TO-DAY'S WEATHER. WASHINGTON, Dec. 8, 1 a. m.—Indications for the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, colder weather, northwesterly winds, rising, followed in the northern portions by falling barometer, warmer southerly winds.

CITY GLOBULES. The wife of officer Getchell, of the police force, died yesterday. Col. J. H. Wood is looking up some of his property in the courts.

The Evening Star Social club held a select party at Pfeiffer's hall last evening. Three cases of diphtheria are reported as existing in the family of Chas. Meyers, in the Sixth ward.

Auton Lavin Olson was arrested yesterday afternoon for indecent exposure of his person on the streets. The sale of seats for the engagement of the "Metors" will open at the Opera house at 9 o'clock this morning.

The sum of $15,500 will be disbursed by the city treasurer to-day in payment for work done by city contractors. Since the workhouse was opened Feb. 15, of this year, 700 prisoners have been committed from the municipal court.

Complaint was made in the city hall yesterday of reckless blasting in excavating a cellar on Western avenue, between Prairie and Goodrich avenues. S. P. Crosby, Esq., filed a suit in the district court yesterday, to recover fifty dollars attorney's fees of P. B. Davis, for defending his son in a legal case.

Last night little Charley Hinzenbaugh, in charge of the librettos at the opera house, found a plain gold ring in the foyer. It bears the inscription "J. N. H., 1880," and the owner may recover it at the box office of the Opera house.

The city engineer has received a number of written inquiries from different parts of the country as to the commencement of work on the Seventh street bridge. A number of ocean contractors are in St. Paul preparing their bids.

An effort is being made to liberate Bill Flannigan on bail, held before the municipal court for appearance before the grand jury for the larceny of tobacco and cigars. A hearing will be had in the case before Judge Simons at 10 a. m. to-day.

Agnes Irvine, employed as a domestic at an East Fifth street boarding house, was arrested yesterday afternoon in a condition of glorious ebriety. Agnes has been before the court before on the same charge; having recently served a term in the workhouse.

E. S. Bowdish, charged with obtaining letters from the postoffice addressed to his divorced wife, on forged orders, was arraigned before Judge Nelson, of the United States circuit court yesterday and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to a fine of $50, which he paid.

J. B. Altemoth, postmaster of Leavenworth, this state, was brought to St. Paul by Marshal Denny yesterday, and lodged in jail on the charge of violating the postal laws. His offense consisted in disposing of $16 worth of old postage stamps. The examination will take place to-day.

He was returning from the opera last evening, singing the favorite love song which peculiarly struck him in the ear, when his feet went out from beneath him on the slippery walk to a twinkling, and there was no composure near to catch the new note bit off so shortly in the third quarter.

Deputy Sheriff J. S. Ames of Fargo, having Hans Martia Peterson and Peter Thompson, two insane persons in charge, en route to the territorial asylum, lodged them in the Ramsey county jail yesterday between trains. One of these madmen created considerable curiosity by his talent as a whistler.

PERSONAL.

H. Haverlock Smith, England, is at the Metropolitan. Senator A. E. Rice, Kandiyohi, was in the city yesterday. Samuel D. Smith, Ft. Shaw, was at the Merchants yesterday.

John H. Brown, Willmar, was at the Metropolitan yesterday. W. B. McConnell and C. A. Roberts, Fargo, are at the Merchants. Hon. Leon Hand, of Little Falls, was in the city several hours yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Webster, of Grand Forks, were in St. Paul yesterday. Hon. P. Donan, Fargo, was registered at the Metropolitan hotel yesterday. Ex-Gov. Pillsbury, of Minneapolis, passed a few hours in St. Paul yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Benjamin, of Winnipeg, were at the Merchants hotel yesterday. John A. Barnett, Devil's Lake, and L. D. Marshall, Chippewa Falls, were in the city yesterday. L. N. Seip, and H. F. Thompson, Duluth, were registered at the Merchants yesterday.

Col. W. S. Johnson, formerly of St. Paul, and now proprietor of the Railway house, Milwaukee, was in the city yesterday. Captain and Brevet Colonel E. Rice, Fifth United States infantry, of Fort Keogh, has been ordered on a four years' tour of service at Fort Leavenworth, and will start immediately for that post.

Lieut. F. Kingsbury, Second United States cavalry, of Fort Maginnis, Montana, passed through St. Paul yesterday with his family for Milwaukee, having received a six months' leave of absence. A board of officers was in session at Fort Snelling yesterday to decide upon the retirement of Lieut. Col. Brotherton, Seventh United States infantry. It is stated that Major Ball, Second cavalry, now in St. Paul confined to his room, will probably also be retired by this same board.

Among the gentlemen who find it necessary to visit St. Paul frequently on business, none are more welcome than Mr. John P. Libby, formerly a St. Paul boy, who has recently been elected to the important office of treasurer of Anoka county. He has a host of friends wherever he is, and in Anoka has made an enviable reputation in business, political and social circles, culminating in his elevation to an office of high trust. He was elected by a handsome majority and is most kindly spoken of, even by the newspapers differing with him politically. He is sure to make an excellent officer and his friends congratulate both him and his constituents on his election.

Information Declined. To the Editor of the Globe. The interested public, which is so desirous of ascertaining the identity of "Tattler," fills my ambitious seal with fond delights, but not so fond nor so replete with entrancing joy as those which, doubtless, possesses our Ed., otherwise "Critic," when Geraldine smiles upon him—always, however, in a Pickwickian sense—as he is seated in a box, the observed of all observers. While I am ambitious I am modest. This is my capital. Should I reveal my identity my enemies might, with some show of justice, accuse me of vanity. Now, if I were a critic capable of writing a critique like our Ed., for instance, a critique garbed with glittering generalities and just a shadow of personal predilection, I might not blush to spring my graces and my personnel upon an anxious and a waiting world. But fame's trumpet has never blown for me. I must needs be content to be a mere looker on, a modest spectator of the passing show.

I am truly sorry my warm admiration of Miss Ulymer has been characterized by one evidently of a worldly mind as gushing. When the heart is full the mouth speaketh. It is so seldom that we see a conscientious artist on the operatic stage in St. Paul, and one who has plainly maintained her woman's sweet modesty, that I felt impelled to bear humble witness to my convictions. The trashy renditions of so-called artists to which we have been treated in St. Paul by that "worldly minded" (and perhaps correctly) denominated "barnstormers" is such that we ought to appreciate to the full the work of the Boston Idealists. Do you know there are some newspaper writers—critics (!) if you please—who think criticism means condemnation, and they find it quite impossible to write a report of an evening's performance without selecting some feature to condemn. This is the gauge of their nobility. It proves that no matter what efforts the agents and managers may make in a social way, they are not to be hoodwinked. Now our Ed., be it understood, is not one of these. No "mash" disturbs the even tenor of his way or blinds his critical judgment, be it our mash or stage mash. I fear he is indeed painfully Spartan in his resolutions in this respect. But as for me, well, I am still exceedingly mashed.
