iowa. Speaker Keifer's action in making a virtue of the necessities of this case is very commendable indeed.

IT is alleged that the committee on railroads has been packed by Speaker Keifer adversely to the interests of the Northern Pacific railroad. Mr. Villard will doubtless be equal to the occasion. Mr. Roach's lobby and Keifer's committee are not congress. The representatives of the West and Northwest will see that Mr. Villard is permitted to finish our great trans-continental route to the Pa-

IT is intimated that the investigation of John Sherman's administration of the Treasury department was instigated by President Arthur in payment for Sherman's turning him out of the New York custom-house. We are willing to give the accused the benefit of the doubt, and only regret that Sherman has placed himself hors du combat by retracting the charges on which he sent the acting president to the walks of private life. But even should the senator clear himself of the charges it is alleged the president has been instrumental in pushing against him, his connection with Eliza Pinkston will prove a serious stumbling block to his future political advancement. The latter feature of the case was doubtless worked by Black Jack Logan when he undertook the job of cleansing Sherman's political linen. Were Eliza alive, however, it is even doubtful whether his statement in Sherman's behalf would be received by the public with any degree of credence.

The Nininger Failure. Sufficient time has now elapsed since the failure of A. R. Nininger, of this city, at Miles City, Montana, to determine the nature of the affair. As usual when business misfortune overtakes a man, evil-tongued rumor was ready to ascribe the result to fraud. It is due Mr. Nininger to state that the full investigation made does not develop any dishonesty. He may have erred in judgment, and he certainly extended credit beyond what was prudent, but that was a misfortune and not a crime. Able lawyers were employed by large creditors to ascertain whether any crooked ness existed, and in no case was any development made. He preferred some creditors, i is true, but those were only such as had actually deposited money with him, while to meet the demands of claimants in the way of regular trade, everything was surrendered, including his homestead. The failure was in marked contrast with that of the Thurstons at Bismarck a few weeks since, or that of Harwood at Minneapolis. Such rascally work as these men perpetrated casts a cloud upon anyone who is overtaken by business misfortune. It is a pleasure to know that Mr. Nininger ranks in no such company, and the feeling is quite general among his creditors that a greater amount of salvage can be secured by allowing him to continue the business.

A Happy Surprise.

Mr. Alfred Dufrene was very happily surprised when, immediately after the close of divine service in St. Louis church yesterday, and the reading by him of his annual report as treasurer of the parish, he was presented by the members of that congregation with a fine gold-headed cane. Mr. Dufrene bes most ably and faithfully fulfilled the satisfies of heast tion, thirteen years ago, and the gift was fees $2.90.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Interesting Services at Jackson Street M. E. and Plymouth Churches

Jackson Street M. E. Church. The service at half past 10 at this church was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Marshall, although the quarterly meeting occurred on this date, the presiding elder being pre-vented from being present on account of sick ess.

The preacher took his text from the seventh chapter of Paul's 1st Epistle to the Corrin-thians, 29th, 30th and 31st verses, beginning with the words, "But this I say, brethren, the time is short." Time, he said, was ostensi-bly marked by days and years, but was really bly marked by days and years, but was really measured by our feelings and condition. It youth time passed slow and tediously; in middle life more rapidly; while in later life with lightning speed. Taking the period elapsed since earth has been peopled by man, and compare it with the average duration of human life and time is indeed short. This morning was a time for retrospection. Today the leaf in life's history for 1881 of each individual person was turned over and passed beyond correction. The errors and mistakes of last year could never be erased or changed. All that was left for us to do was to guard against future mistakes, remembering the shortness of time. The thought of the the shortness of time. The thought of the year that was gone had in it something of adness. It had taken with it many that were sadness. It had taken with it many that were here one year ago. Twelve months from to-day the man who occupied his position would refer to the year of 1882 as he was now refering to 1881. Who among those present would be noticed as having parsed away? Let us, each of us, leave the bened ction of a year well spent behind us.

The communion service followed the sermon, to which all who determined from this time to serve God, as well as those already nembers of some church, were invited. Notice that the daily evening service during the coming week of prayer would partake of the nature of protracted meetings, was given, and a general and pressing invitation to all to attend given.

Plymouth Church.

The sacrament of the Lord's supper was ad ministered in the Congregational church (Plymouth), on the corner of Wabashaw street and Summit avenue, Rev. Dr. Dana, pastor, and Summit avenue, Rev. Dr. Dana, pastor, yesterday morning, the pastor officiating. Seven persons were admitted to church membership—five by letters and two on profession of their faith. The remaks of the pastor were of a highly impressive and practical character, urging the entrance upon the new year, with renewed and firm resolving for a more faithful discharge of duty, aiming at a closer wells with Edd and for greater advance. closer walk with God, and for greater advance-ment and attainments in Christian character, living and influence, and a more exalted reach-ing forward towards a fruitful illustration of

SABBATH SCHOOL.

After the morning service, Sabbath school commenced, at 12:15 p. m., which is the regalar hour of meeting throughout the year. This being the annual meeting, the election of officers took place, and all the officers of last year were unanimously re-elected, so faithfully, satisfactorily and efficiently had they discharged all the duties of their positions during the year. The following are the names of the officers of the school: Superputendent. of the officers of the school: Superintendent W. J. Dyer; Assistant Superintendent, C. M. Power; Secretary and Treasurer, S. C. Williams; Librarian, E. L. Chapin; Chorister,—Saunders; Organist, Miss M. L. Thurs

The number of names enrolled, as members of the Sabbath school is about 320. The Sab bath school has been practicing a course of systematic benevolence through the year, and by its contributions, of money and articles of provisions and clothing, has done much good, and carried relief and happiness to good, and carried rener and nappiness to many destitute places. Among the dona-tions have been $25 to a mission church at Breckenridge; $25 to another at Lake Benton; $25 at Fisk university, and $26 for the purpose of employing a bible reader in ity a Turkish mission, from whom requiar lefmission, from whom regular let ers are to be received. The Christmas ser vice of the school was made memorable for the whoie year to the scholars by the gener-ous gifts brought by them to the church and afterwards dis-the whole year to the scholars by the generous gifts brought by them to the church and afterwards distributed among the poor families of the city. Recently the pews of the church were rented, and were taken up very actively, Many new families have joined the congregation during the year just closed. The report of the trustees and treasurer presented at the annual meeting showed the society to be in a nual meeting showed the society to be in a better and more healthy condi-tion than ever before. The annual church meeting is to be held on Wednesday evening of next week, January 11, at which time reports of the Sabbath school in detail, and other branches of church work will be made, and officers of the church for the ensuing year officers of the church for the ensuing year to see the church for the church for

Funeral of Mrs. E. F. Warner

The funeral obsequies of the late Mrs. War er, wife of Mr. E. F. Warner, superintendent of the American Express company, took place from the family residence, on East Eighth street, at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The house was filled with relative was manifested genuine sorrow and grief at the untimely death of so good and loving a woman. The father of the deceased, Mr.

woman. The lather of the deceased, Mr. Thompson, of Boston, was present, as were other relatives residing elsewhere.

The religious exercises were beautiful and impressive, the service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Barnes, of the First Baptist church. Rev. Mr. Barnes, of the First Baptist church.
The casket containing the remains was covered with flowers and lovely floral designs, the tributes of mourning friends.

The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers: H. P. Upman, Geo. A. Hamilton, C. W. Carpenter, J. E. Atherton, T. C. Fields, A. O. Bailey, R. Warner and Channing Seabury.

Late on Saturday evening the employes the Union depot met in the office of H. S Wakeman, superintendent of the building, and one of their number, Mr. Brown, acting as spokesman, presented Mr. Wakeman and Mr. C. B. Brunson, secretary of the Union Depot company, with an elegant sealskin cap apiece, Both gentlemen were entirely taken by sur-prise. Mr. Brunson made a few remarks in response, but Mr. Wakeman was too much non-plussed to do more than gaze at his cap. This event is a pleasant commentary on the happy relations existing among the employes of the depot company, and is something in the nature of a return for the jolly oyster supper with which Messra. Wakeman and Brunson regaled their associates on Christmas eve.

Wednesday and Thursday—Foss M. E. church, corner Eleventh avenue north and Sixth street. Friday and Saturday—Pilgrim church, corner Washington and Fourteenth avenues north. Everybody invited and welcome.

The three men who were injured in the Sec ond street railroad collision on Friday evening, were reported doing well last evening. Mr. Gorman, whose recovery was at first thought somewhat doubtful, has so far recovered that all apprehensions have been disatis, fied. Gannon was probably thr worst hurt and will remain a sufferer for some time. Sprague has about regained his accustomed strength, and his wounds are in very promising condition under the treatment of Dr. Ames. were reported doing well last evening. Mr.

Communion service was held at the Church of the Redeemer yesterday. The pastor, Rev. J. H. Tuttle, D. D., delivered a very interest ing and able discourse, taking the communion as his topie. He made answer to those who had claimed that the communion should be dispensed with. He stated that it was through this service that we are brought into a more lively sense of the works and life of Christ. Through the communion we know Christ and through Christ we know our God. To sustain the points taken many apt illustrations were drawn. Mr. Tuttle took as one the great painter Raphael. We would be almost almost absolutely in the dark of the exteme excellence of the conception and skil of Raphael had we not his pictures as an evidence. The newly organized choir dispensed with great excellence the music of the service.

As is her usual Sabbath custom, Mrs. H. F. Farr, in company with Rev. Mr. Beach, repaired to the city lockup yesterday afternoon to perform religious services with the prisoners. Judge of her surprise when she was politiely informed by the gentlemanly sergeant of the police force that the cells were absolutely empty; that not an arrest of any character had been made since Saturday morning. This, he said, was indeed a rare occurrence, and another such had not occurred but once before during the past three years. But Mrs. Farr had come to hold worship, and she would like to carry out the designed programme as far as possible. It is indeed seldom that the patrolmen have an opportunity of attending worship—onerous duties requiring their undi-vided time, seven days in the week—and she was cordially invited to proceed. There were present a number of the police force who lis-tened with interest to the remarks of the de-vout lady, and joined heartily in singing several gospel selections.

The First of the Year.

All day yesterday the police officer in charge of the city lockup waited in vain for a prisoner upon whom he could turn the key. Yesnot an arrest was made. That is the manner in which Minneapolis begins the New Year Everyone "sworn off." But hold on, reporter, you are getting rather too certain of this absolute reformation. Here comes a specimen city tickets to the oyster supper given by the reform club in Harrison's hall on Saturday evening.

and he was indeed an elaborate sample of the 'gentry.' Ragged, dirty, and fat and saucy. He was out of maney, and wanted to stay over night—no work, hungry, etc. He would doubtless thus retailed the woes of his exis-tence for a half hour had not Sergeant West pointed to the door and told him to go inside. He said his name was John Sullivan, the first tramp of 1882. This was the manner in which he celebrated the birth of the year.

A New Excelsion Mill.

A GLOBE reporter gained an interview with Mr. James Pve, the head draughtsman of the O. A. Pray company, last evening. Mr. Pye stated that he had been instructed by Dorilliu Morrison, the proprietor, to at once prepar Morrison, the proprietor, to at once prepare the plans and specifications for fine new structure to occupy the ground of the old Excelsior mill destroyed by the fire on the 5th of last month. It will be a 600-barrel per day capacity, and will be first-class in every detail. The superstructure will be of massive stone, handsome and ornate in design, of six stories in height, and to occupy the ground space indentical with the old Excelsior. The very best and most improved roller system will be adopted. Hence, it will not be long ere the old clumsy mills destroyed, and long ere the old clumsy mills destroyed, and the destruction of which struck dismay to many, will be replaced by far superior mills, with increased capacity.

Plans are also being made for the construction of the F. B. Bussett mills.

The Reform Club. The meeting of the reform club held in Harrison hall yesterday was an interesting and intructive one. Chaplain W. W. Satterlee presided. He preached a brief discourse, taking "Time" as his theme. He applied it to the cause of the nis theme. He applied it to the cause of the club, urging that there was but little time wherein to perform successfully the work of reformation. He said that at the age of 25 years eight-tenths of all who had once firmly formed the habit of inebriation and been induced to sign the pledge and ally themselves with the club, fell and went back again to their curs—and thence to a drunkerd's grave. their cups—and thence to a drunkard's grave.

He particularly urged upon the members of the club the great importance of extending their labors more especially among the youth. They were the ones that could be saved. He declared prohibition, as practiced by the lideclared prohibition, as practiced by the li-cense system, a failure. He was followed by a number of members in short addresses.
