ENTERTAINED VISITORS

In Mirth and Good Feeling the Tenth Annual Meeting of the State Pharmaceutical Society Comes to an End—Druggists From All Over the State Were in Attendance.

The banquet given at Columbia Gardens last night by the Silver Bow Retail Druggists' association in honor of the members of the State Pharmaceutical society, which held its annual meeting her yesterday, was a very fine affair. Over 100 druggists and drug clerks, members of the press and a few other honorary guests attended the banquet, and the revelry lasted till a late hour. A very entertaining programme was carried out by the managers of the banquet for the pleasure of their guests. Shooting the chutes, moving pictures and a specially gotten up boxing match were among the features of entertainment. The druggists shot the chutes with a great deal of gusto, shouting and enjoying themselves to the limit. The moving pictures were voted a great success and the boxing match was a decided treat.

The latter feature was arranged to be pulled off between A. S. Nicholls of Christie & Leys' drug store and Mr. Brown of Rockefeller & Paxson's drug store. It resulted in a surprise party for the spectators. All the assembled druggists were keyed up to a great pitch were prepared by Thomas Colbert of the Fosselman Drug company. They contained a photographic list of the edibles, the paper being sensitized for the photographic impression.

At the afternoon session of the state society the following full list of officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Sid J. Coffee, Missoula; first vice president, H. M. Parchen, Helena; second vice president, A. E. West, Butte; third vice president, F. W. Harrison, Anaconda; secretary, John M. Doull, Butte; treasurer, F. A. Woehner, Great Falls; executive committee, A. W. Noble of Butte, Alf Whitworth of Deer Lodge, C. B. Hoskins of Butte.

The next meeting of the Pharmaceutical association will be held in Butte also. Among the members who attended yesterday's meeting were: Sid J. Coffee, of expectancy at the announcement of this event. They held their breaths hard when the pharmaceutical pugilists appeared before them ready for the mill.

But when the referee said "Go!" instead of doing a true pugilistic rush at each other, the principals stepped out in the middle of the stage with a box and a match and Mr. Nicholls said "Here are your box and match," and they gracefully bowed and retired. The sold druggists wanted to "hang the fakirs" but finally concluded to forgive them upon the promise that they would not do it again until next time.

The banquet was held in the cafe at the Gardens, and the tables, with their rows of lively and sociable guests, were an agreeable sight. The viands were all of a most pleasant character. The following gentlemen covered themselves with the glory as the speakers and actors of the evening:

H. M. Parchen, Colonel Colbert Emil Stanz, R. H. Paxson, J. M. Doull (poet laureate), George W. Robbie, Alf Whitworth, Charles Hoskins, F. W. Harrison, Emile F. Ferte, D. M. Newbro, W. G. Tuttle, Fred A. Woehner, E. A. Hensen, A. E. West, John Taylor

WILL SHOW HOW 'T WAS DONE

Veterans of Spion Kop Will Meet Meagher Guards in Sham Battle at Columbia Gardens.

What promises to be the most interesting sham battle given in Butte for a long time, approaching a real fight in thrilling nature, is to be held out at the Gardens tomorrow when the Meagher guards hold their annual picnic and wind up with a British-Boer engagement.

The Meagher guards will be turned into British red coats for the nonce, and they, with the assistance of a few of the Spanish-American war veterans, will take the hill of Spion Kop, where the burghers are to be entrenched. The burghers are then to "scout" for their horses, retire in disorder to the next ravine, where they are expected to refresh their courage, and then charge back and drive the British pell mell from the trenches in exact imitation of the battle of Spion Kop as recorded in history. The Boers are to be mounted, and will give a pretty exhibition of irregular cavalry tactics.

The Boer army is to be made up of men who really did fight in South Africa. There are about 25 of them in the city, and most of the number will take part in tomorrow's festivities. They have seen the battle they will re-produce and will make it all intensely realistic. Their ranks may be augmented somewhat, to make the two sides more equal in number, as the British are to have upwards of 75 warriors.

The battle is to take place on the hill north of the Gardens, in full view of the grand stand and the hillcrest along by the chutes. It will begin at 7:30, in time to be finished before dark. Capt. Jeans is to lead the red coat army, while the Boers will be officered by a commandant who is to be named at a meeting tonight.

The picnic of the guards during the afternoon will be enlivened by many contests for prizes offered by merchants of the city. A large attendance is expected for both afternoon and evening.

MEETS DEATH IN BATH TUB

PECULIAR DEMISE OF A G. MARTLY IN THE OLSON BLOCK.

His Body Was Found Almost Entirely Immersed in Water—An Electric Light Wire Attached to One Hand and Ankle—Discovered by the Landlady—Coroner Will Investigate.

A death surrounded by mysterious circumstances and which may have been suicidal, accidental, or natural, occurred at the Olson block in South Butte last night. The dead man who figures in the mystery was A. G. Martly, a grocer's clerk.

Hartly went into a bath room on the first floor of the Olson block about 8:30 o'clock last night and at 10:30 the landlady, Mrs. Hansen, growing suspicious of the continuous running of the water in the room, called Mr. Olson, the owner of the block, and made an investigation, which resulted in the discovery that Hartly was dead in the bath tub.

He was lying in the tub on his back, and the water was up to his armpits, his head being elevated on the sloping end of the tub.

His Head Was Above Water.

The position of the body showed that Martly had not drowned and a close examination revealed, coiled about one wrist and ankle the end of a wire, the other end of which was attached to the wire of an incandescent electric light suspended from the ceiling. A pin thrust through the insulation of the electric light wire connected the other wire. Thus Martly had received a shock which, it is supposed, ended his life.

The landlady is of the opinion that Martly had no intention of suicide but took the shock simply for the sensation. She says Martly was of a cheerful disposition and apparently in good health.

There is no known reason why he should commit suicide. He was to have gone to work this morning for Mayo & Co., a crage and a commission man, of South Butte, and last night he told Mr. Larsen, a grocer near the Butte, Anaconda & Pacific depot, for whom he had worked, that he was going home to take a bath and get a good sleep and be ready for work today in the new place.

It is not certain that Martly's death was caused by an electric shock. There were no burns on his body, and the wire and pin attached to the electric light wire were removed without shock to the person who took them down.

The landlady stated today that she was in the small room adjoining the bathroom, where Martly died and which is used for a sitting room, from the time he went into the bathroom, until she grew suspicious about the way the water ran and that she never heard a sound from him. She had visitors, however, and their talk deadened other noises somewhat.

Not Dead When Discovered

When she suspected something wrong she called Mr. Olson and asked him to look over the bathroom. He saw Martly lying in the tub. Mrs. Hansen stated that the latter's head was wobbling when Mr. Olson saw him, and that it was at first thought he was not quite dead. When he was examined there was no evidence of life.

Owing to the uncertainty as to the cause of Martly's death, Coroner Johnson will hold an inquest over the body this evening.

The deceased was 33 years old and single. He had no relatives in Butte. He had worked for Hall & Harper, grocers, and was well liked.

An incident indicating that Martly did not intend suicide, is found in the circumstance that Monday he asked Mrs. Hansen to take a shock of electricity from the light wire in his room.

The landlady declined the invitation, although Martly told her the shock would not hurt her. That would indicate that he had tried the shock before.

SHE HAS A LONG VICTIM LIST

Clever Pickpocket Set at Liberty—She is Said to Have Robbed Four Hundred Persons.

Deputy Sheriff Whiteley arrested a professional street walking pickpocket last night and placed her in the county jail, but today she was set at liberty because the man she is accused of having robbed refused to appear in court as a witness. The woman gave her name as Kittie Lee. She is part negro and is said to be the smoothest pickpocket that ever entered the confines of Butte, the smooth "Jew Jess" not excepted.

It is claimed that with the past six months she has robbed no less than 400 persons of amounts ranging from $1 to $500 each.

MULVILLE LIKES RANCHING

Former Butte Populist Wheel Horse Recites Interesting Facts of Lost River District.

Samuel Mulville, for many years one of the wheel horses of the populist party in Butte and now a prosperous rancher and cattle raiser in the Lost River district of Idaho, is in the city. Mr. Mulville says he enjoys his new occupation and if nothing happens will roll up about 400 tons of hay from his meadows next year.

"It is a great pleasure," continued Mr. Mulville, "to look out upon the broad green fields of alfalfa and watch the cattle grow sleek and fat. The Oregon Short Line is building a branch road into that section and when it is completed there will be a station within two miles of my place. Twenty-six miles of the line have been built and six weeks or two months more will see its completion.

"There is a good mining district up there, too, and it contains a copper property in which Mackay, the California millionaire, is largely interested.

"Populists? Yes; the woods are full of them. Why last fall we combined with the democrats and got away with everything; even to the election of Fred Dubois, for the senate. He is a silver advocate and what we populists wanted. I expect to see many Butte men up that way after the railroad is completed," he continued, "but just now the place is most to remote to attract people whose actions are so heavily charged with business, cares as are those of the residents of Butte."

STOCK MARKET FAIRLY ACTIVE

Upward Tendency Noted in Nearly All Lines, With United States Steel Neglected.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Aug. 14.—The stock market opened fairly active and with an upward tendency. St. Paul was the feature, 7,000 shares changing hands a gain of 1%.

Opening gains were generally wiped out in sympathy with heaviness of St. Paul, Sugar and United States Steel. Buying to cover rallied the market again and St. Paul advanced 2 1/2 to 164. Atchison, Sugar and the Pacific recovered to the highest and B. & O. reached par.

Later in the day prices eased off. United States Steel stocks were neglected and without important changes.

Bonds were firm. There was a revival of activity in the leather stocks at advancing prices, the common gaining 1 and the preferred 1 1/2. The general tone was firmer but there was not much improvement over the noon level.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or Billiousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

MASKED MEN ROB A SALOON

THEY HOLD UP A BAR TENDER AND RIFLE A CASH REGISTER.

With Drawn Revolvers Two Desperate Characters Hold Three Men at Bay While They Work—Secured $20 in Coin—Supposed to Be Dublin Gulch Toughs.

Saloon robberies at the point of the pistol are becoming very common in Butte. Another took place at half-past 1 o'clock this morning on the outskirts of Dublin gulch, and the two robbers who figured in it are supposed to be Dublin gulch toughs.

The place held up was the saloon of M. Cantlon & Son, at 110 East Copper street, known as the Anaconda saloon. At the time of the robbery there were three men in the saloon—Emmet Cantlon, a son of the proprietor, and who was in charge of the place, Paddy Kelly and Mike McGowan.

They Had Guns in Their Hands

They were sitting in one corner of the saloon when the robbers entered and covered them with pistols. The robbers came in by the front door. One was short and the other tall, and they were masked after a fashion with handkerchiefs. They threw their revolvers down on young Cantlon and his companions and ordered them to throw up their hands. The order was complied with, and then the short robber walked around back of the bar and began to pound the keys of the cash register.

The register has a combination lock, and it is necessary to strike two certain keys at once in order to open it. According to the barkeeper, the robber did not spare his muscle, but hammered the keys as if he were beating a carpet.

The Rifling of the Till.

While this was going on the tall robber kept his pistol leveled at Cantlon, Kelly and McGowan. Presently, growing weary of his confederate's failure to get the register unlocked, he said: "Come up here, bartender, and open this till."

Cantlon started for the bar at the command, but before he could reach it the short robber landed on the right keys and the drawer opened. He then rifled the till. He got $20 in coin, leaving a balance of three nickels in the drawer. The robbers then left the saloon, keeping their weapons leveled on the three men all the time.

Young Cantlon says the men on the ore cars from the Stewart mine, Nos. 52 and 55, saw the robbers pull something from their faces near the door of the saloon, and the supposition is that they tore off their handkerchief masks.

Description of the Bandits.

The tall hold-up wore black clothes and a black Fedora hat, and the short one wore a light coat and brown hat. The tall fellow weighed about 135 pounds and the other about 140. The barkeeper was enabled to take a minute description of them.

He stated this morning that he was pretty sure of their identity. No warrant had been issued for them this forenoon, up to which time no complaint had been preferred by the Cantlons.

Young Cantlon said this morning that prior to the robbery, in the early part of the night, the short and the tall man who committed the hold-up were seen at other saloons in Dublin gulch, and that, at those times the tall man wore the light coat and brown hat and the short man was dressed in the black coat and hat.

Dublin Gulch Youths Suspected

Before committing the robbery they had exchanged clothing, according to this story. The barkeeper would not give the names of the men he suspected of the robbery, but said they were tough youths who live in Dublin gulch.

If his story is correct it would seem that there should be little difficulty in fastening the crime on the two individuals who committed it.

The Anaconda saloon is a favorite place for robberies, apparently. About six months ago it was held up in much the same manner as it was last night. On that occasion the robbers overlooked a man in the saloon who had $250 in his pockets, and got only $14 out of the till. They fired a shot at the man with the money, however, because he would not hold up his hands, and the bullet hole is to be seen in the wainscoting yet.
