KEENAN BACK ON HIS BEAT

REINSTATED POLICE OFFICER PUTS ON HIS UNIFORM AND STAR

Chief of Police Taylor Warns the Man That His Conduct Must Hereafter Be Without Reproach, and the Patrolman Promises Faithfully That Never Again Will He Offend.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—Patrolman Keenan, the officer reinstated by the council Wednesday, after having been suspended for conduct unbecoming a patrolman, went on duty again last evening. About 5 o'clock he reported to Chief Taylor in citizens clothes. The chief told him to go home and get his uniform, which he did. He returned to the chief's office shortly afterwards, when he was given his star and assigned to a beat in the eastern part of town. The chief informed Keenan when he went out that his conduct must be exemplary hereafter, and the officer promised his superior that it would be. While the members of the city council were at a high pitch of excitement over the matter of the reinstatement of Keenan, Wednesday night, Alderman McHugh furnished a bit of amusement which not only caused his colleagues to forget their bitterness, but brought the galleries down in a burst of laughter. Mr. McHugh sat in his chair, silently, for sometime after Alderman Luxton presented his resolution to strike from the minutes of the clerk all references to the Keenan case at the previous meeting. Mr. McHugh was not present at the preceding meeting, and was somewhat in the dark as to the merits of the proposition, so he listened attentively to the spat indulged in by the other ward representatives. Finally he rose to his feet, and, receiving recognition from the chair, proceeded to talk: "I am no Philadelphia lawyer, nor anything of the kind," he said, "and I don't quite understand what you fellows are talking about. I don't know where I am at, exactly, and before I vote I want to know." Several of the aldermen undertook to explain, when Mr. McHugh interrupted: "Not one of you know what you are talking about. In the first place you don't know what the man's name is—that is a sure thing. You call him Kinnon or Keenan, or something like that, and that isn't it at all, at all. His name isn't Kinnon or Keenan, but its Kineen, K-I-n-e-e-n. I never saw the likes of that. The whole lot of you are off; do you hear me?" The house burst into an uproar of laughter for a few minutes, and even the mayor, who had to keep his wits well collected about that stage of the meeting, was forced to smile one of his characteristic smiles. At other times during the discussion of the controversy Mr. McHugh occasionally supplied his hearers with drafts of humor.

BOYS EAT THE GARDEN TRUCK

Mean Game Played on a Rancher by a Friend Who Had Drank Too Much.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—One of the ranchers who makes a business of peddling garden truck about the city was the victim of an incident yesterday that was as ludicrous as it was provoking. With his wagon load of produce the rancher had stopped on a side street and dismounting from his vehicle was preparing to make the rounds of his customers in the immediate vicinity and take their orders. As he was leaving his wagon he was approached by a friend, who was apparently a little under the influence of liquor. The friend requested a small loan from the produce man, which was gently but firmly refused. This, of course, called for an argument, which both men indulged in with great vigor. Every conceivable form of talk was used by the man wanting the loan, and was as quickly replied to by the rancher. The talk attracted a crowd of newsboys and street urchins, who gathered about and urged the debtors to more action. The rancher finally became weary of talking and went away, leaving his intoxicated friend surrounded by a multitude of small boys. After watching the owner of the wagon out of sight the man turned to the boys and with a face beaming with good intentions said: "Now, boys, you get right in there and help yourselves." In an instant the boys were swarming over the wagon, taking their pick of radishes, onions, green peas, string beans, turnips and everything eatable, to the intense enjoyment of the intoxicated individual. All at once the proprietor of the outfit appeared upon the scene, and the scattering of boys was wonderful to see. The rancher mounted his wagon and drove into safer precincts. As he disappeared around the corner his head seemed to be surrounded by a halo of blue smoke, and a sulphurous odor was noticeable.

THINK THEY'VE BEEN WORKED

Citizens of Anaconda Bemoaning the Loss of Dollars They Gave to a Stranger.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—There are a dozen or more citizens of Anaconda who have arrived at the conclusion that they have been the willing victims of a smooth and heartless fraud who has been working about town for several days. Few of the alleged victims are willing to talk about how they were worked, and several who had subscribed a dollar each to the game played by the stranger deny ever having seen the fellow, and in explanation of how their names became attached to the paper circulated declare that a friend had played a joke on them and attached their names to the document, without due authority. Since the fellow came to town he has gathered in considerable money, and last evening he suddenly left. The solicitor got into the good graces of the citizens by telling them that he was engaged in a religious work and made a talk to them that the money turned over to his keeping was to be used to defray the expense of the distribution of pamphlets containing a simplified version of the Bible. The books, he said, were to be circulated among the homes of the poor and that they would be published about two months hence. The alleged swindler went into an office in the Durston block yesterday afternoon, but the head man of the office was not to be landed so easily as others about the same building had been. The gentleman has always been a liberal contributor to the furtherance of Christianity and is ever ready to give his money to religious work of any kind. But somehow the appearance of the visitor did not strike him favorably, and he demanded to see his credentials. The visitor became uneasy, but finally pulled out a letter purporting to have been signed by a minister of the gospel in Michigan, testifying as to the honesty and integrity of the possessor. But this did not satisfy the business man in the Durston block.

Some of the officers were informed what the man was doing and asked to keep a close watch of him. As far as known no one was careful to ascertain the name of the religiously inclined gentleman.

WOOD FAMINE NOT UNLIKELY

Forest Fires Near Anaconda Destroy the Coming Winter's Supply of Fuel.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—Dealers in fuel in Anaconda say that in all likelihood the citizens of this city will suffer from a wood famine this winter. The wood that has been destroyed by the forest fire in Warm Springs canyon would have supplied the wood burners of this city very nicely. It was the last chance, too, say the wood men, for wood cut any later during the season than the present time is not in condition for the winter market. For this reason a great deal of the cord wood chopping had ceased. Those who have visited the burnt area say it is a most desolate looking sight. Every stick of timber has been burned and the ashes blown away. The fire was in plain view from the city last night, and the dense smoke that it covered and hung over the city during the day, obscuring the sun from early in the morning until dark. There is no possible means of determining the exact amount of timber destroyed, but the cords run into the thousands. Yesterday evening word was received in the city by telephone that the new flume was in danger from the flames, and 25 men were immediately dispatched by the company to fight the fire if it got too close. Many cabins and houses have been destroyed by the flames and many wood cutters rendered homeless. Today the fire is slowly approaching the summit of Bald Mountain, where there is a chance that it will die out.

PLANNING FOR A GREAT DAY

Central Trades and Labor Council Getting Ready to Fittingly Celebrate Aug. 20.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—The Central Trades and Labor Council met last night in the council chamber at the city hall, when plans for the reception of the delegates to the labor convention, to be held in Anaconda, beginning Aug. 20, and for the observance of Labor Day Sept. 2 were fully discussed. The delegates to the convention will be met at the depot by a reception committee, including the mayor and other city officials. When not engaged in convention hall, the members will be entertained at smokers and in other ways. The main effort of the council is being directed toward making the Labor Day celebration in Anaconda one of the best in the history of the state. The morning parade of unions, civic orders, industrial floats, etc., will be the feature of the day. Three bands will be in the procession, as well as the fire departments and other uniformed organizations. After the parade the scene of the festivities will be transferred to Mountain View Park, and arrangements are being made with the B. A. & P. railroad whereby the immense crowd expected may be handled to an exact nicety. Numerous excursions will be run between Butte and Anaconda, although the unions of that city intend holding their own celebration. Speakers for the occasion have not yet been decided upon.

PROPERTY SHOWS GOOD ORE

Henry R. Wilson Well Pleased With His Investment Northwest of Butte.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—Henry R. Wilson is in the city, having returned from the Cottonwood mining district, northwest of Butte, where he is conducting development work on property owned by himself. Mr. Wilson is enthusiastic over his prospects there, and says he has unearthed promising mineral indications. He has a shaft down to a depth of 15 feet, beside several open cuts on a 3-foot ledge between well defined walls of granite. Recent assays taken have shown values as high as 170 ounces silver and 5 per cent copper, which he believes is pretty good for surface rock. Attorney John W. Jones and several other Anacondans are the owners of an adjoining property to that of Mr. Wilson.

Chauncey Olcott Coming.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—That sweet singer and charming actor, Chauncey Olcott, comes to the Margaret theater next Tuesday, when he will present for the first time in this city his new play entitled "Garrett O'Magh." It is a comedy with exciting episodes. Mr. Olcott has the strongest acting part in his career, which he plays with ease and grace. His five new songs, which are a chief feature of the play, are said to be delightful.

Alleged Bicycle Thief Held.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—The preliminary hearing of John Neissen, arrested in Butte some time ago on a charge of having stolen a $75 bicycle, the property of J. H. Strain of this city, was had in Justice Kennedy's court this afternoon. Several witnesses who reside in the valley east of town were present to give their testimony. The evidence produced was sufficient to hold the defendant to the action of the district court.

Both Sides Restrained.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—Judge Napton handed down a decision today in Lost Creek water right cases, in which D. C. Cummaack et al. sued Richard Hory. He issued a restraining order against the defendants, forbidding them to take out or otherwise injure flood gates of plain-tiffs, and fixed the bond at $150. The plaintiff is also restrained from running such quantity of water through ditches as to the defendant's crops, road or cross ditches. The bond was fixed at $300.

New Postoffice Ready.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—Although the new postoffice building has been finished and ready for occupancy for about a month, Postmaster English could take no steps towards moving out of the present quarters until yesterday afternoon. All this time he has been waiting for authority from the postoffice department at Washington. Everything is in readiness for the change and by next Monday the change will be complete.

Money From Daly Estate.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Aug. 16.—The county treasurer of Powell county received a check today for $10,508.34 from Treasurer Twoby of this county, the amount of Powell county's apportionment of the Daly estate inheritance tax money.

Ed Hughes, chairman of the committee having in charge the preparations of the Butte branch of the Western Labor Union, was in the city yesterday to make arrangements for the convention to be held in this city next week. Every one hoped that would be the result, and that the forest fires raging in the mountains west of town would thus be extinguished, but disappointment came instead.
