daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Fitchett and is very popular in the circle in which she moves. The groom is well liked by all who have the pleasure of his acquaintance and is a successful business man of the city. Invitations have been issued to relatives and most intimate friends of the contracting parties.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Jennie Simpson to Mr. Frank Deno, which took place Thursday evening at the residence of the bride's parents, 328 Kemper avenue. Rev. G. H. Whitman performed the ceremony. After the ceremony an elaborate wedding supper was served. The bride and groom received a large number of handsome gifts.

In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. M. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. A. Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Trythall, Mr. and Mrs. Henry, Messames Smith, Colton, Ivy, Reesa, Misses Reese, Colton, and Hornsby; Messrs. Deno, J. Slater, Simpson, O'Neill, Cross, Hale, Trythall.

Saturday afternoon Miss Adaeline M. Kemper was wedded to William Nicholson at the home of Lieutenant Kemper. It was a very beautiful wedding and about forty friends witnessed it. Rev. J. E. Nofstinger performed the ceremony. After the ceremony an elaborate wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson have gone to Salt Lake for their wedding trip.

Last Tuesday evening, Rev. J. W. Tait united in marriage Mr. Thomas Johns and Miss Esther A. Canning. Mr. Johns has grown to manhood in Butte and was among those who served in the Philippines during the Spanish war. Miss Canning comes from California. The young couple will reside in Butte.

The marriage of Miss Hebe Ashby of Helena, and Jack Leggett of Butte, will take place on the 6th of November. It will be a very brilliant affair. The announcement of the engagement in the Inter Mountain this week was received with much interest by their friends.

club she had her parlors and dining room prettily decorated, the parlors in red, carnations and roses. The dining room was in lavender and pink combined and the effect was very pretty, lavender salpiglossis and pink roses being used.

The first prize was a pretty china celery tray, painted in wild brier roses; this was won by Mrs. Thomas Rood, a guest; another guest, Mrs. Rachel Harkness, captured the second prize, a pretty china cup and saucer. The consolation prize, a china candlestick, was won by Mrs. Jesse Thomas. When the prizes were won the hostess served dainty refreshments.

In addition to the club members were two guests, Mrs. Rachel Harkness and Mrs. Thomas Rood. The club members present were: Mrs. M. J. Anderson, Mrs. J. K. Carter, Mrs. Frances Black, Mrs. Joseph Holden, Mrs. Graham Farris, Mrs. J. Parris, Mrs. Leggett, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. J. Sullivan, Mrs. Noyes, Mrs. Claverling, Mrs. Hilton, Mrs. Jack Reed, Mrs. Thomas Moore, Mrs. Robert Meares, Mrs. Knowlton Rogers, Mrs. Whitelaw Rawson, Mrs. O'Meara, Mrs. Newton Browne, Mrs. M. McClellan, Mrs. Sophia Nevins, Mrs. Jessie Thomas.

M. M. Members Play Euchre.

If variety is truly the spice of life, then the members of the M. M. club ought to be happy for they have variety enough in their games. One week it is euchre, another bridge whist, then hearts, then seven-up and now, imagine it, next week they will play casino. Then they will try pinochle the following week.

The first Monday prize was a very pretty solid gold hat pin set with a handsome turquoise. This went to Mrs. Harry Schultz, who last week secured the consolation prize. The second prize was a solid silver belt buckle, in the quaint new style, and Mrs. Park Henderson was awarded this. The consolation, a pretty cut glass salt shaker, was captured by Mrs. Metta Crimmins. The club believes in giving something

MISS CATHERINE SEARLES, Who Is Celebrating Her Fifth Birthday.

Little Miss Searles' Birthday.

Miss Catherine Searles is today celebrating her fifth birthday by being the guest of honor at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Sam Johnstone, who is entertaining for her. Miss Catherine is one of the most popular of the west side little ones and her birthday is an event.

A prettier, gayer assemblage of children it would be hard to find and they are enjoying themselves with right good will. Miss Carrie Wharton and Miss Hallie Boucher assisted Mrs. Johnstone and Miss Drea Johnstone in receiving the guests.

A great feature of the afternoon was a Jack Horner pie. It was an immense pie well filled and plump. From every side peeped ribbons from under the crust. Each child pulled out a ribbon and at the end of it was a prize, the majority consisting of the quaint frogs, bugs, lizards and chickens to be found in all well-stocked Chinese stores. These were the favors.

The children danced and played games and had a royal good time. The birthday feast was a feature of course and greatly enjoyed.

The children present were: Misses Rita Bellinger, Catherine Culver, Margaret Morgan, Helen Smith, Dorothy Walsh, Marjorie Mattison, Hazel Nelson, Montana McMurray, Jim Long, Frances Pearce, Helen Copenharve.

Robb Forbis, Arthur Hand, Robert Chess, Sterling Chess, Bertie Fenton, Elliott Gilie, George Vivian, William Lavell, Edward Campbell, William Walsh, Patsy Lloyd. The invitation were all in rhyme as follows:

In Clubdom.

AMONG the club women the main topic of conversation has been for the past week the death of President McKinley, as it has been with all women and men.

The burden of every conversation has been his love and affection for his wife. Not one woman who mentions him but supplements it with the remark: "He was so good to his wife," and then little incidents of his life-long devotion are related and sorrow is expressed for the untimely death.

For the women think not of his great career, of the honors heaped upon him, of his political prestige, only of the man as a husband. They do not think of the loss to the nation, to the world, but the loss, great and irreparable to the dear wife he shielded so tenderly fearing the lightest wind might visit her too roughly.

In all their sorrow and pity, sorrow for the dead, pity for the living, women express also their admiration, and in some instances, their envy of that long, peaceful married life. A life in which there was no discord, where all was harmony. A married life which was perfection save for the illness of the wife, illness which but made her dearer to her "Major" as she always called him.

A paper in the east not long ago printed an article describing a visit of President and Mrs. McKinley to the graves of their children, an article which was read with great interest at the time and which showed so clearly that all encompassing love between them. For all time the love and lives of these two will be a joy and pride to the American people, and especially to the women of the land. It was in their opinion the brightest jewel in the career of McKinley, a jewel so lustrous it overshadowed all else.

Art Work of Miss Corrette.

If any one wants to inspect the prettiest china work imaginable they should form the acquaintance of Miss Maggie Corrette, daughter of Mrs. A. H. Jones, and they can feast their eyes.

Miss Corrette has been studying under Mrs. Hugh Laughlin and she has displayed great ability. She will keep on studying until she has mastered all there is to learn.

Her specialty is roses and she so loves them that she paints roses so true to nature one stoops to pick up a blossom. Her mother's home is beautified with her work.

One exquisite piece is a Jardiniere of quite large size. It is a very handsome affair, a perfect riot of roses luxuriating in the most graceful fashion all over the jardiniere. White roses, pink roses, yellow roses and here and there to accentuate the pale beauty of its fellows, glows a brilliant Jacqueminot of American Beauty.

Her collection of fragile china cups and saucers would make any tea or coffee drinker envious. One in palest pink with a wealth of forget-me-nots is very dainty, while every color and shade is represented.

In the plates there is a Dresden affair, with a delicate wreath of pink miniature roses encircling it. Another with a border of old blue has a wreath of holly berries. A plate in gold and maroon is very striking.

A sugar and cream set of exquisite lawthorns, a celery dish of roses, a set of individual butters, another of individual salts, all are worthy of individual notice so beautiful are they. In fact in her collection Miss Corrette has not one piece which is not beautiful, exquisitely painted.

She paints for her own amusement and love of art, and incidentally for the glorification of her mother's china closet which every friend envies her possession of. She is, however, very popular in the young set and is well known in Butte.

Meeting of Executive Board.

On Monday, the 20th instant, the members of the executive board of the Woman's club will meet with the club president, Mrs. A. H. Wethey, at her home, 834 West Granite street.

There are in all thirty-two members of the board and it is hoped there will be a large number present; at least a majority as some important matters are to be discussed and if possible voted upon.

It is probable that the committee deputized to select a suitable club room for next year, or if not for the year at least for the first meeting, October 2, will have a report to make. In all probability they will have selected the place and it is earnestly hoped they have.

MISS THORNTON, Who Left Yesterday for the East.

Farewell to Miss Thornton.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Belinger entertained for Miss Thornton at the Sam Martin cafe on West Granite street. The decorations and menu were both very elaborate.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Barry Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Forbis, Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Lauzier, Miss Thornton, Miss Belle Le Beau, Miss Adah Roberts, Miss Viola Horgan, Messrs. Will Horgan, Dr. W. L. Renick and Dr. Jed Freund.

Pink and Purple Whist.

Mrs. C. R. Larson entertained the Pink and Purple Whist club Wednesday afternoon.

The tables were tastefully decorated with pink and purple flowers, the colors of the club.

Fourteen games were played. Mrs. R. S. Currier, winning eight games, captured the first prize. Mrs. T. B. Weller the second prize and Mrs. P. H. O'Brien the consolation prize. The refreshments which the hostess had prepared were served after the games. Mrs. W. Barker was the guest of honor.

Mrs. Morgan's Card Party.

This afternoon Mrs. A. T. Morgan is entertaining at her home on West Granite, in honor of Mrs. H. B. Nelson of Manila. The game being played is euchre. The decorations are handsome and artistic, all in red, the flowers used being red roses, American Beauties.

The guests of Mrs. Morgan are: Mrs. Donald Campbell, Mrs. Frederick P. Holbrook, Mrs. F. W. McCormick, Mrs. Thomas Lavell, Mrs. Hugh Wilson, Mrs. Frank W. Cotter, Mrs. Laurence Harris, Mrs. E. J. Brophy, Mrs. Mary Richards, Mrs. Silas Neuberger, Miss Sanders, Mrs. J. K. Heslet, Mrs. Rockwood, Mrs. Fayette Harrington, Mrs. H. W. Turner, Mrs. R. A. Kunkel, Mrs. Sulphren of Helena and Mrs. Epping.

Met With Mrs. Jack Dudley.

Mrs. Jack Dudley, who has often been invited to act as substitute in the Whist Friends' club, entertained the club on Monday afternoon, tendering a "complimentary." Not being a member of the useful and for the winner's personal use, where it is possible. When the prizes had been admired sufficiently a luncheon was served which was not only elaborate, but most enjoyable.

Those present were: Mrs. Park Henderson, Mrs. A. H. Mitchell, Mrs. R. J. Chase, Mrs. H. K. Emmons, Mrs. Robert Shoupe, Mrs. Harry Schultz, Mrs. Jessie Lyle, Mrs. Eva Frey, Mrs. Julia Cummings, Mrs. L. P. Lewis, Mrs. R. V.
