

OUR AGENTS.

R. BRUCE SMITH is the traveling Agent for the "Montana Post," and is authorized to solicit subscriptions, to obtain orders for job work, and to collect and receipt for all moneys due to this office.

LOCAL ITEMS.

William Fyfe arrived last night from Benton.

Mason's Masonic Manual, for sale at the City Book Store.

All kinds of legal blanks for Justices' and general use constantly kept on hand at the City Book Store.

Removal—J. Samuels, the dry goods merchant, has removed to Helena, where he intends opening a store.

Found—A pair of "spees," two miles beyond Daly's ranch. Call at this office.

The Metropolitan Bath-House, at Blackfoot is a first-rate institution, and should be patronized extensively. R. Plummer is the proprietor.

The Luna House, Reynolds City, M. T., conducted by R. Johnson, is claimed to be "the best house in the mountains." Trial will establish its character.

Home and at Work—J. A. Brown, formerly of Bannack, arrived safe at Helena, on the steamer Marcella, and has gone to his mines in Ophir Gulch.

The Star Restaurant, kept by W. A. Finney and L. W. Foreman, takes the foremost rank among the restaurants of this section; and the owners should be encouraged to keep it so.

District Court—The District Court will be held in this city during the month of August, pursuant to Governor Edger's appointment, in default of any statute fixing the date for the session.

Courtesy—Our thanks are due to Doctor L. Daems for late numbers of California papers. The Doctor is constitutionally kind and thoughtful in all that pertains to the comfort of his friends.

The Razor and the Bath—For a smooth shave, a luxurious bath, a soothing shampoo, or an artistic cropping of a head of hair, call at Tom White's saloon, Wallace street, and you will incline to the belief that we are judges in such matters.

Fort Benton—Reuben Foster, of the Mesler lodge, has gone to Benton to inspect the machinery for his mill at Summit. Honor announces that it is badly damaged by water. We hope the statements are exaggerated, for we are informed that a fier will never leave St. Louis.

Masonic—To-morrow (the 24th inst.) being St. John's Day, the A. F. and A. M. of Montana are requested to assemble in their Lodge Room, in this city, at the hour of two p. m., when an address will be delivered to the Company by Brother T. J. Dinsdale, Grand Orator of Montana. Mason's friends will be made welcome.

New House at Benton—We beg to direct public attention to the advertisement of J. G. Baker, storage, forwarding and commission merchant, of Fort Benton. He has ample facilities for doing business, and is ready to compete on the question of price with any house in the Territory.

Builds on His Own Lot—Our former townsman, Judge Williston, has thrown off on us; he thinks that the law should be respected, even if it is not admired; wherefore it is said he has concluded to make his home in Deer Lodge, which is, after all, as beautiful and healthful a spot as can be found among the mountains.

Trains—On Thursday a train of 8 wagons loaded with clothing and groceries discharged at Messrs. Helman, Kuhn & Co.'s store, Wallace street. Henry Staudish has arrived in town with four wagons laden with groceries and flour. Eighteen more belonging to the train have gone on to Helena.

A California John—On the driving seat of one of Stanford & Guit's coaches, was, the other day, a figure familiar to old Californians; yes, it was "Duke" himself, of the old Pioneer line. If Duke should ever take the reins out of his hands, we believe he would die saying, "Bury me out of sight of the 'rail'."

Returned—On Tuesday last, Ben R. Dittes, of Hoffman of D. W. Titton & Co., returned to town from Benton, in fine health and looking as if living out-of-doors was the highest kind of enjoyment. He is going to the Territory, and is now on his way thither. The wagons may be expected in a few days.

Deliverance—The stranger arriving after a toilsome journey, at the Delevan House, Wallace street, must conclude that a square meal and a comfortable bed can be found in at least one of our hotels. At this establishment everything is done to accommodate the guests and to make their stay there as comfortable as possible. To travelers this is no small or unimportant item.

Long Oats and Long Pines—Ben Holladay, the Overland agent, seems determined on extending his domain in this direction. On Thursday last, six splendid coaches, each drawn by six horses, were loaded into the Company's yard, at the bank of Wallace street. We are told that these coaches are the rolling stock of an opposition line from Virginia to Helena, to be forthwith inaugurated.

For Sale—Twelve prime light freight wagons, all complete, and twenty-eight No. 1 American draught horses, with harness, for sale at a low price. Also, twenty-five head of No. 1 American mules, with harness and wagons, all complete, and for sale or trade, as may suit buyers, by

MONTKE, Big Horse Corral.

Freight—Seven wagons laden chiefly with flour, but carrying some eggs and butter, arrived at the warehouse of the owners, Davis, House & Co., Five wagons from California discharged at Smith & O'Donnell's; the lading consisted of groceries, tools, steel etc. Twelve wagons from the States with two wagons laden with groceries.

Appointment—J. Allen Hosmer, of the firm of Parsons & Flanagan, at Jefferson Bridge, has been appointed Postmaster for that place; but, as he has removed, we presume that Mr. Parsons will take his place, at any rate pro tem. Geo. A. Perry is appointed for Cottonwood (Deer Lodge City); Richard Connolly for Gold Creek; Charles Shaf for Missoula Mills, and J. H. Cronson for Blackfoot City, at 3 p. m.

For—The sun has been succeeded to shine on us, at last, and we have summer weather; as a consequence, the white cover of the Montana Ice Company's wagons is to be seen during the morning as the vehicle passes from door to door, supplying our citizens with this most grateful luxury. The ice is pure and clear as crystal, and the ready skill with which it is furnished to customers should ensure a liberal patronage of these indefatigable purveyors for the public.

Literary and Feed Stables—Foster & Culver, of the Eagle Corral, seem to be doing a big business in their line. Every morning and evening, their herd of horses go clattering through the street, and from the ranches over the clustering mountains. Three or four score of fine animals make quite a charge along the road. There are some fine saddle horses among their stock and the "regular animals" are as sleek as mice.

Divinity—Besides the usual number of salutations from gentlemen whose practice pertains to law or to physics, we had the pleasure of a call from the Rev. A. M. Hough, late pastor of the M. E. Church, Cover street. Our Rev. friend looks well, and speaks as if he felt so, bringing back with him a good report of the people of Helena. We are delighted to announce that on tomorrow (Sunday 24th), Divine service will be held, at the M. E. Church, at the morning, at half past 10, and at the evening at 7 1/2-8. There will also be service at Junction, at 3 p. m.

Professor Estor—We met this gentleman, in town, on Thursday last. Just returned from his trip to the Blackfoot, in the neighborhood of which place the lode was discovered. We hope to furnish our readers with correct measurements of the distance from this city to various points in the neighborhood. The commonly accepted measurements, or rather guesses, even to places within a few miles are in fact, very erroneous. Professor Estor's measurements are in fact, very correct, and we are glad to see that the numerous tricks and feats of sleight of hand are performed. We have seen Estor every time he passed in Virginia, and he is a very good entertainer. His entertainment is it good throughout.

Martin the Wizard—This talented necromancer has gathered a golden harvest in this county, despite the onslaught of the city magistrates, of which the majority were so ashamed, that Messrs. McCallough and Chiles, three of half their cost, thinking that any payment below the price was a hardship. Mr. Martin will perform to-night at Junction, at the usual hour of the evening, and no man can fail to derive amusement from the ready skill with which the numerous tricks and feats of sleight of hand are performed. We have seen Estor every time he passed in Virginia, and he is a very good entertainer. His entertainment is it good throughout.

Overland—The demand for labor in Alder Gulch continues not only unabated, but constantly increasing. The wages are being paid from $8 per day, upwards. Budd Smith appears considerably excited at the few opportunities of practicing his labor supplying trade. He appears to think that mixing pursuits lead to droop, as he goes around with a pocket lock of inquiry and his usual smile, and upon visiting a miner he immediately offers him $100 on the spot. Some times he is successful, but occasionally he is not. He is a very good man, and is employed for several hundreds of men in this neighborhood.

Mail Contracts—There have been some changes and transfers of mail contracts between the various agencies and to the department at Washington. As it stands now, A. J. Oliver & Co. have a contract, which we have seen, for mail service from this city to Missoula, Montana. The running time allowed is six days. The route will be from Jefferson Bridge and Boulder Valley to Helena; thence to Deer Lodge and Deer Lodge and Gold Creek to Heligate. It is understood that the mail route by way of Deer Lodge is abandoned; and also that from Fort Bridger via Soda Springs to Heligate, which was decidedly a back-door route. We are heartily to complain of want of travelling facilities in this Territory.

Fourth of July—We understand that there will be a Fourth of July during the year of 1866, although the fest seems to have occupied the notice of our citizens, up to this date. We trust that preparations will be at once commenced, for a celebration of the ever glorious Anniversary of our Nation. This is a day of national rejoicing, and one of the great days of our country; but let us keep alive the memory of the great day that the patriotism of our ancestors decreed that be a American citizen was to be a freeman, and one of the sons of the freest and noblest people of earth, the refuge of the destitute, the abode of hospitality, the dread of the tyrant, and the hope of the oppressed. Let the Fourth of July be a day when these things should be told. At that National gathering, let us meet in harmony and friendship. "Let there be no strife between us, I pray you, for we are brethren."

From New York—Our old friend, Tom Weary, arrived in town on Wednesday evening from Helena. He was a passenger on the Peter Belen, and speaks most highly of her accommodations and of the competence and gentlemanly disposition of her Captain. This boat actually carried 324 tons of freight, net, besides her stores, and still made her passage in 72 days. Had she run up light she could have done it in 40 days. The heaviest load of the season, at Helena, was sent on this vessel, on this day. The cargo started originally from Pittsburg, Pa., where it was built for the trade. We do not expect to see the Peter Belen again in this Territory, and it is a great pity for ordinary seasons. Until the St. Louisian will build steamboats after the pattern recommended in this paper, and which would easily carry from 300 to 500 tons, on two feet of draft, there will be no certainty of running in seasons when the water is low.

Marriage—We have been used to chronicle both births, deaths and marriages, in this paper; but we are going into the latter branch of our duty, by recording a marriage, on the 17th inst. of a very respectable couple. The several names hereunder printed, to-wit: Geo. Whipper to Miss O. Chamber, of the Gros-Ventre tribe; Nelson Pelletier to Miss O. Chamber, of the Gros-Ventre tribe; Nelson Pelletier to Miss Patseyea, of the Blackfoot tribe; Zeypran Matt to Miss Robe, of the Gros-Ventre tribe; Louis Rovais to Miss Weasel-House, also of the Gros-Ventre; George Magnum to Miss O. Chamber, of the Blood tribe; and Alex. Maroon to Miss Bear, chief of the Pagan tribe. The amount of felicity expected from these unions cannot be expressed, or typographed, or printed, really by us, until after a number of years of the fruit from Benton, when a pound or two of exclamation points will not be any object. Long may they wave in full view of the people of this Territory. It is a pity, in a national point of view, that a want of congeniality of sentiment alone prevents the indissoluble union of Miss-Ouri and Massachussetts, Miss-Sigpi and Con-Nection. With which reflection, we beg to commend our remarks on this head.

Business—This comprehensive expression embraces a good deal that is evil as well as a large amount of what is good, and beneficial. Of the latter kind of employment, we have a good deal to do, and are considering the propriety of some. Virginia is a quiet, orderly town, with a good many rich people in it; a great many well-to-do, (two-thirds of the last year's own it) and only a few who are any and poor, or sick and needy. By the way, of a change in the programme, as Walter Bray says, we took a stroll into a few stores, and saw that a good deal of sound business was being done. The receipts of one of the stores, for the first of the month, for the day, and several others had taken in gold by the pound, in their establishment. The trade is also, as a general rule, improving daily, and the first arrival of machinery for the mills will set everything in lively motion. We are quite satisfied with our prospects, present and future. The trade of our town has been limited for some time past, but it is now no longer so. There was nobody to buy nor because there was no money to pay with; but because the dealers had scarcely anything to sell, beyond prime necessities and some of them not very rich. Now that stocks are beginning to arrive here, and business will assume a much livelier aspect. In dry goods especially, trade has been dull. The ladies declare (of course) that they have nothing to wear. There is nothing to buy; though the amiable creatures never show it in these mountains, and we have to take their words for it.

The Gray Traps—The performance of this talented company, which ended with Miss Figa Bray's benefit, on Thursday night, there was a large house on the occasion, and every item of the performance was presented in its first-rate style. At the close of the entertainment, Miss Bray, who should ever be remembered for her beauty, her grace, her talents, and her noble character, was rapturously applauded, and she received a double encore. Her performance of "The Girl of the Year" was particularly successful, and she was loudly cheered, and she excels in the rapid execution of "steps," and in her dancing, and her grace, and her beauty, and her noble character, was rapturously applauded, and she received a double encore. Business Notice—All parties indebted to the late firm of HULL & CASTNER, are requested to settle their accounts within ten days, or they will be handed to an Attorney for collection. J. J. HULL, J. M. CASTNER, Virginia City, June 24, 1866.

MASONIC NOTICE—The regular communications of Montana Lodge No. 2, of A. F. and A. M., are held at their Hall in Virginia City, on the first and third Saturdays of every month. Visiting Brethren are invited to attend. By order of L. W. Frary, W. M. J. J. GILBERT, Secretary.

DISOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP—The Copartnership heretofore existing between George Rosenbaum and John Shoemaker having been dissolved by mutual consent, all parties indebted to them are respectfully requested to settle their accounts with John Shoemaker, at the Metropolitan Meat Market. GEORGE ROSENBAUM, JOHN SHOEMAKER, Virginia City, June 23, 1866.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

H. J. BRENDLINGER & CO., DEALERS IN TOBACCO, CIGARS, PIPES, SNUFF, AND FANCY GOODS, Three Doors below Kiskadden's Stone Block, Virginia City, M. T. 105

Letter from Park City, Pipestone District. PARK CITY, PIPESTONE, June 18th, 1866.

ED. POST: Having come to this place and finding myself very agreeably disappointed in the appearance and doings of the camp, I thought I would give you the benefit of my observations. The little mill belonging to Adams, McKinstry & Co. is doing a good business crushing rock that pays from $30 to $35 per ton. It is the most perfect piece of machinery in the Territory, and is driven night and day. Of the roads, I need only say that I find nothing to equal them. The tunnel in the Emigrant gives it a most imposing appearance, and places it in the foremost rank of development. The tunnel on the Clippers, when completed, will be over seven hundred feet long, and is progressing night and day; it is now about one hundred feet long. They are taking a large amount of pay rock from it, the ledge being about seven feet wide. The owners of the Lady Abbott have commenced work in earnest, and this celebrated lode will soon be developed in such a manner that the lucky owners can get the highest price for claims, known in Montana. There are two or three ledges running night and day, on opposite sides of the hills, and reports of the blasts that burst forth at all hours give it quite a warlike sound. As for the natural ledges elsewhere. In the first place, Pipestone rock affords the best water-powers that can be found—scarcely requiring any race or dam, and frequently not requiring a dam. One hundred feet flume in order to get twenty feet fall; while these sites are in the immediate vicinity of the ledge. For timber, the dry creek of Pipestone stands almost without a rival. Dry pools cover the ground, in many places, to a depth of two or three feet, and can be loaded on wagons, hauled to the mill, and, with a saw, converted into lumber. The ledge on the farm, at a trifling cost, is a most desirable place for the location of steam mills. Messrs. Herrmann & Co. are now busily engaged in putting up their mill, and the ledge on the farm of J. W. Parker. The bar diggers are paying eight to ten dollars per hand, where opened. The companies now engaged in staking the creek are in high spirits, and think they will have no more success than the first. The ledge on the farm of California has discovered a dry gulch, the dirt of which they think will pay for hauling about one mile, to sluice. Taking it all together, it is a lively camp. OVERLAND.
