LABOR MEN IN SESSION

MONTANA TRADES COUNCIL GATHERS IN ANACONDA FOR CONFERENCE.

Large Number of Delegates Are Present From All Over the State, and the Meeting, to Last All the Week, Promises to be an Interesting One.

Sixty delegates were present when the convention was called to order. No business was transacted, and an adjournment was taken until 12 o'clock, when the committees on credentials and order of business were appointed. The committees are as follows:

Credentials—S. E. McNally, Butte Carpenters' union; Martin E. Regan, Central Labor Council, Anaconda; L. O. O'Rork, Missoula union.

Order of Business—Luke Williams, Mill and Smelters' union, Anaconda; William Ridgway, Winston Miners' union; Robert Pelkey, Butte.

At the afternoon session the reports of the committees were heard. All sessions are being held behind closed doors and the body will probably be busy all of this week.

Among the prominent men who will speak are President M. McCormick and Secretary Frank J. Pelletier.

MR. SAWYER A REAL ROOTER

Anaconda City Attorney Not So Slow When It Comes to Aiding His Favorites.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)

Anaconda, Aug. 20.—There is nothing that City Attorney Sawyer enjoys quite so much as a baseball game, and if things are coming all right for his favorite team there is no one in Anaconda who can make quite so much noise as he, and at the game played last Sunday between the Anaconda Eagles and Missoula's "undefeated" nine, he amply kept good his reputation in that regard.

Sawyer's first name is Caleb, and a good many of his home friends never call him anything else; even while the city council is in session some of the aldermen while addressing him forget the dignity of their station and instead of saying "Mr. City Attorney," as they should do, they come right out and call him plain, every-day "Caleb."

Mr. Sawyer is an Eagle, that is to say,

TURNER HAL L. ANACONDA.

Building in Which the State Trades and Labor Council is Holding Session.

he is a member of the order of that name, and naturally he was expected to do a whole lot of "rooting" for the home team during last Sunday's game.

During the first inning he sat quietly in the grand stand; neither side made a run, but in the second, when the home team scored twice, he fairly jumped out of his seat and shouted:

"Ain't that awful!"

When Bert Storey went to bat and perforated the bump of self-esteem held by the Missoulians by clearing three bases and making a home run himself, Sawyer again let out one of his deafening "Ain't that awful!" yells, which fairly paralyzed the players who belonged to the visiting nine.

"That's right, Caleb," answered some one from Missoula, said to be Mayor Stevens, "those fellows can't play ball any better than a set of 10-year-old boys. Look at that man out in center field, falling all over himself after that ball. It's a downright shame that the boys should come down here and make such an exhibition of their awkwardness. Blame it, anyway. It's awful!"

"Yes, ain't that awful!" cried Anaconda's city attorney. "I'll just bet you $50 right here that the Missoula team doesn't make a run!" shouted Caleb during the excitement.

No one wanted to take Sawyer's cash, and he went on with his shouting. When the game was over everybody knew who City Attorney Sawyer was, especially some of those who had put up their hard cash on the Missoula team against his before the game started.

Mr. Sawyer made a month's salary on the game.

FOREST FIRES DYING OUT

Heavy Rain in the Vicinity of Anaconda Saves Thousands of Cords of Wood.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)

Anaconda, Aug. 20.—A welcome rain fell in Anaconda last night, and the fall was sufficient to check the progress of the forest fires which have played havoc in the mountains west of the city for more than a week, by destroying thousands of acres of valuable timber and reducing to ashes hundreds of cords of wood cut since last spring and intended for consumption next winter.

The skies were still smoky this morning, and the scene of the fires was hidden from view, but it is believed that the precipitation was sufficient to extinguish them almost completely.

If this is found to be the case the owners of wood up Warm Springs creek in the vicinity of the silica quarries will be particularly fortunate as the blaze was rapidly advancing that way and it would have been only a matter of a few days until they would have suffered the fate that visited upon the habitations nearer town.

There is a great deal of wood piled up in Warm Springs canyon, ready for the market, and now that it seems likely that it will escape destruction the prospects of a wood famine a few months later are not so bright.

HONORS ARE WON AT TENNIS

Swift Hunter and Hunter Ralley Receive Congratulations of Anaconda Players.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)

Anaconda, Aug. 20.—By hard and well played tennis game Swift Hunter and Hunter Ralley have won the right to represent Anaconda in the singles at the state tennis tournament, commencing in Butte today.

Randolph Ralley and Hunter Ralley will appear in some of the doubles, as will also J. Whitehill and Swift Hunter. Anaconda tennis enthusiasts are more than satisfied with their representatives, as the local tournaments were conclusive evidence that they are the best players in the city. They left for Butte today to be present at the opening of the state tournament.

A number of other Anaconda players also went to Butte to witness the games, and there will be a much larger delegation on the succeeding days.

ALDEN CHURCH PASSES AWAY

Youth Well Known and Respected in the Copper City Succumbs to Diphtheria.

Anaconda, Aug. 20.—Alden Church, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Church, 719 Hickory street, died this morning of diphtheria at the family residence.

Alden was the youngest of a family of four sons and had been sick but a few days.

Henry J. Church, the father, was at one time manager of the Copper City

Commercial company, but was compelled to resign his position because of his falling eyesight, having become totally blind since.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

FIGHT PLEAS ANACONDANS

Crowd Goes to the Mill at the Saucer Track in Four Special Cars.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)

Anaconda, Aug. 20.—Without exception the Anaconda sports who went to Butte last night to see the mill between Oglesby and Wade, at the saucer track, pronounce it the best event of the kind ever pulled off in the state. The crowd that went from Anaconda filled four coaches of a special train.

ASSAULT CASE FALLS FLAT

Mark Halloran, Accused of Having Done Wrong, Discharged in Police Court.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)

Anaconda, Aug. 20.—Mark Halloran who was arrested Saturday night by Night Chief O'Brien on complaint of Martin Cole, charging him with assault on Cole's six-year-old daughter, was discharged from custody last night.

Olcott at the Margaret.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)

Chauncey Olcott, who comes to the Margaret theater tonight after an absence of over five years, is the possessor of a fine tenor voice, sympathetic in quality, of sustained power, clear in tone, which he manages with great skill and ease. His songs are charming compositions of his own and are rendered with a refinement of expression that leaves nothing to be desired. His new play, "Garrett O'Magh," by his manager, Augustus Pitou, will be beautifully mounted, the scenery noteworthy for elaborate and artistic effect, also the original cast as seen during Mr. Olcott's successful engagement of five months in New York.

John D. Rom at Rest.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)

Anaconda, Aug. 20.—The body of John D. Rom was buried this morning in Calvary cemetery, the funeral taking place from St. Paul's church on East Park avenue, where recumbent high mass was celebrated by Father Coopman. All of the Austrian societies and orders in the city were in the funeral procession, as were also many of the prominent business men in the city.

Tom Tracy in Trouble.

(By Associated Press)

Anaconda, Aug. 20.—Tom Tracey, aged 38 years, was arrested yesterday evening, charged with disturbing the peace of Walker's gulch. The facts of the case, as alleged in the complaint, are that young Tracey has been making burdensome the life of the watchman on the flume in the gulch by throwing rocks at him, making away with shrapnel un at him, making away with small articles and otherwise proving himself a nuisance. He will be arraigned in Justice Kennedy's court this afternoon.

Lively Runaway, No Damage.

(Special to Inter Mountain)

Anaconda, Aug. 20.—A serious mixup of horses, buggies and human beings took place on East Park avenue this morning during the funeral of John D. Rom. Two buggies were overturned and a woman and two children were caught under one of these. The horse kicked himself free and ran down the street. Bystanders seized the other two horses, one of which almost ran into a drug store. The only damage done was to one buggy.

Jail Breaker is Captured.

(By Associated Press.)

Anaconda, Aug. 20.—Ed O'Keefe, who escaped from the county jail last June while serving a term for beating his wife, was rearrested Sunday night by Night Chief O'Brien and again confined. He will be given a jury trial on a charge of jail breaking tomorrow, before Justice Frank Kennedy.
