DEATH OF JUDGE DE WITT SHOCK TO MANY FRIENDS

able encyclopedia of information on matters political and with which the late Judge DeWitt was conversant on matters with which the higher mind deals. He loved his family and home and seldom spent his leisure moments anywhere except with his family.

TOKEN OF RESPECT

COURTS ADJOURN BECAUSE OF DEATH OF JUDGE DEWITT.

LAWYERS SPEAK IN PRAISE

Proceedings in Departments Presided Over by Judges Harney and Clancy Relative to Late Jurist's Death This Morning.

In all of the departments of the district court of Silver Bow county adjournments were taken this morning to show the sincere respect felt by the bench and the bar of the county for the late Judge W. H. DeWitt.

In Judge Harney's court, department number one, no business was transacted, although matters for the consideration of the court had been set and the lawyers interested in them were present and prepared to prosecute them if it were demanded of them. The minutes of the last session were not even read.

Harwood Asked for Adjournment. As soon as the court had been convened Judge Harwood rose and addressed the court on the subject of Judge DeWitt's death and the propriety of adjourning the court out of respect for the mournful event, and taking steps to fittingly commemorate it. Judge Harwood said:

"If it please, your honor, an event has happened which leads me to suggest that this court ought to adjourn and proper proceedings be taken by the bench and bar to mark the respect felt by everybody for the life, work and character of our late honored friend and associate, Judge William H. DeWitt. "It is suggested that an adjournment be taken to 2 o'clock this afternoon, and that with the approval of your honor the members of the bar meet here at that hour and make arrangements to attend the funeral; also that a committee be appointed to present resolutions of respect.

Words of Praise. "Much might be said in respect to the late Judge DeWitt. His eminence was a member of the bar. We are all conversant with the valuable work he did and aided in doing in his lifetime.

"He was a noble character as a man and a citizen, and his death is a loss to every one who was acquainted with him. I feel that every mark of respect to his memory and his family should be shown."

At the conclusion of Judge Harwood's remarks Judge Harney spoke briefly as follows: "Judge DeWitt was well known to the judge of this department, and while I am aware the remarks express the feeling of all the members of the bar, no one has more respect for the work and character and memory of the late Judge DeWitt than has the judge of this department of this court."

Judge Harney then said that he understood that all the three departments of the district court would adjourn out of respect to Judge DeWitt's memory, and adjourned his court till 2 o'clock, when the members of the bar had arranged to meet in his court room.

In Department I. When Judge Clancy's court convened, Judge McHatton spoke of Judge DeWitt's death and made the following address to the court in respect to adjourning out of regard for his memory:

"I regret to announce to the court the death of Hon. William H. DeWitt, and it has been suggested by many of his friends and the members of the bar generally that it would be appropriate to announce to the several departments of the court this morning, the fact of his death, and to request an adjournment until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, at least, as we are informed the funeral will take place from his late residence tomorrow morning at 8:20 o'clock and that the body will be taken to Helena for interment.

"It was also suggested that it might be agreeable to the judges of the several departments to meet together some time during the day, or on tomorrow and appoint a committee to present suitable resolutions commemorating the life and virtues of Judge DeWitt.

"The members of the bar also desire to have a meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon with reference to making preparations for the representation of the bar at the funeral.

Adjournment Until Wednesday. "So I make this sorrowful announcement to your honor this morning, and if it meets with your approval and the approval of the judges of the other departments, an adjournment is moved until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, so as to allow the members of the bar today to arrange for their attendance at the funeral and the offering of such services and respect as they may be able to."

Card of Thanks. We, the relatives of deceased Officer P. J. Murphy, take this means of tendering our thanks to the many friends who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, especially do we wish to thank the city officials of Butte, whose kindness during our late bereavement shall never be forgotten.

transacted, Judge Clancy adjourned his court until Wednesday morning and the following minutes were made in the court record:

"The death of William H. DeWitt, a member of this bar, having been suggested to the court, out of respect to the memory of the deceased, the court now stands adjourned until Wednesday morning, January 22, 1902, at 10 a. m."

BRIEF HONEYMOON

CIRCUS JOSEPH LOSES HIS BRIDE OF A WEEK.

ASSYRIANS IN A FLUTTER

Papa Rask Forced an Objectionable Husband on His Daughter and Now the Husband Is Short a Wife—Where Is Mrs. Sarekees?

The Assyrian colony is surprised, excited, bewildered and sore in its feelings. It has learned that catching a bird is not keeping it. Sadie Rask, the bride of a week, has run away, and Circus Joseph, the bridegroom, is left lamenting.

There is a story here full of the melodramatic, replete with thrilling incident and concluding with a sad climax for Circus Joseph; also Papa Rask.

Sadie did not want to marry Joseph, but Papa accomplished it, and now Sadie has decamped from her very new home and deserted Joseph. The drama is as old as the everlasting hills, but the Assyrians of Butte find it fresh and interesting.

Five Days of Wedlock.

Sadie and Joe were married just a week ago today, and Sadie spent five days enjoying the festivities of the marriage and the honeymoon. One of the Assyrians who took part in the wedding feast said today that the bridal party made Rome howl and enjoyed itself thoroughly till Saturday afternoon, and then Sadie took French leave, after working off a neat little subterfuge on Papa and the trusting bridegroom, and excitement mixed with chagrin fell upon those who were left behind.

Most of the chagrin went to Papa Rask and Circus Joseph, who brought about the marriage without Sadie's real, heartfelt consent and thought they had the situation cinched, and the decampment of Sadie proved a disappointing sequel to their plans.

One Sided Affection.

To go back to the beginning, Circus Joseph, whose name is Joseph Sarekees, and Rask are Assyrian peddlers, and Sadie was a dining room girl in a restaurant on Alaska street until recently.

Joseph fell in love with Sadie, or at least concluded that it would suit his book to marry her. Papa Rask favored the marriage. Sadie, however, did not love Joseph, nor desire to marry him. She was slightly interested in a young man who took her to theaters, according to the woman who keeps the restaurant on Alaska street, and probably wished to give him a chance.

Sadie told the restaurant keeper that she was 16, but Papa Rask and Circus Joseph told the clerk of the court's office force that she was 18, and they got a marriage license for her and Joseph. A hitch occurred here. Sadie had refused her consent to the marriage, and she balked at this point.

She sent a messenger appealing for help to the sheriff's office, and Under Sheriff McGuigan tried to find her and render the assistance requested.

Could Not Find Sadie.

The under sheriff is a gallant gentleman, and the appeal called out all his chivalric instincts. He searched valiantly, but Sadie was hidden too securely and she was not found. Everybody whose attention had been called to the case remained in the dark as to the upshot of the matter of Sadie's marriage until today. This morning about 200 Assyrians, more or less, descended upon the sheriff's office and announced with bated breath that Sadie had departed the cottage of Joseph, and demanded that the entire official staff of both offices be put upon her vanishing trail.

They said that foxy Sadie had told the bridegroom and her pa that she was going to the restaurant where she had worked to collect the bagatelle of a few dollars still owing to her by the proprietress, Miss Sandburg. Her artful tale received credit, and she was allowed to depart. Circus Joseph possibly being influenced by the hope that his finances would be helped upon her return.

They Saw Her No More.

That was the last seen of Sadie. She has not returned to Joseph or Papa, and they now know not where she has hid herself to. Would the officers be so kind as to chase her up and fetch her back. Deputy County Attorney Lynch explained that nobody had any strings on Sadie to force her to live with Circus Joseph if she did not want to do so. But Under Sheriff McGuigan went around to Miss Sandburg's place just to oblige them, and made inquiries.

Nothing was learned of the missing Mrs. Sarekees from the lady who runs the restaurant. She had no news on the subject to impart.

She knew that Sadie did not want to marry Joseph, and she had taken Sadie's side.

So if she is acquainted with Sadie's plans she is not likely to give them up to Papa Rask or Circus Joseph, or anybody else inimical to Sadie's interests, and what the end will be is in the dark.

BUTTE IN BRIEF.

In dull times dealers must have good sellers. That is why the Harvard cigar takes the lead everywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hall have returned from a visit to their old home in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

All members of the Butte bar are requested to be present at the residence of the late Judge DeWitt at 8 o'clock tomorrow, Tuesday, morning, to accompany the remains to the depot.

Blowhard talk won't do the business; you have got to have merit, quality these days. There's the secret of the popularity of the Harvard cigar—best Havana tobacco and union labor made.

WILL FALL IN LINE UNIONS TO FIGHT

CHURCH CONGREGATION MAY HELP MEMORIAL FUND. TRADES AND LABOR ASSEMBLY ENGAGES LAWYER.

TIME IS FAST DRAWING NEAR LOAN MEN AGAIN ARRESTED

Montana Supposed to Report Its Share Towards the McKinley Monument by the Twentieth Inst. New Warrants Issued for the Five Men Whom the Clerks' Union Charge With Violation of the Closing Law.

In all probability the attention of church congregations in the city and suburbs will soon be called to the effort being made to raise a fund in Montana to aid in the erection of a monument to the late President McKinley. Civic organizations, unions, clubs and school children will also be apprised of the effort and asked to contribute if they feel so inclined.

Up to date little along the course suggested by Governor Toole a week or two ago has been done toward the proposed fund in this city, but as the state is to make its contribution known to the treasurer of the National Memorial association on the 20th, it is quite possible that some action will be taken this week.

Rev. S. C. Blackiston of St. John's church, said today that while he was not of the same political belief as was Mr. McKinley, he greatly admired him, and would do what he could towards Montana's share of the fund. He expressed the belief that Eastern men should bear the larger portion of the expense.

"I do not know exactly how to proceed in the matter," said he. "My congregation is now meeting gone expense, and it would seem out of place for me to ask it to share in another. However, I will see what can be done."

An effort was made to learn the views of other ministers in the matter, but they could not be found in time for the publication of their ideas.

MAGUIRE WILL LECTURE.

The Emmet Literary society, the Ancient Order of Hibernians and other Irish-American societies have requested John Maguire to deliver his famous lecture on "Robert Emmet," and Mr. Maguire will comply with the request Sunday evening.

There will no doubt be an immense audience, as the subject is one that every lover of liberty must appreciate. The name of Emmet, Ireland's Protestant patriot, is the name revered above all others by National Catholic Ireland.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Moran of 239 South Idaho street died this morning and will be buried at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

The child was the sunshine of the household, and her death is naturally a severe blow to the parents, to whom the sympathy of the community is extended. Mr. Moran was formerly county clerk and recorder, but is now a bookkeeper in the banking house of the Daly Bank & Trust company.

DASHLEYS ARE DIVORCED. Judge Clancy Grants a Decree to Mrs. Dashley.

Judge Clancy has granted a divorce to Mrs. Bell Dashley from William A. Dashley, on the ground of desertion. The defendant made no answer in the case, and the decree was issued upon the plaintiff's proofs.

Mrs. Dashley and a woman friend testified that Dashley had deserted the plaintiff about a year ago. Mrs. Dashley could ascribe no reason for her husband's conduct. "Are there any children?" the court demanded. Mrs. Dashley answered in the negative, and the couple were declared divorced.
