SHARKEY PICKED AS THE WINNER OF THE BATTLE WITH RUSSELL TONIGHT.

Sailor Is the Favorite in the Betting at 2 to 1 Outweighed by the Man. He Meets by 15 Pounds—Baseball, Racing and Other Sports.

(By Associated Press.) Denver, May 3.—"Sailor Tom" Sharkey and Fred Russell, the California heavyweight, will meet for a ten round go in the arena of the Colorado Athletic Association in this city tonight. Both men have been training hard at separate quarters on the outskirts of the city for the past month and are pronounced by their trainers to be in perfect condition. Sharkey's special effort has been to accustom himself to the high altitude and those who are nearest him and should know, say there is no danger of his wind being affected in the least by it. He will weigh close to 190 pounds and is in the pink of condition. He is confident that he will carry off the big end of the purse. Russell has fought several fights here and in other places in Colorado during the past year and is thoroughly acclimated. He has trained faithfully and as hard as iron. He is reported as having improved greatly in the science of the game and has the utmost confidence in his ability to put away the sailor inside the limit. He will weigh close to 205 pounds and with his extra height, he feels as sure as possible of holding Sharkey safe. His friends say if he does not lose his head he will win. Up to last night Sharkey was the favorite in the betting at odds of three to one. Today's figures are two to one. George English, the official referee of the club, will officiate tonight.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Detroit Won on a Forfeit. Chicago, May 3.—Detroit won yesterday's American league game through forfeit. Rain began in the visitors' half of the ninth, and after they had scored enough runs to win the locals played through the rain, and so forfeited. Attendance 2,200. Score: Detroit..... R. H. E. Chicago..... 5 5 5 Detroit..... 7 6 5 Batteries—Griffith and Sullivan; Frisk and Buelow.

Hart Heavily Hammered. Cleveland, O., May 3.—Milwaukee hit Hart all over the field yesterday afternoon. Despite this fact fielding prevented Milwaukee from taking the lead until the ninth. Score: Cleveland..... R. H. E. Milwaukee..... 7 12 1 Milwaukee..... 9 17 1 Batteries—Hart and Wood; Hastings and Maloney.

Quakers Easy for Boston. Philadelphia, May 3.—In the second and third innings of yesterday's American league game, Boston sent 22 men to the bat. Seven got bases on balls and 12 made safe hits, three of which were triples. Attendance, 2,841. Score: Philadelphia..... R. H. E. Boston..... 12 18 3 Philadelphia..... 12 21 4 Batteries—Boose, Bernhard and Powers; Lewis and Origer.

NORTHWEST LEAGUE.

Tacoma, Wash., May 3.—It was different yesterday and the fans did not approve of the change. Tacoma could not connect with the delivery of the elongated Stovell, and the support that he got was enough to keep the locals down to a showing of but one man who made the circuit in safety.

Seattle opened on Thielman, and his sore arm, for a total of 13 hits, sufficiently bunched to next six runs. The work of McCarthy was the feature of the game, his desperate chances winning repeatedly.

Seattle had no trouble on the bases, for Menefee who is catching for Tacoma during Zearfors' illness, could not get the ball down, and the second ottoman was pilfered repeatedly.

A double steal—second and third—was worked by Seattle in the fourth inning, without any attempt to head off the baserunners. A feature of the game was the fact that neither of the pitchers gave a base on balls, and the sharp fielding by both teams was reassuring.

Seattle appeared today in much better form than yesterday. The Tacoma team is still crippled, Zearfors being out with a broken thumb and St. Vrain sick. The final score of the game was: Seattle, 6; Tacoma, 1.

Spokane by One Run.

Spokane, Wash., May 3.—The Webfooters ended one run behind today. Wilner's good pitching and Portland's errors gave the home team the game. It was ladies' day, but threatened rain prevented a large attendance, only 800 persons being present. Spokane's work did much to eliminate the bad impression made yesterday. Still the team cannot be considered the equal of the Portland aggregation. The features were a one-handed catch by Ed Marshall and Weed's home run with two men on bases.

AFTER MIDDLEWEIGHT FIGHT

"Dummy" Rowan Wants a Go With Jack La Fontaine, Ike Hayes or Charley Jost. "Dummy" Rowan, the middleweight deaf mute pugilist, is now at Missoula. He arrived there yesterday from Seattle, Wash., where he had been located for a week. Rowan is looking for a go with any middleweight, but would prefer to take on Jack La Fontaine, Ike Hayes or Charley Jost. He so expresses himself in a letter received this morning.

Rowan takes good care of himself and is generally in condition. If he can arrange for a match with any of the men named he will at once begin hard work. Such a match as "Dummy" is looking for should be arranged. The details can be perfected at the office of the sporting editor of the Inter Mountain.

Veteran Oarsman Dead.

(By Associated Press.) Chicago, May 3.—Robert Corbett, captain of the Iroquois Boat Club and one of the first men to foster aquatic sports in Chicago, is dead.

A Lucky Swing to the Jaw.

(By Associated Press.) Bakersfield, Calif., May 3.—Jim Trimble of Los Angeles, was defeated by Al Neill of San Francisco, last night, in the first round, by a lucky swing to the jaw. Terry McGovern refereed the contest.

GOSSIP OF THE BOXERS.

The heavyweight boxing champion of England has placed himself in an unenviable position. He recently won the dormant title by beating an equally unknown boxer in short order. The victor's name is George Chriss, the same never having been heard of in pugilism till he gained the heavyweight championship of his native land. He recently issued the appended remarkable statement:

"George Chriss, of Newcastle, is prepared to box any man in England for the heavyweight championship and £100 a side. First come, first served. Nobody but Americans barred."

That is undeniably the most astonishing announcement ever made by a pugilistic champion.

Many men who have held the title have drawn the color line, or declined to fight on the ground of illness, theatrical engagements or other cogent reasons, but no champion has ever before barred the challengers of a nation.

By declining to meet Americans Chriss renders his title safe, for there are no pugilists of ability in any other country, and more especially England.

There is at the present time in England an American boxer named Jack O'Brien, whose home is Philadelphia. He is a middleweight, an exceedingly clever boxer, and has won the few matches to date with ridiculous ease. As soon as Chriss won his celebrated victory over a novice named Taylor, O'Brien issued this challenge:

"Repeated challenges have appeared on my behalf without any response, but now that James Lowes of Newcastle, has come forward with an offer of a £100 purse for Chriss and myself, I will withdraw the side stake and box him for the purse alone, dividing it into winner's and loser's end. If Chriss does not accept this offer I shall have to seek other shores."

And Chriss replied that he was ready to box any man in England, no one being barred except Americans! Chriss is a wise man, for O'Brien would hardly beat the Englishman. At the same time Chriss should instantly renounce his title of champion and devote all his time and attention to some less dangerous avocation.

Yanger and Richie fought at Memphis a few nights ago and the bout was decided drawn. Referee Hottum said he would have given the decision to Yanger but for the continued coaching of Hertz, who was in Yanger's corner.

Yanger earned the decision, but Hertz repeatedly ignored my order and deliberately threw water for five feet into the ring and then mopped it up. Yanger would then force Richie on to the slippery part of the mat, and Richie slipped several times. I did not want to disqualify Yanger for Hertz, so I did the next best thing and called it a draw."

That is a decision that deserves to be taken rank as the most freakish on record.

Jack Callahan, ragged, a homeless wanderer, is now in Hartford City, Ind., ashamed to let his former friends know his true condition. Even his son, Tim Callahan, knows not of his present whereabouts. Jack Callahan is apparently well educated, has seen his sides of life and seems to be content with his lot. He says he is dead pugilistically, but that he can "knock out a few of these fellows who go struttin' about with a big sweater and a swelled head." He is now 53 years of age, and was in the ring for twenty-seven years.

For the Death of Billy Smith.

(By Associated Press.) London, May 3.—"Jack" Roberts, the pugilist, and the other men accused of manslaughter as a result of the death of Billy Smith, who was fatally injured at the National Sporting club, April 22, were held for trial at Bow street police court yesterday and were released on their own recognizance. The magistrate, Sir Franklin Lushington, said he saw nothing to distinguish the contest from an ordinary prize fight.

To Build Largest Breeding Stud in the World.

SALVATOR IN THE STUD AT ELMENDORF.

BEN HOLLIDAY AT ELMENDORF.

BEN HOLLIDAY AT ELMENDORF.

A NURSERY FOR THE REARING OF THOROUGHBREDS OF THE FINEST STRAIN AT ELMENDORF, KENTUCKY.

ELMENDORF, J.B. HAGGIN'S NEW HOUSE, THE FINEST RESIDENCE IN KENTUCKY.

J. B. HAGGIN, MULTI-MILLIONAIRE AND WELL KNOWN TURFMAN CONVERTING HIS HOME INTO A BREEDING STUD.

The Blue Grass state is to have another breeding stud. It is said it will be the largest and best equipped in the world. It is now in course of construction, or rather remodeling. The man who is building the stud is James B. Haggin, multi-millionaire and owner of some of the finest thoroughbreds in the world. He is also one of the best known characters of the American turf. Mr. Haggin will convert his magnificent residence and 4500 acres at Elmendorf, Ky., into a colossal breeding establishment for the rearing of thoroughbreds of the purest strain.

With a view to perpetuating the breeding of fine horses in Kentucky, Mr. Haggin has decreed that, in the event of his death, the big nursery will not be dispersed. He will endow it and thus enable it to be a permanent stud. Five hundred brood mares have already been purchased for the breeding of thoroughbreds of the finest strain. The above cut shows two well known animals, Salvator and Ben Holliday, in the stud, a picture of Mr. Haggin and one of his beautiful residences now being remodelled to suit the purposes it is intended to serve.
