

MINNEAPOLIS NEWS.

OFFICE—No. 6 Washington Avenue, opposite... Office hours, from 6 a. m. to 10 o'clock p. m.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBELET.

The city council meets this evening. A meeting of the Royal Arcanum was held last night.

The real estate transfers filed yesterday aggregated $98,745.

Marietta Spurling has filed a suit for divorce from Nathan G. Spurling.

The mayor was yesterday occupied in reading over the hack ordinance.

The Choral society held a rehearsal meeting at Elliot's music hall last evening.

The crusaders held a largely attended meeting in Catholic Association hall last night.

The directors of the chamber of commerce will hold a meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Robert Emmet Literary association met last evening for the transaction of important business.

The employees of the Milwaukee road were receiving their monthly wages from the pay car yesterday.

Henry A. Smith, of Illinois, was admitted to the bar of Hennepin county yesterday by Judge Lochren.

An Illinois society, composed exclusively of former residents of that state has been organized in Minneapolis.

A sneak thief stole a valuable overcoat from a hat rack in the hallway of Henry Leighton's residence on Tenth street.

In the case of Thompson vs. Leonard for false arrest and imprisonment, the jury yesterday gave a verdict of $1 for plaintiff.

The Waycott larceny case got another continuance in the municipal court yesterday. The examination is now set for Thursday.

The various offices of the Hennepin county officials were illuminated by gas last evening to the great delight of all concerned.

Thomas F. Cann was committed thirty days yesterday for the larceny of a small sum of money and some jewelry from Delta W. Morton.

The two sons of Henry Bistadeaux, of Dayton, aged respectively seventeen and fourteen years, were drowned last Sunday evening in Crow river.

Eta Forrest and her brood of eight solid doves were before his honor yesterday. They smilingly deposited each her monthly fee and departed.

Ben Kolberg, a carpenter, residing at the corner of Sixteenth avenue south and Twenty-third street, was adjudged insane, yesterday, and committed to the insane asylum.

Will Davis, the hungry thief who stole a ham and a codfish from A. L. Shore's grocery store, will be fed at the expense of the county for ten days, and he seems content.

In the amended articles of incorporation of the Minneapolis Street Railway company, filed yesterday, the highest amount of indebtedness to which the company shall be subject at any time is $1,500,000.

The Pillsbury's will put into the Pillsbury "A" flouring mill twelve hundred-horse power Corliss engine. Col. Glenn is manufacturing twelve steel boilers to supply the steam. With this engine the mill will be run no matter how low the water gets.

To-day was the time set by Superintendent Henion of the water works for shifting of the water delinquents, but as there seems to be a disposition on the part of people to pay up as promptly as possible, the superintendent has decided to extend the time a few days.

At the instance of a traveling man Doc Tamer has been arrested on the charge of running a gambling house. The matter was brought up in the municipal court yesterday, when an examination was fixed for the 26th. The defendant recognized in a deposit of $500.

Last evening, a young man named Tom Miller was accidentally shot through the leg. His revolver, a 32 caliber, self-cocker, dropped from his pocket upon the flagstone pavement, and the hammer, striking a stone, exploded a cartridge. The bullet entered the leg near the shin bone, and passed around into the calf of the leg, and lodged just beneath the skin.

A man was "held up" by foot pads on Cedar avenue about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. His vest pocket containing $60 was cut out and then he was told to go and extract pleasure from nature's sweetest restorant, balmy sleep. He expressed his regret at not having wooed the gentle morphine several hours before, and silently departed for home in any thing but a pleasant mode. His name could not be ascertained.

The following parties received marriage licenses yesterday: W. L. Hardy and Fanny Ungerman; Charles A. Clay and Annie E. Williams; George I. Dickinson and Lizzie A. Proctor; John Barnes and Eliza Kneuer; Ole Holmberg and Hannah Christianson; Orrin Cornforth and Nettie A. Barker; Andrew Arntson and Annie Nelson; Charles Larson and Christina Applequist; Edward Millward and Eldora C. Briggs; Joseph Labelle and Josephine Barlange; F. A. Colburn and Mollie Brown.

In the case of S. J. Sutton vs. M. Harris & Bro., which comes up for trial in the district court to-day, Judge Brown, of Shakopee, appears for the complainant. The charge consisted of one of the leading members of the Minnesota bar and it is expected he will display his forensic skill and acumen in behalf of his client in this case. Twenty-nine years ago the judge practiced his profession in this city when it was only a village, and now he expresses astonishment at its large size and population.

The case of Carl August Dahlberg against the Minneapolis Street Railway company was on trial yesterday before Judge Koon and a jury. Damages are placed at $3,050 for injuries alleged to have been received by plaintiff while riding on a street car on Hennepin avenue on the 17th of last June. Dahlberg says in his complaint, that the car was driven in a rapid and careless manner and that his hand was caught between the car and certain planks which were driven into the ground and negligently left standing by the company in such a way as to render it almost impossible for the car to run past without colliding. The bones of his arm were broken and the flesh and muscles bruised, torn and injured.

Fannie Lee and Pearl Robinson are the romantic cognomines of two dainty women whose rooms are on Second avenue south. Dizzy they are, and as seely and uncouth as dizzy. In their faces could be read a history of sin and debauchery. They were ushered into the august presence of his honor by Ser-gent West yesterday afternoon. When the charge, "occupying apartments for immoral practices" was read to them by the blushing clerk each shook her head and with assimilated innocence pleaded not guilty. These were two male companions under arrest, also, and they had the temerity to give the disolute dames "dead away" by relating the whole occurrence. Fanny Lee paid a fine and costs which aggregated $7.50, and in default of the wherewith her cohort will reside at the sheriff's castle. Joseph Rusting and Sigman Kenseke, the male companions, each paid a fine in $5 and costs.

Useless Fright.

To worry about any Liver Kidney or Urinary trouble, especially Bright's Disease or Diabetes, is Hop Bitters never fails of a cure where a cure is possible. We know this.

A Bold Robbery.

Last Monday night a robbery was perpetrated in the Scandinavian boarding house conducted by O. Anderberg at 1418 Second street south. While the boarders were wrapped in deep slumber, some thief or thieves, to the slumbers unknown, entered their rooms and pilfered their pockets of all the money they contained. Two brothers named Swan and John Turner found the worst, the former losing $37 and John $145 besides some bank checks which he afterward found in his empty pocket near a wood pile hard by. Several of the boarders had their pockets rifled of various large amounts of money, aggregating about $18. Mr. Anderson has a fine boarding house he believes to be incapable of committing the larceny and he supposes some person acquainted with the premises entered the house while the door was unlocked and helped himself to the booty. No arrests made.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS, Diabetes and other diseases of the Kidneys and Liver, which you are being so frightened about, Hop Bitters is the only thing that will surely and permanently prevent and cure. All other remedies cure only relieves for a time and then make you many times worse.

The Sault Ste. Marie Railway.

A number of New York people who are interested in the Sault Ste. Marie railway project, which will make a new Minneapolis outlet to the sea board, attended a meeting of stockholders, when a reorganization was perfected. It was reported that a large amount of stock had been taken and that there was now no doubt as to the certainty of building the road. The engineers reported fine progress in making surveys and it was determined to purchase the steel rails for one hundred miles of track, from the Cambria, Pennsylvania, works. Considerable routine business was also transacted.

HOME AGAIN.

A Deceased Husband Follows his Faithless Wife to Holland and Returns the Former, Penitent and Forgiven to Her Home.

Early last summer, it will be remembered, Mrs. Michael Grogg, the wife of a well-to-do citizen who lived on South Third street, eloped with a Bohemian, taking a steamship for Europe, and also taking with them $700, the property of the deceased husband.

The Bohemian, who had just arrived from his native country, took board at Mr. Grogg's home. Mr. Grogg was in the employ of Wyman Elliot, out at his market gardens, and it was during his absence that the wily Bohemian successfully assailed the affections of the fickle dame, and set sail as man and wife for Europe. The unhappy husband learning the steamship upon which the guilty pair had embarked, at once sent a cablegram to Paris demanding the arrest of the parties. The instructions of the cablegram were faithfully observed and the two were landed in limbo and the husband notified. The husband at once started for Holland whither the prisoners were removed. Husband and wife met, and it was the old story. First a towering passion on the part of one; tears, entreaties and prayers on the part of the other; then the man's stern heart relented and the penitent wife was again taken to the heart of her affinity. Of the $700 she still had $300 which she delivered up, and as happy as a newly married couple they returned to their Minneapolis home.

It is related that during the Bohemian's incarceration in Holland, Grogg's friends were in the habit of taking him out of prison every few days, on which occasions they would whip and scold him and indulge in a few other such playful pleasantries, which, however, the victim scarcely appreciated.

THAT ORIENTAL TEA.

An Attractive, Happy and Exceedingly Unique Affair.

Yesterday afternoon the oriental Tea of the Methodist Episcopal church opened at the Centenary church. The attendance was somewhat large and the occasion an exceptionally happy one. The displays of articles from the orient were gorgeous. There are arranged around the parlors booths representing various countries. The American booth is the first to be seen upon entering the door, and it is charge of charming young ladies from the Franklin avenue church. In the corner at the left is the booth representing Japan and is presided over by the young ladies of the Centenary church with Misses Lena Butler and Carrie Campbell in Japanese costume. The booth representing India is in the right hand corner and is in charge of young ladies of the thirtieth avenue church, with Misses Alice Joy and Jennie Jones in costume; still to the right is Africa under the auspices of the First M. E. church of the east side, presided over by the young ladies of the church and a little to the right boy just brought from Africa by Rev. Dr. Campbell, a missionary to that country. China is represented on the opposite side by the Hennepin avenue church, with Misses Nellie Foss and Mary Williams in costume.

The music is delightful and is furnished by the united orchestras of the Centenary and of the Hennepin avenue churches.

To each purchaser of a ticket is presented a china cup, and saucer, and napkin, and souvenirs of the occasion. Refreshments are also served each visitor.

LAW LIBRARY OPENING.

The Auspicious and Festive Opening of the Magnificent New Law Library Last Evening.

Last evening the new law library was formally opened. The rooms are in the old Academy of Music building, and are under the auspices of the Minneapolis Bar association. Informal addresses were made by members of the association and everything was happy and well timed.

The nucleus of the library was contributed by Thomas Lowry last winter in the donation of his excellent library, embracing some 1,200 volumes. On the 20th of February last the association took out a charter and perfected a permanent organization in the election of Hon. Eugene M. Wilson to the presidency. The association secured modest quarters at No. 220 Nicollet avenue, where the donation of the magnanimous projector was placed. Little by little since additions have been made through donations of members and friends until now the library comprises over 3,000 volumes, containing the reports of every state in the union, and all the circuit court reports.

The new rooms are given the association free of rent by Messrs. Herrick & Lowry, and comprise two large, airy rooms.

The Art Loan.

The art loan exhibition at No. 421 South Washington avenue was thrown open to the public last night, and the galleries were thronged by people. The collection as a whole is surprisingly fine, while there are many things which would not credit to a poor man's dining room. The public seems satisfied with the display, however.

THE WASHBURNE WILL.

The Insane Widow of the Late Senator Washburne entitled to her Dower in All the Real Estate Left by the Late Senator, as well as One-Third of the Value of All Personal Property in the State of Wisconsin.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 20.—The circuit court of La Crosse rendered judgment substantially, that Jennette Washburne, insane widow of the late Gov. Washburne, should recover dower in one-third of the real estate of which the testator was seized during his marriage, together with one-third of the net personal estate of the testator, and that the executors should admeasure and set off as such dower, to Jennette Washburne, one-third in value of the testator's real estate in Wisconsin, considering the timber out by them since the testator's death, as standing and growing upon said lands, and a part thereof at the time of the admeasurement of the dower. That the executors should pay to George K. Chase, as guardian for the said Jennette Washburne, one-third of the net personal estate of the testator at the time of his decease, together with one-third of the issues and profits of testator's personal estate received or collected by the said executors; and further that they should account for and pay over to the said guardian, for the said Jennette Washburne, one-third of the rents, issues and profits of the testator's real estate, in Wisconsin, exclusive of pine out from said timber lands, which have come, or are to come, into their hands. The court, in the opinion rendered to-day by Chief Justice Cole, held that this could be said to be a "deviser" or "other provision" made for the widow within the meaning of the statute, which provides for any lands be devised to a woman or other provision be made for her in the will of her husband she shall make her selection, whether she will take the lands so devised or the provisions so made, or whether she will claim the share of his estate allowed her by law. The next question considered was does the statute apply to an insane person? The court held that it does. The court therefore decides that the judgment of the circuit court, in construing the provisions made in the will for the support of the widow, as well as in the directions to the executor in regard to the execution of their trusts, is erroneous. Judge Lyon, while concurring in the opinion of the court, in all other respects, yet dissents from the election made by the court, and holds that the court should have made election for her, which she, were she sane, and capable of exercising reasonable judgment, would make for herself. I cannot doubt, in that event, she would elect to waive the provisions made for her in the will, and take the interest in her late husband's estate, which the statute in such case would give her.

A KICK AT KEIFER.

He is Not to Receive the Complimentary Vote of His Party for the Speakership.

New York, Nov. 20.—The Hackensack, N. J., Republican will contain to-morrow the interview with Wm. Walter Phelps, member elect to the next congress, in which he gives expression to the general wish among the Republican members of the next house if Mr. Speaker Keifer should refuse to be the candidate for the empty honor of re-nomination. It seems Phelps has written to Keifer at the suggestion of members from different parts of the country, some of whom have served before and others who enter congress for the first time. They believe that their party will be strengthened by having a new departure and that the names of representatives is the best place to begin the new movement in the selection of new men for old positions. It is said the reason why Phelps was selected to carry on this correspondence was because he is not personally acquainted with the ex-speaker and being a New Jersey Republican, he has not been involved in any of the factional quarrels of the party, he is therefore acceptable to both stalwarts and reformers. In this interview Phelps expressed the opinion that the ex-speaker, having the welfare of the Republican party at heart, will not fail to recognize it, and its future success depends on united action, which can only be obtained by mutual, full and friendly concessions, and avoidance of any action that will tend to keep up the disagreements of the past two or three years. Phelps, in the name of the party, appealed to Keifer to announce to his friends that he would not accept a re-nomination. He felt sure that Keifer's example would be followed by the sergeant-at-arms and other officers of the last house. Keifer's reply is not yet to hand.
