MUSTERED UP FOUR

BUMP COUNCIL MEETING PROVES TO BE A FIZZLE.

NYE TOO SICK TO BE THERE

Aldermen Gangner, Steurnagle, O'Leary and Wallace were the only ones who responded to the call of the self-constituted mayor.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Jan. 22.—The "rump" council meeting advertised to take place in the city hall last night did not materialize.

It turned out to be a farce, just as all good thinking people felt sure that it would. Such a grand fizzle was not expected, or in any manner anticipated, by the few members of the council who have stood in the way of nearly every bit of legislation introduced for the benefit of the city and who have played the role of obstructionists ever since the inauguration of Mayor Stephens. They even cheated the galleries out of a good round of fun, by being able to only muster up four members on roll call.

There were no bursts of enthusiasm from the back part of the house, which was well filled with spectators; there were no flowery speeches made on the floor of the council chamber by Dennis O'Leary of the Sixth ward.

No Flowery Speeches.

Steurnagle had no more charges trumped up against city officials, and Gangner, the self-constituted mayor, realized that his power so far as it relates to the executive branch of the city government, is of limited consequence.

He has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the general public, as also have the few members of the council who have supported him, that they have been made the willing tools of the aggregation of the political stripe of their colleague, Dennis O'Leary, who was elected two years ago as a democrat.

Gangner took the mayor's chair shortly after 8 o'clock and rapped for order. "There appears to be no clerk here," he said and asked Alderman Steurnagle to look after those duties.

He then ordered a roll call, and those found to be present were, the presiding officer of the meeting, Gangner, Alderman O'Leary, Wallace and the acting clerk, Steurnagle.

"There is no quorum present," the chairman announced and an adjournment was taken until next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Meeting Ignored by Police.

Necks were craned for Nye, but word came from his residence that he was indisposed and could not attend. No response came from the other absentees. The meeting being a "rump" affair it was ignored by the police department and no blue coats were conspicuous.

Early in the evening Chief Taylor instructed his men to remain on their beats unless called off from some one in authority or else suffer the consequences of being suspended from the force this morning.

He gave none permission to act for the illegally constituted council.

The object of last night's meeting it was said was to try the charges recently preferred against Chief of Police Taylor, although the charges have been officially wiped off the records.

SOME ATHLETIC EVENTS.

Pool Tournament of Twentieth Century Club Creating Interest.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Jan. 22.—Prof. Johnston, who has charge of the Athletic department of the Twentieth Century club, on Cherry street, made the announcement today that he is arranging an athletic entertainment in connection with a dance to be given some time next month. Indian club swinging will be a feature, also dumb-bell exercises by a class, fancy bag punching and several other boxing events.

The second game of the pool tournament, now in progress, was played last evening by Ed Rhue and Ed Sluton. The former won in an exciting game of 50 to 49.

Rhue registered 34 points up to the last shot, when he scored 16, giving him the game by one point.

P. A. Tobin and Henry Mueller will play tonight, and a lively game is anticipated. Much interest has been aroused in the contests by members of the club. The games are started promptly at 8 o'clock.

REV. MACURDY'S SERMON.

He Delivers a Discourse Against the Prize Ring.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Jan. 22.—There was a large audience present at the Methodist church last night to hear the discourse of the pastor, Rev. W. C. Macurdy on the subject of "Prize Fighting."

The pastor made an earnest plea to young men who seek high aims in life and portrayed a true picture of the consequences which must certainly follow the indulgence in prize ring attractions.

"To make a success in life," said Rev. Macurdy, "a man must have high principles. Everybody is endowed with fighting abilities and there are two ways of using them. One is to follow the footsteps of the pugilist and the other is to fall in line with those who are seeking to uplift humanity.

"There is the Law and Order league, for instance. Why not take up its cause and see how strenuous a battle one really can fight?"

The subject of Mr. Macurdy's sermon tonight is "The Eagle's Nest."

PROPERTY TAX SALE.

Deer Lodge County Taxpayers Nearly All Settled Up.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Jan. 22.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon the sale of property on the delinquent tax list of Deer Lodge county for the year 1901 began at the office of County Treasurer P. D. Twoby in the courthouse. The bulk of the property lies in the city of Anaconda and consists of lots, some of them vacant, some improved.

There is also some ranch property lying in the valley below the city. This is the first sale of property, and owners will have 36 months in which to redeem it.

After that time it will be sold again and added to the purchaser. The amount of delinquent taxes in Deer Lodge county for the year 1901 is exceedingly small when compared with that of past years. The delinquency does not exceed $2000.

Dance Was a Success.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Jan. 22.—The members of the Twentieth Century club had an enjoyable dance at their club rooms, on Cherry street, last night, and proved to be a social as well as a financial success.

WILL OPEN NEW ROAD.

Public Highway Through Sheep Gulch Is Proposed.

(Special to Inter Mountain.) Anaconda, Jan. 22.—Since the change of the roadway east of the city was made certain by members of the county commissioners it seems quite certain that steps will be taken at the regular February meeting of the commissioners towards the opening up of a public highway through Sheep Gulch and over the range of mountains to Mill Creek.

Ranchers and mining men operating over towards Big Hole basin favor this move and will circulate a petition to that end.

The Sheep Gulch road would shorten the distance to Big Hole country about five miles.

MANY NEW PUPILS

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT OF ANA-CONDA SCHOOLS INCREASED.

EVERY BUILDING IS FULL

School Board Will Hold a Special Meeting Tonight to Make Arrangements for More Commodious Quarters and Another Teacher.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)

Anaconda, Jan. 22.—Last Monday there were 65 new pupils enrolled in the primary department of the Anaconda public schools. This is because of a new rule recently made by the board to the effect that new pupils will be admitted but twice during the year.

When pupils come straggling into school at any time it makes a good deal of trouble for the teachers, which causes more or less confusion.

It is expected that the new system will do away with this.

The large increase in the number of pupils, together with the fact that the schools were already crowded, brings before the board another problem to deal with. That is, room.

Will Arrange for More Room.

To consider the matter of more room President M. J. Fitzpatrick has called for a special meeting of the board to be held tonight. Some effort will be made to supply more room and relieve the congested condition of many of the different departments.

The facilities of all the school buildings were long ago exhausted, and the only source of relief open is the securing of vacant buildings or rooms located in some convenient part of the city.

For the same reason—lack of room—it will be impossible to keep tab on truants to any great extent. The regular pupils take up more than the available space, and in the case of truants they would play "hooky" more or less anyhow, so it has been decided that the enrolled pupils shall receive the attention that is necessary, and the truants will come in for any spare time there may be at hand.

The condition of Anaconda's public school system is a continued source of pride to the residents of the city, and every possible effort is being made that the betterment may be continued.

SUIT FOR DAMAGE.

Michael Norris Says His Farm Is Inundated.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)

Anaconda, Jan. 22.—Because the Montana Water, Electric Power & Mining company have dammed the waters of Flint creek and caused the land of Michael Norris to be inundated, the latter, through his attorney, Geo. B. Maywood of Phillipsburg this morning filed a suit in the sum of $500 and asks that the company be enjoined and restrained from damming the waters of Flint creek in such manner as to prevent a natural flow of that stream.

Plaintiff also asks for the costs of the suit.

In the complaint it is alleged that the backing up of the waters have made it impossible for the plaintiff to cultivate his land, it all being under water to the extent of four feet, with the exception of about 10 acres.

The depth of water also prevents Norris from occupying his house. For these reasons the suit is entered.

In connection with the damming of Flint creek and subsequent inundation of the Georgetown flat, rumor gives credence to the story of the man who, some time last fall, built a house on the flat, being compelled because of the water to use a boat in his work of construction.

Later on of course it froze in. The man decided that the building was not where he wanted it, so he spent several days in chopping it loose, pried it up, and with the aid of a pincher moved it several hundred feet over the ice.

Some passers-by facetiously suggested that sails on the house would materially aid in the removal and greatly lessen the labors of the owner.

Her Life Ebbing Away.

(Special to Inter Mountain.)

Anaconda, Jan. 22.—The condition of Mrs. Eugene Kunkle who has been ill with spinal meningitis for some days past, is reported critical today. Friends have despaired of her recovery. Mrs. Kunkle was formerly Miss Blanch Mathes, a popular teacher in Anaconda schools.

WAS LONELY DEATH.

Could Not Summon Assistance While Life Ebbd Away.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Jan. 22.—Warwick Gaynor, an actor 42 years old, is dead at Roosevelt hospital from what is believed to have been brain fever.

On Sunday night a noise such as might be made by one falling was heard in Gaynor's room. No investigation was made, however, until Monday morning, when Gaynor was found in bed, badly injured about the face and hands.

He explained that he had got up while sick to get a drink of water and had fallen against the window, cutting his hands and face. The window was smashed and the water pitcher was in pieces on the floor.

Later Gaynor became worse and was removed to the hospital. Gaynor, who was an Englishman, had relatives, it is said, in Australia.

Formerly he was a musical director but abandoned the musical field to become an actor. For some time he was a member of Miss Henrietta Crossman's company and later of the "Colorado" company.

PLAN SUPERB CITY

EXPECTED TO MAKE WASHINGTON BEAUTIFUL.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE

Scheme Is on a Magnificent Scale and Will Require Years to Be Worked Out—Architects Have It Figured Up.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Jan. 22.—To make this city the most beautiful national capital in the world, not excepting Paris or Vienna, is the purpose of plans made public today by the special committee.

These plans were opened to inspection at the Corcoran Art gallery this afternoon, and attracted much attention from senators and representatives and all who are interested in the beautifying of Washington.

It was at once seen that the project is on a magnificent scale, and it is believed the entire country will support congress in making appropriations from time to time to carry it out, for every American feels pride in his capital city and its adornment.

Probably no more competent commission than that which makes these recommendations has ever studied the broad subject of city improvement from an aesthetic standpoint. It was composed of Daniel H. Burnham of Chicago, Charles F. McKim of New York, Frederick Law Olmstead of Boston and Augustus St. Gaudens of New York.

Plans for Improvement.

They visited the principal cities of Europe and America, made an exhaustive study of their subject and today submitted a plan which treats the whole federal territory in this District of Columbia artistically and scientifically.

It is safe to say that the result, though still wholly on paper, will greatly encourage the advocates of the beautifying of cities everywhere in this country.

The central feature of the project for making Washington the most beautiful city in the world are:

To erect on three sides of the United States capitol public buildings of beautiful architectural and imposing appearance, thus giving the building which many architects have declared to be the noblest in the world a setting commensurate with its dignity and importance, which it now sadly lacks.

To remove the railway station from the government park or mall, which now extends west from the capitol to the Washington monument; to beautify this part and to flank it with public edifices, thus forming a greater national plaza nearly a mile and a half in length.

To adorn the Washington monument by erecting a beautiful terrace of marble at its base, thus adding vastly to the attractions of that unique and noble shaft.

Will Reclaim Potomac Flats.

To reclaim the Potomac flats lying west of the monument, thus extending the great park nearly a mile farther, and giving opportunity to place at its western end, upon the banks of the Potomac and in direct line with the capitol and the Washington monument, a suitable national memorial to Lincoln, thus linking together in artistic structures the two greatest names in American history.

To extend this great national park as a boulevard across the Potomac by means of the memorial bridge to Arlington cemeteries.

To connect the beautified and extended mall by means of an embankment or boulevard along the Potomac with the driveway which is to come down the picturesque Rock Creek valley from the national zoological park and the Rock Creek park.

And, finally, to erect around Lafayette square, directly facing the white house, a series of beautiful structures of a government or an artistic character.

To carry out a great plan like this will, of course, be the work of many years. But the commission hopes to have the project adopted, so that all future buildings and improvements shall conform to the harmonious plan which they have devised, so that in the end the results may be such as to fill every American's heart with pride. Concerning their project the members of the commission say:

Public Buildings Location.

"The location of public buildings has received the careful consideration of the commission. In general terms their conclusions are:

"1. That only public buildings should face the grounds of the capitol.

"2. That new government departments may be located so as to face Lafayette square.

"3. Buildings of a semi-public character may be located south of the present Corcoran Art gallery, fronting on the White lot and extending to the park limits.

"4. That the northern side of the mall may properly be used by museum and other buildings containing collections in which the public generally is interested, but not by department buildings.

"5. That the space between Pennsylvania avenue and the mall should be occupied by the District building, the hall of records, a modern market, an armory for the District militia and structures of like character."

REPORTED STEAMSHIP COMBINE.

It Is Discredited by Liverpool Agents of All Companies.

(By Associated Press.)

Liverpool, Jan. 22.—The idea of a prospective amalgamation of Liverpool Trans-Atlantic liners under American management is discredited in Liverpool shipping circles.

The Cunard Line which, with the White Star is reported as having entered the consolidation, emphatically disclaims all knowledge of the supposed deal.

Representatives of the American Line and Leyland line, state that they have no information of the rumored consolidation.

They say they can only repeat their denial previously given, respecting similar reports.
