The Sunday Schools.

THE LAST DAY.

Yesterday being the last day of the Sunday school convention, the attendance was greater than on the preceding days of the session. The devotional exercises in the morning were conducted by Rev. T. G. Field, and the first paper read was by L. Simpson, of Winona, the topic being "The Pastor's Work and Place in the Sunday School from a Layman's Standpoint."

He said his object in preparing his paper was not for the purpose of enforcing his own individual views, but rather to provoke discussion on the subject. It was a very interesting paper and was listened to with much attention.

Rev. Dr. Carroll was the next speaker who spoke on the manner of presenting the subject to the Sunday school. If you are in earnest and mean what you say you will imbue the children with a love of the school, but the winning of them to receive instruction is a divine gift.

The great object should be salvation rather than entertainment or reformation.

The evangelizing and civilizing power of the Sunday school was the subject of M. B. Lewis' address. Owing to ill-health the gentleman spoke briefly and related some personal experiences in the cause which greatly interested the audience. The subject was continued by Thomas Cochran of St. Paul who said the Sunday school exists for the sake of that it is educational and consequently a civilizer.

Geo. C. Smith, of St. Paul, then read an address commemorative of the late J. E. Miller, president of the association, whose portrait was placed on an easel, beautifully decked with flowers, and a beautiful wreath of white flowers was deposited on a stand near the portrait. The speaker gave a sketch of the life and labors of the deceased. Mr. Miller settled in business in St. Paul in 1878, and remained there till his death, in church and school, and in the Y. M. C. A., he was active and efficient and was in the highest sense of the term, a genuine man—the best specimen that could be pronounced upon him.

Mr. C. W. Hackett, the treasurer, read his annual report saying that the receipts during the year amounted to $330.23. The expenditures were also given as $78.49. The amount due the International association was for two years' pledges was 100, due the statistical secretary, $300, making a deficit of about $200. Report accepted and referred to committee on finance. The reports of committees were next in order.

D. W. Ingersoll, of the committee on nominations reported as follows, and his report was adopted:

Officers—S. S. Taylor, St. Paul, president; H. Plant, Minneapolis, first vice president; F. A. Robinson, Winona, second vice president; Rev. J. A. McGowan, Owatonna, secretary; C. H. Hackett, St. Paul, treasurer.

State central committee, Geo. B. Bradbury, chairman, H. E. Galbraith, W. M. Terry, M. B. Critchell, of Minneapolis; J. H. Randall, Geo. C. Smith, L. A. Gilbert, H. M. Knox, St. Paul; Chas. Goss, Winona; J. H. Parker, Albert Lea, C. W. Brooks, Red Wing; P. D. Fisk, Northfield; Jerome Allen, St. Cloud; F. V. Decoster, Littlefield; Brewster Mattocks, Faribault.

Delegates to attend the triennial convention—H. M. Plant and D. W. Ingersoll, delegates, ex-officio, and Thomas Simpson, Winona, Geo. B. Bradbury, Minneapolis, and G. L. Lewis, Red Wing. Alternates—George C. Smith, St. Paul; Dr. C. M. Bailey, Minneapolis, and Prof. W. W. Payne, Northfield.

The Rev. F. W. Flint, of the committee on resolutions then read his report, and extended in eloquent language, the thanks of the delegates to the convention to Westminster church, to their kind entertainers and the railroads for reduced fares and accommodations.

The report was adopted by a rising vote. The Rev. Mr. Stafford, of Rochester, opened the afternoon session with devotional exercises, Rev. P. B. Fisk, of Northfield followed with a Bible reading on "Sowing of the Seed" and Rev. R. K. Riddell, of St. Paul, read a paper on "True Teaching"—in what it consists and how it is done. A paper on the relation of the Sunday school to the Temperance cause was next read by Miss Kimball, superintendent of the W. N. T. C. U. The convention closed last evening with a prize meeting, led by the musical director of the convention, E. E. Wingate. Addresses were delivered on the Success of Seed Sowing, What shall the Harvest be? When shall the Harvest be? and Who shall gather the harvest? The entire audience joined in singing "Blest be the Tie that Binds." Benediction being pronounced the convention adjourned well satisfied with the result of their week's work.

Late Street Cars and Trains.

There is a great demand for later street cars and a later motor train. Especially is this true of the street cars. Every late car is invariably packed to overflowing, and then many are unable to secure a ride. Besides this, hundreds of citizens find it extremely inconvenient to take the last car, owing to the earliness of the hour when the cars suspend. The Minneapolis Street Railway company has been granted an exclusive franchise by our city, which is a vast fortune, and in consideration of the same the company should certainly be less disobliging and independent, and more solicitous of the comfort and convenience of the citizens who have contributed to the millions of dollars which the company are now worth. Corporations as a rule are exceedingly selfish, and this opportunity is no exception. In this connection it is proper to again call attention to the prevailing need of a later train to visit St. Paul after business hours, or vice versa, are obliged, from lack of railroad accommodation, to remain over night. The liberal patronage which the people extend would seemingly demand a recognition from the railroad companies.

A Robber Captured.

Yesterday Detectives Gleason and Hankinson went down to St. Paul, and at Svee's Annie's bagnio, 36 East Fifth street, arrested a young man who goes by the name of Charles Johnson, and brought him to Minneapolis. Johnson robbed a lumberman on Tuesday of between $50 and $60 in money. He got the lumberman drunk and then went through his pockets. Johnson was formerly a hackman, in the employ of Mattison. Some $15 of the money was recovered.
