Chicago Financial.

|Special Telegram to the Globe. | CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—During the week the banks have been well supplied with loanable funds and the market has been easy. A fair demand has existed. Regular customers and all others in good standing obtained all the money they required at 6@7 per cent. Large loans on call were made at 5@5½ per cent. In the line of deposits there has been an increase, and collections have improved. The trade of the city is slowly but gradually picking up. The movement of currency to the has been moderate and receipts have exceeded shipments. A large percentage of the provisions and the immense stocks of grain here. Rail rates to the seaboard are by no means steady, and it is rumored that 20c per 100 lbs. is the rate for grain to New York. Te-day there was a fair demand for money, and rates were quoted at 5 per cent. on call and 6 per cent. on time. Eastern exchange between city banks was firmer at 70c premium per $1,000. The clearings were $17,038,000; for the week they foot up $51,108,212; for January they were $200,979,283.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The report of last week's shipments from Chicago east bound, shows a still further decrease, the tonnage having fallen off 8,000 tons. Chicago grain is still securely housed, and there is no immediate prospect of a movement toward the seaboard. So light are the exports of grain at present that European steamers are reported so hard up for freight that they are taking crude petroleum in barrels, something never before heard of. There are three noteworthy features of the There are three notworthy features of the week: The extraordinary increase in the Grand Trunk's percentage; a corresponding decrease in Michigan Central tonnage, and the immense shipments of flour reported by the Lake Shore. The Grand Trunk has made an astonishing jump from 9.8 percent, to 20.5 per cent., but this is easily accounted for by self-confession of cutting rates. The Michigan Central has executed a graceful tumble of 2 points, which its competitors look upon with grave suspicion. They freely assert that the Michigan Central tonnage has increased during the past week instead of decreased, but it is not Central tonnage has increased during the past week instead of decreased, but it is not shewn in the Chicago report, because a majority has been billed from Joliet. Commissioner Moore says that he receives daily reports of Joliet shipments and pronounces the charge without foundation. The hake Shore carried last week nearly one-half of the entire flour tonnage from Chicago, and while its officials claim to be abiding by tariff rates, its competitors claim to to have positive proof that a few cars were taken at a cut rate. Charges are made that the Fort Wayne is cutting rates, but there is nothing to indicate the fact. The Baltimore & Ohio is the only line east-bound from Chicago against which there is not the faintest breath of suspicion. It is conceded on all sides that they are maintaining rates, It is not unlikely Mr. Fink will order a general reduction in rates within a few days. The Baltimore & Ohio has submitted its grievances and asked the commis-sioner to do something to correct the existing evils. The road is not only seriously affected by the irregularities at Chicago, but at St. Louis the same disturbances are encountered. The Ohio & Mississippi, its St. Louis connection, has forwarded to the Baltimore & Ohio emphatic assertions, backed up by affidavits, that other St. Louis roads are not abiding by the tariff.

The pork statement shows a decrease in reserve of $180,-400, which is more favorable to the business situation than anything we have had I for some time unless it is entirely the result of navigation. The market is purely a professional one. The short interest is very largely eliminated. The only question is whether the powerful leaders who have ranged themselves on the bull side will be able to advance prices further and maintain them until the public come in and relieve them of their load. Sharp room traders are predicting lower prices for Monday. We are told to buy Central Pacific on all reactions. The market closes strong with confident predictions of higher prices.

BOR INGERSOLL ON THE MOMENTOUS QUESTION OF LYING.

He Wants to Turn the Kascals out of Jails and Fill Them With Merchants Who Deceive-The Agitation of the Sugar Tariff -Chicago Sure to get the Democratic Convention.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—In supporting his me

tion to quash an indictment against Fitzgerard, the crooked pension agent, Col. Ingersoll today, in Judge Wylie's court, took the position that plain lying was not punishable. He claimed that it was not a pretense in a criminal sense for a man to pretend that the law makes a certain provision which he knew it did not make. In illustrating his idea of the scheme Col. Ingersoll said:. "I might tell a man I had a horse that could trot in 2:10 when in fact he could not trot in 4:40. That is what I call a single lie. It doe not rise to the dignity of a scheme." His idea of a scheme was one in which gross ingenuity was tied so neatly over the path of truth that a wayfarer would fall at the right place and time If to make a simple misrepresentation to defraud, was a crime, a merchant who advertised to cecied shipments. A large percentage of the money in the bank vaults is tied up in carrying provisions and the immense stocks of grain here, to make reom for his spring stock and put his advertisement in the mail in circular form was guilty of such a scheme. All over the country goods were being sold in this manner. If this was law, he said, and if it was enforced it would wind up the civilization of the nineteenth century. They could not carry it on as it now was without false pretenses. If he saw a piece of cloth marked 331/4, he would believe that it contained only thirty-one yards. If a grocer advertised six candles to a pound they could rest assured it would take nearly seven to make a pound. If the proprietors of the Buncombe Railway company said it was nearly completed paying, so much, three-fourths of the statement would be untrue; if all these misrepresentations could be dignified as schemes to defraud and indictable offenses, then he thought it would be cheaper to put honest fellows in the penitentiary and let the others out. There would be plenty of room for the honest fellows, but not enough for the others.

> Within a few days delegations from the sugar exchange, Planters' association and other organizations in New Orleans will come to Washngton to advise the dominant power in congress that the sugar tariff a revenue tariff, and ought not to be disturbed. Those interested in sugar in that state have been stirred by reports that the tariff reformers intend to cut sugar rates in common with other tariff reductions, and that they may even put sugar on the free list. It is safe to say that the presence of the delegation in the lobby will do no good to the interest they represent. It will simply serve to attract lightning and a reduction of the sugar duties will be erious by congress. Louisiana people are also troubled by rumors that agents of Clouse Spreckels, the monopolist of the sugar trade from the Hawaiian islands, are actively at work in the city to secure an extension of the begefits of the reciprocity treaty with the Sandwich islands. Representatives of the Pacific coast say they know of no such movement. General Rosecrans says the treaty gives the United Strtes great advertages, especially the exclusive right to use the tslands for coaling stations, and the abrogation of the treaty would seriously damage the interests of the United States. Spreckel's has managed by the use of the capital and geographical advantages to obtain control of the sugar trade on the Pacific coast, and far enough cast to compete successfully with eastern refineries and Louisana sugars, but if the treaty was annulled sugar would be no cheaper on the coast than now. Spreckels would add the duty to the price of sugar, and consumers would be obliged to pay even more unreasonable prices than he exacts from them

A NEW BUILDING FOR CHICAGO. Representative Davis made an argument this no intention to attack that law. He was norning before the house public building com-strongly in favor of the civil service act, mittee in favor of his bill which authorizes the erection of a government building for the use of the local appraiser and other officers on the old Bridewell and dock property in Chicago. As the land belongs to the government and the needed building would cost only $50,000, Mr. Davis thinks there is a good prospect for a favorable report from the committee. The secretary of the treasury and Collector Spaulding recommend the erection of the building.

THE DUTY ON WOOL. Everybody at the capitol to-day was talking about the Ohio proposition to restore the duty on wool to the rate imposed prior to the act of 1883. The California and Texas delegations are interested in this matter to a large extent, and as the Converse resolution can't pass under suspension of the rules without a twothirds vote, the attitude of these two wool growing states is important. Both of them had been accounted certain to vote for restoring the duty, but representatives from these states say their wool growers will be satisfied with a reduction on woolen manufactures and a substantial diminution of the duties that are imposed upon articles that are consumed by them. That would compensate them for what they lose by the cutting of rates on wool. It was reported to-day that several Ohio congressmen would not support the Converse resolution, but Mr. Converse says this is not so. Ohio will give twenty votes for it, and he hopes it will be adopted. It appears, however, that Ohio men are hesitating about bringing forward the resolution next port the Converse proposition, and the wool names on their side to give them a two-hirds vote even if they could get the solid Republican support, which they will not get. The pressure from Ohio is so strong that Ohio congressmen will probably feel obliged to take the risk of a trial of the strength of the resoluion next Monday.

SHE WILL GET HER LICENSE. Secretary Folger has referred the ap. plication of Mrs. Mary A. Miller for a license as] master of a steamboat to the local inspector of the New Orleans distriet, with instructions to inquire concerning her qualifications for the position, and if found competent, to issue her a license. The secretary in a letter to the inspector says, "A woman, Mary A. Miller by name, seeks to be licensed as master of a steam vessel on the inland waters of the United States. I know nothing imperative in the reason of things, in natural law, in public policy, or in good morals, why a woman, if she is skilled, honest and intelligent, hardy and prudent enough, may not have ommand of a steam vessel and navigate it, and manage and conduct the business carried on with it. To do that is to be the master of a steam vessel. The secretary quotes the sections of law bearing upon the subject, and says, doubtless these sections speak in the masculine gender. If it be said that, therefore, they do not contemplate licensing the person a feminine, it is no more technical and close to reply, they are statutes in derogation to the common law, by which, or not in contravention of which, any person, whether female or male, may paddle her or his own canoe, or steer or command her or his own yessel. I see no reason in the written or unwritten law, why Mistress Miller may not carefully demand an examination, and if she prove herself duly qualified, have a license to serve as master of a steam vessel, nor is there need of talk, pro or con in the social status, or woman's rights, so called. Having been put on God's footsteel by him, she has the right to win her bread in any moral, decent way which is open to any of his toiling creatures. She choose to do so as the master of a steam vessel. It is an honest calling. If she is fitted for it, though clothed in skirts rather than breeches, she has the right to follow it. Let local inspectors, putting behind them all thought of her sex, without antagonism and without partiality, make diligent inquiry as to her character, carefully examine her and the proofs she offers, and if they are satisfied that her capacity, her experience, her habits of life and character warrant the belief that she can be safely entrusted with the duties and responsibilities of the master of a steam ressel, let them grant her license.

LAND FORFEITURES. The house committee on public lands decided to report a bill, declaring the forfeiture of the land grants of the Oregon & California and California & Oregon railroads except such treets as here been roads, except such tracts as have been patented. The grants of the two roads amount to 500,000 acres, one-tenth of which is patented. The land is valued at $3 to $4 per acre. The terms of the contract expired on January 8.

THE HUNGARIANS AS WORKMEN. W. F. Barclay, (of Pennsylvania,) representing the coke interest, said only about 5 per cent. of the Hungarians could read. Their earnings average $2.25 per day, and they work from two to five week, beginning work at 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning and continuing untill 7 p. m. The Hungarians, Barclay said, are most filthy.

A number of representatives of the labor organizations appeared before the house committee on labor to-day and aroued against the importation of foreign labors under contract. T. V. Powderly, ex-mayor of 'Scranton, said he represented the Knights of Labor, an organization numbering over 500,000. This association desire the eight hour law legislation for preventing foreigners from purchasing large tracts of public land in this country and prevent the importation of foreigners. He spoke of the importation of the Hungarians. He said they returned home after saving comparatively small sums of money. One family of nine persons was instanced that lives on $27 a month. Their diet was said to be mush and water six days and meat on Sunday. The Hungarians were fast becoming as obnoxious as the Chinese in their habits. In some cases as many as ten livee in a single room. Wm. Leach, of New Jersey, and E. Bullion, of Ohio, questioned regarding the importations of Belgians to work in glass factories. The former said eigners received 35 per cent. ess wages than Americans.

The members of the committee asked if he operators advocated strikes in order hat the price of coal and coke might be aised. Barclay replied they did, and he and been offered the privilege of organiz ing the men for a strike. The representaives of the labor organizations selected John S. McClelland and John Murray Ohio; T. V. Powderly, James Campbell and John Schlicker, Pennsylvania, a com mittee to remain in Washington to urge the passage of Representative Foran's bill. THE PLUCKED APPLICANTS.

Secretary Chandler said to-day, the examination papers of the persons certified to him by the civil service commission satisfied him that all of them were unfitted for the work to be done, for the reason that they were deficient in penmanship, copying and orthography. He returned the papers to the commissioner with a simple statement to that effect. He did not wish the action to be understood as an attack on the civil service law, as he had but did not feel that its provisions compelled him to accept a clerk whom he considered incompetent. He would rather have a vacancy in his clerical force than appoint a man whose examination papers howed him unable to meet the requirements. He had referred the matter to the commissioners in the hope that they send him the names of more competent men to select from. He would, how ever, be bound by the action of the commissioners in the matter.

THE BANKRUPTCY BILL.

The senate commission, judicial, ordered the Lowell bankruptcy bill to be favorably reported, with amendments. It preserves the state exemptions and authorizes involuntary proceedings, only against persons whose debts amount to more than $1,000, and only against trades. It diminishes the number of commissioners in bankruptey gested by the bankruptcy convention which met here a few days since, are incorporated in the bill. Senator Hoar will report it on Monday. Some of the features are among those contended for by the western senators of the last congress, and their adoption greatly increases the chances of its passage.

MISCELLANEOUS. The coinage of the mints for January was $4,221,000, of which 2,350,000 were standard dollars.

THE LABOR BILL

Representative Hopkins, chairman of the house committee on labor, has, in compliance with the petitions of the various labor organizations in the country, prepared a bill which he will present to the house for reference on Monday, providing for the enforcement of the eight hour law. He says the moral influence of enforcing the eight hour law will have the effect of reducing the hours of labor throughout the country. This, together with the pro-hibition of the importation of foreign contract labor, will in a measure relieve the workingmen. The rest involves the financial question, and rests upon our tariff committee and our finances. Hopkins says the labor interests demand that the tariff should not be disturbed. Prolonged and uncertain agitation is injurious, and the question should not be taken up until it can be effectually disposed of. A positive system, whether free trade or proection, is better than an uncertainty the business interests of the country.

THE GRAND TRUNK CONFESSES TO CUTIING EASTERN FREIGHTS.

Conference Between Railroad Officials on the Tariff Question-A Compendium of Rail Notes at Home and Abroad.

Cutting Rates Badly. ST. Louis, Feb. 2. - The publication to-day of the statement that the Baltimore & Ohio railroad had charged the other pool lines with cutting rates on east bound freight from here, and that a meeting had been held in New York to take action in the matter, created something of a commotion in railroad and commercial cir-cles. It did not seem to have much effect, however, as it is positively asserted, on good authority, to-night, that at least one of the pool lines made contracts for grain to-day at sixteen cents to New York, a clear cut of fourteen cents per hundred. It is also understood that two other pool lines are ready to make the same, or a similar cut, and it is further asserted that not more than two of the five rool lines. that not more than two of the five pool lines here will be represented at the meeting at New York on next Thursday, and there is likely to be a very lively time at the meeting, as severa countercharges will probably be made by the cutting lines.

The Nebraska Business Unchanged. CHICAGO, Feb. 2.-General Managers Potter nd Cable returned from the east to-night, and both unite in declaring that the situation re specting the Nebraska business remains prac tically unchanged. They declare it is probable another meeting will be held between the Bur-lington and the roads in the Western Truck Line association some time next week, in a further effort to readjust their differences with regard to Utah. A business meeting of the Western Trunk Line association will be held next Monday, and it is believed the Union Pacific will concede the right to its eastern allies to make rates on west bound business, and that the association will then order an advance in rates, though it may not adopt the exact schedule agreed upon at the recent Omaha · Meeting of the Passenger Agents. CHICAGO, Feb. 2 .- At the adjourned meeting of the general passenger agents of roads inter rested in business to the Missouri river, an arrangement covering the west bound business was entered into by which the local passen-ger agents in this city will be compelled to form an association similar to the one now in exis-tence in Kansas City, which provides that such ticket agent shall deposit a stipulated amount in a bank, and in case a cut rate is made the agent will be compelled to pay upon conviction, double the price of each ticket sold under the schedule rate. The new law goes into effect on next Monday.

Openly Cutting Rates.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.-The Grand Trunk openly acknowledges it is cutting the seventh and eighth classes ten cents under the schedule rates, on east bound business, and the presumption follows that the Eastern trunk lines are doing likewise. Unless a settlement is speedily reached the belief is entertained that rate cutting will become open and general. It is de-clared that the Baltimore & Ohio thus far has

CASUALTIES.

THE EXPLOSION HOPPOR ALLIANCE, Ohio, Feb. 2-Workmen are busy this morning clearing the street of the debris from yesterday's explosion, and saving property from the wrecked buildings. The fire was extinguished last night. No more bodies were found and nobody is missing. No name will be added to the list of killed and wounded. The remains of those crushed and cremated were encoffined to-day and conveyed to their former homes to await interment to-morrow. The city has been crowded all day with peo

The city has been crowded all day with people from the surrounding country, attracted to see the wreck made by the explosion. At the coroner's inquest it was developed that Mr. Orr kept gasoline in an air tight galvanized iron tank for customers. About a gallon ran out on the floor. The fluid was wiped up by Orr, and he had turned to other affairs, when the gas generated by the gasoline ignited. The tank contained not more than half a barrel of liquid. Of the wounded, Charles Haden and tank contained not more than hair a parrel of liquid. Of the wounded, Charles Haden and John Corey, of Duprez & Benedict's minstrels, are the most seriously injured. They will be taken to the Sisters' of Charity hospital in Canton. A circumstances which has excited much comment is that the Women's Christian Temperance union had appointed a meeting to be held in the Orr block yesterday afternoon, but some trifling matter prompted them to postpone it until Saturday. Had the ladies met as at first arranged, the catastrophe would have been still more calamitous. An offensive odor of burned flesh is still persentible short the week. ceptible about the wreck and suggests that all the bodies are not recovered, but nobody is missed. An eye-witness states that when the explosion occurred the entire building seemed lifted into the air and rent apart, falling back in a cloud ofdust, scarcely one brick clinging to another. NOT MUCH MORE DAMAGE DONE.
