

mented by many of American origin. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gable, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fritz, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dulce. The regular club members present were: Mr. and Mrs. Louis Webber, Miss Steinberg, Gertrude Schmitt, Carl Berger, Mr. and Mrs. Jack K. Bergstein, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Bettner, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Heilmann, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rodenbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Beck, Miss Jennie Stein, Miss Lucille Bettner, Carl Beck, Max Ethel, Harry Berger, Miss Metta Schmidt and Miss Anna Stuyven.

Neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kittredge planned and executed a surprise upon them last Tuesday evening which was complete in every detail. The surprise was at the home of Mrs. Jack K. Sullivan on the east side and marched in a body to the Kittredge home. As they did not get there until 9 o'clock and Mr. Kittredge was very tired from a hunting trip, he was just preparing to retire but donning slippers and smoking jacket he was soon ready for the revel. The occasion was the 10th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Kittredge. The surprisers took with them several handsome gifts in cut glass and silverware. The evening was devoted to music, games and guessing contests. At 11 o'clock an appetizing luncheon was served by the chief conspirators but it was several hours afterwards before they departed. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dolce, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Lavell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gable, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Curtin, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Thurney, Mr. and Mrs. T. Leary, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Madden, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Casey, Mr. and Mrs. H. Blake, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kittredge, Misses Ermine Dennett, Dottie Smith, Katie Smith, Mae Sullivan, Nettie Colson, Lolita Dolce, Jessie Frear, Babe Curtin, Nannie Kerny, Maggie Casey, Messrs. Guy C. Griggs, Frank Sullivan, Will Casey, Joe Blake, Newell Gable, Harry Freedman, Lance Grigg, H. Leary.

Mrs. Harry W. Wilcox gave a dinner party on Monday evening, which was a very smart affair in every particular. It was a rose dinner, the name cards each bearing a perfect representation in water colors of a rose, no two alike. The table was decked with a wealth of pink roses. La France and Verette, while rose colored shades toned the electric lights and candelabra. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox were: Mr. and Mrs. John C. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Alnsworth of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Greenway, Miss Newton, Miss Prentice, Messrs. Frank Sullivan and Harry Good.

In honor of Mrs. Henri Cartwright of San Francisco, Mrs. T. B. Ladd gave a charming dinner last Tuesday which was greatly enjoyed by those in attendance. It was a "mum" dinner and gorgeous chrysanthemums were held in three massive cut glass bowls, one in the center and the others at the end. They were linked together with broad bands of satin ribbon which fell to the floor in graceful loops. At each plate was a chrysanthemum. The name cards were Japanese figures; one carried a chrysanthemum. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Maddocks, Mr. and Mrs. Henri Cartwright, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. J. White, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wright.

One of the prettiest affairs of the week was the luncheon given on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Frederick H. Knowlton at her home on the South Side. It was given in honor of Mrs. Graham Farriss. The electric lights were shaded in pink with blue garlands, the color scheme throughout being pink and blue. The curtain between the dining room and library by means of which the guests entered the dining room was of smilax, decorated with blue asters. The table was exceedingly handsome, a novel scheme of decoration. A rope of smilax, very heavy and closely woven was a background for a net work of blue and pink flowers. This garland encircled the table, ending at the seat of the guest of honor with true lover's knot of pale blue ribbon. The china was in the Dresden effect, pink and blue garlands. At each plate was a corsage bouquet of pink and blue blossoms, the name card being dainty Watteau maidens in quaint pink and blue flowered gowns. The guests at the table were: Mrs. Graham Farriss, Mrs. Harry T. Kittredge, Mrs. Henry Powell, Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. Edward Thurney, Mrs. J. Smith, Mrs. J. K. Sullivan, Mrs. Thomas Wallace, Mrs. Lance Grigg, Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Lavell, Miss Jessie Frear, Miss Prentice, Miss Corey, Miss Lucille Savage, Miss Barateau.

Hearts, the slips selected at the M. M. club Monday afternoon, proved to be a happy choice, and the struggle to get rid of their hearts by the members was an animated one. It was a progressive game, and the way they made the circuit of the tables was amusing. The first prize was a handsome cut glass rose bowl, and this was won by Mrs. F. L. Skinner. The second was a pretty cut glass vase, which was awarded to Mrs. Jack Henderson. Mrs. Lulu Peters was left with very nearly all the hearts in the deck and so she received the consolation stake, a pretty cut glass individual pepper and salt shaker. Just for fun a free-for-all prize had been provided—a cut glass olive dish of novel design. For this straws were drawn, the shortest winning, and this was held by Mrs. Kinnison Atkins. As usual, when the game was concluded dainty refreshments were served, over which the members lingered for some time. No guests were present. The club members were: Mesdames F. Skinner, Jack Henderson, A. H. Mitchell, R. J. Chase, H. K. Emmons, Robert Shoupe, Harry Schultz, Jessie Lyle, Eva Frey, Julia Cummings, L. P. Lewis, R. V. McLever, Jack Sullivan, Richard Colville, Etta Crimmins, Lulu Peters, Jennie Vollmer, H. P. Owens, Nina Williams and Kinnison Atkins.

An unusually interesting game was enjoyed by the members of the West Flends' club Tuesday afternoon. The prizes were very handsome and every one wanted them and went into the play with that object in view. The hostess, Mrs. Jack Reed, contrary to the rules of the club, had provided a lavish supply of bonbons, but she explained that this was imperative, owing to the fact that she was sure that candy would be needed to sweeten the strife for the prizes. The first prize was a handsome open-work silver nut bowl, and this was won by Mrs. Walter Gregg, a guest. The second prize was an open-work silver grape plate, and this was won by Mrs. Graham Farriss. The consolation, a dainty silver candlestick, was won by Mrs. Jesse Thomas. When the prizes had been awarded and all danger of bloodshed had been averted, the guests repaired to the dining room, where they enjoyed an unusually elaborate spread. The guests present were: Mrs. Walter Gregg, Mrs. Gilbert, Miss Russell Newton and Miss Daisy Black. The regular members present were: Mesdames M. J. Anderson, J. K. Carter, Frances Black, Graham Farriss, Joseph Holden, J. Farriss, Leggat, McDonald, J. Sullivan, Noyes, Hilton, Jack Reed, Thomas Moore, Robert Moars, Whitelaw Rawson, Knowlton Rogers, Newton Browne, M. M. McClean, Sophia Nevins and Jessie Thomas.

A surprise successfully engineered to a finish was given to Miss Nyea Thurney on Wednesday evening, it being her 12th birthday at her home on the Parrot flats. The evening was devoted to games the above was written we learn that the knot was tied in Butte Monday morning, the ceremony taking place at the Catholic church, Father Callahan officiating. The happy event was attended by a party of friends, and was followed by a sumptuous wedding breakfast. Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Grand Pre arrived at trace Track on the way to his neat and picturesque ranch home up on Dry Cottonwood.

It was so willed that on Thursday evening friend after friend came in to call on Mrs. Eliza Friedman of South Butte, until there was over a dozen present. Someone suggested that as there were 11 ladies there the hostess should telephone for five more and they could play whist, and use four tables. No sooner said than done and the result was a delightful evening with an impromptu supper at the close. Such articles as were in the house had to be offered as prizes. The first prize, a pretty chop plate, went to Mrs. George Smith; the second, two seats for the month. After the adjournment of the business session the members and visitors were entertained by the following: Quartette, Misses Rand and Sampson, Messrs. Richards and Rand; recitation, Mr. Hugo; duet, Miss Sampson, Mr. Rand; vocal solo, Miss Willard; recitation, Mr. Rand; harmonica and piano trio, Miss Margie Garcia, Mr. Murray and Dr. Rinkle; recitation, Miss Lola Platt, violin solo, Mr. Wilcox; vocal solo, Mr. Henry Murray; banjo and harmonica duet, Mr. Murray and Dr. Rinkle; mandolin solo, Will Polglase; octaroon solo, Dr. Rinkle; piano solo, Mr. Murray; mandolin solo, Dr. Rinkle; vocal solo, Mrs. Fitz Butler. A dainty lunch was then served and the remainder of the evening was spent in playing games. Those present were: Mesdames Ruth Burton, Fitz Butler, Lewis, Heagy, Miss Sampson, Rand, Margie Garcia, Nellie Garcia, Johnston, Polglase, Lauffe, Edwards, Platt, Dunston, Richards, Fe, Earle, Clara Clark, Averman, See, Ollie Adams, Clements and Pierce, Messrs. Hugo Polglase, Parker Rand, Richards, Hugo, Murray, Follard, Marfin, Spain, Dussault, McLeod, Johnston, Dell, Wilcox, Bender, Ed Polglase, Will Polglase, Ramsey and Dr. Rinkle.

It is Miss Daisy Dawson's turn to entertain the O. W. L. S. club this afternoon and she is doing so by means of a jolly bowling party at the Thornton. The girls are having the jolliest kind of a time and as many are bowling experts the contests for supremacy are interesting. This evening they are going in a body to see Nell out on "The Lottery of Love." Perhaps to get a few pointers. Their jolly young matrons, Mrs. M. M. Miller and Mrs. A. T. Morgan, will of course accompany them. The members are: Chaperones Mesdames M. M. Miller, A. T. Morgan, Miss Edith Hickford, Miss Margaret Scallon, Miss Helen McKechnie, Miss Ann Lowery, Miss Lowery, Miss Lella Russell, Miss Daisy Dawson, Miss Eliza Russell, Miss Ellis Dawson, Miss Thora Russell, Miss Margaret Hanson and the Misses Sanders.

Grover C. Hemingway entertained informally a few friends on Wednesday evening at his home on Antimony street. One of the features of the evening was progressive art which all entered with a lively spirit. Mr. W. Walsh succeeded in carrying off the honors. Progressive whist was then indulged in and a close contest ensued. At the close of the game it was found that Miss M. Griffith and Mr. W. Walsh had won the most points and were awarded with beautiful prizes. The consolation prizes fell to Miss E. Lucey and Mr. D. Lucey. Dainty refreshments were served to which all did ample justice. All then had their fortune told, which was very amusing, after which all wended their way home declaring Mr. Hemingway a genial host, hoping he would soon entertain again. Those present were: Misses M. Griffith, L. Marshall, E. Lucey and C. Geiger; Messrs. Hess, Walsh, Allen, Lucey and Hemingway.

The official board of the Trinity M. E. church, gave the pastor a pleasant surprise last Saturday evening in the lecture room of the church. After spreading a banquet the treasurer of the church invited the pastor in, a few appropriate songs were sung and a speech made by Mr. C. F. Bellamy, and a splendid token of respect handed the pastor in yellow coin. At first the pastor, Rev. J. Hosking, said he thought they had gotten the best of him, but at the last he decided that he had the best of it.

Last Sunday evening, October 20, there was a nice gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pincus on West Park street. The evening was spent in music and card playing.

The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Pincus, Mr. and Mrs. Binnard, Dr. and Mrs. Bernham, Mrs. Polidvitch, Miss Eugenie Polidvitch, Miss Esther Polidvitch, Mrs. H. Weinburg, Dr. Rinkle, Mat Billow, Ben Weinburg, Rupert A. Gilbert. Fine refreshments were served during the evening and at a late hour all departed for their homes.

At the home of Miss Alma Triueman on Central street last evening, a merry gathering listened to an excellent social entertainment. The early part of the evening was devoted to whist, and the gathering then resolved itself into a pleasant social party and heard with delight a superior program of vocal and instrumental musical numbers and recitations. Miss Frankie Dillon's selections on the violin evoked applause, and Miss Courtney's singing and piano selections were well received. Miss Alma Triueman sang and played and a number of charming recitations were delivered. Miss Brooks won the prize at whist.

SOCIETY NOTE BOOK.

Miss Rilla Serrett has issued invitations for a progressive hearts party next Monday evening.

The event of next week will be the Halloween ball which the members of the Young Ladies' Institute will give in Renshaw hall. Invitations were issued this week and it will be a society function.

Miss Helen Shively, the pretty young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Shively, will leave in a few days for the east where she will visit the mother of Mrs. Shively in Kentucky. This step is made imperative by reason of her falling health.

Anaconda Society

A marked stimulus has been apparent in Anaconda society during the past week, and with the numerous card parties and afternoon receptions it would seem that the winter season has assumed full sway. The younger members of the society circle have manifested a marked desire to devote a certain portion of their time to bowling, billiards and basketball, and as soon as ladies' day at the alleys has been definitely decided upon there will no doubt be a slight stir, accompanied by a corresponding development of muscles and proficiency in geometrical figures. It is rumored that the Algonquin will soon reorganize, and, as last year, give bi-weekly dances during the winter.

The ball given last Tuesday evening by the Catholic Order of Foresters at the A. O. H. hall was one of the most successful balls of the season thus far. The grand march began promptly at 9:30 o'clock, and was led by R. T. Flannigan and Miss Theresa LeRoux. The floor committee was composed of the following: Philip Richards, J. P. McCarty, J. W. Dezell, Joseph Lemire, P. H. Birdsell and A. A. Richards. These gentlemen, in connection with the reception committee, which was a large one, handled the immense crowd admirably and without confusion. The committee on arrangements consisted of W. H. Mahoney, R. T. Flannigan, J. P. McCarty, F. H. Birdsell and A. Pinnette.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kerns entertained at cards last Tuesday evening at their home on Maple street. A delightful evening, closing with light refreshments, was spent. Those present were Messrs. C. E. Rood, O. S. Jackson, E. S. Sicles, J. Flote, E. B. Catlin, H. N. Black, U. A. Jarred, C. G. Mellinger, Misses Spratt and Catlin, Messrs. J. A. Troch and W. S. Cameron.

S. P. Young, the chief promoter of the new Anaconda National bank was taken sick last Monday, and after spending several days in St. Ann's hospital, left for the east, where he will spend several weeks recuperating before returning to complete his work in this city.

George F. Hasey and Miss Lizzie Perkins, both of Anaconda, were married last Wednesday at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. F. Heldstrom, 1019 East Park avenue. The ceremony was performed precisely at 1:30 o'clock p. m. by Rev. W. C. MacCurdy of this city.

Miss Pearl Camber entertained last Tuesday evening at her home on Elm street, in honor of her cousin, Miss George of Youngstown, Ohio.

Mrs. Dr. Spelman and Mrs. C. R. Hickey entertained at cards Thursday afternoon in the parlors of the Montana hotel.

Miss Viola Powell has returned from a ten months' stay in Denver, Pueblo, Carson City,ripple Creek and Colorado Springs.
