

MINNEAPOLIS (CONTINUED)

The jurors: M. J. Mallon, P. F. Eichelzer, M. D. Wilson, G. Sawyer, T. Jaffrey and C. S. Bartram. The conductor, Geo. A. Wapton testified that the train was running slow, at the rate of two and a half to three miles an hour.

W. W. Allen, the engineer, swore that the horse jumped right in front of the motor. Miss Chitty was thrown under the side of the motor and between the wheels. They were not running over three miles an hour and the motor did not run over nine or ten feet after the horse jumped.

Officer Jacob Hain testified that the motor was not going faster than he could walk. D. Steele said Miss Chitty recognized the driver after she was hurt and said I told you not to drive there.

Palmer Warden, the driver, said the horse reared and plunged when beside the motor and Miss Chitty first stood up and then fell out.

The inquest then adjourned until Wednesday next at 7:30 p. m.

FURTHER PREPARATION.

The Minneapolis Committee Making Elaborate Preparations for a Brilliant Reception of the Villard Party.

A general meeting of the committees was held at the Nicolett house yesterday at 11 o'clock. Besides every member of the committee there were a large number of citizens present.

Ald. Henry Morse was appointed permanent secretary of the committee, and J. K. Sidle permanent treasurer.

At the request of C. M. Loring, the name of A. J. Boardman was substituted for his on the finance committee.

A special committee of ten on the reception of Mr. Villard and his German guests, who are to arrive in Minneapolis on Saturday, September 1st, at 1 o'clock p. m., in advance of the main body of the party, was appointed. This committee is as follows:

B. Nettleton, George A. Pillsbury, George Hahn, Samuel Hill, C. Haskow, Prof. Otfehald, Peter Rowen, W. H. Dunwoody, L. Harnsen, J. C. Oswald, R. Chute, Isadore Monach.

ON RECEPTION. The following committee of fifteen was appointed on the general reception: W. D. Washburn, G. A. Pillsbury, John T. West, Thos. Lowry, R. B. Langdon, D. Morrison, John S. Pillsbury, Loren Fletcher, Frank Greuclear, A. C. Bangan, E. Eichorn, A. C. Rand, O. A. Pray, Daniel Wahl, Geo. A. Camp.

It is expected that the whole Villard party will reach Minneapolis after having spent Sunday at Lake Minnetonka, on Monday evening. Meanwhile, an amphitheater or something of that sort will have been erected at some desirable point, to which the distinguished guests will be escorted, and from which they will witness the passing of the grand INDUSTRIAL PARADE. They will then be taken in carriages and conveyed to points of interest.

Ald. Hangan's motion to increase the committee on the industrial display, so as to include a representative of every distinct branch of industry in the city was carried. These names will be presented at the meeting to be held to-morrow morning.

On motion of Ald. Glenn it was decided also to prepare an address to the mechanics, laboring men and other representatives of the industries of Minneapolis, explaining the object of the celebration and inviting their hearty co-operation.

INVITATIONS. The committee on invitations was requested to lose no time in sending out invitations to all the military and civil societies, dignitaries and individuals whom we desire to have with us on Monday, September 3d.

The finance committee began the circulation of a subscription paper to raise funds for the display and the response was immediate and hearty, many putting their names down for large amounts.

On motion, adjourned until Monday, at 11 o'clock a. m., at the same place.

A WATERLOO.

The Browns take a Back Seat—Omaha Victorious in a Score of 12 to 4.

The second game of ball between the Browns and the Union Pacifics, of Omaha, was played at the park yesterday afternoon. There were something over 1,000 people in attendance.

The game was too one-sided to be interesting. The home club had been weakened by the resignation of Capt. Bennett, who, by the way, played with the Omahas and had the proud distinction of pounding a two-base hit in the first inning and making the first run. O'Brien the new captain of the Browns, and who is credited with being the coolest player in the club, made costly errors.

The outer fielding of the Browns was too slow to be effective, with the exception, perhaps, of two splendid plays by Tuelle in the field. The catching of Webster elicited general applause, and Murphy's base running was the best ever seen in Minneapolis.

Toward the last, the Omahas batted Murphy terrifically and broke the home club all up, as will be seen by the following score:

ANCIENT MYTHOLOGY.

The Legend of the Cuckoo. It is a common belief that the cuckoo is a transformed girl calling her brother.

In Servia the cuckoo, kukaviza, was a girl who lamented her brother's death so long that she was turned into a cuckoo. This in itself is not very circumstantial, but Albania supplies a more complete story. There were once two brothers and a sister. The latter accidentally killed one of them by getting up suddenly from her needle-work and piercing him to the heart with her scissors. She and the surviving brother mourned so much that they were turned into birds; he cries out to the lost brother by night gion, gion, and the sister by day, ku ku, ku ku, which means "Where are you?" The cuckoo, says the Bohemian legend, once had a crown on her head, till at a wedding among the birds, at which the hoopoe was bridegroom, she lent it and has never been able to get it back. He is always crying out kuku, which means "You are real," to which the other replies, juu, juu, "I come, I come," but comes not. The Bohemians also take the cuckoo for an enchanted miller or baker. The latter is a more enchanting story, as being either of post-Christian origin, or else a pagan memory transferred, as so often happened, into a Christian dress. Christ, passing one day a baker's shop, sent one of His disciples in to ask for some new bread. The baker refused to give it, but his wife and six daughters, who were compassionate, delivered some secretly to the disciple. In reward they were placed among the stars, as the Pleiades; but the baker was turned into a cuckoo, and it confirms this story that his cry is heard as long as those seven stars are visible in the sky. In Poland long ago it was a capital crime to kill a cuckoo. The apparent reason was that Zywiec, who in old Slavonic mythology was the ruler of the universe, used to change himself (as Zeus once did and Indra too) into a cuckoo, in order to announce to mortals the number of years they had to live; a belief so real that multitudes used to flock every May to Zywiec's temple, on the mountain that was called after his name, to pray for long life and prosperous health. To this day it is a common article of folk-lore belief that so many years yet remain to a man of life as he hears the cuckoo's voice for the first time in the spring. And a monkish historian has handed down, for the edification of posterity, the story of the worldly-minded brother who, tired of the monotony of convent life, resolved to ask of the cuckoo the number of years yet allotted him to live. The bird having said twenty-two, the monk resolved to devote himself for a season to the pleasures of this world and yet have time before him to prepare for the next; but, alas! the bird was a heathenish and therefore a false oracle to listen to, and death surprised the recreant monk in the twentieth year, still absorbed in temporal enjoyments and vanities.—The Cornhill Magazine.

A YOUNG-OLD MAN.

There is in Schuyler county, Mo., a young-old man who, without apparent cause, living plainly on a farm, has in eighteen years passed through the physical changes of fourscore. At the age of 6 he had all the development of strength and muscle usually in a lad of 15. At 12 his beard was grown, and gray hairs appeared. Now, at 18, he is as decrepit as any old man of 80, and seems tottering on the verge of the grave.

The cattle of the Pampas are computed at 20,000,000. They are the descendants of a bull and eight cows which were brought there by two Portuguese brothers in 1553. It is only near Buenos Ayres that they have been crossed with finer stock. The old herds are ill-shaped and ugly.

The postal cards are made at Holyoke, Mass., by forty men, who turn out a million daily. They have diminished the consumption of writing paper by $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year.

There is lying in the United States Treasury more than $10,000,000 of unclaimed money, interest and principal of public debt, some of which dates back to 1837.

Such harvests as England had between 1850 and 1860 would now make the landed proprietor there the most joyous, instead of the most lugubrious

MINNEAPOLIS FAIR AND EXPOSITION

To Open Monday, August 27 WITH A GREAT GALA DAY FOR CHILDREN. Let Them All Come!

Parents, give your children a holiday next Monday. Send or bring them to the Fair. Remember, for them it will be a FREE DAY.

Oh! The Fun! Lots of Fun!

Just think of it! First, a POXY RACE. You boys under ten years of age, come right down to the Fair grounds with your ponies Monday, 1st, and there by 10 o'clock p. m., sharp. Go to the secretary's office and give him your names, and he will tell you what to do. You will be called to ride about 2 o'clock. After this race there come the NEWSBOYS. Now you boys must come about the same hour, and ride the horse or pony you ride in delivering your papers. And all you boys see that your saddles are tight on your horses; every strap and buckle sound and strong. The manager would not have the day marred by a single accident.

Next! What a Buster that will be, A MULE RACE. Let every boy that can get a mule to ride that day—a good safe one—come to the Fair Ground. You know, boys, in each of these races there is $25 to be divided, the first one getting $12, the second one $8 and the third $5. After that there is to be a BICYCLE RACE.

By non-professionals. Then, if the day is fine, and the fun runs high, we'll have some foot races and sack races. Come about 11 o'clock; bring your baskets. You can sit in the cool shade of the Amphitheater and eat your lunch, chat, laugh, sing and have a merry time. Of course the managers would prefer that you small children should be looked after by their parents or proper guardians.

Stock Arriving. Mr. P. C. Goodwin, of Bement, Ill., arrived yesterday with his Stable and Stud of Imported Norman Horses. Telegrams received during the day announce the approach of Great Trains of Cattle and Horses Coming From All Directions.

IN INDUSTRIAL HALL! Bismarck, with her only and indefatigable Wallace, is here with a Large Force, putting in shape the Wonderful Products of the North Pacific Company, with a special eye to the interests of Harlegh county. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road are erecting a building for an elegant display from the Territory along their lines, under charge and direction of the Emigration Department.

THE LAND DEPARTMENT Of the Manitoba road will make a substantial showing from the Great West Belt of the Northwest, while Mandan, Jamestown, Grand Forks and other points in Dakota are also making preparations, the local farmers contributing their share toward the completion of a full production display.

AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY Here's where you have it. Acres upon acres of the latest improved and most complete machinery for the farm in the world, without which those great bonanza farms would not be heard of. This department will excel in excellence and variety any exhibition of the kind ever attempted in America.

The Races and Race Horses. "You don't have to," but you can't help it. SUCH A WEEK OF SPORT!

Never was offered before to the people of the Northwest. The amount of work necessary to bring about these great features, and the large expenditure of money incident thereto, is already bringing to the management hopeful encouragement as to the general satisfaction and outcome of the week. A public is always satisfied.

WHEN THERE IS VALUE RECEIVED. And a reference to the great list of entries published yesterday, with some knowledge of the wonderful performances of many of the animals enumerated, will be sufficient guarantee in this respect.

A gentleman visiting the fair grounds yesterday, who is conversant with the "Trotting Horse of America and His Master," congratulated the secretary on the prospects, saying:

"You will have the Grandest Races your people ever saw."

You have not only got a noble class of horses, but an honorable class of drivers; and a knowing many of them, I assure you your people never saw the equal to what you promise them next week."

THE SPECIAL RACE FOR BLOOD! The managers have taken hold of the matter, and have some encouragement that they may be enabled to announce to-morrow

A GREAT RACE, between those favorites, HEROD, HANCOCK and PEDRO.

HIGHAM, PRNCE and ROLLINSON, The Great Bicyclists. Have left Washington and the East, to arrive here to-day, the 26th.

Just think of a man propelling himself on one of those "consumed wheels" at the rate of 2 1/2 and riding three mile heats.

DON'T YOU FORGET IT. They will give you one of the best days you ever saw. In Washington city in July last TWENTY THOUSAND people turned out for no other attraction but to see the two former in their great first race for the championship (which is to be decided by a series of races) and

The Irrespressible, the Ludicrous, the Graceful, the Incomparable FRED S. ROLLINSON, "A Bird on Wheels."

Then, our own Minnesota boys (OVER ONE HUNDRED WHEELS) in a two days' tournament. It is fairly estimated that the value of money represented in the bicycles used in a Grand Meet, will exceed Twenty Thousand Dollars.

TRIALS OF SPEED, MANEUVERS BY BATTALION, CHARGES. (With an occasional header), will be in their varied programme.

And her Gallant Crew, WILLIAMS and YOUNG, Arrived yesterday evening from Cincinnati in time to make preparations for their first voyage, to take place Tuesday, Aug. 28.
