

WEEPING AND WAILING.

MINNESOTA'S SPORTING REPRESENTATIVES FAIL DISMALLY.

At the Rochester Races Commodore Kilton's Pacer, Gem, Comes in Fourth and Little Brown Jug Only Strikes 2:18—At Detroit the Minnesota Oarsmen are a Fair Third—The Hillsdale Crew Home Unstuffed—General Racing Record—Other Sporting Intelligence.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 11.—The weather today has been splendid, and, as a consequence, the races of this, the last day of the North-western regatta, has taken place with far greater promptness than on previous days under more favorable circumstances, and with 3,000 spectators in attendance.

The first race was the junior four, between the Chatham, Pullman, Walwhalvase and Centennial crews. The Wahwahs got the lead in the first half mile, pulling forty-eight to the minute. The Centennials came, the Pullmans and Chathams each forty. The Wahwahs held their lead to the end winning in 15:55; the Centennials and Pullmans each 16:15, the Chatham 16:30, pulling forty-eight to the minute. The Centennials then gradually drew away and came in three lengths at cad.

Second Heat, Junior Four—Contested by the Wahwahs, Gogans and Dorcas. The race was an elegant one, being throughout very spirited. The Dorcas finally won by a length in 14:04; Gogans second, 14:15; the Wahwahs didn't finish.

The next race was the final heat of the senior sculls, between Kirby, of Providence; Buckley, of Portland, and Stone, of Wyandotte. Stone quit in the first twenty yards and paddled back claiming that Buckley had fouled him. Kirby won in 15:35; Buckley 15:13, and Stone 15:13. The Wahwahs won in 13:44; Undine, 14:34. The latter claimed a foul before reaching the turning buoy and had a pretty even double with the victors until then.

The junior double sculls were next called. Entries: St. Joes, Fort Wayne, Gogans, and Narragansett. There was some unfortunate work with the first two, and the Providence crew was easily in 13:35; St. Joes, 15:13.

The senior pair oared race was next pulled, the starters being Holmes and Appley, Providence; Bolger and Mosley, Albany; Clegg and Stansfield, Detroit. The last scull took the lead which they kept to the turning buoy. The crews managed to all get well together again, and the race as then contested was intensely exciting till the Detroit crew drew out. The Providence men were then in the lead, but they failed to finish, winning in 14:10; Mutuals, 14:15.

The final heat junior fours participated in by Wahwahs, Gogans, Centennials, and Detroit. This was a close and exciting race. The Wahwahs kept the lead all the way round, crossing the finish half a dozen lengths ahead in 13:34. There was a hard fight for second place which was won by the Centennials in 13:55; Detroit 14:04.

The final heat for the senior fours was won by the Centennial of Detroit by three lengths in 13:45; Wyandotte second, Minnesota third, Mutuals fourth. This was the event of the day. It was finely contested throughout and elicited great interest.

This closed the regatta.

Rochester Races. ROCHESTER, Aug. 11.—To-day was the big day at the summer trotting meeting of the Rochester Driving park. There were four events on the programme, the free-for-all pacing, 2:35 class trotting races, 2:26 class trotting, and a special effort by Little Brown Jug, the pacer, to beat his own best time on record of 2:14.

The day was beautiful, air cool and a light breeze blowing. Track in excellent condition and attendance large.

Little Brown Jug, in his attempt, made the mile in 2:18. The free-for-all pacing race was hotly contested and there was great excitement over the result.

The 2:35 contest was also exciting. More money changed hands on this race than any since the circuit opened.

Hillsdale Coming Home. LONDON, Aug. 11.—The Hillsdale crew intended to take a short trip on the continent and start for Philadelphia on the 23d inst., if they can procure passages. In reference to the cable dispatch received by the Hillsdale from America, instructing them to challenge the English Amateur crew, they consider that they have done what was required in challenging the Amateur Rowing association. A meeting of gentlemen interested in rowing was held in Anderson's hotel, Fleet street, this evening, about 150 persons, including members of the Thames club and about a dozen other rowing associations present. Anderson of the West London club presided. Resolutions were unanimously passed expressing sympathy with the Hillsdale and protesting against the action of the self appointed rowing association and declaring it should be reconsidered.

plying to the refusal of the Hillsdale challenge writes: "We regret very much that we were compelled to accept your acknowledgement of our superiority."

The Sportsman urges the Hillsdale crew to return, as justice is sure to be eventually rendered to them.

English Oarsmen as Sneaks. NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The Spirit of the Times says editorially: "It now seems absolutely certain, that, in their cowardly efforts to sneak away from a fair race with the Hillsdale crew, the English Amateur Rowing association have added falsehood, in regard to the letters of inquiry said to have been sent to America. No such communications have been received here, and this while the English Amateur Rowing association stolidly waits for answers, which were certainly not sent as announced, and probably have not yet been written; and these are representative English gentlemen and amateur oarsmen."

THE YELLOW FEVER SCOURGE. Exaggerations of Paolo-Stricken People.—The Simple Truth Bad Enough.

GALVESTON, Aug. 11.—There seems to be a panic over yellow fever in Matamoros, and dispatches from there regarding the number of cases are exaggerated and contradictory. According to one report, via Laredo, the number of cases on the 9th was fifty-six. A later dispatch reduces the number for the same day to forty, but that was a large increase, the daily deaths for a week previous to the 9th being only thirteen. There are only about fifty cases of yellow fever at Brownsville at present, and the number of deaths is not large, but the health authorities are of the opinion that it will become an epidemic. There is no yellow fever in Texas except at Brownsville.

Fort Brown is in strict quarantine, the post commander deciding not to move his troops. A relief committee has been formed and $1,200 subscribed.

Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 11.—There are twenty new cases of yellow fever to-day, all of whom are confined in the last twenty-four hours. The fever in Matamoros is in statu quo, about 500 cases, but two deaths in the last twenty-four hours. The weather is very variable. There are five cases of fever seven miles from Brownsville. All communications are stopped.

St. Louis, Aug. 11.—The latest advices from Brownsville, Tex., are that the outlook there is very unfavorable. Two new cases of yellow fever developed in the Garrison at Fort Brown, near by. There are now about eighty cases of fever in Brownsville, and so far there have been twelve deaths.

Indian Troubles. TUCSON, Aug. 11.—Prof. H. B. Clifford, of Washington, has just returned from Sonora, where he examined the mines for an eastern syndicate. On the afternoon of the 5th he, with James Walton, of El Paso, was attacked by a band of Apaches thirty miles from the mine. Clifford received a wound in the right shoulder and Walton a wound in the right side. Clifford saved Walton from falling into the hands of the Apaches by holding him up. He states that section of Sonora is swarming with Apaches.

Mexican advices of the 8th from Hermosillo, Sonora, says parties just arrived from Tres report Apache depredations in the Arizona desert. Over 200 warriors are in the mountains near Tres, and many daily raid the valley in small bodies, burning crops, houses and murdering inhabitants. During the past twelve days from Hermosillo to Tres the Mexicans are poorly armed with muzzle loaders. The city is terrorized and business paralyzed. Settlers are fleeing from the mountains. All available Mexican troops are being concentrated to work against the raskisks.

The Tariff Commission. TREASURY, N. Y., Aug. 11.—The tariff commission to-day inspected at Trenton, N. J., the waterworks of one establishment where decorated articles were exposed a free talk, or a lecture, was given by Mr. Madden, in which the importance of encouraging decorative art was insisted on. His arguments were approved by holding art schools should be encouraged in this country and decorative art should be encouraged and by increasing the duty on foreign decorative ware. The present rate of 60 per cent was represented to be entirely inadequate, in view of the much higher wages paid in this country for the same kind of work, in which very many girls were at work.

Photographers. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 11.—The American Photographic convention reassembled at 10 o'clock this morning. The report of the committee on the formation of an international society was considered. A new committee was discharged and a new one appointed to further consider the matter.

The committee was appointed to report at the next convention a feasible plan to implement the constitution a benefit class for sickness and deaths. Mr. Hall of California read a paper on the influence affecting the progress of art. The business of the convention being concluded President Smith retired from the chair and Mr. Bede assumed the position.

A Sad Love Scene. [From "When Emma," by Murat Halstead.] "You do not love me," said the girl, speaking slowly, "or you could not speak so cruelly. On this beautiful night, when the hills are suffused with amber haze, through which the stars glow and throb in silent splendor, we should think of naught but love—pure, passionate love, that will bind our hearts together in a chain whose every link shall be a kiss; whose every fold a sweet caress; who every instant the man did not feel. Then the girl stretched forth to him her bare white arms that glinted like marble in the growing dusk, but he heeded them not.

"Will you not speak to me, sweetheart?" she said, an infinite pathos in the words.

No answer came. Again the outstretched arms pleaded mutely and with pitiful eloquence for the joy that was never to be. Looking at her with a haughty, almost Vice-President Davis expression on his face, Bertram again said: "Back, I say."

With a despairing gleam in her darksome eyes, Girofle turned away and began to sob as if her heart would break. "God help me," she said, in despairing accents, "I cannot back."

"Why not?" asked Bertram.

"Why not?" she replied in tear-stained tones, "my polonaise is too eternally tight."

A Scene at the Vatican. Not many days ago, while the pope was taking his usual drive in the Vatican gardens, a shot was heard close at hand. The coachman, no doubt still under the impression of the late Garibaldian demonstrations, took fright. He whipped up his horses, cried out "Help! assassins!" and drove full speed into the court yard of the papal palace causing great consternation among the guards, who ran for their arms and barred the gates.

After some moments of panic and indecision the guards went in quest of the supposed assassin all over the Vatican gardens, and finding nothing, proceeded to search on the other side of the wall at the place where the coachman declared he had heard the shot. They soon returned to the palace with a dead cat. The keeper of a neighboring vineyard, whose pasture it was to rear rabbits, had just succeeded in shooting a large cat which had often robbed him of the young ones.

Mr. Tilden is Pretty Well, Thank You. [Cincinnati Gazette.] YONKERS, N. Y., July 26.—The widely-circulated rumors of the serious illness of ex-Gov. Tilden, brought to this placid township a horde of correspondents, reporters and obituarists. It will interest Gov. Tilden's friends, and possibly exercise his enemies, to know that, while the venerable man is not able to jump a five-bar gate, he is quite as well physically as he has been any time in five years past.

Hanged as He Should Be. PALESTINE, Texas, Aug. 11.—A negro named Thomas Chess was hanged to-day for the murder of Houston McMeans, in March, 1881, of Houston McMeans, colored.

AMPLIFIED. PALESTINE, Aug. 11.—At 1 o'clock to-day Thomas Chess was hanged in the jail yard for the murder of Houston McMeans, in March, 1881. He bore an unflinching demeanor throughout. On the scaffold he asserted he had made his peace with God and man, offered a prayer for his friends, and with unfeeling voice said, "There is a light in the valley for me," then nodded to the sheriff and the trap was sprung. Thomas was a bad citizen and has killed four men during his residence in Palestine.

Fire Record. MILWAUKEE, Aug. 11.—The executive board of the prohibition association has decided that beer and wine may be sold on the premises of the exposition during the coming season of exhibition, and a contract with a prominent saloonist of this city will at once be made whereby the association secures a percentage of receipts from the sale of liquor. LEGAL LIGHTS.

American Bar Association—Trial by Jury—Evarts Before the Lawyers.

SARATOGA, Aug. 11.—At the session of the American Bar association Isaac M. Jordan, of Ohio, read an interesting paper on trial by jury, its defects and their remedies. The law should be changed requiring unanimity in the verdict of a jury, in states where such change has been made the best results followed. There is nothing in the federal constitution which prohibits states from making such change.

A resolution was adopted recommending the executive council to call the next annual meeting of this association at Great Briar Springs, Va.

Mr. E. Evarts was received with applause when he took the floor to advocate the adoption of the minority report on the relief of the supreme court. He contended the provision that there should be but one supreme court, completely be complied with under the minority plan. There is no authority in the constitution to create an intermediate court of appeals, as proposed by the majority. It may be in the greatest infraction of the constitution to create such a court, and it should be final in a certain class of cases the divide the supreme court into sections as the minority propose.

Mr. William Preston, of Ky., spoke for the majority in support of the bill to its endorsement by the senate passing the bill it preferred and characterizing the argument of Evarts as an impeachment of the senate for passing the majority plan. He would like to have four members added to the committee and the matter referred for another year's consideration. Judge J. L. T. Speed, of Tennessee, denounced the majority report, he said it was well known that Chief Justice Marshall and Taney both considered the law sending them out on circuits unconstitutional, but they acquiesced in the law as the voice of the people.

E. B. Sherman, Chicago, spoke in favor of the majority. On a vote being taken thirty-nine were for the majority plan and twenty-seven for the minority.

Sherman, Chicago, moved that as the criminal law of the United States do not sufficiently distinguish and punish persons committing crimes, as a business, that provision should be made for the permanent confinement of those who do engage in crime as an occupation or pursuit. He referred to the committee on jurisprudence and law reform.

Evarts presided at the association dinner in the evening.

Mrs. Henry Gunther, a young woman of Dayton, O., married only two weeks ago, died last night of cholera. She was a single drunkard man during his journey. This he confessed was a most agreeable surprise. He would not say in direct language that he favored emigration from Sweden to America, but he drops the remark that the countrymen in the northwest looked universally prosperous and contented, and if it were to their best good he could not conscientiously throw any obstacles in their way. From his pleased look and old-fashioned remarks it is evident that Prof. Beckman had come to think that the northwest an Eldorado for the husbandman.

During the afternoon Prof. Beckman had been driven about the city in a carriage by H. Sahlgren, Swedish-Norwegian vice-consul, and he had been seen enough to make him think very highly of St. Paul. Herr Kahne, the representative of the Prussian army, said that two American cities in particular had pleased him—they are Boston and St. Paul.

AN ILLINOIS LYNCHING.

The Outrages of Miss Bond Taken From Jail at 1:30 This A. M.—No Later Particulars, but Their Lives Evidently Cut Short by a Rope.

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Aug. 11.—A preliminary hearing in the case of the men charged with an outrage on Miss Bond, a school teacher at Blue Mound, resulted in Wm. J. Montgomery being released and Emanuel Clements, Lee Pettis and John Montgomery held to await the action of the grand jury. On announcement of the decision there was a movement among the spectators towards the prisoners, but it was checked by the sheriff and posse. It is believed the prisoners will be lynched before morning.

LYNCHED? CHICAGO, Aug. 12, 1:30 a. m.—A late Taylorville special says the three men, Clements, Pettis and Montgomery, held to the grand jury to-day on a charge of ravishing Miss Bond, were taken out of the jail by a band of citizens. No further particulars.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 11.—In the early part of the evening at Taylorville the belief prevailed that everything had quieted down and bail was being arranged for the accused in the Bond case. Since midnight, however, a report has been received that a body of 3,000 men, who overpowered the officers, took the prisoners and carried them out of town to hang them. No further news has been received here up to 1:15 a. m.

THE GLOBE HOROSCOPE. As it Casts its Light on the Chicago Markets. [Special Telegram to the Globe.] CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The day could not have been a better one, and as the weather throughout the Northwest was reported fine, it had just the effect I expected, and the wheat market sold off, although it closed with part of the decline recovered. There was less of a demand for curb, but operators are inclined to take hold of future deliveries at current prices. I am inclined to think the investment demand will soon be revived. I am far from being a bull at present. The curb for September is 97 1/2 c.

Corn was easier, but in fair demand, and will go much lower if the present weather continues. September is worth 77 1/2 c on the curb.

Oats were weak, especially for this month, as everybody expects improved receipts. Provisions eased off. There is no change in the general situation.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. S. K. Hunt, the gentleman who defeated O'Leary a few days ago at Minneapolis, walked down to St. Paul just for an airing, to remain here for an hour or so, and about 4 o'clock started back on foot to Minneapolis, where he is to encounter O'Leary again next Friday. In physical condition Mr. Hunt looks like Sheriff Ritchie's second prize. He appears to be putting up a good fight, and has a good complexion. He had no hesitation at all yesterday in declaring that he should beat O'Leary. His confidence in his own strength is evident. The hour race was of the most pronounced character. If Mr. Hunt gets around on the gas-oven-plate tan bark as fast as he talks, he will beat O'Leary the best day O'Leary ever saw.
