LIVINGSTON SCHOOL MATTERS.

Board Will Call Election to Issue New Bonds.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)
 Livingston, Jan. 22.—At the regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Park county free high school, the proposition of the Livingston board of school trustees, district No. 4, through their representative, M. R. Wilson, with regard to uniting with the Livingston district in the construction of a building suitable for high school purposes as well as for the accommodation of the grades now occupying the old East Side building, was taken up and discussed.

The financial condition of the county high school was considered and the funds available for building purposes found to be entirely inadequate. It was decided by the board to rescind the $10,000 school bond, which was voted last spring, and to call a special election to be held in this city on February 8, 1902, for the purpose of voting a $25,000 bond to rebuild the East Side school building.

SLAVES OF DRUG

FRANK CHIARO AND FRANK CASH VICTIMS OF MORPHINE HABIT.

PHYSICIAN AND CONTRACTOR

Unfortunate Vagrants Were Once Men of Influence and Position But Are Now Among the Lowest.

Though released only two days ago, Frank Cash and Frank Chiaro were again arrested today. The charge as usual is vagrancy, but the complaint was made by neighbors in the vicinity of the Arizona street fire station. Cash and Chiaro occupy a cabin in the rear of the engine house, where they lead a miserable life, existing on remnants of food and large doses of morphine. When they were arrested recently under suspicion of stealing clothes, the cabin was entered and a stove and other things taken out. As soon as the men were released they went back to the cabin and in lieu of a stove set up a kerosene can as a heater and built a miniature fire in it to warm by.

Other residents of the neighborhood objected, fearing fire, and the men were taken to the station in the patrol wagon to face another charge of vagrancy.

Chiario Once a Physician.

The disposition of the pair is causing the police department some annoyance. Both men are in the last stages of disease brought on by the continued use of morphine and in a most wretched condition. Chiaro was at one time a reputable physician in good standing and enjoyed a large practice until he became a victim of the terrible morphine craze. Since then he has sunk to the lowest depths of depravity, and when the drug is taken away from him becomes an imbecile. No crime is too great when the craving is on that will bring the nearest pittance so long as a dose of the drug can be purchased. At times the man has shown flashes of genius in plotting to secure the price and some of his tricks are stored away in the memory of police officers as of the shrewdest.

Not long ago Chiaro approached a certain patrolman who knew him well and had often placed him under arrest. To the officer he told a tale of how a Chinaman conducting a laundry had taken his laundry bundle and had refused to return it. He asked the policeman to go with him to identify the bundle and to force the Chinaman to disgorge. The good-natured officer did so and under the scare given the Chinaman gave up the bundle with unintelligible protests.

Wanted Money for Morphine.

A few days later the rightful owner turned up in company with the Chinaman and it cost the good-natured copper $2.50 to settle for the bundle which all of the time was being owned by another man. Chiaro was after money with which to buy morphine and took a long chance.

Cash, the partner in misfortune of the former doctor, was at one time a steady, sober and industrious workman in Butte. By hard work and close saving he managed to branch out as a contractor and there are several buildings in the city with the construction of which he had to do. Morphine got its deadly hold on him also and today men who worked for the contractor walk across the street to avoid the "fend." Cash was looked upon as a splendidly educated man for one in his line of business and still shows traces of his former mental powers when excited or under the influence of the drug.

At the police station this afternoon Chiaro broke down and cried bitterly when told that he would probably be sent to the county jail where no morphine could be gotten by him.

Cash grew violent and threatened an appeal to his relatives to save him from what he termed police persecution. Both will be arraigned tomorrow.

TO HIGHER COURT

C. L. BARNAMAN AND W. M. ROSS HELD BY JUSTICE NELSON.

BONDS FIXED AT $1500 EACH

Petitions for Writs of Habeas Corpus Being Prepared in Each Case—May Be Filed Tomorrow.

Justice Nelson rendered his decision today in the case of the state against Charles L. Barnaman and William M. Ross, charged with perjury in connection with the Bordeaux divorce suit.

In giving his decision he expressed the belief that the testimony showed the guilt of the defendants, and ordered that they be held to answer to the district court, placing the bond of each at $1500.

Both men have been out on bonds of this amount and they will have 24 hours in which to secure new bonds, the old ones holding good until the new are provided.

May Go to Jail.

It is just possible, however, that instead of giving the bonds the defendants will be turned over to the sheriff, for immediately after the decision was rendered Messrs. Booth and Thresher began the preparation of petitions for writs of habeas corpus, which they intend to present to the district court as soon as the defendants are locked up.

The petitions will state that Ross and Barnaman are being deprived of their liberty without probable cause, and that the testimony adduced at the preliminary hearing does not show their guilt.

The hearing was held before Justice Nelson about the middle of December, but the decision was reserved by the justice in order that the witnesses might sign their testimony and that he might have an opportunity to read the transcript.

GIRL FOUND INSANE

JUDGE MCCLERNAN ORDERED HER TAKEN TO ASYLUM.

THREE MONTHS IN AMERICA

Her Name Is Carrie Lehto and She Is a Recent Arrival From Finland—Frightened on Ship Coming Over.

Carrie Lehto, an 18-year-old Finnish girl, was adjudged insane in Judge McClernan's court this afternoon.

The girl was found to be suffering from hysterical insanity. Her sister, Mary Lehto, testified that the girl has been in America only three months and that she was in good health when she left Finland.

"But she got a scare on the boat coming over, and she has never been well since," the sister said.

The girl is ordinarily good looking with bloodless complexion and yellow hair, and she sat with her eyes closed during the examination.

"Ask her how she feels?" the doctor said.

"She says she feels very bad," the sister replied, after arousing her and putting the query.

"Ask her if she knows where she is?"

"The girl was aroused again and resented it. But she replied tersely. "She says she does not know."

Her friends said she would pour kerosene on the floor and start a fire.

Drs. Sheeran and O'Leary, who examined her, said that her mind had been destroyed by physical disease.

She will be taken to Warm Springs by Deputy Sheriff Dobson tomorrow.

MRS. NIXON SCORES A POINT.

Judge Clancy Says She Can Remove Her Furniture.

Judge Clancy issued an order today modifying the injunction order in the case of Katurah Thompson against Celestia Nixon. The order allows Mrs. Nixon to take her furniture from the house of much dispute.

The demurrer to the complaint in the case of Celestia Nixon against George W. Andrews, over the same house, was overruled and the defendant given until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to answer the complaint.

Tomorrow the hearing of the order to show cause why an injunction should not issue to Mrs. Nixon and be in force during the suit will be heard.

The hearing of the injunction matter in the Katurah Thompson suit will follow that.

BUTTE IN BRIEF.

A daughter was born yesterday to the wife of Dan Neal of 284 West Woolman street.

The inquest on the remains of Alvin E. Boyce, held last night, resulted in a verdict to the effect that the young man had died from an overdose of laudanum.

A dispatch received from Los Angeles this morning announces the death at that city of Ruth, the baby daughter of R. E. Kaylor, proprietor of the Finland hotel in this city. Mr. Kaylor and family are spending the winter in California and were present at the death of the child.

Sheriff Purey and J. H. Steele have answered in the district court in the suit brought against them by Dora Osmer to recover household goods valued at $2000 and damages assessed at $500 for unlawful seizure. The answers deny that the plaintiff was damaged, and allege that the furniture was not worth more than $300. They also allege that the defendant, Steele, does not know whether Mrs. Osmer owns the goods and furniture or not.

EX-CONSUL TALKS

ALBERT LOENING, DIPLOMAT AND TAMMANY MAN, IN BUTTE.

HE LIKES THE INTER MOUNTAIN

Retiring From Public Life in New York, He Seeks a Field for Investment in Montana Coal Fields.

Butte has a distinguished visitor just now in the person of Albert Loening of New York city, formerly United States consul at Bremen, Germany.

Mr. Loening served his country in that capacity for many years, having been an appointee under the first Cleveland administration.

In more recent years he cast his lot with the Tammany forces in New York city, where he drew a prize and was appointed tax collector in New York city.

When the tiger was forced to withdraw, or rather to stampede, at the recent election, Mr. Loening retired with the party leaders, and finding Montana a good field for profitable investment, he has engaged in business here and is one of the stockholders in the Montana Coke & Coal company, whose plant is situated at Horr, Mont.

To Improve Horr Plant.

"We propose making a number of improvements in the plant at Horr," said the ex-consul at the Thornton this morning. In fact we are making many changes even now.

"There is an unlimited supply of the finest quality of bituminous coal out there—well, you ought to know what it is; you have been using it here in Butte for a number of years.

"However, the output of coke will be materially increased. We are building new ovens, putting in an improved class of machinery, and will shortly introduce electric tramways instead of the Missouri mules at present in use.

"No doubt the improvements will require more men and add to the prosperity of that already prosperous district. I look for considerable activity in that vicinity during the coming summer.

"Livingston, where we connect with the main line, is a remarkably lively town, and has every appearance of a healthy, thriving city. New works are being installed, an electric light plant, new railroads, an electric light plant and new railroad shops are being built and the surrounding country, especially in the Shields river and Yellowstone valleys, are rapidly becoming settled up."

Mr. Loening is an impressive looking gentleman, and has the combined characteristics of the consular service and the astute business instinct of the man of affairs.

Referring to the recent defeat of the democratic party, he said:

Says Tiger Will Come Back.

"These disgruntled democrats who compose the citizens' party will be anxious to climb back in the wagon about the time of the next campaign.

"Tammany has retired, but not to oblivion. Mr. Croker will jump into the fight again—he can't keep out of it. Mr. Nixon, the new leader, is a distinguished man and stands high with his party.

"Let me compliment you," said the statesman, "on your paper, the Inter Mountain; that's the best afternoon paper I've seen in the West. I'm sorry you're on the wrong side; I don't like to meet so formidable an enemy, but you certainly get out an excellent paper.

"Good-day, sir," and the ex-consul and diplomat of the European court tendered a diplomatic adieu.
