

WANTS PAY FOR INFORMATION

C. R. ADAMS BRINGS SUIT AGAINST M'QUEEN PLACER FOR $6,000.

Claims He Was Engaged to Furnish Facts about Silver Bow Mine for Advantage of Defendants and Was Never Reimbursed—Was to be Paid When Property Was Sold.

Suit was begun in the district court today, having as its object the recovery of judgment for some easy money alleged to have been earned by the plaintiff, C. R. Adams, for giving information concerning the underground workings of the Silver Bow mine, owned by the Butte & Boston company, and the relation of the property of the McQueen placer, east of the Silver Bow. The defendants are Andrew V. Corry, Arthur V. Corry, Clarence Corry, Agnes Corry and John B. Corry, whom, it is claimed, promised Adams $5,000 to keep them posted on what was transpiring in the Silver Bow mine, in order, it is said, that they might better judge the value of their own ground.

In addition to the $5,000 Adams asks for judgment for $1,000 for, he claims, having shown W. W. Wilson and Pat Sheehan through the Silver Bow in the alleged interest of the defendants.

In the complaint Adams alleges that in 1897 and for a long time previous, the defendants owned five-eighths of the McQueen placer, east of the city; that in 1897 and before that year he was in the employ of the Butte & Boston Mining company and was familiar with the company's property, and also the property of the defendant; that about February 1, 1898, he and the defendants entered into an agreement by which he was to furnish the defendants, at all times, with such information as he possessed, that would enable the defendants to ascertain the quantity of mineral in their claim, so they might make representations as to its value and effect its sale, and thus would not sell the property for less than its true value.

It was further agreed between the defendants and Adams, Adams says, that the defendants should pay him $5,000 for his services, in keeping them posted, and that the money was to become due and payable when the property was sold.

Adams claims that May 7 of the present year, the defendants sold their interest in the property to Franklin Farrell, the purchase price being $100,000 for a seven-eighths interest. He says that between February 1, 1897, and May 7, 1901, he furnished the defendants with valuable information in reference to the said McQueen placer, and although he has demanded his $5,000 since the last named date it has not been paid, the defendants, he alleges, refusing to pay it.

In a second count in the complaint Adams alleges that August 1, 1899, he made an agreement with W. W. Wilson and one Patrick Sheehan by which he was to take Wilson and Sheehan through the Silver Bow mine for the purpose of allowing them to make an examination of the property in behalf of the defendants. He says that Wilson and Sheehan agreed to pay him $1,000 for his services; that said Silver Bow mine is near the McQueen placer. The $1,000, he alleges, was to be paid when the McQueen was sold. He says that after the property changed hands he demanded his $1,000, but the defendants refused to pay it. Judgment for $6,000 is therefore demanded. Breen & Mackel are the plaintiff's attorneys.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

Dr. Norcross and Miss Ella Cox Will Quietly Wed This Evening

Dr. C. V. Norcross.

Miss Ella Cox.

Dr. C. V. Norcross and Miss Ella Cox will be married at 9 o'clock this evening, at the home of the bride's mother, 858 N. Main street. Owing to the recent death of the lady's father, Mr. John Cox, the wedding will be private, only near relatives and a few intimate friends being invited.

After the ceremony the couple will take the Northern Pacific train for Yellowstone park, where ten days will be spent. Dr. and Mrs. Norcross on their return will occupy a suite in the Morris' flats, corner of Broadway and Montana streets.

Dr. Norcross has been a resident of Butte for a dozen years, engaged all the time in the successful practice of medicine, having, in the meantime placed his surplus earnings into real estate. The doctor is now a large tax payer of Butte, with a good paying practice. Dr. Norcross is an capable gentleman and very popular among a wide circle of warm personal friends. Miss Cox is a native of Butte. She received her education in the public schools of the city, having attended two years at the Butte City High School. She has just completed a year's private course in exclusive literary pursuits. Miss Cox is not only an exceedingly stylish and pretty woman but she has exquisite grace of manner and speech, and her sunny disposition has made her much beloved among all who have the pleasure of her acquaintance.

SCAVENGER MAKES A HAUL.

He Finds a Valise and a Roll of Blankets Near the Cemetery.

Albert Christ, the scavenger with a sacred name, made a find at a spot near the cemetery at the foot of Montana street at about 6 o'clock this morning. The find consisted of a roll of blankets and a valise. The scavenger brought these to the city jail, and reported where he had found them. He had not seen anybody near the spot where they had lain and he had not been able to find any one claiming to own them.

The jailor, Sol Levy, entered them upon the jail book of treasure troves, and proceeded to make an examination of them. He found a letter in the grip addressed to P. H. Gillman, from Anaconda, from which it was inferred that the owner of the loot was from that locality or at least had friends there. With the hope of ascertaining something that would help the work of finding the owner of the things the letter was read. It was signed by Bell Gillman, and was of a saccharine character, but contained no information of a valuable nature to the investigation in hand.

The jailor had just discovered a dollar and thirty cents in a pair of trousers in the bundle, when Gillman, who proved to be the owner of the things, appeared at the jail. He explained that he had been on a "time" last night, and had left the blankets and the valise where they were found while he caught a car. He did not get time after that to get back for them till this morning. His property was restored to him with the request that he throw a job into the scavenger when he should meet him.

SUITS BY RANCH OWNERS

Defendants Named in Former Complaints Have Been Separated and Sued Individually.

William Norton and other Deer Lodge valley ranches who a short time ago brought suit against the Butte smelting companies to recover judgment for $110,000 for alleged damage to their land by reason of the contamination of the water of Silver Bow creek have reconstructed their complaints. In the former action the companies were lumped as defendants, but in the present proceeding they are made individual defendants and judgment for $110,000 in each case is demanded. The defendant companies are the Colusa-Parrot, Butte & Boston and the Parrot.

Besides the money judgment demanded, the plaintiffs ask that the defendants be perpetually enjoined from further disturbing the water.

Wanted by the Montana Coal & Coke company, Aldredge, Montana, 75 first-class coal miners and rock men for mine development.

KISSED AND MADE UP AGAIN

In Terse Terms Judge Clancy Describes the Settlement of a Divorce Action.

"May it please the court," said attorney H. Maury, addressing Judge Clancy in department No. 2 of the district court today, the suit for divorce brought by Ora C. Otis against Bessie L. Otis may be dismissed as settled."

"Has this case been tried or have the parties to it kissed and made up?" asked the judge.

"They have kissed and made up," was the reply.

"All right. This case is dismissed." And the judge drew his pen through the docket.

BRONCHO BUSTERS' SILVER BELT

Rough Riding Cowboy's of the West Will Contest for Valuable Trophy at Denver—Matt Murphy of Montana Will Be There.

THE SILVER BELT PRIZE FOR BRONCHO BREAKING

(By Associated Press.) Denver, Col., Aug. 13.—A cowboy tournament will be the star attraction of the first day of the carnival in Denver this fall. The committee on this part of the programme decided on the feature and preparations will at once begin for a wild west, cow-punching, "broncho busting" exhibition that will surpass anything of a similar nature since the early days of the plains. "Buffalo Bill" will be a guest of honor.

To bring the great rough riders to the tournament a prize belt, worth $300, has been offered for the best rider, and its owner will be recognized as the champion of the world in that line of daring equestrianism. Eighteen states, all west of the Missouri, and having, in part, the old flavor of the plains, will be asked to send fearless riders, each state sending three, of its picked men. A state contest in each case will decide who shall have the honor of representing the commonwealth at this gathering, and thus the flower of western rough riders will participate in the Denver contests.

The judges will be old time cattlemen and ranchers who staged in the early days. The chief guest is to be William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," providing Mr. Cody can find time to come, and the committee believes he will.

The tournament will be held October 2, the first day of the carnival, and the first evidences of cowboy day will

QUAINT AND FORCEFUL TALK

Aged Defendant in a Justice Court Gave Out a Lively Line of Testimony—She Was Acquitted

Mrs. Jane Camino of 1146 West Granite street was tried yesterday in Justice Shepherd's court at Meaderville on a charge of disturbance and acquitted by the jury that listened to the testimony. Mrs. Camino is probably 60 years old, a native of Virginia, and like many persons who have spent their younger days in that state, occasionally makes use of typical southern language in giving vent to her expressions. Yesterday was one of the occasions on which her southern nature asserted itself. The trial was commenced about 3:30 o'clock and finished at 6:30, the jury being out only a few minutes. While Mrs. Camino was testifying she unconsciously kept the court, jurymen and spectators in a continuous state of eruption by her answers to questions.

"Did you not fire a couple of shots near your place of residence?" asked Deputy County Attorney Lynch on cross-examination.

"Look here, mister shrdl shrll shrll lady, throwing her head back, "who in h— wouldn't when they is rockin' your house. I'll be gol darned if I don't do 'em up sah if they don't leave me alone. Suh, sah, sah, sah!"

This was too much for the jury and judge and a fit of laughter that could not be suppressed for several minutes was indulged in by all present.

WOULD NOT TELL HIS STORY

Charles Candaletta, Alias Middleton, Who Shot French Pete, Prefers to Remain Silent.

Charles Candaletta, alias Charles Middleton, the colored man who shot French Pete, the hackman, on Arizona street last night, refuses to tell how the shooting came about. An effort to secure his version of the shooting was made today, but he could not be induced to talk. He looked as if he was just recovering from the effects of an indulgence in liquor when seen in the county jail, where he is incarcerated, this morning, but it may be that he was worried by his conscience.

The shooting took place at about half past 9 o'clock last night, in the rear of French Pete's place on Arizona street, and there were no witnesses of the shooting excepting the principals. Two shots were fired by the colored man. The men had been quarreling, and after the shots were fired Pete was found holding his right wrist, which had been perforated with a bullet. He was not in a condition to tell the story, and was taken to the St. James hospital.

Pete was on the rampage yesterday and was arrested in the morning for carrying a concealed weapon and threatening to shoot the blacksmiths at Lane's blacksmith shop. He was drunk at the time. He secured his liberty with a bail bond and then continued his pleasure, winding up by getting himself shot.

When his case came up in the police court this morning it was passed because he was supposed not to be able to appear. He was seen on the streets later, however, carrying his arm in a sling.

DULL IN THE POLICE COURT

Scarcity of Arrests Last Night and Very Few Arraignments Made This Morning.

Joseph Furthmerger was arrested last night for disturbing the peace with loud and abusive language. He put up a cash bond of $10 to secure his liberty. This morning when his name was called in the police court he was not present, and Judge Boyle ordered the bond forfeited.

Maude Ray, who pleaded guilty yesterday to being an inmate of a forbidden resort, and whose case was taken under advisement by Judge Boyle, was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 at the session of the police court this morning. She furnished the money and was set free.

Ira Perry, who was arrested last night for street walking, put up a cash bond of $10, and this morning the bond was forfeited upon her failure to appear in court when her case was called.

MENTAL STATE OF MRS. FOLEY

If She Has Money She May Be Compelled to Pay Her Way at the State Asylum.

Mrs. Nora Foley, widow of James Foley, who suicided last week by hanging himself, appeared before a commission in Judge Clancy's court rooms last evening to have her mental condition inquired into, but after the matter had been partly heard a continuance until 5 o'clock this afternoon was taken in order that desired testimony relating to her financial condition might be presented. It is alleged that Mr. Foley left a life insurance policy in his wife's favor and the court wishes to find out whether Mrs. Foley can pay her own way at the asylum provided she is ordered to the institution.

MINERS' UNION SPORT PICNIC

GREAT CELEBRATION PLANNED FOR OBSERVANCE OF UNDERGROUND WORKERS' DAY.

All Kinds of Events Including Drilling Contests, Foot Races, Base Ball and Foot Ball Games—County Officials to Compete—Prizes For Everyone—The Committee in Charge,

Up at Miners' Union hall today the men who have charge of the preparations for the big picnic to be held by the union at Mountain View park, Anaconda, sat and gazed with delighted eyes at a big roll of posters announcing the events for the day. The posters are printed in screaming red letters and they tell to all who read them, a story of the attractions at the picnic, the underground workers will hold on Miners' Union day, August 18. The posters contain a detailed description of 55 events on a long sporting programme. Prizes of considerable value will be given for all the contests of skill and strength in which the rivals will engage.

The old time honored drilling contest will find place on the programme; there will be base ball and foot ball games and a variety of other sports including foot racing and kindred contests, and in addition there will be several contests that will have a large admixture of the element of fun.

There will be a hundred-yard foot race, between the county officials of Silver Bow and Deer Lodge counties, for which valuable money prizes will be awarded. There will also be a boat race between the county officials of the two counties and in this event also, there will be a bunch of money hung up to tempt those who are experts at aquatic sports. The money for these prizes has been awarded by Judge McClernan, Sheriff Farey, Ed Mathews, Sam Roberts and other sportively inclined gentlemen, who occupy places in the court house at Silver Bow county and Jack Conley, and a large following of red hot sports, who are snugly housed in the court house at Deer Lodge county's capital. These exciting events will come off with eclat that will startle the natives, if everything goes as is planned.

In addition to the numerous first prizes there will be a large number of second prizes, and in some cases third prizes have been provided. In fact, it will be hard to go to the Miners' Union picnic and come away without winning a prize. Altogether about a hundred prizes will be awarded. There will be a prize for the best looking man and the worst looking, the best dressed lady and the best dressed gentleman, the man with the largest family and the one who was married most recently, and, of course, has no family at all. The oldest man on the grounds will get a prize, and the baby that is, in the estimation of competent judges who have spent years at the business, the best looking, will be given a prize. It will be a great day for prizes, and the crowd going from this city to Anaconda will have one of the best times ever given the merriment-loving members of the human family in Montana.

One train will leave the B. A. & P. depot at 8 o'clock in the morning, and another will pull out at 9:40. The trains returning will leave the picnic grounds at convenient hours of the evening and up to as late as midnight.

The following good fellows have worked hard for the success of the event, and will wear big buttons of the reception committee, and see that every one has a good time:

Ed Hughes, chairman; W. H. Eddy, Mike Mooney, Charles O'Brien, Joe Dillon, Joseph Calloway, John Murtha, F. K. Boyl, Nicholas Drummy, John McW. McKeon, Michael Dempsey, Robert Guirk, John Shea, James Connell, J. J. Hanley, Frank O'Connor, Thos. Duignan, John M. Sullivan and John R. Murphy.
