

Official Paper of the City and County. Printed and Published Every Day in the Year. ST. PAUL GLOBE PRINTING COMPANY. No. 321 Wabasha Street, St. Paul.

NEW TERMS OF THE GLOBE. SEVEN ISSUES PER WEEK—BY CARRIER. One Year, payable in advance, $8.00. Three Months, payable in advance, 2.50. Six Months, 4.25.

WEEKLY GLOBE. By Mail—postage paid, per year, $1.15. SUNDAY GLOBE. By Carrier—per year, $2.00. By Mail—per year, postage paid, $1.50.

EXTRAORDINARY OFFER.

Clubbing Rates of the Globe With New York Papers. The Globe has perfected clubbing arrangements whereby it is enabled to offer the N. Y. World, an eight-page paper, in connection with the GLOBE, at the following extraordinary low rates:

YESTERDAY'S MARKETS. The local wheat market yesterday was flat and lower all around. Oats advanced a point and corn was steady. Milwaukee was dull and fluctuated considerably and futures, Chicago fluctuated considerably and was uneasy, closing 1/2 cent lower; corn was firmer and closed a shade higher for March and May, February being unchanged. There was no change in money at New York, prices being the same as on Friday.

THE PEOPLE OF MINNEAPOLIS voted to issue $250,000 in bonds to the Minneapolis & Northwestern railway as a bonus for a railroad from that city to St. Cloud. The St. Paul & Manitoba road succeeded to the Minneapolis & Northwestern franchise and built the road, but now when they ask the bonds, the city contests the matter in the courts, and a bench of Minneapolis judges decide, on various technical grounds, that the bonds need not issue. In commenting with glee upon their success in avoiding an honorable obligation, the Tribune says:

THE SICK MAN OF EUROPE. The phrase "The Sick Man" has long been applied to the Turkish government, but that staggering and corrupt despotic dynasty, at once the grave of morality and the menace of christianity, continues to hold on its way despite all crippling disasters and prophecies of its down fall and extinction. Missionaries in that country, over a half century ago, confidently predicted the downfall of the great Empire, through the wish was doubtless faith to the thought. One of these authorities so long ago as 1832 represented the Turkish Empire as near its close, that he predicted that ten years more of changes like the ten preceding years, would finish its history.

Why are so many Christians despairing and discouraged when trials come to them? By accepting it. "I love them that love me," are his words. Let any one, earnestly desirous of God's friendship, go to Him and put himself at His disposal, making this agreement: "I will do thy will, thou shalt take care of me," and he will know what sort of a friend God is. Not at once will the fullness of the knowledge come to him; all things are learned by lessons, but gradually, step by step, often interrupted by failures and temptations of the devil, oft times hindered by besetting sins; but, if the man only keeps on trying, God will continue to help him until, past all doubt, he will come into intimate communion and friendship with God.

AND HENCE OF CRIMINALITY, AND REDEEMED BY A RADIANT VIRTUE.

GOD AS A FRIEND. The Lord is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him. Nahum, 1-7. Great is thy faithfulness. Lam. 2-8-38. When God wished to convince Elijah that he was able to take care of his own friends, and that however adverse the circumstances surrounding them, he would bring them safely through, he commanded him to stand upon Mount Horeb. A great and strong wind rent the mountain, but the Lord was not in the wind. And after the wind an earthquake; but the Lord was not in the earthquake; and after the earthquake a fire, but the Lord was not in the fire; and after the fire a still small voice, and when Elijah heard it he wrapped his face in his mantle for he was the voice of God. So now although "He thundereth in the heavens," and with the breath of his nostrils sinks islands in the midst of the sea, and overwhelms cities with lava and floods, yet God is not in the wind or the flood.

As a true loving friend, a "friend that sticketh closer than a brother," God commends himself to the children of men. Theologians and atheists may argue for and against the existence of a Supreme Being, but the friend of God has within himself the most conclusive evidence that there is a God. We know we live because we are conscious of the fact, no argument could convince us to the contrary; so the friend of God feels his presence, hears his words, is upheld by his strength.

In the case of human friendship a great deal is assumed. From the foundation of congeniality and trust has arisen the perfect building; kindly words and acts cemented by tenderness, sympathy and confidence have built its walls. The man is your friend, you are sure of it now after long years, but at first you took him on trust, you assumed the friendships that time has proven. So in the case of God, the human heart feels the need of some friend above and beyond itself, who is not limited by the conditions of time and humanity, and to this intense longing, this voiceless appeal, the heart of God responds, and when once this friendship has entered into a human life no argument or ridicule can drive it out.

What ear can listen to the voice of the sinner which has heard God saying, "Fear not, I am thy God." What heart ever despaired that felt underneath it the everlasting Arms.

One reason why God is the best friend a man can have is his nearness. He is always close at hand to sympathize or rejoice with; to comfort or to strengthen. There is no hour of the day that he is not near to bless. At night, when the helplessness of sleep and darkness are around one, there is to whisper, "Thy friend never slumbereth or sleppeth." When sickness brings a man down into the very shadows of the valley of death, the never-failing hand of his friend holds him up, and that voice, whose loving tones can hush the roar of the dark waters, says, "I am the Lord. I have loved thee with an everlasting love."

Another reason why God is a friend above all others is that he is "abundantly able to do all that we can ask or think." Earthly friends are limited by all the conditions of humanity, want of means, of power, of influence; ignorant of the best way to help, or crippled by their own burdens they are helpless to aid although their hearts are kind and loyal. But God never fails any who put their trust in him. He has promised to bring all his friends safely through the trials and temptations of this world, to compare their great enemy death and give them eternal life where there shall be no sin or sorrow, and he can do what he has promised. "My Father which gave them me is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand," said the Divine Teacher. Besides he knows what we need, his friendship is never hampered by ignorance. God never makes mistakes. Omnipotent and omniscient there is no friend like our God.

He is an eternal friend; about him is "no variableness, neither shadow of turning." That supreme love that paid the price to ransom men, and which has never for one hour forgotten, or ceased to love them, will remain true and steadfast to all eternity. "I am the Lord, I change not. Hath God spoken and shall he not make it good?"

Goldness and suspicion alienate human friends; conflicting interests or the infirmities of our nature separate old and tried comrades, but, "God is not a man that he should repent," He will never go back on a friend. His enemies have never been able to adduce one instance of God's faithlessness. No man ever trusted him and was disappointed. Paul says: "I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

How can a man secure the friendship of God? By accepting it. "I love them that love me," are his words. Let any one, earnestly desirous of God's friendship, go to Him and put himself at His disposal, making this agreement: "I will do thy will, thou shalt take care of me," and he will know what sort of a friend God is. Not at once will the fullness of the knowledge come to him; all things are learned by lessons, but gradually, step by step, often interrupted by failures and temptations of the devil, oft times hindered by besetting sins; but, if the man only keeps on trying, God will continue to help him until, past all doubt, he will come into intimate communion and friendship with God.

THE RAILWAYS.

INCORPORATION OF THE LANESBORO, ROCHESTER & ST. PAUL ROAD.

The Grand Forks, Crookston & Superior Road—How the Lackawanna Built the Trunk Lines—Various Items of General Interest. The Grand Forks, Crookston & Superior Road—How the Lackawanna Built the Trunk Lines—Various Items of General Interest. The Grand Forks, Crookston & Superior Road—How the Lackawanna Built the Trunk Lines—Various Items of General Interest.

LANESBORO, ROCHESTER & ST. PAUL RAILROAD.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state yesterday by the Lackawanna, Rochester & St. Paul Railroad company, for surveying, locating, owning, constructing, maintaining and operating a railroad and telegraph line or lines, with necessary depots, stations, warehouses, construction and repair shops, side tracks, switches, and other necessary appurtenances, from a point on the Iowa state line, in the county of Fillmore, running in a northerly direction by the way of Lauesboro and Rochester, and terminating in the city of St. Paul.

GRAND FORKS, CROOKSTON & LAKE SUPERIOR ROAD.

The Grand Forks Plaindealer of the 17th has the following about this road: It is projected to hold meetings throughout Polk county and have the work of canvassing properly done. It is expected by the directors and those who are furthering the road that each town will raise about $1,000; that together with individual stock will probably give a total of $500,000. The construction of the road is estimated at $2,000,000, and the placing of the same in operation at about the same amount.

THE TRUNK LINE POOL BONDS COVERED BY THE LACKAWANNA—OVERTURES FOR PEACE.

The fight between the Lackawanna Railroad company and the great trunk line pool came to a sudden close Thursday. The fact that the Nickel Plate the day before refused freight offered by the Lackawanna is already well known. When the latter was refused by the firm of Rogers, Lathrop & Mitchell, attorneys for the Lackawanna, departed for New York to confer with the head men of the company. The result of their deliberations was made known Thursday when a telegram was received here ordering an injunction to be served on the Nickel-Plate officials. The attorneys appeared before Judge Haight, of the supreme court, at Buffalo, at three o'clock, and inside of an hour a temporary injunction was served on all the representatives of the Nickel Plate in Buffalo. By the latter were enjoined from exacting as a condition of the receipt of freight from the Lackawanna that such freight should be transhipped or rebilled, from refusing to receive or haul freight tendered in the ordinary manner or from imposing any conditions or exacting any orders, rules, or regulations respecting the manner of the delivery of freight other than such as are ordinarily exacted by the company.

STATEMENTS DENIED.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The statement accredited to Commissioner Pierson, to the effect that the Chicago & Alton and the Rock Island roads had agreed to discontinue the payment of commissions in the eastern trunk line territory, is denied by the officials of those roads. They will continue to pay commissions to their regular agents, or to any one else they may choose to employ, will, however, pay the agreed maximum commissions at differential fare points in the trunk line territory of $3 on first-class and $2.50 on second class, or the same as formerly, and they have agreed to discontinue relations with any outside parties who will use these commissions for the purpose of breaking rates. The officers of the Rock Island and Alton state that this understanding was reached by direct negotiations between Messrs. Cable and McMillen, representing their roads, and Mr. Fink representing the eastern roads.

NEW EAST FREIGHT LINE.

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—The Hoosac Tunnel East Freight line, is organized to run over the Fitchburg, Troy and Boston, the Delaware and Hudson Canal company's road, the New York, Lake Erie & Western and connections, and the Grand Trunk, west from Buffalo and all its western connections. W. E. Everest was appointed general manager with headquarters at Buffalo.

THE OLD RATES.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Commissioner Pierson states that according to an arrangement between the four trunk lines represented in the joint executive committee and the Missouri River, Lackawanna and West Shore roads, passenger rates will be restored to the old basis on Monday.

SHOT AND KILLED.

PERHAM, Minn., Jan. 19.—August Metchler, saloon keeper, was shot and instantly killed by a plasterer named Steiner, and three threats of lynching. The deceased leaves a wife and eight children.

A SCARCER ARTICLE.

MEAN WHO ARE SUFFICIENTLY UNPREJUDICED TO ACT AS JURORS.

Two Panels in the Hanley Murder Case Exhausted Yesterday, and Two of the Jurors Sidelined—The Case Adjudged Still Monday. In yesterday's, the second day's, proceedings in the Thomas Hanley murder trial, the district court room was even more densely crowded than on Friday, when out of a panel of thirty jurors but five were accepted and sworn. With the exception of some three or four, the special venire for thirty additional jurors were present and on Judge Wilkin's taking his seat promptly at 10 a. m., the counsel for the state and defense commenced the whitening down process of challenges for cause and for bias, until when the market hour clock announced the noon hour the special venire was exhausted, only five jurors having been selected, and the remaining twenty-five were taken their seats with the five sworn the day previous, making the whole number impaneled, count ten.

IN THE SHOALS.

W. H. Guion, of the Famous Steamship Line, Makes an Assignment—Caught in the Whirlpool of Wall Street—His Liabilities Over Two Millions. NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Wm. H. Guion, of the late firm of Williams & Guion, has made an assignment for the benefit of his individual creditors. The firm of Williams & Guion was dissolved in consequence of the embarrassment of Wm. H. Guion. Guion's liabilities are rumored to be $2,000,000. The assignment was made to Avery T. Bacon. The failure results solely from outside operations. The credit of the firm of Williams & Guion will not be impaired, as it has been known for some time that Guion was in the steamship line and other assets were largely withdrawn. Guion's troubles concern only himself. The firm of Williams & Guion are not at all affected by the assignment. A. T. Bacon, assignee, said: Guion has made a clean assignment, without preferences. I can form no idea of the liabilities, but do not believe that they will reach $2,000,000, or half of it. As to the assets, no body can even approximate them. I do not know that Guion is wealthy. He thinks he is, and asked me to be his assignee, to which I agreed. I don't know the cause of the trouble. I have heard that Guion has been too good hearted in lending money to his friends. I know him to be an extraordinarily largehearted man and unable to say "no" to some people, and so it is possible he has made some bad debts in that way. The company cannot possibly be hurt, as Williams & Guion are only agents. I think that Guion will be able to get out of the steamship line of the line. He may have had some stock in the company. I don't believe he has been speculating. I shall begin Monday to prepare a schedule, when it is completed we can tell exactly. The firm of Williams & Guion was dissolved by mutual consent on Friday. The new firm under the name of Guion & Co., comprising Stephen P. Guion, his younger brother, Wm. H. Guion, whose residence is in England, and Wm. G. Guion, Jr., who will represent the company in this city hereafter. Several judgments have been recorded recently in the office of the county clerk against Guion. A suit is now pending in the supreme court brought by Duncan Sniffen, as a stockholder in the Stringfellow Gold Mining company, on behalf of himself and others who may join him in an action against Wm. H. Guion and others, as trustees of the company for an amount of $100,000. The company was organized in this city in October, 1873, with a capital of $2,500,000. It is alleged that Guion, in connection with the other trustees of the company, gave the whole capital stock in exchange for mining property, and subsequently got it back and placed it on the market as full paid capital stock, and that afterwards they divided it among themselves as individuals. This action is brought to compel the defendants to account for this capital stock.

MRS. ASTOR'S PARTY.

One of the Most Brilliant Social Events of the Season to be Given on Wednesday Evening—Princely Preparations. [Special Telegram to the Globe.] NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The invitations for Mrs. Astor's ball, which comes off on Monday evening, are now being eagerly sought after, and while many ladies in the city have been remembered, not a few are very much disappointed. One thousand invitations have been sent out. The preparations are complete. A wide aving will lead from the curbstone to the door, from which the guests will pass along the marble hall catching glimpses of the brightly lighted drawing rooms on either side; thence up the stairway, also of white marble trimmed with dark green leaves, to the elegant dressing rooms. The picture gallery is to be ornamented with great palm and India rubber trees, and a large number of black and white chairs. Supper will begin at 12 o'clock, and will be served in the long dining room, the table being placed lengthwise at one end of the room. It will, it is believed, be one of the most successful suppers ever served in New York. In the center will be an oval plate of glass and silver, on which will stand a great silver bowl filled with flowers. On either side of this will be a high silver pedestal, also of glass and silver, with daintily colored shades. The plates and the dishes used will be of the celebrated solid silver service. The German will begin immediately after supper, previous to which the dances will be held. Mr. Lippenard Stewart will lead the dancing with Miss Carrie Astor. The favors have been arranged by Tiffany, and are extremely pretty. Those for the ladies include bracelets and necklaces, and for the gentlemen, some antique style with pendant medallions, some representing chains of bright silver beads and plain bands. For the gentlemen, among other things, are scarf pins of oxidized silver representing a variety of designs, including black and white. All of these are tied with large satin ribbon bows of gay colors, on the end of which appear in silver letters to match the favor the date, January 21, 1884.

GOING FOR THE GRAND JURY.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.

THE HANLEY MURDER CASE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The officers of the Citizens' league, an association whose object is the suppression of the sale of spirituous liquors to minors, have outlined an assault on the grand jury by challenging the right of a number of saloon-keepers who are named to serve on the panel. This has occasioned a sort of an open war with the liquor dealers of the city, who have called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to define their position. The Citizens' league makes the claim that the grand jury has been made up heretofore with the sole view of defeating any indictment sought to be made against saloon-keepers.