REPRESENTATIVE LYNCH.

The House of Representatives in the Contested Election Case of Mr. Lynch—He Takes the Oath and is Now a Well-Fledged Representative—Senate Amendments on the Anti-Chinese Bill Considered in Conference Report of the Postoffice Bill Agreed to.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Page moved conference in the senate amendments to the anti-Chinese bill. Hooker objected and Page gave notice that he would ask consideration Monday.

A resolution was adopted to send a sub-committee to New York to take testimony in the Chili Peruvian investigation. The house resumed consideration of the contested case of Lynch against Chalmers. The previous question was ordered and Calkins took the floor to close the debate.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The special senate committee on corners and futures continued its session today. Isaac H. Wood said he could not see why the legislature should intend to let the legitimate business of dealers in options, any legislation that would limit speculation in corners and futures would result in a decrease of the volume of business in the produce exchange unless its members in some way evade the law.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The roll call in the house several Democrats voted, but on the recall of names of those who had not voted a number of the Democrats answered, showing that the movement to filibuster is not endorsed by all of them and it will fall and it will be a triumph for Democrats.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Judge Wiley quashed the indictment against Miss Armstrong on the straw bond case on the ground that they intended to indict her.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The presidential party returned from Fort Monroe this morning. The party consisted of Messrs. Kason and Dannel and Democrats Wilson and Burrill will constitute the committee to investigate the election in the Chili and Peruvian investigation.

THE GLOBE HOROSCOPE.

As It Casts Its Light on the Chicago Markets. [Special Telegram to the Globe.] CHICAGO, April 29.—Today's cables were unchanged. Wheat opened strong, but as it was the last day of the month as well as Saturday, the boys were sellers as they were inclined to await developments of the effects of Monday's deliveries. I don't think that any wheat to speak of will be delivered and if there isn't you may see a premium for a foot ball if there is not a five cent advance within three days. McGeech and the gang found lots of defaulters on their April contracts and the aristocratic firm of Smith, McCormick & Co., Chicago. It makes me glad to think of a man making a bet and then kick because he lost.

Corn dusted considerably but closed a trifle above the opening. It's going higher. Provisions were very strong and look for better prices. [Special to Associated Press.] CHICAGO, April 29.—Flour was quiet today but a full price asked. Wheat was weak at times, then strong, and the options were irregular. May and June were 10¢ higher than the regular, while cash and April were 1¢ higher at $1.40. Cables were firmer, but other advices weak and the appearance of new wheat at St. Louis created some breeze here. Receipts were still small but shipments better. Stocks in store of all grain decreased during the week upwards of half a million bushels.

Wheat opened a shade higher but weakened under liberal offerings of scalpers and speculators during the day and closed for July. Towards the close a very weak feeling appeared, and the market closed 1/4¢ lower for May 34¢ lower for June, and 1/2¢ lower for July. Yesterday, sales $1,200,000 for May, $1,200,000 for June, $1,200,000 for July and $1,200,000 for August. Just at the close of the market the Chicago market was quiet.

Corn was active for speculation, but unsettled and fluctuating. Receipts were good but shipments were heavy. The receipts of stocks in store this 400,000 bushels is on account of corn. The market opened today with a decline of 1/4¢, then the shorts took it back to 1/2¢, and the market closed yesterday, sales $1,200,000 for May, $1,200,000 for June, $1,200,000 for July and $1,200,000 for August. Just at the close of the market the Chicago market was quiet.

On the Chicago market were ten 5 cent stamps. The explosion of Mr. Vanderbill's package was probably caused by the jolt of the cars when they rounded the curve at the corner of Broadway and Third street, and but for which occurrence the packages might have reached their destination without incident. The explosion of the mail bag was pretty well scorched by the explosion.

NIGHTLISERS IN NEW YORK.

Attempt to Blow Up Cyrus W. Field and Wm. H. Vanderbilt. NEW YORK, April 29.—A dastardly attempt was made today by some miscreants on the lives of Wm. H. Vanderbilt and Cyrus W. Field, by sending them explosives through the mails. The package was discovered en route to the postoffice station, and thus the probable loss of life was prevented.

The circumstances of the case as related by Postmaster Pearson are as follows: Two miscreants came to the postoffice at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. One was posted in the office and the other was brought in by a collector a few minutes after. The latter one was addressed to Wm. H. Vanderbilt, 459 Fifth avenue. The first was addressed to Cyrus W. Field, 111 Wall street, and the second to Mr. J. P. Morgan, 15 Wall street.

The pockets were placed in the mail bag along with the other mail matter for the up-town train, but the mail wagon and cart to the Third avenue elevated railroad station at the head of Chatham street, and others deposited on the platform of one of the cars. The train started up 10:15 and before reaching the station at Ninth street and Third avenue an explosion was heard from the mail bag. The explosion was observed by issue from it. When the train stopped at the station the burning bags were hastily transferred to the platform of the railroad, where they were taken to the postoffice station at Twenty-Ninth street, where they were examined by a messenger, who is in charge there, dispatched a messenger in haste for Postmaster Pearson, and then that official arrived the half-burned mail bags, which were examined by the collector. The package addressed to Cyrus W. Field was plunged into a bucket of water for four minutes after the explosion, and the contents were examined carefully. It was found to consist of a pasteboard box covered with floral flowers and pictures and had a small quantity of dynamite in it. The package is supposed for the purpose of drawing it open and causing an explosion.

A BANK CHARTER EXPIRES.

Organizing a New Bank from the Remains of the Old One. CHICAGO, April 29.—The charter of the First National bank of this city expires by limitation June 1st. The assets of the organization are being considered for some time. A meeting of stockholders was held today at which, with the consent of the controller of the currency, it was voted by 9,700 out of a total of 10,000 shares of stock to put the bank into liquidation, and to reorganize it as a new bank under a new charter, to begin business Monday, May 1st. The old bank had $1,000,000 stock. The new bank will have $1,000,000 stock. The assets of the smaller stockholders will be frozen out with a view to enabling more capital and influence. Some of the squeezed shareholders are reported to have consulted the legal authorities in advance of the meeting, with a view to enjoining the proposed action, but were advised that an injunction would not lie.

GOING FOR THE GAMBLERS.

A Regular War on the Sporting Fraternity in St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, April 29.—Since what is known as the Johnson law, making gambling felony in this state, went into effect ten months ago, there has been waged on the sporting fraternity in this city. These grand juries have returned 280 indictments against the gamblers who had an unintermitted run of seven months, until public opinion condemned the inactivity of the authorities in failing to enforce the law.

In the first case that came to trial under the indictments the gambler's attorney raised the plea of want of jurisdiction and unconstitutionality of the Johnson act. Depositions were taken in St. Louis, Missouri, etc. to prove this plea and the case was argued before the judge of the criminal court, who has had the case under advisement for nearly two months and not yet rendered a decision.

The lottery men were also affected by the Johnson law, and after it passed into effect they were taken to court to have their licenses. The managers opened over one hundred offices about the city. These have been raided and 448 indictments were found against the vendors and managers. Robert C. Fale, Warren F. McChesney, Henry Lehndorf and H. Bonner, managers of one scheme, have had their licenses returned against each of them. The circuit attorney, Harris, had had search warrants issued and a safe blown open in each of the places.

For this attack the lottery men applied for a warrant for the circuit attorney's arrest, charging him with oppression in office. This was refused by the local authorities, but one application on information was approved by the attorney general of the state. To-day an argument against the filing of the information was made by the local authorities, but in the court of criminal correction by the circuit attorney's counsel. The court will take the question under advisement. The fight on the gamblers and lottery men is developing much bitterness.
