

THE MONTANA POST. THE ONLY PAPER IN THE TERRITORY. SATURDAY, OCT. 7, 1885. OUR AGENTS. H. M. PRYANT is the traveling Agent for the "Montana Post" and is authorized to solicit subscriptions, to obtain orders for job work, and to collect and receipt for all monies due to this office.

LOCAL ITEMS. Go and see the French Spy at the Theatre to-night and don't forget Mrs. Chapman's benefit on Monday. She will appear in her original character of Judy Trot, played by her, with immense applause, in New York, and all the principal Eastern cities.

On Saturday last, we were made the honored and grateful recipient of a splendid revolver and belt, the gift of the generous friends whose names appear in this issue. Colonel DeCourcy was the spokesman for the donors, and accompanied the presentation with a few words of most pertinent and soldierlike address; to which the state of our feelings did not permit a very eloquent reply.

It never rains but it pours, the Quartz machinery is coming in rapidly. Another fifteen stamp mill with power for forty, passed through our town on its way to Summit, where it will be placed upon some of the Boardman lands. The mill is from New York. It is owned by Mr. Thompson, and twenty four others, from Seneca Falls. Wait till the crushing begins. Folks abroad will soon learn to believe in the riches of Montana.

ADAM and George Williams are now running the Montana Sabotki having started in search of the rising sun. Everybody knows the proprietors, and will feel sure of good treatment, excellent arrangements for the enjoyment of a game of billiards, and something decent to drink or smoke at the Bar. Strangers will please walk up to the biggest man in the house and that's the "Cap."

THE gentleman who took the book of records, for Summit District, from the court room, will consult his own happiness by returning it forthwith. Costs will be saved, and character, if that is an object. The offender is well known, and we shall not be able here this morning, but, however, with the same vehicle he left Virginia with, owing to a little mishap of tumbling over an embankment, some forty feet high, smashing two wheels—nobody hurt, however.

DOWN at the Golden Gate Dancing Saloon, Nevada, a man named Jeremiah Wallace, narrowly missed losing the number of his mace, when he was in the act of striking him at the butt of the ear and coming out at the back of his head. The patient is, however, an Irishman and a trifling thing like a shot through the head is not very dangerous, he will be all right shortly. The shooter was not to blame. A number of hard cases having taken a dislike to Big Mike, ordered him off the floor, and commenced beating and kicking him, badly. He obtained a pistol, and returned to the house, where the same parties again commenced to abuse him. Mike drew his revolver, and shot Wal-lace, as before mentioned. These facts appearing, Judge Alden very properly dismissed the case.

THE first quartz mill from the States, for Summit District, passed through this city, on Monday last. "Iliquo Gold Mining Company, Grinnell," was painted on one piece of the machinery, and also, "Care of C. M. Davis." The outfit comprises a fourteen stamp mill, with the fittings, and was brought over the Plains in eighteen ox wagons. On the leading vehicle was rigged a wooden house, in which sat Mrs. Ross, quite comfortable and at home. On the road, they narrowly escaped capture by the Indians. Mr. Ross, as his lady informed us, rubbed out some of them, and also erased a few ponies. The mill will be placed on the Lucas lead, and will be operation in about six weeks.

On Saturday last, most of the shops of the Israeli section of the community were closed, the day being the "Fast of Expiation," and observed with strict abstinence and solemnity.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM DEATH.—Mr. C. Smith, from Gallatin Valley, while in pursuit of Indians, fifty miles east of Diamond City, accidentally discharged his double-barreled shot-gun, the contents entering his left breast above the nipple. This took place on Tuesday, the 26th ult., at three o'clock P. M. Wonderful to relate, Mr. Smith, after shooting himself, rode twenty-five miles, on horseback, to Eldorado City, where Dr. Allemon probed the wound, and found the fractured clavicle. The fractured clavicle, taking from it the pieces of the fractured clavicle, the inextinguishable gentleman, injuring his left lung. Notwithstanding this dangerous wound, Mr. Smith is alive and is doing well. This story approaches the limits of the marvellous; but it is strictly true. The individual thus miraculously preserved might be choked to death by a fish-bone.

REMEMBER Mrs. Geo. Chapman's Benefit, on next Monday night. NEIL HOWIE leaves us to-day for his claims in Washington and Jefferson Gulches. We are sorry to lose so good a man; but console ourselves with the reflection that he will still be in the Territory, and a useful citizen wherever his lot is cast.

THE MONTANA THEATRE, has been running every night during the past week, with success. The prominent representations have been "The Rag Picker of Paris," the "Jibbenansy" and the "French Spy." "Jack Sheppard" has also been repeated most successfully. We like to see Mrs. Chapman as Jack. She looks the part, which is saying a good deal; and she plays the reckless, daredevil character, with good effect. However, we are of opinion that her Henri St. Aime and Adeline in the "French Spy" are fully equal in merit, to Jack Sheppard. Her pantomime was excellent. The sword combat with George Chapman, who played the Arab Mohamed, and played it well, was a very creditable performance (considering sex). Geo. Chapman's line is low comedy. The sorrows of poor Spike, in "The Loan of a Lover," were most humorously portrayed. Harry Taylor's "Rag Picker" (Father Jean), was original and well rendered, and his Jibbenansy was both natural and forcible. A strict attention to his profession, is all that is necessary to make this gentleman a performer of high merit. Of his talent and versatility, there can be no question. He is an excellent artistic pianist and a good violinist. Dick Johnson deserves much credit for his representation of Jonathan Wild, given after only a few hours' study, and his Sergeant Domborg was a good performance. Joe Rielly, for whose benefit "Jack Sheppard" was played on Wednesday, did well as a young amateur, in Owen Wood, and much better, in Marshal Reamont. Edwin Clark's Sir Roland Trenchard, was greatly improved, and his Colonel De Courcy was likewise an advance on his usual style. S. H. Chapman certainly played Tony Bonaville better than any character we have seen him perform. He was often applauded. R. P. Bartley did better as Major Didier, than ever before in this Theatre. Mrs. Caven's dance, the Triumph of Cupid, was pretty; but the Highland Fling is his best performance and most heartily enjoyed. Her singing is highly appreciated. In one department this lady excels. Her costume and getting up are always tasteful. (Straddle, in "The Loan of a Lover," was a part in which she succeeded. Miss E. Perkins' best character for some time past was Madam Potard in the "Rag Picker." There was more force in it than in any other character she has played this season. The Company take great pains to amuse the public, and we hope they will continue to be supported. Mrs. Chapman's benefit is fixed for Monday night, and we hope she will have a full house.

Statement of the Past of Nuttall. (From Helena.) NUTTALL VS. BARNUM. EDITOR POST: I noticed in your paper of the week before last a short note from Charles Barnum, which may leave an impression on the minds of some that Barnum was the injured man, and entitled to public sympathy. Such an impression would never survive an acquaintance with the facts of the case. Barnum acknowledges his debt to Nuttall, but claims that the money taken by him was borrowed—in fact, it was borrowed that Barnum had just won at Faro, and was Barnum's, as much as any money could be loaned to him, as largely indebted. Even after the money was taken, Barnum, himself, said it was all right. In the light of such facts, what apology or exculpation can be pleaded for the deliberate act of Barnum, in going out to procure a pistol, and on his return, firing three shots, with a cool aim, at Billy's head, one ball piercing the hat and just grazing the skin; and even when offered a return of the money, still pursuing his murderous design with unrelenting purpose, till arrested by officers of the law. It was murder in purpose, if not in execution. So thought our late Grand Jury; so thinks every man in this community; so thought Barnum, himself. Hence his flight. JUSTICE. (The above communication completes the case of Plaintiff and Defendant in our columns. Both parties have had the privilege of giving their own version of the affair, and so justice has been done. This must close the matter, as far as we are concerned.—Ed.)

Third Judicial District Court—Edgerton County. HON. L. E. MUNSON presiding. The Court met at Jackson City, but adjourned the same day to Helena, for the convenience of parties litigating, and for want of accommodations at Jefferson City. John S. McCune vs. Chas. H. Weber. Action dismissed, on account of delay. Mary C. Beck vs. Catherine A. Durgin. Continued to the November term. John Gregory vs. J. B. Steward. Judgment for plaintiff's showing satisfaction thereof. Malcolm Clark vs. J. B. Morgan. This is an action of forcible detainer, appealed from Judge's office, concerning a piece of land in the Little Prickly Pear Valley. Tried twice by a jury. The first failed to agree, and the second found for defendant, affirming the judgment of the court below. Pemberton, Shober & Hedger for plaintiff, and Toole & Johnson for defendant. Thos. A. Ray et al. vs. Wm. Eakins. Action for claim and delivery of personal property. Tried by a jury. Verdict for plaintiff. Pemberton & Toole for plaintiff, E. C. More for defendant. Charles S. Lewis, alias "Sikesey," indicted for playing three card monte. Pleaded guilty, and was fined $50.00 and costs. Johnson Montgomery and Ellen Benton, indicted for adultery. Pleaded guilty. Indictment quashed. N. J. Bond vs. H. H. Harding. Action against defendant as surety on a promissory note. Judgment by default, for $250.00. Marcia A. Van Valkenberg vs. Alonzo Van Valkenberg. Suit dismissed for want of prosecution. The Grand Jury were in session four days, and presented six indictments. The Court adjourned on Monday, last, to the second Monday in November.
