

DICKERING DAYS.

The Markets at Chicago Yesterday Without Notable Incident.

WHEAT, CORN AND PORK STRONG.

The November Corner in Hog Products Beginning to Develop.

McGEACH'S WHEAT TRANSACTIONS

The July Shorts Very Generally Making Settlements.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Corn is again engrossing a large share of attention on 'change. To-day this market has shown an unusual buoyancy, and after wide fluctuations, has scored a substantial advance. The most entire cessation of receipts has thrown the shorts into another panic. Wheat showed a slight appreciation. There was a better market for flour. Oats ranged a shade higher. Rye advanced. Barley eased off under a dull market, and provisions were active and irregular. The decline in pork was checked, but lard fell below yesterday's figures, in some options to a very marked extent. Regular wheat was active and firmer early, owing to the sympathy with the sharp advance in corn but afterward became slumpy, and most of the advance was lost. The early sales were at about 1/4c advance on the closing figures at 1 o'clock yesterday, but tolerably firm under a free demand from shorts and speculators, and October sold up 1/4c from the lowest point, November 1/4c up and year 1/4c up, but near the close fell 1/4c, closing with October 1/4c higher than at 1 o'clock yesterday, seller November about 1/4c higher, and seller the year about 1/4c higher. On call prices appreciated an eighth all around, and closed firm. Winter and spring were both in good demand, the latter selling 1c 1/4c higher than on yesterday.

It is said and believed that McGeach for a week or more past has been trying to pull down the wheat market. His cash wheat has been thrown on the market—a great deal of it has, at any rate. Robert Lendlow got 200,000 bushels of wheat last week, and J. B. Lyon & Co. 400,000 bushels more. As all of this property was held by McGeach up to the first of the month, the fact that it is going round is satisfactory proof to most people that the September crowd has thrown its grain overboard. Well informed people do not, however, believe the Scotchman is really bearish on the market. Indeed, he does not talk so but declares himself openly a bull, and a believer in higher prices. The truth is, probably, that an effort was made to break November wheat down a few cents, so that a big line could be taken again at a low figure. But wheat has been stubborn. The receipts are very small. For the forty-eight hours ending yesterday they were only 90,000 bushels. The big bull movement in corn is also affecting wheat.

Flour to-day was more active and firm. Prices quotable for the finer family and bakers' brands, particularly for the hard Minnesota, while shipping grades were going off more freely than at the rates now ruling. Rye flour was dull, but bran and all millstuffs were in better request and brought higher prices.

Corn was active and buoyant during the early part of the session, then broke, but at the close cash or October was about 2 1/2c higher than it closed at 1 o'clock yesterday, November 1 1/2c higher; year 2c higher and May 1/4c lower. The receipts were only 71 cars, being lighter than any day for some months past. This, together with the storm and a good shipping demand, caused much uneasiness on the part of shorts, who were liberal and anxious buyers throughout the early session. October advanced 2 1/2c from the lowest, November 2c, year 1 1/4c, January 1/2c, and May 1/4c, but near the close there was a heavy break, October falling 1 1/2c, November 1 1/2c, year 1 1/4c, January 2c, and May 1/4c, closing easy. Car lots of No. 2 sold at the 67 1/2c and closed at 65 1/2c bid. High mixed advanced more than No. 2, selling at 69 1/2c. On call corn sold freely and was easier.

The "corner" in November corn which was consumed more than thirty days ago is being laid bare. Yesterday the figures advanced 2c, and to-day nearly as much. There is no reason to change the announcement made nearly a month ago concerning the speculation. John B. Lyon and Nathan Corwith are the wise ones still declared at the head of the movement, and back of these two gentlemen are a number of New York railroad men, who have confidence in Nathan Corwith's leadership. The operations were begun a long while ago through Fleming & Boyden, Dwight & Gillette, McCormick & Davis have been on the same side of the fence of late, but whether for the same crowd or another body outside of that one no one seems to know. Local bulls are all helping on the advance, having both October and November pretty well under control. With most of these it is a scalping deal, and out of wide fluctuations in prices they reap large profits. The arrival of the new crop will not amount to enough to interfere with these operations for a month to come, at least.

To-day there has been considerable excitement in this market, and failures were predicted for the near future. The shorts are again demoralized. More activity was witnessed in the provision market to-day. The movement was somewhat spasmodic, yet there was more disposition to trade, and in the futures for pork and lard after this month quite a good business was transacted. Lard particularly received more attention than on yesterday. Prices were subject to frequent fluctuations, and the general market rather favored buyers. Pork was irregular, but on the whole quiet firm. The range of prices at which the day's business was transacted was almost the same as yesterday. The November option, which has been held very high lately, was the only future that suffered to any extent, it dropping of 2 1/2c. Lard was easier and irregular, 15c lower than Monday's ruling price, November 25c lower, and the winter options, 2 1/2c. Year was a shade stronger. Cash and October were quiet. On call the feeling was again easier.

DELINQUENT SHORTS. Complaint is to be made to the directors of the board to-morrow against defaulters

On July wheat, who were not named in the injunction suits dissolved by Judge Gardner. These delinquent shorts are understood to be amenable to the rules of the board, and it will fall within the province of the directors to enforce the rules if they refuse to settle. The discipline in this case is expulsion. This view of the case does not apply to those who joined the board. While their suits are pending it is understood the directors will not consider complaints against them. If the discipline is enforced, and a member is expelled then there will be an opportunity to commence suit of supersedeas, which would bring up the question of the legality of the appointment of the committee and of the interpretation of the rule, and probably of the rule itself. This course would probably prolong the case through another year. Members of the syndicate think the decision dissolving the injunction disposed of the July wheat cases. They expected the appeal, and when the suits will be carried to the supreme court, but think the shorts have nothing to gain by carrying them along. Contrary to the opinion of other members of the board that the court decided only that the case was outside its jurisdiction. They claim that the decision practically decided the want of the means of settlement. It was decided time after time that the syndicate sent bills around to the delinquent July shorts asking them to pay up. Several did. In fact it was stated last evening that a good many July deals were squared up, and that more probably would be as soon as the brokers could hear from their principals. Some of the delinquents appeared to think that the case had been carried far enough, and others wished to avoid the delay resulting from continued litigation.

Many of the shorts, who are willing to settle, are, unfortunately, involved in trade with those who defaulted and commenced the injunction suits. The shorts thus caught in the gap will probably have to wait a while before the deals standing open with those in the suits are closed up. The bulk of the unsettled trades in July wheat are supposed to be with the parties who caused the injunction to be as such, the quality outside of that being comparatively small, with a good portion of it coming from one house. It was stated that nearly 250,000 bushels more of the short wheat was settled yesterday at the regular $1.35 price, according to the decision of the court. A prominent member of the board stated yesterday that he had refused to pay the price demanded heretofore, as he considered it extremely unjust, but since the decision of the court he had resolved to pay, as it showed him how foolish it was to have a board of trade with rules and regulations and not live up to them.

In St. Louis yesterday, the board of directors of the merchants' exchange, adopted modified rules on option trading. They resembled those of the Chicago board and gave the board of directors power to fix the market value when asked to do so, but only for marginal purposes.

C. H. Dyer, C. L. Hoagland and Charles L. Smith have posted application for transfer of membership on the board of trade, and R. T. Green, Austin Gunnison, Jas. G. Darling and Hiram Higgins for membership. The death of Wm. Small, an old member of the board of trade, and for many years connected with the provision interest, was announced on 'change to-day, and appropriate resolutions of respect adopted. General opinion favors the proposed amendment to the rules of the board of trade, making legal all tenders of either red winter or spring wheat of equal grades on contract, that specify No. 2 regular wheat.

The new board of trade building is progressing finely. It is now built to a level with the street, and the foundations are simply magnificent.

There is now displayed on 'change a block of the Fox island granite that is to be used in the construction of the new board of trade building.

BEECHER'S BOLT.

WITNESSED BY THE CONGRESSIONAL CONFERENCE.

Characteristic Statement of the Reasons Governing His Withdrawal—The Doctrine of Man's Responsibility and Orthodox Future Punishment Rejected—As a Gross, Corrupting and Diabolical Representation of Hell—The Punishment of the Affecting, not a Machine of Satan's Plur and Fire—Christ Infallible Within Finite Limits—Other Orthodox Beliefs Denied and Controverted.

New York, Oct. 10.—The autumn meeting of the New York and Brooklyn association of congregational churches was opened this morning at Park Congregational church, Brooklyn. Rev. J. K. Roberts, of Rochester avenue church, officiated as moderator, and Rev. Mr. Stiles acted as temporary scribe. The following is from the Brooklyn Eagle's report of the proceedings:

REV. MR. STILES

Who has been assigned to open the discussion of the subject of spiritual barbarism, made it the occasion for announcing his withdrawal from membership of the associ at alivered an elaborate exposition of his belief's respect to the doctrines of the Bible and Christianity. He assigned as a reason for withdrawing from the association that as a Christian gentleman he could not afford to lay on anybody the responsibility of his views. He could not afford, especially, to put the association in such a position that they were obliged to defend him. He could not make them responsible in any way, and therefore he now, here in the GREATEST LOVE AND SYMPATHY laid down his membership, and should go forth, not to be separated from them, but really to be nearer them. He should do everything for them. He never in warmer personal sympathy with them than he now was, but he laid down the responsibility that they had borne. He took it off them and put it on himself. Mr. Beecher explained that he made this position in order to meet the loose general representations and misrepresentations in respect to what he believed and taught. He held to the view that had been presented by PAGAN GREEK BARBARISMS.

One of the most barbaric, that is infantile, ignorant conceptions, was the impassivity of God—a conception that perfection of character required that a being should not be susceptible to pain of any kind, to sorrow, or to suffering. The divine heroism must stand in the power of God to suffer and it is the very root and force of the atoning of life and death of Jesus Christ. Bright over on the other side was another element, springing from barbaric notions, and not from human passions, namely that GOD IS CLOTHED WITH HUMAN PASSIONS. Terms of that kind were not wanting in the old testament, but men had constructed their own conception of God from the example of their animal inclinations and appetites, not from the examples of their reason and their moral sense, and so we had barbarous conceptions, and that was spiritual barbarism. The whole view of God which was laid down at the conference of faith of the Westminster school and in relation to decrees in relation to the whole process and operation of divine grace, Mr. Beecher held that view of the character of God to stand over against the representation of God as made by the Lord Jesus Christ, AS A FIGHTFUL GABRIEL stood over against the head of an Apollo in the mythology. He held it to be a monster in the place of a loving master and master of love. He rejected it with an impetus that touched the very foundation of man's moral and physical inability to obey the laws of God he rejected. He also rejected the representations of future punishment which were gross and physical, that were made from sensuous Roman schools. He believed in future punishment. He believed that the wholesome and restraining influence of that doctrine had been very largely destroyed by substituting a slaughter of the innocent GROSS, CORRUPTING AND DIABOLICAL REPRESENTATION OF HELL, and the sufferings of those who were subjected. To them suffering would be not bodily as he held, not mental according to the laws of moral sensibility, and all the affections not a machine of sulphur and fire—a deluge of devils and all manner of announcements of torment and punishment in the art of Angelo's "last judgment," and represented more abominably and excruciatingly by Coriolanus and the German school, that was barbaric. He regarded also the whole doctrine of ORIGINAL SIN as found in the will in Adam as being barbaric; that is as a condemnation of men that were as yet ignorant and uneducated on the subject. It was not used a single time in the whole scope of instructions of all ages of the old testament. You could not find it in the old testament. You cannot look through all the texts of the four gospels and find a single passage that is except by wide interpretation and construction, can be applied to it. You can find it only in the Pauline writings. He accepted without analysis the trinity. Any attempt to divide the functions was inutile. He believed in a providence who ever rules human life by and through natural laws. Christ was infinite within finite limits and in taking his place as a man, he became subject to the laws of time, space and matter. He believed fully and unambiguously, without break, or a single line of anomalous aberration, in the divinity of Christ. Christ was God manifest in the flesh.

A Complimentary Call. There is a tramp who haunts the east end of Galveston who has got it down fine. He has reduced it to a perfect system. He has his regular customers, so to speak. He knocked at the door of a house, the owner came out, and soon as he laid eyes on the tramp he said, "Now, look here, only last week I gave you a nickel to stay away for ten days, and here you are back again." The tramp put his hand to his forehead and was lost in thought for several minutes. Then he said: "You are right, Colonel. Your regular assessment is not due yet for a week. When I get back to my counting room I'll pay off my head bookkeeper and discharge him. He has neglected to give you the proper credit on the ledger." "Well, go on, now." "All right, colonel, this is not a professional call; it is only complimentary. No extra charge."

Of his early experience as a Journalist, Mr. Archibald Forbes says: "I was running the Scotchman at the time. I was sent to Mentz and the paper died, I lost £1,000 and swore I'd have nothing more to do with running a newspaper. That oath cost me £4,000 a year. Edmund Yates, when he started the World on £500, wanted me to go in and put in half £250. I wouldn't, just on that account. To-day the World pays Edmund Yates £5,000 a year. It was successful from the very start."

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS. PANAMA, Ill., Oct. 10.—The east-bound Indianapolis & St. Louis New York express was wrecked here last night by running over a cow. The engine, tender, baggage and express car were derailed. Fireman Chas. Arterturn, of Mattoon, Ill., was killed.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 10.—News is just received of a terrible collision on the new road from here to Atlanta, which was opened yesterday. A freight train on main track was run into by a passenger train. The engineer and fireman are known to have been killed, and two children fatally injured.

DETROIT, Oct. 10.—Capt. Stover, of the schooner J. C. Woodruff, was struck by a yard engine at the Grand Trunk lines, Fort Genesee, this morning, and both of his feet cut off. His vessel arrived yesterday with a load of coal from Toledo.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

A Miscellaneous Assortment of Evil Deeds and Unfortunate Events.

KIDNAPING A MUGG.

New York, Oct. 10.—An extraordinary occurrence took place to-day on Fourteenth street at an hour of the afternoon when the street is most crowded with shoppers. A demoted fireman ran a muck through the crowd thoroughfare, and with a pair of sharp-pointed carpenter's compasses stabbed right and left, the victims all being women. The wife of a policeman who patrolled the block was one of the victims, and when her husband arrested the lunatic he did not know the compasses were dripping with his wife's blood. The lunatic was James Dubourgne a half idiotic painter, whose crazy antics have for years made him a conspicuous character. His victims were more or less severely injured. Their names are Mrs. Stobenber, 422 East Ninth street; Miss Louise Checker, aged twenty-two, of 409 West Fifty-first street; Miss M. L. King, 429 East Fifty-seventh street; severely hurt; Mrs. Pauline Fiedler, 359 West 53rd street; Mrs. Thomas Worth, 666 Lexington avenue, dangerously injured; Mrs. Mary Hanly, the policeman's wife, 110 Greenwich avenue, two stab wounds in the left breast, perhaps fatally injured; Mrs. Hanley was taken to the New York hospital and the others assisted home. The lunatic was arrested by Officer Hanley. His clothing was spattered with blood. He said he felt dizzy, and admitted he had been drinking. He wore two hats. He said he stabbed the women because some man had threatened his life. The prisoner, with his father, wandered for years through the city bearing painted signs demanding justice from the California authorities for some wrong. They accepted charity, but only enough to feed and lodge them. The father died in February last. "The son kept up his pilgrimage."

TROWN FROM HIS BUGGY. CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—Charles Scarritt a wholesale grocer, was thrown from his buggy this morning and fractured his skull, from which he died in a few minutes.

THE HERDER. ST. JOHNS, N. F., October 10.—The steamer Neptune arrived at Cape Race this morning and took on board the passengers of the Herder. The Neptune will return to St. Johns and await the arrival of the steamer Gilbert, which will take the Herder passengers to Europe.

DECEASED. ST. JOHNS, N. F., Oct. 10.—The steamer Neptune passed here with the passengers of the wrecked steamer Herder for St. Johns, N. J. They will be taken to Europe in the steamer Geller.

FIRE. ST. PASO, Ill., Oct. 10.—A fire here this afternoon burned an entire block of wooden buildings, including the El Paso hotel and fourteen business houses. Loss estimated at $100,000; partially insured.

A DEFTULER ARRESTED. ST. ALBANS, Vt., Oct. 10.—Einhart, said to be mayor of Irterville, Quebec, and formerly member of the Canadian parliament, was arrested at the instance of the bank of St. James, which alleges that he has defrauded the bank out of $10,000.

WIFE MURDER. DETROIT, Oct. 10.—Yesterday morning a farmer named Davidson, living near Deckerville, Sanilac county, quarrelled with his wife and son about property matters. During the quarrel Davidson shot and killed his wife, and tried to kill his son, aged twenty-one. A report says the son is dead, another fatally injured. The murderer fled.

A BOY'S MURDER. GREGORY, O., Oct. 10.—Last Sunday night after church services in a school house six miles west of this place, Charles Irvin stabbed and instantly killed Chilton Lemmons, son of a farmer in that locality. Both were mere boys, Lemmons being nineteen and Irvin only sixteen. Irvin escaped.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION. CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—Edward Muther was arrested by Marshal Leifer, of Lockland, at Middletown, this morning, as the murderer of Arthur W. Ross. He had been drunk in a saloon in Lockland, where he displayed some money, and wanted a check for $50 cashed. It was thought the check had been taken from Ross' pocketbook. Muther was found at the residence of his brother-in-law, but nothing was found about him to aid in fastening suspicion on him. He was taken to Glendale.

INDICATED FOR MANSLAUGHTER. FREEHOLD, N. J., Oct. 10.—The grand jury has indicted for manslaughter Alexander Kier, foreman of the gang-men whose incomplete work caused the terrible accident on the Long Branch railroad at Parker's creek in June last.

The Gaylord Register, Sibley county, is the name of a new eight column Republican paper just issued. It is a large, handsome journal, intelligently edited.

Well Described. Mr. Labouchere, himself a member of Parliament, has paraphrased some well-known lines in a modern opera to present pictures of typical M. P.'s. The rhyme would not be lost if O were substituted for P, and the application to members of Congress would be pat. The most prominent type in Congress would be the member who is not specially distinguished in Parliament:

Here's a member-of-fact M. P.— A thoroughly safe M. P.— A stolidly-beatry, vote-with-his-party, Do-as-he's-told M. P.!

Party fidelity is so thoroughly the rule in both legislatures that an uncommon exception is:

A false-pretense M. P.— A turn-of-his-side M. P.— A facing-both-ways poor lackadaisical, Vice-of-Bray M. P.

The callow men in Congress are few, and, as Congressmen go, by no means insignificant. Perry Belmont is, perhaps, the youngest, but he is very much more of a man than he is credited with being. Chicago was once thinking of sending to Washington (substitute O for P)—

A juvenile M. P.— A fluff-on-the-lip M. P.— A collared-and-waisted M. P.— "Aye, don't you know" M. P.

As most of the Washingtons as well as the Westminster statesmen are lawyers, the following type is common enough:

A ponderous, loud M. P.— A know-all, historical, quote the Sir-Oracle, Crichton-the-Second M. P.

But the active, urbane, pass-a-jobbing-bill-over-the-President's-veto-every-time, the statesman who flourishes on the Thames as on the Potomac, is—

A feather-his-nest M. P.— A look-to-himself M. P.— Whose crowning ambition is social position— A modern M. P.

Labouchere presents many additional types, but their counterpart is not conspicuous on this side of the Atlantic. Chicago Times.

WIT AND HUMOR.

Why don't they have an examination in color-blindness at West Point.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Well, now, the question is, Will a West Point cadet lie, or won't he? It is generally feared that he won't.—Hawkeye.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin informs us that the King of Oilymargarine—George, of Grecco—is visiting Paris.

A friend—No, we are not going to Europe this summer. Our congregation cannot afford it.

There are three men in jail at Ozark, Ark. charged with murder. The remarkable thing about this case is that the men are in jail.

So many of Lorillard's horses have been scratched in England that one is lead to think they have been running for office.—New Orleans Picayune.

A line in a Welsh poem reads: "Miganaf chwi ganu am fy rywyt Pete." We advise Pete to do nothing of the kind. It would be injudicious.

"Yes, Elfrida," says the Hawkeye, tearfully, "this is a world of treasuries. Everything changes in this world, except the circus and Mary Anderson's age."

The Chicago hotel-keeper looks at the papers hastily in the morning, and not seeing any notice of his scarfpin, believes that the dark horse will be the candidate.

"I like hot weather best," said a Philadelphia girl, "because it makes pa and ma so sleepy that they don't come bothering around the parlor the nights I have male company."

Census takers were paid by the number of names they collected, and several men declined the job in the town where Alvarado Buoncompagni and Higmalar Zahrieskowatscheyera reside.

Mark Twain, speaking of a new mosquito-netting, writes: "The day is coming when we shall sit under our nets in church and slumber peacefully while the discomfited flies club together and take it out of the minister."

Barnum has sworn his circus is worth only $60,000, but even that is a good price. We've seen circuses that would not worth two cents. Besides, you must bear in mind that Barnum was laboring under the excitement of talking to a tax collector.

The shooting-gallery men are doing a poor business. They might work up a little trade at five cents a throw if they would put up a stuffed cat on a practicable garb up wall and allow customers to throw boot-jacks at the offending object.

"Philadelphia is happy," says Puck, because "the eyes of the world have been on her for a week and she has beaten New York in having a railroad crash." Dressing in crash, and having the eyes of the world on her while she flirts. The dizzy jade.

In a certain Irish cathedral to this day are shown three skulls, one little one and two big ones, which the guide describes to visitors as the skull of St. Patrick, when he was a child, the skull of St. Patrick grown up, and the skull of St. Patrick as an old man.

An excellent old deacon, who having won a fine turkey at a charity grab-bag raffie, didn't like to tell his severe orthodox wife how he came by it, quietly remarked, as he handed over the fowl, that the Shakers gave it to him.

A gang of burglars were a burgling it Long Island the other day, and stole a set of Appleton's Cyclopaedia. This shows that there is a commendable thirst for knowledge among this class of white workers that has hitherto been unsuspected. No doubt these workmen came from Boston. When an enterprising burglar isn't burgling he likes to lie a basking in the sun, with the Cyclopaedia volumes him encircling, to read the books all over me by one.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

BIBLES!

Prayer Books, Hymns, &c.

Key to Heaven,

Manual of the Virgin, etc.,

In great variety and at prices that will please you.

St. Paul Book & Stationery Co.

127 East Third Street, ST. PAUL, MINN.

CITY NOTICE.

OFFICE OF THE CITY TREASURER, ST. PAUL, MINN., Oct. 11, 1882.

All persons interested in the assessments for constructing sewers

On Third street from Exchange to Market streets.

On Fourth street from Fort to St. Acker streets.

On Fifth street from Fort to Market streets.

On Exchange street from Ninth to Fourth streets.

On Franklin street from Third to Ninth streets.

On Washington street from Fourth to Sixth streets, and the repairing of St. Peter street sewer from Fifth to Fourth streets.

WIT AND HUMOR.

Why don't they have an examination in color-blindness at West Point.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Well, now, the question is, Will a West Point cadet lie, or won't he? It is generally feared that he won't.—Hawkeye.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin informs us that the King of Oilymargarine—George, of Grecco—is visiting Paris.

A friend—No, we are not going to Europe this summer. Our congregation cannot afford it.

There are three men in jail at Ozark, Ark. charged with murder. The remarkable thing about this case is that the men are in jail.

So many of Lorillard's horses have been scratched in England that one is lead to think they have been running for office.—New Orleans Picayune.

A line in a Welsh poem reads: "Miganaf chwi ganu am fy rywyt Pete." We advise Pete to do nothing of the kind. It would be injudicious.

"Yes, Elfrida," says the Hawkeye, tearfully, "this is a world of treasuries. Everything changes in this world, except the circus and Mary Anderson's age."

The Chicago hotel-keeper looks at the papers hastily in the morning, and not seeing any notice of his scarfpin, believes that the dark horse will be the candidate.

"I like hot weather best," said a Philadelphia girl, "because it makes pa and ma so sleepy that they don't come bothering around the parlor the nights I have male company."

Census takers were paid by the number of names they collected, and several men declined the job in the town where Alvarado Buoncompagni and Higmalar Zahrieskowatscheyera reside.

Mark Twain, speaking of a new mosquito-netting, writes: "The day is coming when we shall sit under our nets in church and slumber peacefully while the discomfited flies club together and take it out of the minister."

Barnum has sworn his circus is worth only $60,000, but even that is a good price. We've seen circuses that would not worth two cents. Besides, you must bear in mind that Barnum was laboring under the excitement of talking to a tax collector.

The shooting-gallery men are doing a poor business. They might work up a little trade at five cents a throw if they would put up a stuffed cat on a practicable garb up wall and allow customers to throw boot-jacks at the offending object.

"Philadelphia is happy," says Puck, because "the eyes of the world have been on her for a week and she has beaten New York in having a railroad crash." Dressing in crash, and having the eyes of the world on her while she flirts. The dizzy jade.

In a certain Irish cathedral to this day are shown three skulls, one little one and two big ones, which the guide describes to visitors as the skull of St. Patrick, when he was a child, the skull of St. Patrick grown up, and the skull of St. Patrick as an old man.

An excellent old deacon, who having won a fine turkey at a charity grab-bag raffie, didn't like to tell his severe orthodox wife how he came by it, quietly remarked, as he handed over the fowl, that the Shakers gave it to him.

A gang of burglars were a burgling it Long Island the other day, and stole a set of Appleton's Cyclopaedia. This shows that there is a commendable thirst for knowledge among this class of white workers that has hitherto been unsuspected. No doubt these workmen came from Boston. When an enterprising burglar isn't burgling he likes to lie a basking in the sun, with the Cyclopaedia volumes him encircling, to read the books all over me by one.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

BIBLES!

Prayer Books, Hymns, &c.

Key to Heaven,

Manual of the Virgin, etc.,

In great variety and at prices that will please you.

St. Paul Book & Stationery Co.

127 East Third Street, ST. PAUL, MINN.

CITY NOTICE.

OFFICE OF THE CITY TREASURER, ST. PAUL, MINN., Oct. 11, 1882.

All persons interested in the assessments for constructing sewers

On Third street from Exchange to Market streets.

On Fourth street from Fort to St. Acker streets.

On Fifth street from Fort to Market streets.

On Exchange street from Ninth to Fourth streets.

On Franklin street from Third to Ninth streets.

On Washington street from Fourth to Sixth streets, and the repairing of St. Peter street sewer from Fifth to Fourth streets.

Stand from Under.

ACTIVITIES COMMENCING.

GRAND DISPLAY OF FALL AND WINTER STYLES OF

Mens', Youths', Boys' and Childrens Clothing.

Our stock is unusually large this season, all new and fresh manufactured, and will be sold on the PRINCIPLE OF READY PAY AND LOW PRICES.

People from the city and surrounding country will do well to call on us before buying elsewhere, and thereby save from 10 to 25 per cent. All we ask for is a fair comparison with competitors in QUALITY, MAKE and PRICES, and we are sure of your custom. P. S.—Be sure and don't forget the place.

NEW YORK ONE-PRICE CLOTHING HOUSE

Corner of Third and Minnesota Streets, St. Paul.

FIVE CENTS A LINE FIVE CENTS A LINE

SITUATIONS OFFERED.

Laborers.

WANTED—500 railroad laborers to-day. Free fare. Work all season. Moore, 187, East Third street. 106*

The Trades.

CARPENTERS WANTED—Rice and I