

CAPTIVE STILL LIVES

COMMUNICATION HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED WITH BRIGANDS.

ARREST COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Future Safety of Missionaries and American Travelers Depends on Firmness in Stone Case of Ferdinand's Government.

New York, Oct. 25.—The fact that the brigands who kidnaped Miss Stone have permitted communication to be established is taken to mean that Miss Stone is still alive and safe from harm for the present, at least, says a Sofia correspondent.

C. M. Dickinson, the diplomatic agent or envoy of the United States in Bulgaria, as well as consul general at Constantinople, in an interview said: "I still think that the Bulgarian government will bring pressure enough to bear on the Macedonian committee, and through it on the brigands to release their captives."

"Some members of the committee were arrested by the Bulgarian government, but they were released in a few days."

"If Prince Ferdinand's government relaxes its pressure on the committee, nothing will be left but to pay the ransom in order to secure the safety of Miss Stone and her companion, Mrs. K. Tsilka, and henceforth endanger the lives and safety of the American residents in this country or traveling through it."

"I have absolute proof of the complicity in the crime of some members of the Macedonian committee. The brigands who attacked Miss Stone's party were disguised in Turkish fez and cloak. But two of them threw back their cloaks during the attack, thus revealing the uniform of the Macedonian committee. They were recognized, too, as Bulgarians. Moreover, they spoke poor Turkish, but good Bulgarian, and ate ham and bacon."

Willing to Surrender. "Leading members of the Bulgarian government agree, I believe, that the brigands are willing to surrender to the Turkish troops, and in this case there would be no danger of the captives, but if they should be attacked by the Turkish troops the brigands would fight to the last and then kill the captives. The Turkish troops are under orders not to attack the brigands, even if they are fired upon."

STEAM VESSELS REPORT.

Inspector Dumont Gives Out Statistics of His Bureau.

Washington, Oct. 25.—The annual report of General James A. Dumont, supervising inspector general of steam-vessels, has been made public. It shows that 9,173 vessels were inspected during the last fiscal year, a decrease of 80 from the figures for the preceding year.

The total loss of life on steam vessels last year was 340, an increase of 140 over the previous year.

By the loss of the steamer Rio de Janeiro at San Francisco last February 127 lives were lost.

General Dumont advises that section 4,490 of the revised statutes, providing for at least three watertight compartments in all seagoing and coastwise steamers be amended to include all passenger and ferryboats hereafter built of 500 tons and upward, regardless of the waters they navigate, and further, that the number of passengers be limited on ferryboats running routes exceeding three miles from "dock to dock."

New York and Hawaiian Steamers Connect at Isthmus.

(By Associated Press.) San Francisco, Oct. 25.—The Chronicle says that one of the principal officers of the Hawaiian-American steamship company is authority for the statement that an arrangement for transportation with the Panama Railroad company is under consideration.

Since a year ago the Hawaiian-American company's steamers on the route connecting New York with this port and Honolulu have been running through the Straits of Magellan calling at no intermediate ports of the line except to coal.

Under the arrangement said to be under negotiation, the six large steamers of the Hawaiian line will soon be plying no further south than Panama, three running between this port, Honolulu and Panama, the others between the Isthmus and New York, with the Panama Railroad company doing all the overland business brought to its eighty mile road by the great ocean carriers. This will include the handling of Hawaiian sugar, for the transportation of which the American-Hawaiian company has valuable contracts.

PANAMA IS QUIET

CAPTAIN PERRY REPORTS TO NAVY DEPARTMENT.

FIRED ON THE ENGLISH FLAG

British Gunboat Icarus Returns From Tumaco and Brings Interesting News About Operations of Insurgents.

Washington, Oct. 25.—The navy department has received a mail report from Captain Perry, commander of the battleship Iowa, which is now watching over American interests at Panama, stating that affairs on the isthmus continue quiet and that there have been no material changes in the situation.

Captain Perry's report was accompanied by a report from Commander McRae of the Machias, lying on the other side of the Isthmus. Captain Perry, under date of Panama, October 24, says: "There has been no interruption of or interference with the transit at any time since the incident of August 6 last."

"I mentioned in my letter of October 7 that the British gunboat Icarus had left here for Tumaco to investigate the reported firing upon the Pacific Steam Navigation company's steamer Quito, flying the English flag by the insurgents at that place. The Icarus returned to Panama on the 10th inst., and the news she brings is interesting."

"It appears that the insurgent forces under General Perez one night during the last week of September captured El Morro island, near Tumaco, his force being about 1000 strong. About 80 were killed on one side and more than 100 on the other side during the attack, the government troops finally retiring to Tumaco."

The insurgent force has three six-pound guns mounted on El Morro island, which completely command the channel leading to Tumaco. With these guns, but without any vessel, the insurgents then established a blockade of Tumaco, and when the Quito, flying the English flag, passed on her way to her regular port of call, Tumaco, she was fired upon by the insurgent force without warning, one of the three-pound projectiles penetrating her side and exploding in her cargo. She subsequently proceeded on her voyage, but without having touched at Tumaco."

Interview With General Perez. "When the Icarus arrived at El Morro island her commanding officer held an interview with the insurgent general, Perez, the result of which was a salute of 21 guns fired by Perez to the English flag hoisted at his headquarters and in the presence of several of the Icarus' officers and the insurgents, but Perez maintained his right to continue the blockade, and averred that he would fire upon any merchant vessel attempting to enter Tumaco after warning her not to do so, his apology in regard to the Quito being because he had neglected to warn."

Interview With General Perez. "When the Icarus arrived at El Morro island her commanding officer held an interview with the insurgent general, Perez, the result of which was a salute of 21 guns fired by Perez to the English flag hoisted at his headquarters and in the presence of several of the Icarus' officers and the insurgents, but Perez maintained his right to continue the blockade, and averred that he would fire upon any merchant vessel attempting to enter Tumaco after warning her not to do so, his apology in regard to the Quito being because he had neglected to warn."

WORKMEN KILLED

FIVE LIVES LOST AT CARNEGIE STEEL WORKS.

STRUCK BY FLYING WRECKAGE

Tragedy Probably Occurred From Overflow of Gas in Boilers—Workmen Searching For Bodies—Superintendent's Statement.

(By Associated Press.) Pittsburgh, Oct. 25.—Five, possibly more workmen lost their lives in a terrific boiler explosion at the old boiler house at the Carnegie Steel company just below Rankin, at an early hour this morning, just before furnace No. 1 had been put in blast.

The power house and the machine shop which adjoins it, were reduced to a mass of wreckage and many workmen in and about that place were hurt.

Four injured were taken out at 1 o'clock, and by that time all of the hands at the furnace who could be spared had been put to work clearing away the debris in the search for bodies. All was confusion, and even the foreman had no idea how many of the workmen had been caught under the wreckage.

Struck by Wreckage. The injured men who were removed, had been at work about the furnace some distance away at the time of the explosion, and were struck by flying wreckage. They probably will recover. They are:

Michael McAllister, employed at the hot blast furnace, right leg broken and cut about the head and body.

Unknown Hungarian, workman at furnace, crushed about the body.

Unknown furnace man, hurt about the body, still unconscious.

Harry Eiby, 40 years old, machinist, struck by a steel beam and removed to the emergency hospital. Injuries not serious.

No explanation could be given for the accident early this morning. Special policemen surrounded the scene to keep back the crowds of anxious friends and relatives of the workmen known to have been employed at the furnace. The rescuers worked frantically in the hot steaming wreckage. Fortunately there was no fire and rapid progress was made in the rescue work.

Supt. Hanefeld's Statement. Supt. Geo. K. Hanefeld made the following statement this morning: "We have no means at present of adequately knowing how the explosion occurred. From a hurried inspection it would appear that it was caused by an overflow of gas in the boilers. The gas accumulated in No. 1 furnace and backed into the pipes under the boilers, causing an explosion."

At 2:40 this morning the timekeepers had finished a hurried inspection of the books which contain a list of the men who worked near the explosion. They stated that there were there are four or five more under the debris. All except this number have been accounted for.

The latest victim recovered from the debris is Harry Eiby, a machinist who lives in Franktown avenue. He was taken to the Emergency hospital.

McAllister, the engine furnaceman, was removed to the Mercy hospital.
