

A HARD TURNDOWN

Naval Trial Board Declines to Grant Admiral's Request.

FOR SAMPSON

Almost the First Time That a Victory Has Been Scored for Schley.

CRITIC OF THE COMMANDER OF THE BROOKLYN ASKS THAT NEW ATTORNEYS RESENT HIM.

OFFICIALS HEARING THE CASE DECIDE THAT SUCH A PROCEEDING WOULD BE IRREGULAR.

QUITE POSSIBLE THAT THE GOVERNMENT SIDE OF THE CASE WILL CLOSE NEXT WEEK.

REAR ADMIRAL SAMPSON.

Washington, Sept. 27.—In the Schley court this afternoon Judge Advocate Lemly read a letter from Admiral Sampson, dated at Lake Sunapee, N. H., Sept. 2, asking that Messrs. Stayton and Campbell be allowed to represent him in the case. The court decided that they could not appear.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Admiral Dewey lost no time in bringing the Schley court of inquiry to order today. Captain Lemly estimates that he will be able to conclude the presentation of the government's side of the case before the close of next week. He says he will have about 15 or 20 witnesses to introduce.

Today's session began with the recall of Capt. Wise to make corrections in the official copy of his testimony. He altered his previous statement regarding the order of the navy department, May 20, 1898, in which he was directed to "inform every vessel off Santiago that the flying squadron is off Cienfuegos," saying that he desired to correct his response to the court's inquiry as to why this order was not carried out, by stating that it had been carried out.

All Possible Speed.
"The flying squadron was ordered to proceed with all possible dispatch," he said, and added:
"I did not desire to inform the commander of the flying squadron of his own movements. The order was to inform commanders of the movements of the flying squadron."

The court then asked:
"Did you direct Capt. Sigsbee to give Commodore Schley the information contained in the dispatch from the navy department regarding the whereabouts of the Spanish squadron?"
"I did not."

Lieut. Spencer S. Wood, who commanded the dispatch boat Dupont, during the Spanish war, was then called and continued his testimony begun yesterday. Mr. Raynor resumed his cross examination.

COPPERS ARE WEAK

NO GREAT STRENGTH TO AMALGAMATED AND ANACONDA.

GREAT FLUCTUATIONS SHOWN

Wall Street Traders Handle Both Securities to Some Extent, But in a Gingerly Manner.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Prices of most stocks advanced at the opening. Amalgamated Copper and Anaconda were conspicuous exceptions. The latter sagged from the start, and the former, after feeble fluctuations, commenced to decline on light dealings. Active stocks declined, despite the increasing strength of the Vanderbilt group. Sugar lost a point and railroad stocks generally fell below yesterday's close, Missouri Pacific losing 1/4.

Near 11 o'clock heavy short covering carried the Western Pacific and Southwesterns and the steel stocks above last night's prices.

The extreme gain in the Vanderbilt's reached 5/8 in Lake Erie and Western, preferred.

The copper stocks were quiet and irregular. Amalgamated Copper lost 1/8 and rallied feebly, while Anaconda gave way 1/4 and came up strongly.

Room traders took profits on the rise and Manhattan and some of the railroads reacted a point or more. Amalgamated Copper was depressed to 90, ex-dividend and Anaconda lost 1. The trading then became dull.

Bonds were irregular.

New York Central rose again to 160 3/4 and Pennsylvania advanced 2 points. Manhattan crossed 124. The recovery was general.

Room traders joined in the buying of various usually dormant stocks and they were advanced in many cases from 3 to 7 1/2 points, principally those selling under 50.

In the active list prices rose steadily, Amalgamated Copper reaching 92 1/4 and Anaconda more than recovering its early decline.

Slight profit taking caused a momentary hesitation, but the advance was resumed with confidence. The Grangers, Pacifics, Manhattan and other prominent stocks made the best prices of the day.

Amalgamated Copper recovered its dividend and an additional fraction. The closing was quiet and about steady at only slight concession.

at 20 knots, the plan being to take off the bag containing the dispatches hung from a boom over the Ophir's side while both were at full speed. The man failed to get off the bag and the Quall was drawn toward the Ophir, while the water splashed high between them.

Those on board the Ophir thought it was all up with the little Quall. So close was she to the Ophir that she fouled a rope and her stern was drawn under the bows of the Ophir. The commander ordered full speed ahead, the rope cleared itself, the destroyer got away and at a 35-knot clip the Quall proceeded to Quebec.

GOOD WIND TOMORROW.

Excellent Chance for Contest Between Columbia and Shamrock II.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Sept. 27.—The weather bureau this afternoon issued the following bulletin: "The winds off Sandy Hook Saturday morning will be light to fresh easterly, probably increasing to brisk in the afternoon."

New York, Sept. 27.—From an authentic source it is learned that there is a strong protest on the part of Capt. Sycamore and those in charge of Shamrock, at what they term crowding of Shamrock at the start yesterday by Capt. Barr.

"If he is going to continue those tactics, there will be serious trouble," said the person quoted. "What he did yesterday would not be tolerated for an instant in a race in British waters. He must not expect us to stand it and we won't."

LONDON, Sept. 27.—King Edward received the United States ambassador, Mr. Choate, in audience at the Marlborough House today and personally renewed to him his expressions of deep sympathy and condolence with Mrs. McKinley and the American people, already expressed in his telegrams, at the time of President McKinley's assassination. Mr. Choate left with the king a letter as follows:

"I desire to express in person my sincere appreciation of your majesty's constant sympathy with Mrs. McKinley and the American people in their distress and bereavement, and profound thanks of my countrymen for this un-Marlborough House today and personally falling interest."

The audience was strictly private. No one else was present in the India room, where it was held.

A representative of the press learns that the king was most cordial in his remarks, expressing warm regard for America and Americans.

His majesty received the news of the attack on President McKinley at the second station from Kiel and was deeply affected, and personally wrote a message to Mrs. McKinley.

SCIENTIFIC FARMING IN THE GREAT WEST

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Sept. 27.—The department of agriculture has issued a report of the general agricultural conditions in the Pacific coast region, saying that although the tendency for the last 25 years has been toward a gradual reduction of area of individual farms and ranches, they are still of a size much larger than the average farm of the East, or even of the Middle West.

Another distinctive feature, especially in the great valley areas of California, is the use of machinery of great capacity, which means economy of human labor; but often also means a waste of grain. Every effort is made to combine several operations into one. Transportation of the enormous quantity of Pacific coast wheat has been reduced to a science.

The report says it has taken about 25,000,000 bushels of wheat to supply the foreign markets with Pacific coast wheat and flour. Of this amount California ports furnished more than 20,000,000 bushels.

LEON CZOLGOSZ

Slayer of President McKinley Collapses When the Prison is Reached.

Cowardly Assassin Shrieks With Alarm When Doors Close Upon Him

TERROR-STRICKEN

(By Associated Press.)

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Leon Czolgosz, President McKinley's murderer, in the custody of Sheriff Caldwell, of Erie county, and 21 deputies, arrived in Auburn at 3:15 a. m. The prison is only about 50 yards from the depot. Awaiting the arrival of the train was a crowd of about 200 people.

Either for fear of the crowd, which was not very demonstrative, or from sight of the prison, Czolgosz, examined the man and orderlies were compelled to practically carry the man into the prison. Inside the gates his condition became worse and he was dragged up the stairs and into the main hall. He was placed in a sitting posture on the bench, while the handcuffs were being removed, but he fell over and moaned and groaned, evincing the most abject terror.

As soon as the handcuffs were unlocked the man was dragged into the principal keeper's office. As in the case of all prisoners, the officers immediately proceeded to strip him and put on a new suit of clothes.

During this operation Czolgosz cried and yelled, making the prison corridors echo with evidence of his terror. The prison physician, Dr. Jago's legs gave out, and two deputies aided his removal to the cell in the condemned row, which he will occupy until he is taken to the electric chair.

The doctor declared the man was suffering from fright and terror, but said that he was shamming to a certain extent. The collapse of the murderer was a surprise to every one. En route from Buffalo he showed no indication of breaking down. He ate heartily of sandwiches, and smoked cigars when not eating. He talked some and expressed regret for his crime. He said:

"I am especially sorry for Mrs. McKinley."
He reiterated his former statement that he had no accomplices and declared that he had never heard of the man under arrest in St. Louis who claimed to have tied the handkerchief over his hand, concealing the pistol with which the president was shot.

He says the handkerchief was not tied. He went behind the Temple of Music, arranged the handkerchief so as to hide the weapon, and then took his place in the crowd.

To Jailor Mitchell he sent this message to his father: "Tell him I am sorry I left him such a bad name."

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—Rev. Mr. Haskell, a missionary at Samakov (Bulgaria) has received a letter from Miss Helen H. Stone, an American missionary, who was carried off by brigands, Sept. 5, in the district Djumabala. The message does not reveal the whereabouts of Miss Stone, but says she is in good health and has been well treated by the brigands, especially in the earlier stages of the abduction. Later, in consequence of the vigorous pursuit of Turkish troops, she had been subjected to privations. Miss Stone adds that the brigands demand a ransom of $25,000. The opinion is expressed in Constantinople that the Bulgaro-Macedonian committee was actively concerned in the abduction of the missionary.

CRIME SHOWN

Body of an Unknown Woman, With a Bullet Hole in the Head, Cast Up By the Waves at Chicago.

(By Associated Press.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 27.—An officer of the royal yacht Ophir is authority for the statement that the torpedo boat destroyer Quall was within an ace of being sunk by the Ophir in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The occurrence was witnessed by the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, who were on deck at the time.

The Quall was ordered to come along side the Ophir and took off dispatches from the duke, which were to be cabled or mailed to the king of England.

The Ophir was going at the rate of 16 knots per hour and the Quall came up at 20 knots, the plan being to take off the bag containing the dispatches hung from a boom over the Ophir's side while both were at full speed. The man failed to get off the bag and the Quall was drawn toward the Ophir, while the water splashed high between them.

Those on board the Ophir thought it was all up with the little Quall. So close was she to the Ophir that she fouled a rope and her stern was drawn under the bows of the Ophir. The commander ordered full speed ahead, the rope cleared itself, the destroyer got away and at a 35-knot clip the Quall proceeded to Quebec.

DEATH CLOSE

Torpedo Boat Destroyer Has a Narrow Escape From Being Run Down by the Royal Yacht Ophir.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—In casting up the body of an unknown woman at the foot of Graceland avenue, the waves of Lake Michigan have thrown a mystery into the hands of the police.

Aside from a battered skull, a severed left ear and a severe gash below it, a small hole in the left temple of the woman's head may lead to the discovery of a brutal murder. The hole in the temple has every appearance of a contusion made by a bullet in entering the skull.

As to the identity of the woman, who is apparently about 30 years of age, the police have been unable as yet to secure the slightest clue. The description of the woman tallies partly with that of Miss Florence Ely, the missing Evanston woman, who has baffled the police of the country for the past 10 weeks. The hair, complexion and height tally exactly, but the dead woman was considerably heavier than Miss Ely. A brother of Mr. Rogers, brother-in-law of Miss Ely, visited the undertaking rooms last night, but was confident that the body was not that of Miss Ely.
