THANKSGIVING PERFORMANCE

Butte Press Club Decides to Make Veteran Theater Man Remember Coming Holiday—Local Talent Program.

Thanksgiving evening the people of Butte will have an opportunity of seeing John Maguire, veteran actor and theater manager, give a reproduction of a performance he gave in Butte 26 years ago. In that early day Mr. Maguire appeared in his one-man performance in a little building that stood on the site now occupied by the bank of W. A. Clark & Bro.

The occasion for the appearance of the old actor will be a housewarming that will be given at this theater. The members of the Press club will tender Mr. Maguire a testimonial, the manager having consented to give the free use of his house for the occasion.

Will Be Interesting.

Mr. Maguire will have full charge of the program, and the entertainment promises to be interesting. The program will include a variety of local talent. An opening play entitled "Home From Manila," which Mr. Maguire wrote, will be produced.

As the occasion may be the last one on which Mr. Maguire will appear on the mimic stage, the house is likely to be filled. There are a number of people in Butte who saw the actor in his performance here over a quarter of a century ago, and they will all doubtless want to see him Thanksgiving evening.

"Conditions are quite different now from those which obtained years ago when Mr. Maguire appeared in the small building at Main and Broadway," said an old citizen this morning.

"It will be interesting to see him in such changed surroundings, and changed somewhat himself, appearing in the same performance that we thought was so creditable in the early days of the town."

President of Press Club.

Mr. Maguire was vice president of the Butte Press club up to the time of the death of W. J. Penrose, when he became the president of the organization.

It is in recognition of his long-time association and affiliation with the workers of the press that it has been decided to make a week from tomorrow—Thanksgiving—a day long to be remembered by him.

NEW CREMATORY

NOW CALLED FOR

Health Commissioner Sends in a Petition Asking That the City Council Provide a Modern Incinerator Without Delay—Plans Elaborately Outlined.

Butte is to have a new crematory. That is, Butte will have it if the recommendation of Health Commissioner Leggett is acted upon favorably by the city council tonight.

This morning Dr. Leggett sent in an official request to the city clerk, asking that the council appropriate money for a new incinerator.

The plans and style were elaborately outlined in the petition. The plan includes the installation of three new furnaces, which would be supplied by a company of Bridgeport, Conn.

At present the Butte incinerator can only consume dead animals and is not arranged for the burning of refuse and garbage.

It is the intention to put in a crematory that will consume dead animals, garbage and all of the pickings of the city wagons.

No estimate of the cost is given in the petition.

JOSEPH CAMERON ARRESTED.

Charged With Stealing Jack Caine's Horses.

Deputy Constable Fitzsimmons arrested Joseph Cameron, a man who lives near Divide, Monday night, on a charge of stealing two horses belonging to Jack Caine, the foreman at the Minnie Healey mine.

The warrant and complaint against Cameron accuse him of grand larceny. Caine had his horses on a range, and the horses disappeared. It is alleged that Cameron was seen riding one of the horses. When Cameron was arrested he said that the horses were sold to him. He had heard that the warrant was out for him before his arrest, and had come into town to see about the matter.

Cameron's attorney, Mr. Healey, was not ready to meet the charge in court at once on account of other business, and Cameron was allowed to go temporarily on his own recognizance by County Attorney Breen after his arrest.

HEADING THIS WAY.

Crowd of Road Agents Will Capture Butte Saturday.

Butte will be invaded Saturday by a carload of traveling passenger agents who represent various Eastern railroads. They have been attending a convention of the Traveling Passenger agents at Los Angeles and are on their way East.

Their route West was over a Southern route. They will enter Butte via the Northern Pacific and after spending a day or two here will leave for St. Paul and Minneapolis over the Great Northern.

In the party are W. L. Wyand of the Michigan Central, J. M. Greaves of the Pennsylvania, Robert Haase of the Baltimore & Ohio, H. J. Bergmann of the Wisconsin Central, P. H. Scanlon of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Charles Brooks of the Chicago & Great Western, W. B. Hutter of the Lake Shore, George J. Lorell of the Wabash, David Brown, Jr., of the Grand Trunk, A. S. Nash of the Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis & Ontario, O. Thorson of the Great Northern, G. H. McRea of the A. G. P. A. and C. St. P. & M. & O. A. L. Edmiller of the C. B. & Q., W. B. Dixon of the O. M. & St. P., Harvey W. Sweet of the Northern Pacific, Charles Humphrey of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, G. E. Hutchinson of the Soo Line, and W. O. McNaughten of the Erie.

Several of the gentlemen are accompanied by their wives.

Ladies, be sure to attend Leys' souvenir opening, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, this week.

GOES TO CALIFORNIA.

Judge Kehoe Called to Fresno by Death of Brother.

Judge D. H. Kehoe, a well-known member of the local bar, will leave this evening for Fresno, Cal., called thither by the death of his brother, Edward Kehoe, a substantial farmer and contractor of that place. Judge Kehoe will be gone several days and will visit San Francisco during his absence.

Judge Kehoe and his brother were former residents of Nevada, and were well-known to many ex-residents of that state now living in Butte.

The brother of the lawyer left Virginia, Nev., for Fresno many years ago, and the judge never saw him afterwards. The latter's trip to California at this time is therefore an unusually sad one.

EVIDENCE IS ALL IN

TESTIMONY IN CAMERON ROBBERY TRIAL COMPLETED.

DEFENSE TRIES TO PROVE ALIBI

Witnesses for Cameron Swear That He Was Playing Cards When Robbery of Coburn Was Carried Out.

In the robbery trial in Judge McClerman's court today in which George Cameron, alias Connors, was tried for robbing James C. Coburn on Silver street at 2 in the morning, October 11, the evidence was completed and the instructions to the jury read this forenoon.

The state finished the submission of its evidence yesterday, and the evidence of the defense opened.

The defendant Cameron testified in his own behalf, swearing that he was not at the place where Coburn was held up at the time the robbery occurred, and that he had no part in it.

He declared he was in a saloon playing cards at the time of the robbery.

Furnished Piano Music.

Augustus Wingate, a man who said he had furnished the piano music at Atkinson's saloon the night of the robbery; Theodore Sturburt, jointly charged with Cameron with robbery, and Mrs. Dan O'Donnell, testified in behalf of Cameron, alias Connors, this morning, in an effort to prove an alibi for him.

Wingate said he played the piano at the Mascot saloon all night the night of the robbery, beginning at 8 o'clock and concluding his labors at 3 in the morning; and he swore that Cameron was in and out of the saloon all evening between 8 and 12, and that Cameron played cards there from 1 o'clock until 3.

Sturburt testified that he played cards with Cameron the night of the robbery and went home in the morning at about 4 o'clock.

Mr. Breen asked him if he was on Silver street, where the robbery took place the night it happened, and he said he was not.

Escaped From Constable.

A man named Denton was one of the party arrested for the robbery, also, and he broke his arrest and escaped from a constable, shortly after the event. Sturburt said he had been to Whitehall lately, and Mr. Breen asked him if he saw Denton on his visit.

"No, sir," Sturburt said.

"Did you go over there to see him?" Mr. Breen asked.

"No, sir," the witness replied.

"Is it not a fact that you went there for that purpose?" the prosecutor demanded.

"No, sir," Sturburt answered.

Sturburt swore that he did not see Coburn at all on the night of the robbery.

"Where were you at the time of the robbery?" County Attorney Breen asked.

"Playing cards," Sturburt replied.

"How do you know?" asked the prosecutor.

"Well, I must have been, from what I hear," Sturburt returned.

Played Pool in a Saloon.

A man named Jesse Heflin, also charged with being one of Coburn's robbers, played pool with Coburn in Creech's saloon the evening of the night it occurred, and the state's evidence showed that he had had whispered conversations with Cameron during the game, during which it was presumed that the robbery was arranged for.

Mrs. O'Donnell testified that she was in the saloon and that she did not see Heflin talk to Cameron, alias Connors.

Mrs. O'Donnell said she lived in Wyoming alley, and that she was in the saloon waiting for her husband to take her home, the latter being engaged in watching the pool game.

An effort was made by Cameron's counsel to show by Policeman Lawson how dark it is on Silver street at 2 in the morning—the time the robbery occurred.

But the officer was unable to qualify as an optical expert and the evidence was cut out.

AFTER SALOON MEN

THREE CHARGED WITH ALLOWING GAMBLING GAMES.

BILL, HUBBELL AND ROBEAU

Run Montana, Balmoral and Palace Saloons—Other Men Charged With Gambling—Many Cases Accumulating for Trial.

County Attorney Breen has begun the prosecution of saloonkeepers in whose places gambling games are alleged to be carried on.

Informations against the three saloonkeepers, who run the Montana, the Palace and the Balmoral saloons, were filed in Judge McClerman's court this morning.

The names of these men are J. J. Bill, proprietor of the Montana, at 22 West Park; John Hubbell, proprietor of the Palace, at 14 East Park, and O. Roleau, proprietor of the Balmoral, at 201 South Arizona street.

The informations filed charge Bill, Hubbell and Roleau with knowingly permitting a gambling game to be operated in their places.

Stud Poker Games.

The information against Bill says he let a stud poker game run at his saloon on November 14. That against Hubbell avers that he allowed the same kind of a game to be operated at his place on November 16. That against Roleau alleges that he permitted a game of stud to be carried on November 16 at his place.

When the information was filed against Hubbell the court said:

"Has John been gambling, too?"

"He's been allowing a game in his back room—a quiet game, your honor," Mr. Breen replied.

Besides these informations, an information was filed charging Roleau, David Wright and Ben Carrow with operating a stud poker game at the Balmoral on November 16. In this case Judge McClerman was asked to fix a bond, and he set a bond of $500 for each defendant.

Information Against Wilson.

An information was also filed against Ernest Nelson, charging him with running a stud poker game at the Palace saloon, November 16.

In the case of Ben Brown, arrested on a charge of gambling some time ago, and released on a cash bond of $100, an order was made directing the sheriff to return the cash to him, and also the cash bonds of $100 each to J. H. Lacroix and William Williams, two witnesses in the case.

John H. Grannis and Martin Maybe, defendants in still other gambling cases, were arraigned to plead. Attorney Hinkle demurred to the informations and the demurrers were promptly overruled. The men then both pleaded not guilty.

At the conclusion of these proceedings Mr. Breen said to the court that he should be pleased to have the gambling cases set for trial, since they were accumulating to such an extent that it would pretty soon be necessary to have night sessions and a special jury.

The court replied that it would set the cases as soon as possible.
