Cash Buying.

There are two savings in cash buying. Besides the big saving in price you have the additional saving that comes through paying for everything as you get it. One never spends as much when buying for cash as when buying on credit.

You will never realize the saving of cash buying until you try it. It's the modern way of doing business and this is the modern store where it is done.

DRIVEN FROM HOME

MARCUS CUSAC IS A MAN OF MANY TROUBLES.

IS VICTIM OF CONSPIRACY

Charges Wife and Daughter With His Expulsion—Says They Have Threatened to Kill Him and He Is Afraid to Return.

If the story told Deputy County Attorney Lynch this morning is true, there is an extraordinary state of affairs in existence at the domicile of Marcus Cusac, an Austrian, who lives out toward Meaderville. Cusac charges his wife, Mrs. Mary Cusac, his daughter, Bernice Cusac, who is only 15 years of age, and a man whose name he does not know with having ousted him from his own house and with refusing to let him return home.

Assistant County Attorney Yancey issued a complaint to Cusac, charging the woman, the girl and the man, the latter under the name of John Doe, with disturbing the peace.

Man of Many Woes.

Cusac is the man who was beaten by three of his daughter's admirers a few nights ago, according to his story. The men set upon him while he was in bed at 11 o'clock at night, after he had remonstrated with the girl for staying out till that hour. He said that they rushed into the house and attacked him while he lay on his back helpless.

He still sported a black eye when he called at the county attorney's office today, and the story he told was a very colorful one. He declared that the man who, with his wife and daughter, had thrust him from his home, has threatened to kill him if he undertakes to force himself into his own house.

Cusac said that in view of the man's threat and the hostility displayed by his womankind he is afraid to go home for fear that he will be killed. He fears that the man who has taken possession of the house and the family will stay him on sight. For that reason he desired help from the officers of the county.

He Has Official Sympathy.

The assistant county attorney thought it best to place a charge of disturbing the peace against the Cusac women and John Doe first and have them arrested and the case investigated.

The officer considered that the man had been treated in a high-handed manner, if his story of expulsion from his own home by another man and his wife and daughter is true, and that steps to punish the latter were in order.

After the alleged assault upon Cusac by the friends of the girl, she was absent from home two or three days, and her father did not know where to find her.

When she returned, Cusac wanted her taken into custody for incorrigibility, but Mrs. Cusac opposed that proceeding.

The present situation is the latest phase of the family's troubles.

GAMER'S TROUBLES

THEY ARE MANY AND ARE CROWDING THICK UPON HIM.

CHARGED WITH GRAND LARCENY

Edward Wright Accuses Him of Having Collected $295 and Which He Has Failed to Account For—A Second Charge.

Two complaints were drawn today by Deputy Attorney Lynch, charging F. A. Gamer with grand larceny and petty larceny respectively.

Gamer was the president and secretary of the bankrupt firm of Gamer & Walker.

The complainants in the case are Edwin Wright, a plumber, and Tim Keefe, 70 year old, who lives in Dublin gulch.

Wright accuses the defendant with appropriating $295 from him. Keefe says he has lost $23 through Gamer.

The money alleged to have been appropriated by the defendant was money collected for rents by the Gamer & Walker company, which acted as agents for that purpose in behalf of the two complainants.

Say Gamer Withheld Rentals.

Wright told the deputy prosecutor that the $295 was rent money which had accumulated in the hands of Gamer between July 18 of last year and November 25, collected from the tenants who occupied three or four houses belonging to him.

The plumber stated that he had demanded his money, the sum named being less the commission of the company for its services, and he had been told that the property was in the hands of a receiver and that the money could not be paid to him for that reason.

Keefe had also demanded the money due him, but could get no satisfaction, according to his story. Keefe lives on Summit street, in Dublin gulch, and he is said to be in need of the money.

The petty larceny complaint was filed in Justice Libby's court at Meaderville, and the grand larceny complaint was filed in Justice Shepherd's court in the same place.

Rev. A. O. Arquist will hold gospel meetings at the Swedish Baptist church, 318 North Wyoming street, every night this week.

WANTED TO ORATE

DOUGLASS PITT REFUSED HONOR OF ADDRESSING THE JUDGE.

MANY THINGS TO TALK ABOUT

Stepfather of Abused Colored Lad Wants Boy Sent to Reform School and Pleads Not Guilty to Charge of Cruelty.

J. Douglass Pitt is nursing a feeling of soreness in mind because he was arrested. Then J. Douglass has more soreness because he was not allowed to exercise his oratorical ability in police court this morning. For a full hour following the jail dejeuner and J. Douglass rehearsed a speech which was calculated to spellbind the judge and clear open the network of legal quibbles which had brought about his incarceration.

When called before the court J. Douglass, with a few preliminary flourishes of the mass meeting sort, grasped his turtleneck with both hands and began, "I have a—"

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the prosaic clerk.

"I desire to state that I have a few remarks to unburden before going into the question of guilty. I have a—"

Oration Deferred.

"Well you'll have to plead guilty or not guilty and then you can make your speech some other time."

"But Mr. Prosecutor I have a few words to say. I want to deliver these remarks to the court and—"

"It won't do you any good, Pitt," dryly remarked the clerk. "Are you guilty or not?"

"Well, I can't plead guilty to the charge of using abusive language. I—"

"Defendant pleads not guilty, your honor," said Clerk Winn.

"Go sit down, Pitt," ordered Court Officer Young and the orator sadly took his seat protesting against the tired feeling which the court gave him. Pitt was arrested for creating a disturbance on South Montana street last night and will be tried next Friday.

Jewell Erick pleaded guilty to being drunk, and Mike Laffey sent word to the court that he was feeling bad down in the jail and would the court kindly consider him guilty. The court was kind and entered a fine of $10 for disturbance.

A Cruel Stepfather.

Sell Reeves appeared in court with his wife to state that he couldn't plead guilty to cruel and inhuman treatment in whipping his stepson, Charles Marshall. Reeves and his wife apparently wanted to get rid of the little victim and wanted the court to dismiss their case and send the lad to the reform school.

Downstairs the little mite of colored humanity was fearfully watching the entrance for the dreaded appearance of his stepfather. The case against Reeves was set for next Saturday and then the family went down stairs to see the victim of a brutal whipping.

The boy had been tenderly cared for by City Jailer Sol Levy and the officers about the station who were touched by the sight of the wounds inflicted during the terrible beating given him.

When told he would be taken to the reform school young Marshall visibly brightened. The idea of getting away from his stepfather robbed the school of all terrors.

James Sullivan, who was recently released at the request of the Miners' Union made to Judge Boyle, who had sentenced him for vagrancy, was up again this morning on the same charge. Sullivan was to have gone to work, but was picked up again last night by the police. He will be tried again next Saturday.

C. I. Lewis, the hackman arrested for not using lights on his hack, did not appear and was given 24 hours in which to plead.

George Schrader's trial for carrying concealed weapons was set for Friday afternoon.

D. P. WORTMAN GETS PLUM

His Bid at Low Figure of $8916—Highest Bid $14,750—Bond of Wortman Not Yet Fixed.

The county commissioners today awarded to D. P. Wortman the contract for furnishing the new county hospital on the interior for the sum of $8916.

The bids received were as follows: John F. Hogan, $14,750; J. H. Turner, $12,800, less plastering, $7385; D. D. Wortman, $8916; H. C. Nollies, $13,950; Shackleton & Whiteway, $10,765, less plastering, $10,000; snapstone finish excepting in operating room, and with the substitution of plaster of paris and including painting, $9964.

The bids for plastering alone were as follows: Dolan & Hamil, $7697; J. Rafferty, $8000; J. F. Murphy, $7800; R. C. Smith, $8150.

Wortman's bond has not been fixed yet.

BREEN WRITES OPEN LETTER

So recently passed the legislative assembly of the state of Montana. Said bill gives another assistant to the county attorney, and as a mark of appreciation of the kindly manner in which the populists generally accepted my appointments made on January 7 of the present year, without consulting them, I deem it advisable to leave the matter of the appointment of the deputy entirely in their hands, and will appoint the person selected by your committee or hearing credentials as the choice of a majority of said committee, should the committee not unanimously agree on an applicant.

The following-named gentlemen have been suggested to me by their friends, or have made personal application for the appointment:

Jerry J. Lynch. Appointment urged by W. D. Clark, chairman of the board of county commissioners, and numerous other friends.

Maurice English, whose name has been suggested by some of his friends.

Mike Donlan, whose name has been suggested by some of his friends. I have no personal knowledge whether Mr. Donlan would accept the appointment or not if it were offered him.

James Fitzgerald. Appointment urged by a large number of populists.

R. B. Wedekind. A written application filed with me by himself.

J. M. Hinkle (a McKinley republican), also applied personally for the appointment, and was told that the appointment would be the property of the people's party central committee, and by his request his name is submitted for your consideration.

G. J. Langford. His claim is also urged by his friends.

Charles Whitehead has been recommended.

Dan Yancey, attorney and stenographer, has made personal application.

The above list is submitted, not with the intention of binding the committee of which you are chairman, but to bring to your notice those who either through themselves or by friends have made application. I will further add that should the committee see fit to go outside of the above list it is at liberty to do so, but it is my personal desire that some of the above named gentlemen be considered.

The office as it now stands is represented by a populist as chief deputy and an eight-hour republican, one of our allies in the late campaign is Deputy Yancey.

I will further add that Mr. Yancey will be promoted to the position of chief deputy of equal degree with Mr. Mackel and the new appointee will become the deputy.

Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Langford and, I believe, Mr. Whitehead, are populists. Mr. Lynch, Mr. English and Mr. Yancey are democrats of the Bryan stripe and in sympathy with us during the last campaign. Mr. Dolan is either a democrat or a populist and worked for the success of the fusion ticket during the last two campaigns. Mr. Hinkle and Mr. Wedekind are both republicans. Mr. Wedekind is of the eight-hour stripe.

The above information is furnished, as was stated elsewhere, merely for your guidance.

Hoping that you will give this matter your earliest attention and bring it to the attention of the central committee in time for them to act on between now and Monday, March 11th, I remain sincerely yours,

PETER BREEN,

People's Party County Attorney.

Feeling that an elective officer should comply with the wishes of the people who nominated him, I appointed Mr. Fitzgerald for the reason that he had received the indorsement of a majority of the people's party central committee.

On or about June 10 or 11, Mr. Reynolds, the present chief of police, called at my office, accompanied by a Mr. Perelman, whose then, and I believe, present address, is No. 23 East Park street, in the city of Butte, and another gentleman, whose name and address I cannot at this time recall. Mr. Reynolds at said time furnished what I considered sufficient evidence and later, namely, on or about the 12th day of June, Mrs. Rosie Perelman, wife of one of the parties under the direction of her husband and Mr. Reynolds, called at my office and supported the statements that had already been made. Upon the strength of said statements of June 12, 1901, I dictated the following letter to

BEING BOYCOTTED

MISS MARGARET HERRON'S MARRIAGE IS POSTPONED.

WILL NOT HAVE A CLERGYMAN

Dr. Berghall Is a Socialist and Has Been Boycotted Since President McKinley's Death—Hence the Delay.

(By Associated Press.)

Metuchen, N. J., Jan. 14.—The marriage of Miss Margaret Evelyn Herron to Dr. Charles Venner Berghall, which was to have taken place next month, has been indefinitely postponed. Miss Herron is a sister of Prof. George D. Herron, and the fact that she is not to be married as planned is due indirectly to the assassination of President William McKinley.

Dr. Berghall is a socialist of the type of Prof. Herron. He is also a practicing physician, and since the death of McKinley he has been boycotted and ostracized by the people of his town at Manistee, Mich.

As a result he was obliged to have the marriage postponed, and today Miss Herron confirmed the report that they will not be married in February as planned.

The Herrons live on a farm in the suburbs of Metuchen, which was presented to Prof. Herron by the mother of Miss Carrie Rand, whom he married according to the rules of the cult to which he belongs.

Miss Herron is a firm believer in the principles advocated by her brother. She said today that when she married it will be without a clergyman, unless she has one to witness the marriage, as Prof. Herron did.

When the Herron family came to Metuchen they caused considerable agitation. The young men of the village were publicly warned by the Rev. J. G. Mason, pastor of the Presbyterian church, to be aware of the principles they taught. Prof. Herron spent a great deal of money in beautifying his home.

He made it a rule to pay high wages, and laborers who worked for him received $2.50 per day when elsewhere in the village they were paid only $1.25. Prof. Herron is now in Europe. He is expected home within a few weeks.

Miss Herron refused to say when her marriage will take place, but said it will be when Dr. Berghall is ready.
