

MINNEAPOLIS

OFFICE—No. 6 Washington avenue, opposite Nicollet House. Office hours from 9 a. m. to 10 o'clock p. m.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

The Comique restaurant furnishes meals at all hours. Sullivan's Boston restaurant is the boss place to get an oyster stew.

Twenty-one licenses to wed were issued by Clerk Davenport last week.

Thirty-six cases came before the special term of the district court yesterday.

The painters' union have demanded an increase in their wages to $3 per day.

A session of the license committee of the city council was held yesterday afternoon, but it was secret.

Judson N. Cross will be ousted. The little Tribune trick has failed, and Deacon Nettleton is in a box.

Judge Smith denies the allegation that his gas will poison the citizens of Minneapolis and the like.

The funeral of George March, son of the manager of the Globe Gas Light company, will occur from the family residence this afternoon.

According to Deacon Nettleton's allegations, Minneapolis is now without an official organ, and in fact has been since November 18th, last. And yet the city prospers.

Deacon Nettleton is completely cornered. He has been caught in a big, big lie, and finds himself in a predicament from which he cannot extricate himself, and consequently is silent.

Sheriff Stoddard is now busy serving notices of condemnation proceedings for property to be used in the erection of the new union depot, tracks and the like. The commissioners will be appointed April 25.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Fred Schwartz and Nellie Satry, John Hystrom and Emily Nelson, Pascal Pothin and Della Bartianni, Christ. Shol and Carolina Branch, Gustar Reider and Ottavia Wagner.

It was intimated on the street yesterday that Deacon Nettleton had concluded that as Mayor Ames had so effectively misled him to the cross, he would not go to the council for alleged official printing.

Mr. Louis Backrack, the late manager of the American Eagle clothing house, is about to open a splendid store in Mandan, Dakota. The proprietor, Mr. Friedman, has lost a very energetic man in the person of Mr. Backrack.

At the meeting held at 2 p. m. for the examination of applicants for admission to the bar before Judge David Fish, C. P. Biddle and F. F. Davis, the following candidates were admitted to the bar after passing a satisfactory examination: H. M. Parker, David M. Scriber, Alex. W. Stour and Edwin B. Pribble.

Mr. Ed. F. Watkins, passenger agent of Rock Island & Albert Lea route, came through with a train of emigrants from Montreal bound for Brandon and Winnipeg. The train consisted of five passenger coaches and two bonded baggage cars, and was brought through with the usual "good time" (twenty-three hours) that this famous route is noted for, especially when placed under the charge of their agent, the genial "Ed."

Articles of incorporation of the South Minneapolis Market company were filed at the office of the register of deeds yesterday. The time of commencement is May 1, 1883, to continue thirty years. The cash capital is $25,000, and the highest indebtedness allowable $5,000. The incorporators are Louis Medall, Reinert Sundt, W. W. McNeil, A. C. Haugan and Carl Larson, all of whom reside in Hennepin county. The board of directors comprises all the incorporators, and the annual election is to occur May 1 of each year.

In speaking of the pending election contest the Minneapolis Democrat says: We congratulate the Democracy that the evils growing out of a fraudulent voting and improper performance of duty by election officers are now to be corrected. It is an effort in behalf of law and good government, and the result must be beneficial to the public. A recount will also be had in the vote for aldermen of the First and Fourth wards, there being a decided feeling that both Mr. Lee and Mr. Clement were duly elected but counted out.

Minneapolis is soon to have another evening paper. The projectors are well known journalists of enterprise, and with a capital stock of $50,000 the paper will spring into life with fair promise of success. Mr. Howard Reid, one of the incorporators, is now in Chicago perfecting arrangements for telegraphic facilities and for the purchase of materials. He telegraphs that he has purchased the fine double cylinder press recently in use at the Chicago Evening News establishment. The paper will be strictly nonpartisan, and independent, devoting the entire energy of the editorial corps to news gathering.

The report of the secretary of the Oak Lake Improvement association, read at the annual meeting showed that the earnings have amounted to $658.10, assessments $232, donations $235.10. The total expenditures for the year were $1,617.49. During the year 352 trees had been planted and 4,849 feet of sidewalk built. Two small parks were sold and beautified at an expense of $485.75. For the ensuing year the following officers were elected: President, T. F. Stark; vice-president, S. C. Selge; secretary, J. N. Nind; treasurer, M. Geleban; executive committee, J. W. Anderson, W. M. Sly, L. Meldel, L. S. Buffington, C. M. Phelps.

The following reports of Gethsemane church are taken from the Church Record: Report of Treasurer.—Special subscription for arrears bishop's salary, $300; amount of bishop's salary and diocesan mission, $200; amount paid rector to date, $1,434; special offerings, $290.72; current expenses, $197.31; total, $1,422.10. Due rector, $169.47; due bishop's salary and diocesan missions, $109; dues sundries, $75; total due, $344.77. Pledges unpaid, $225; estimated deficiency, $119.47.

Report of Treasurer Building Fund.—Special offering, $3,000; real estate, $5,000; still required, $10,000.

The rector of Gethsemane at parish meeting reported baptisms, (parish and missions) adults, 12; infants 47 total 74. Confirmations, 42. Families connected with parish, 225. Communicants received during the year, 70; received new, 31; by letter, 39. Removed, 40. Died, 7. Total, 47. Total gain, 23. Present number, 275. Marriages since last Easter, 55. Burials, 84. Sunday school scholars, 175; officers and teachers, 21; total 200. Special offerings through rector's hands, $1,000. Evening offertory, for assistant, $200. Communion offerings, $109. For society for increase of ministry, $50. For Neshota seminary, $32.50. For Sunday school altar fund, $100. For Sheltering arms, $50. For aged and infirm clergy, $35. For Bible and Prayer book society, $12. For mission to Jews, $5. For deaf and dumb missions, $15. For Church Building society, $50. For Bishop Senbury mission, $15. For Sunday school and Christmas tree, $175. For Children's home, $500. For St. Barnabas hospital, $500. For new church, $3,000. Total, $4,703.25. Add treasurer's report, $2,422.10. Total for year, $7,125.35.

MINNEAPOLIS AMUSEMENTS.

The Grand. ROBSON & CRANE. This beautiful Opera house has not been opened during the past week, but on Thursday evening of this week, it will be opened by those cherubims, the princes of comedy Robson & Crane in a three nights and a Saturday afternoon matinee. On Thursday evening they will appear in "Shirley and Flats" and "Our Bachelors" on Friday night and at the Saturday matinee, and closing the season in their greatest attraction "The Comedy of Errors," in which their immitable twin Dromios have made for them a world wide reputation.

THE THOMAS FESTIVAL. The work of preparation for the great Thomas festival is now fully under way. Every effort is being put forth to make the affair a success in every possible particular. The tour of Mr. Thomas in connection with this event is the most extensive, the most costly, and will be the most memorable ever undertaken in the annals of music in this or any other country. It will extend from New York to San Francisco, via Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Denver, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Leavenworth, St. Joseph, Omaha, Chicago, Cleveland, etc., back to New York. The tour will embrace over seventy-five concerts, given at a cost of over a quarter of a million of dollars. The orchestra will consist of over fifty musicians, each one a soloist capable of stepping upon the platform and performing a brilliant solo. Besides these there will be five of the first solo vocalists in the country, consisting of Mrs. Humphrey-Allen and Mrs. Norton-Hardtgen, sopranos; Miss Belle Cole, contralto; Mr. Frederick Harvy, tenor, and Mr. Franz Remertz, bass. Julia Rive King will be the solo pianist. Altogether the organization will be the finest in the known world, and its great leader is acknowledged to be so far at the head of his profession as to have no rival. The following is the organization perfected in this city for conducting the arrangements for this festival—all members or associate members of the Mendelssohn club, under whose auspices the festival in this city will be given:

ADVISORY COMMITTEE. W. H. Hinkle, D. B. Casey, O. A. Pray, J. H. Brown, Thomas Lowry, S. C. Gales, Richard Chute, C. C. Mevee, C. A. Rand, C. A. Pillsbury, A. A. Camp, JOHN DELAITTER, FINANCE COMMITTEE. O. A. Pray, Geo. R. Lyman, MUSIC COMMITTEE. A. B. Barton, L. H. Harmon, H. H. Clarke, B. Stumpf, W. H. Leib, A. W. Porter, C. E. Dyer, CHORAL COMMITTEE. C. H. Chilpot, O. E. Winzate, LIBRARIAN. W. H. Hinkle, D. B. Casey, LOCAL DIRECTOR AND MANAGER. D. B. Casey.

A rehearsal of the ladies of the great chorus occurred at Elliot's music store on Friday, and one of the male members occurs at the same place on Tuesday evening. Prompt attendance and thorough work will be expected from this time until the end of the festival.

THE MENDELSSOHN. It is now probable that the last of the concerts will be given in the Grand Opera on the 16th and 17th of May, and that the club will be assisted by the eminent violinist, Remenyi, and the celebrated pianist, Teresa Coreno.

Pence Opera House. At the Pence Opera house the past week the attendance has been fairly good. "Hidden Hand" opened the week, and "Rory O'Moore" closed it. The notable event of the week was the first annual benefit of Miss Helene Adell, the leading juvenile lady of the company. When the "Two Orphans" was creditably presented to a full house, Miss Adell secured a success in the role of Mother Frochard.

This week F. K. Wallace, who played an engagement two weeks ago, will star in "O'Neill the Great," "Secret Service," and "Rosedale," supported by the full company. "Rosedale" will be the bill on the occasion of Ellis' annual benefit.

Miscellaneous Amusements. Pence Opera house will close one week from Saturday night. The Delta Sigma Literary society of the state university will give an entertainment to-morrow evening. The Emerald Isle ladies' land league will participate in a ball at Winslow's hall on Wednesday evening. Frederick Bryton is to play the leading role, Alexis, in "The Russian Honey-moon" at the Madison Square theater.

The high school entertainment, consisting of amateur theatricals and literary and musical exercises, was a decided success. Prof. Danz's orchestra will give another sacred concert in Turner hall to-day, when an exceptionally fine programme will be rendered.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away. On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt. The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, alarmed a family named Chalmers and a number of lodgers above the store who sprang from their beds and hurrying to the rear of the building to ascertain the cause of the explosion, saw the burglars skedaddling over the alley fence in great fright, without having taken anything for their pains. The safe contained $80 in money, which the burglars did not take time to investigate. Five or six dollars in silver were blown about the floor and the rent bags of flour scattered their contents over the ceiling, walls and shelves. The fellows left behind an old baking powder can containing powder and a piece of fuse. Before beginning in the safe they had screened the window with boxes and paper and indulged in a free lunch on canned goods.

The police are of the opinion that these are the members of the same gang who have recently won three or four other safes in this vicinity.

THE CRACKSMEN. They Blow a Saf, but Use Too Much of the Explosive and Get Frightened away.

On Friday night Z. Demen's grocery store at 27 South First street was entered by burglars who gained an admission by boring through a panel of the rear door and then drawing a bolt.

The cracksmen drilled a three-eighth inch hole in the top of the safe, a Hall, and charged it with powder. The safe was then covered with sacks of flour for the purpose of muffling the report of the explosion. They evidently made a miscalculation and put in too much powder, as the report was terrific, blowing out the safe door and scattering the large 2850 grain shot. The report, at