

Oakland, Jan. 24.—President J. T. Moran of the California League of Baseball clubs announced yesterday that he has appointed Jimmie McDonald and Jack O'Connell as umpires for the next season, and that they will be next season. That they will receive good salaries is assured, for several leagues are bidding for their services.

Charles Comiskey received as a New Year's present from George Munson a table made from the wood taken from the ruins of the old grandstand at Sportsman's park, St. Louis, which was the scene of the many triumphs of the "browns." The legs of the table are in the shape of bats and the top is a miniature diamond and across the top is the inscription, "The St. Louis Browns." Munson, who is slated for the secretaryship in McAleer's new St. Louis team, held the same position when Comiskey was winning pennants with the old St. Louis club.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 24.—Al Neill of San Francisco won on a foul from "Mysterious" Billy Smith of Portland in the tenth round last night of what was to have been a 20-round contest. After the seventh round it was Neill's fight and Smith began to hug Neill and kick him with his knee. In the ninth the gong saved Smith from a knockout. When they came up for the tenth Smith immediately fell upon Neill, backed him against the ropes, then kicked him with his knee and bit him on the shoulder. The referee stopped the fight and declared Neill the winner.

Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—Benny Monroe of Memphis carried off the honors last night in the motor paced bicycle race with Howard Freeman of Portland, Ore.; Otto Maya, Erie Pa., and A. Rutz, New Haven, Conn., at the Second Regiment armory. Freeman captured second place and Maya took third money. The race was run in two heats of five miles each and two finals of 10 miles each. Monroe and Freeman were pitted against each other for first money. Freeman led the first mile and then Monroe caught him and went to the front. The latter gained steadily and on the sixth mile lapped his opponent.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 24.—Danny Dougherty of Philadelphia was knocked out in the fourth round by Henry Forbes of Chicago at the West End club last night in what was scheduled as a 15-round bout at 115 pounds for the bantamweight championship of America. Both men were in first-class trim and the fight was fast and clean. Dougherty did not show to the shape hoped for by his friends, his leads lacking steam. On the other hand, Forbes showed to superb advantage, his blows being well timed and his ring generalship being of a high order. Dougherty did some good work in the third round, but Forbes did not mind his punches in the least, and the round ended with honors even. In the fourth round, Forbes feinted with his left and then sent a straight right to Dougherty's jaw giving him his quietus.

Some surprise has been expressed because "Young Peter Jackson" has shown a capacity for punishment, when that has always been his really strong point. When he entered the ring he could not fight, and what he knows has been hammered into him. From his very first fight to his last he has not been knocked out. The men who went against him have cut him to pieces, though never putting him out. No one has been found, not even Walcott, who could give him more than he could take.

Willie Fitzgerald is rapidly coming to the front in the round ranks. After beating Marty McCue recently, a few days later he put it all over Billy Whittier in a six-round bout at Philadelphia.

The chances of a match being arranged between Jeffries and Fitzsimmons are brighter today than they have been since the big fellows began talking fight. Jeffries' statement that Fitz needn't look for a backer, but that he (Jeffries) would fight for gate receipts, will bring the men together, as Fitz says he will send an answer to Jeff in a day or two.

Dale Gear, secretary of the Players' Protective association, gave out an interview recently which indicates that a clash between the players' organization and the National Association of Minor Leagues is imminent. Gear says:

"To be told that they are to play and have a fine assessed if they dared to accept a position in another league where better money was paid was an action directly against the interests of the players and was striking at the very root of the Players' Protective association. It aimed to destroy all the good the union had done the players, and I, as secretary of the association, will send out letters to all members warning them against this new combine organized for the interests of the managers to further shackle the players."

The concessions asked from the National and American leagues, and it is not their intention to have the minors, who have always posed as friends of the players, to act against their interests.

Cincinnati horsemen will make a strong effort to get a place in the grand circuit this year. It is understood that the stewards at their meeting the 23rd inst. will be asked to open the circuit at Cincinnati instead of Detroit. The Detroit people, however, will work hard to retain their present position, as the first of the long series of meetings and the Cincinnati position is likely to be turned down. Falling to get into the grand circuit, it is possible that Portopolis may enter the Southern circuit, which includes meetings at Lexington, Memphis, Nashville, New Orleans, etc.

Bourbon Bonnell (2:14 1/2) will be driven by E. A. Dohrman in the 1902 matinees at Pittsburgh.

There will be two $5000 purses being hung up at the Minnesota state fair this year. The events will be a 2:21 trot and 2:13 pace.

From a glance at the race-track programs issued at the Crescent City track daily, it is evident that the sphere of women is not limited to keeping house, typewriting and bookkeeping. They have discovered a new and profitable field—the ownership of race horses.

There are at least a dozen women's names recorded with Secretary Sheridan Clark as the owners of thoroughbreds. The race horses in their stables number nearly 150 and their quality ranges from good to bad. Whether it is that the fair sex are more lucky as horse owners than men, or that they try to win more often, it is a fact that the women owners have been very successful. Hardly a day passes without the treasurer making out a check for the money won by the fleetness of their thoroughbreds.

Various causes have been attributed to the desire on the part of women to race horses in their names. One or two purchased horses for cash because they were anxious to shine on the turf as owners of fast horses with records for speed. The majority have secured them through trouble of one sort or another. In order not to have the horses seized many wives became owners of fast horses for a nominal amount.

In the East, where owners were on the forfeit list for unpaid entries to stakes, the Jockey club had to pass a rule prohibiting the racing of a horse which had been sold or transferred to a wife whose husband was under the ban for track debts. This stopped effectually the "sale" of horses to women.

The stewards by their recent action in suspending a couple of jockeys for suspicious riding have given proof that they are awake to the requirements of their official position. Because they had not suspended a jockey or trainer for a couple of weeks the knights of the pigskin thought that they were safe and could ride just as they chose. Now they know that they made an error. The stewards will not tolerate fraud of any kind and will punish severely any owner, trainer or jockey, no matter how great his influence, if he does not follow the path of strict integrity.

BUILD A RAILROAD.
Articles of Incorporation Are Filed by a Company in Portland.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 24.—A company, the avowed object of which is to build a railway between Lyle and Goldendale, Washington, filed articles of incorporation in Portland yesterday. The incorporators are C. A. Dolph, Rufus Mallory, H. C. Campbell, George W. Bates, C. F. Swigert, P. L. Willis and Tyler Woodward. The name of the corporation is the Columbia River and Northern Railway company, and its authorized capital is $300,000.

There is said to be every assurance that preparations for the construction of the new road will begin immediately and the line will be completed and in operation this year. The proposed line will be 350 miles in length. Lyle is at the mouth of the Killikot river, forty-five miles below Dalles, Oregon. Columbia river steamers will make the river connection between Portland and the new road.

HAS NO OBJECTIONS.
Bill in Mrs. Harrison's Behalf Will Be Presented to Congress.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—Friends of Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, widow of ex-President Harrison, have had their attention called to statements published in several papers to the effect that she has asked those in charge of the movement to grant her a pension not to present the bill to congress. This is incorrect, as stated by them.

They say Mrs. Harrison has at no time made any objection to the presentation of such a bill, and still believes the matter can with propriety be presented to congress, inasmuch as the surviving widows of other ex-presidents have been recipients of the same official recognition by congress.

STOP FOOD FRAUDS

BILL PROVIDING FOR NATIONAL COMMISSIONER INTRODUCED.

ILLINOIS MEN TO PUSH IT

Congress to Be Asked to Call a Halt Upon the Prevalent Adulteration of All Classes of Edibles and Drinks.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Jan. 24.—An important bill to prevent the importation of deleterious food and drinks, and for the appointment of a dairy and food commissioner, has been introduced in the house by Representative Mann of Chicago and in the senate by Senator Colman.

The bill is endorsed by the National Wholesale Grocers' association, National Retail Grocers' association, State Wholesale Grocers' association and the Cannery and Preservers' association, and is of interest generally to Chicagoans.

It is proposed that the bill shall take effect on July 1, next, and the president is allowed 60 days after that date within which to appoint a dairy and food commissioner, who shall receive an annual compensation of $5000 and be allowed an assistant commissioner at a salary of $2500 when the president considers one necessary.

The bill appropriates $150,000 for the establishment of the bureau, and authorizes the employment of 25 inspectors at $1800 per annum each, a chief chemist at $5000, five assistant chemists at $2500 each, and such clerks, laborers and other employes as may be necessary.

Will Be Inspected.

The commissioner is instructed to analyze chemically, microscopically or otherwise articles of food and drink and compounds intended to be used in the preparation of food and drink offered for sale in the District of Columbia or territories or that have entered interstate commerce or that have been imported from abroad or that are intended for export. He is required to report annually to congress the results of the examinations and publish bulletins announcing analyses made.

Preparations for food or drink containing ingredients deleterious to health shall be proceeded against in court by the United States district attorney upon the complaint of the commissioner, and the composition or preparations shall be seized for confiscation by a process of libel for condemnation.

Persons, companies or corporations engaged in the manufacture of food products may submit to the commissioner a formula for the manufacture of any preparation and a sample, and he shall approve or reject the preparation, making a record of his action.

It is expected by those urging the passage of the bill that such a law will go far toward suppressing the prevalent practice of adulterating food and drink with compounds deleterious to health.

HANNA'S COMMITTEE TO MEET.

Form Plan of Arbitration of Labor Disputes Here on February 19.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Jan. 24.—The members of the executive committee of the industrial department of the national civic federation, at the instance of Senator Mark Hanna, its chairman, decided to take steps for uniting on some plan of action regarding the arbitration of labor disputes.

Ralph M. Easley, secretary of the national civic federation, has been in communication with the members of the executive committee in order to get them to arrange a day when the entire committee can meet, and it was announced yesterday that this meeting will take place in the Mission house, Fourth avenue and Twenty-second street, on February 19.

In the meantime a sub-committee will draft a plan which will be submitted to the full committee at its February meeting.

POPULATION OF CANADA.

The Official Figures Show That It Is 5,369,666.

(By Associated Press.)
Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 24.—The population of Canada was officially announced by the census department.

It is shown by the census of 1901 to be 5,369,666. This is an increase of 536,425 for the decade.

The representation in the house of commons will be reduced from 213 to 210 members. The Yukon will be granted one member, British Columbia one additional member, the Northwest two and Manitoba three, making an increase of seven.

Ontario will lose six members and the maritime provinces four, making a loss of 10 members, which makes a net loss of three.

SUES RUSSELL SAGE

WOMAN HE PUT OUT OF HIS OFFICE WANTS $75,000.

FINANCIER TELLS HIS STORY

Isabella De Ajuria Is the Name She Sues Under and She Lives at Mount Vernon—Made Him Settle Similar Case.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Jan. 24.—Russell Sage was asked a few evenings ago what he knew about a suit brought against him by Isabella de Ajuria to recover $75,000, with allegations of assault, which case came up before Justice Truax in the supreme court yesterday on a motion by the plaintiff's attorney to have the action put on the calendar for preferred causes. In reply to the question Mr. Sage said:

"Don't know anything about it at all—nothing at all. Never heard of any such woman. Wouldn't know her, I don't believe, if I saw her. It's just another one of those blackmailing games. 'Some women have to get money somehow, and this one, I suppose thought she'd try her hand on me. 'I suppose the whole thing came about—I don't know anything about the allegations, because, as soon as I saw the papers I turned them right over to my lawyer—I suppose the case came up through a call made at my office by a woman about, I should say, six months ago. 'A woman got into my inside office—I don't know what her name was—and told me she wanted to buy a privilege, but she didn't produce any money and I told her I didn't do business for strange women on that basis.

Made Some Threats.

"When she heard this she flounced around for a minute and then said she'd have a story written up and put in the newspapers. 'The making of that remark showed what she was and I said to her: 'Young woman, 'About 45, I guess.' Mr. Sage said when asked how young; he is 85 himself, you've got into the wrong office. 'You want to get right out of here and try somewhere else. If you've got anything to say about me to the newspapers, you just go right ahead and say it and get it printed if you can. Now, I'm very busy, got more'n forty more important matters on my hands, and you'd better go right along.'

"She went, making some sort of threats that I didn't pay any attention to as she went. I didn't know her and, so far as I can remember, never saw her before. 'I didn't hear or see anything more of her until a short time ago, when, I declare, if she didn't get into my office again! As she saw me and I saw her, she handed me a paper and said something to the effect that 'maybe I'd pay some attention to that.'

Sage Ready for Trial.

"I looked at the paper and saw that it was some lawsuit and I just sent it right over to my lawyer, Goodwin, with instruction to do what was necessary about it. 'I don't know what was in the papers, what was charged or anything about it. But Goodwin told me, after he had looked over the papers, that the same woman sued me for something or other about seventeen and a half years ago. 'I don't remember what that suit was about, but I do remember that I told Goodwin to give the woman something or other, as the cheapest way to get rid of her, and he did so. 'Lawyer Almon Goodwin was thereupon applied to. He said:

"It is true that a woman named Isabella de Ajuria has brought an action against Mr. Sage which amounts, in effect, to a suit to recover $75,000. From what Mr. Sage tells me the woman opened an account with him last summer and did some trading, leaving money on deposit there. After a time the account was closed. 'The woman's lawyers moved today to have the case put on the preferred calendar, to which motion we offered no objection. If they want to hurry the trial, we have no objections. 'Our answer of course is a general and specific denial of every allegation. That's about all there is to it."
