On Sunday next the Flying Dutchman will arrive at St. Paul at 9:35 p. m., instead of 10:20 p. m. as heretofore, and will leave Minneapolis at 9:40 p. m. instead of 10:30 p. m.

Manitoba Press: Mr. A. H. Stickney, of the St. Paul construction company, who been in the city for the last few days on business connected with the Moorhead & Northwestern railway, left for the south last night.

The news of Mr. Hilland's going down to the office was telegraphed to the pool commissioners at Chicago, and when received, the commissioners proposed and gave three cheers, as indicative of their feelings in regard to the recovery of that gentleman.

Information was received at railroad headquarters in St. Paul that the Missouri Pacific railway company has appointed agents at Cherry Valley, Wynne, Colt and Sulphur Rock, Arkansas, on the Helena and White river branches of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern railway, and at Brandville and Barnham, Mo., on the Kansas City, Springfield & Missouri Pacific railway, and that the same agents are to be appointed at these points as are not required.

The same road also gives notice that it will no longer receive household goods or wearing apparel in trunks unless the same are securely boxed.

The engineers of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern railway continue to drive their pegs north from Worthington toward Northern and Central Dakota. Inter-state distance tariff, governing business on the lines of that company west of the Mississippi river, and applying between stations on Eastern or Northern divisions and stations on Western or Nebraska divisions. Shipments between stations on Nebraska division and stations on Western, Eastern or Northern divisions will be way-billed through, adding three cents per one hundred pounds to car load rates, minimum $5 per car, and five cents per one hundred pounds to less than car load rates, to take effect on the 15th.

La Crosse Chronicle 17th: The garage of the Onalaska short line is completed and a gang of one hundred men are laying ties and iron. By this evening the rails will be down as far as Moore's mill. At this rate the entire line will be down Saturday night. The contractor is doing this work himself, at least so far as anyone knows, the only visible indication of another party in the matter being the fact that the work commenced at this end and a Milwaukee engine is on the grade. If the road becomes the absolute property of the Milwaukee company, and should happen to serve as the slip, so to speak, from which the long desired Black River Falls branch should grow, Mr. Canterbury would discover that he built larger than he knew.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Preliminary surveys for the Wisconsin Central's proposed extension from Chippewa Falls to St. Paul have been completed and the engineers are now engaged in making the location. This work will probably not be completed until before January 1st next. Although the Wisconsin Central's officials, when questioned, convey by their answers the idea that the question is yet undecided as to whether the St. Paul extension is to be made, there seems little doubt but that work on the new line will be commenced as soon as the weather of the coming spring will permit, and that it will be completed within a year from the present time. The proposed route traverses a rich section of Wisconsin, and its probabilities as an outlet for lumber for the Northwest are so great and so well seemingly make the matter of its construction a certainty.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul has had prepared a small pamphlet giving all the particulars of the contest between the different railroads running east from St. Paul for the carrying of the Oregon pioneers from St. Paul to Chicago. The title of the little book is: "How the Oregon Pioneers Went East to St. Paul, Chicago and New York." It also contains a list of the 260 pioneers that went over the Milwaukee road, together with various extracts from the Oregon and Chicago papers. Altogether the collection of information is interesting and peculiar and shows that Mr. W. H. Dixon, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road who went out to Portland to meet the pioneers from St. Paul to Chicago, did some of the best railroad work ever performed by any one for any road. The successful work performed by him was a great surprise to all who know how the pins were set up in Portland before he got there.

Meat Shipments by Rail.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The sub-committee of the classification committee of the east bound freight pool visited the stock yards yesterday and made inquiries concerning shipments of dressed beef and other dressed meats. The rule has been that dressed beef will not be received for shipment, except upon payment for full car loads of 20,000 pounds. This did not interfere with shipments in bulk to the seaboard, but for interior towns smaller consignments were frequently wanted and it became the custom of shippers to make up necessary weight by putting in dressed pork, mutton, etc. The question before the committee was whether this practice should be allowed to continue. The sub-committee decided to recommend to the committee that the practice be not interfered with.

Pullman Palace Car Company.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pullman palace car company was held here to day, 94,000 shares of the capital stock being represented. The board of directors and officers were re-elected. The annual report, presented by the president, George M. Pullman, showed, earnings from operation of cars $3,551,873; from royalties, etc., $36,144; from manufacturing profits, rentals, etc., $505,227; total $4,093,244; operating expenses and rentals of leased lines $1,633,717; interest $171,074; dividends 9 1/2 per cent. on capital stock $1,235,142; total $3,059,332; surplus for year $1,053,912. New contracts covering 10,000 miles of railway and renewals of old contracts covering 7,000 miles were made during the year which necessitated the building of 121 new coaches. The stockholders authorized an increase of capital stock at discretion of the directors not to exceed 20 per cent. At a subsequent meeting of the board of directors the capital stock was increased 10 per cent. to meet the expenses of building the cars mentioned in the report, and payable Dec. 1. The next usual quarterly dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. was declared, with an extra dividend of 1 1/2 per cent. out of the manufacturing profits, both payable Nov. 15.

Sale of the American Home Property.

Confidence in St. Paul realty is pretty well established, as was shown by the sale of the American home property, corner of Wabash and Fourth streets, yesterday. In June last, during the boom in real estate, Mr. P. T. Kavanagh sold the property at auction to Messrs. Reuben Warner and Thomas L. Schurmeier for $524 a front foot. Owing to a defect in the title, due to the fact that a minor heir's interest had not been properly probated, a clear title could not be given at the time. Col. A. R. Keifer, the administrator of the Pottger estate, made application to the probate court and was granted leave to sell the minor's interest. The resale of the property took place yesterday, and attracted a large attendance of capitalists and business men. The bidding was spirited and the property was finally struck off to Mr. Peter H. Sims, a gentleman already largely interested in St. Paul real estate. The result of the sale shows that our people have so much confidence in the solidity of our city and the permanence of real estate values as four months ago when money was much easier than at present. The property was sold for cash at $515 per front foot.

Suit Over the Building of Gillilan Block.

Witken & Romer, builders and contractors, filed a suit in the district court yesterday against Chas. D. Gillilan demanding judgment for $39,151.16 and interest thereon from June 21, 1883, at 7 per cent. The suit grows out of the building of the Gillilan block and the plaintiffs admit being paid while engaged on the building the sum of $20,500, and claim to have come to a full accounting of $39,151.16 on delivering the block over to the defendant. But there seems to be a hitch in regard to the sum of $308, the cost of supplying said block with outside iron shutters. The plaintiffs claim that when they signed the contract they did not know the iron shutters were called for therein and claim that a modification was made in said contract without their knowledge and that therefore they did not place their money on the building. A claim for extra work and extra material by the contractors also comes into the suit, and this with the misunderstanding over the iron shutters probably causes it.

The Diamond Dyes always do more than they claim to do. Color over that old dress. It will look like new. Only 10 cents.

"RIGOLETTO."

Verdi's Opera as Presented by the Abbott Company Last Evening—A Creditable Performance.

A fashionable and appreciative audience assembled at the new Grand Opera house last night to hear Verdi's opera of "Rigoletto," as rendered by the Emma Abbott English Opera company. In several respects the opera differs widely from anything attempted by the company during the present engagement. It is more classically severe, more characteristic and descriptive than anything given hitherto, and the requirements of the score are vastly more exacting. The composition is intricate in a double sense, and while a high order of vocal ability is called for, the instrumentation must be perfect in movement or tempo in order to bring out the fine and delicate shadings of the score. The theme, too, is neither modern nor French, as much as the hapless heroine, who is the victim of another's wrong, and while innocent herself, she is made to suffer without the slightest reference to poetic justice.

The cast last night introduced Miss Abbott as Gilda, Zaida Seguin as Madelena, Signor Tagliapietra as Rigoletto, Signor Fabiani as the Duke, with the minor roles very acceptably taken. Miss Abbott sang best in the aria in the second act, the intricate movements of which she gave with fine expression, although the whole dramatic effect was wanting. The dramatic requirements of the opera are very exacting and in this respect last night, was an enjoyable surprise.

The aria received a deserved encore, and in this act also the duet by Miss Abbott and Signor Fabiani, the tenor, was very enjoyably rendered.

Signor Tagliapietra scored a triumph in his duet, as the jester, in the third act, where the fine qualities of his baritone voice were shown to perfection. He gave the role with dramatic fervor, and never before had the superb qualities of his voice been so splendidly shown. In this act also the duet by Miss Abbott and Tagliapietra was splendidly rendered, and the finale of the scene was one of the most enjoyable effects of the evening.

The feature of the fourth act was the quartette fugue by Miss Abbott, soprano, Signor Tagliapietra, baritone, Zaida Seguin, contralto, and Fabiani as tenor. The tempo was well maintained throughout and the voices were in sweet unison, thus being one of the hits of the performance, and it was warmly encored.

The performance on the whole, was an artistic and enjoyable success. The male choruses were finely rendered and the orchestration was good.

This evening "Mignon," one of the most popular operas in the Abbott repertoire, will be rendered.

A FRIENDLY TIP.

The first dramatic entertainment in the new Opera house will be given next Monday evening, when the Ferguson Combination will open an engagement with "A Friendly Tip." Of this comedy a Buffalo exchange speaks as follows:

Wahlo's was packed, last night, boxes and all, to see one of the funniest plays yet brought out. Of course W. J. Ferguson as Sir Channery Tripp (the duke on his uppers) was the life of the play, but J. H. Farrell, its author, as the New York tenor, caught the house every time he came before the footlights. Miss Mina Collins-Gleason, as Julia Weyburner, did excellently well, and her many admirers in this city who remember her as a member of the academy of music stock company, on the strength of which he procured goods valued at $50. In forging the order he used the name of Eber & Holmer, and it is understood that he has victimized Grunhagen & Fricze and several other firms, in the same manner. He was locked up, and the examination will take place to-day.

Charged With Forgery.

Yesterday afternoon Detective O'Connor arrested a young man named Charles Blouston, on the charge of forging an order on the St. Paul Book and Stationery company, on the strength of which he procured goods valued at $50. In forging the order he used the name of Eber & Holmer, and it is understood that he has victimized Grunhagen & Fricze and several other firms, in the same manner. He was locked up, and the examination will take place to-day.

Business Wrecks.

BOSTON, Oct. 18.—The creditors' commissioner of Shaw Bros., failed tannery, reported at a meeting to-day that assets are worth $325,600; liabilities, $534,400. It is believed the firm could pay 73 cents on the dollar. The report showed that from April to July the firm issued or endorsed notes amounting to $108,000.

BANGOR, Mich., Oct. 18.—The Bangor Furnace company made a voluntary assignment to-day to Charles D. Rhoades of Detroit. The trustee also made an assignment. He states that the liabilities are $130,000 and the assets nominally twice that amount.

Women's Advancement.

The paper was made the subject of discussion for nearly the entire afternoon.

Denouncing the Court.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18.—About 200 creditors of Archbishop Parcell met to-night and passed resolutions condemning the decision of the district court as illegal, charging the court with being under the influence of the clergy and actuated by political considerations. The resolutions were very bitter. A committee of five was appointed to request the assignee to appeal the case to the supreme court. The resolutions also denounced the action of the district court as recognizing the canon law in a par with statutory and common law in governing monetary obligations.

A party of gentlemen interested in sewer-making has been in Cleveland two days inspecting various manufactories, including the Union Steel Screw works. Yesterday they held a conference, but the nature of it and even the names of the gentlemen, have been refused to reporters.

The site is being rapidly graded and otherwise prepared for the monument.

Bucket Shops Out at Last.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The Metropolitan Grain and Stock exchange has given notice it will no longer attempt to deal in board of trade options. This exchange is one of the largest bucket shops here, and until the arrest of the parties who had been tapping the Western Union wires it was enabled to secure quotations, but of which it now seems to be very thoroughly deprived. It is understood no other bucket shops will follow in its wake. The exchange, however, announces that it will hereafter trade in stocks, and as the board of trade reports the bucket shop managers argue that they will find sufficient custom in their new line of speculation to keep their places open.

The Episcopal Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 18.—In the general canon of the Protestant Episcopal church the report of the special committee on the disabled clergy fund stated that the increase in the contributions in the past three years is over $12,000. At the request of Dr. Fulton, the convention was postponed to the report of the committee on prayer book declining to recommend the passage of the resolution proposed by Dr. Fulton, relative to amending the constitution by striking out the words Protestant Episcopal. The report of the committee on prayer book not approving the setting forth of the Sunday school hymnal by the general convention was not agreed to.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET

Governor—A. BIERMANN, Olmsted county.

Lieutenant Governor—R. L. FRAZEE, Becker county.

Secretary of State—J. J. GREEN, Le Sueur county.

Treasurer—JOHN LUDWIG, Winona county.

Attorney General—John W. WILLES, Ramsey county.

Register of Deeds—C. H. LIENAU, Ramsey county.

Treasurer—Wm. E. BURTON, Washington county.

County Attorney—J. J. EGAN.

Coroner—JAMES A. QUINN.

County Commissioners—City—GEORGE MITSCH, P. R. L. HARDENBERGH.

County Commissioner—Country—JACOB HINKEL.

The Platform Adopted by the Democratic State Convention, August 3, 1883.

We, the Democracy of Minnesota, in convention assembled, reaffirm our devotion to the time-honored maxims of the Democratic party, that that government is best which governs least; which leaves the citizens in the enjoyment of the greatest personal liberty consistent with the rights of others and the public welfare; and while it affords full protection to life and property, allows the creeds, business and customs of the people to remain unfettered by summary laws, class legislation and extortionate monopolies.

First—That every species of taxation is wrong when the money for the profit of the few, creating monopolies and producing a revenue in excess of the wants of the government, economically administered, is unjust, tyrannical and dangerous. Sound policy requires that the business of people should be free from oppressive duties and vexatious restraints, and that all legislation in reference thereto should be impartial in its objects and equal in its burdens. We, therefore, favor such a thorough revision of the present tariff laws as will remedy existing evils and result in the establishment of a tariff for revenue only, as the permanent commercial policy of this country.

Second—That constitutions are made to protect the minority of the people against the encroachments of the majority; that no proposition for a change of or amendment to the organic law of the state should be entertained or submitted to a vote of the people, which if adopted by the majority, would prevent the minority from exercising their inherent and inalienable rights. That we consider the enactment of any summary or arbitrary laws a subversion of the rights of the people and that we are unalterably opposed to them.

Third—That we appreciate the importance of liberal appropriations for the improvement of the Mississippi river; but, inasmuch as the river and harbor bill has, under Republican administration, become an "omnibus" for the corrupt combinations of members of congress, we would favor the adoption of an amendment to the constitution conferring upon the president the power to veto such a provision of the river and harbor bill and all other appropriation bills, as, in his judgment, are unwarranted.

Fourth—That the patent laws should be revised, to the end that the innocent purchasers of manufactured articles, using the same in good faith, shall be protected from harassing and oppressive suits for the infringement of patent rights.

Resolved, That the maintenance in power of any political party for an undue length of time tends to an assumption of power inconsistent with Democratic principles of government, and is dangerous to the rights of the people, and we therefore urge upon the electors of this state they carefully investigate the existing state of things with reference to change of state administration in their own interests.

Loss and Gain.

"I was taken sick six years ago with bilious fever."

"My doctor pronounced me cured, but I got sick again, with terrible pains in my back and sides, and I got so bad I could not move."

"On 23rd July, 1891, I had been doctoring for my liver, but it did me no good. I did not expect to live more than three months. I began to use Hop Bitters. Directly my appetite returned, and my bowels began to move, and I seemed renewed as if by magic, and after using several bottles I am not only as sound as a sovereign but weigh more than I did before. To Hop Bitters I owe my life."

Dublin, June 6, 1891. R. FITZPATRICK.

How to Get Sick.—Expose yourself day and night; eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time; take all the vile nostrums advertised, and then you will want to know how to get well, and this is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters.
