THIRD ANNIVERSARY.
Montana Soldiers Opened the Philippine Ball Three Years Ago Today.

"Just three years ago tonight we began fighting in the Philippines," said T. B. Stevens, deputy clerk in the federal court, today, "and we had a warm old time."

"Before the fighting began I was kept busy filling the cartridge belts of the boys and seeing to it that their canteens were full of water. It does not seem like more than a year since then."

"From the turn loose we kept the thing going pretty much all the time. At first the excitement of the business was great, but by and by the boys became accustomed to it and did not mind the hot times, even a little bit."

Reported Explosion at Ardmore.
(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Feb. 4.—A report has reached here that an explosion occurred this morning at Cerberite Manufacturing plant at Ardmore, Mr., and that the superintendent of the plant and possibly several others have been killed, and more injured. Ardmore is located along the District of Columbia boundaries, a considerable distance from a telegraph line and the details are not yet known.

ORDER TIGHTENED

INJUNCTION AGAINST MACGINNIS AND LAMM CONTINUES.

BILL OF EXCEPTIONS SIGNED

Judge Knowles Opens Federal Court and Calls February Calendar—Few Matters Set for Trial.

Judge Knowles opened the February term of the federal court this morning. The attorneys for the Boston & Montana company applied to Judge Knowles today for an order continuing the injunction granted by the court January 3 against John MacGinniss and Daniel Lamm, and the judge granted it.

The injunction order is to remain in full effect until the suit of the plaintiffs against the Boston & Montana is determined. By its terms MacGinniss and Lamm are enjoined from in any way interfering with the operations of the Boston & Montana company's affairs.

Heinze Wants Returns.
F. Augustus Heinze applied to the federal court today for an order requiring John S. Harris as receiver for the Snodgrass and Tramway mines to attach the smelter returns of the ore to his monthly reports.

The matter will be heard Thursday morning.

Bill of Exceptions Signed.

Judge Knowles today signed the plaintiff's bill of exceptions in the suit entitled John MacGinniss vs. the Boston & Montana and Amalgamated companies and their officers, an action having as its object the promulgation of an order declaring the Amalgamated a trust, preventing the two corporations from working in harmony with each other and securing the appointment of a receiver for the business of the Boston & Montana.

The bill of exceptions has reference to the order made by Judge Knowles a few weeks ago, enjoining and restraining the plaintiff from prosecuting the action in the state court during the pendency of a like action in the United States court.

Judge Knowles called his calendar this morning and set the following matters for hearing:

Cases Set for Trial.

M. Edward vs. the Oregon Short Line Railroad company, February 20.

David Sidenbender, a minor, vs. the Oregon Short Line; demurrer to complaint; February 8.

John H. Courtney, as administrator, vs. the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company; demurrer to complaint; argument at 10 o'clock tomorrow. Death of the plaintiff suggested and J. P. Collins substituted as plaintiff.

John J. Cambers vs. the First National bank of Butte; demurrer to complaint; to be argued tomorrow.

Jacob Kaufman vs. the Burlington & Missouri River road; demurrer to second amended complaint; to be argued on the 17th.

William W. Haardt vs. the Oregon Short Line; demurrer to complaint; to be argued at 10 o'clock Saturday.

Maggie Johnson vs. the National Union; demurrer to answer; to be argued the 17th.

Thompson Campbell vs. Mary Ellen Kelly; demurrer to amended answer; to be argued tomorrow.

Edward Blackley vs. Frank G. and Arthur Higgins; demurrer to complaint; to be argued the 17th.

Vincent Rooney, a minor, vs. the Oregon Short Line Railroad company; motion for an order allowing the defendant to file an amended answer; to be argued Saturday.

Katie J. Wealan vs. the Rio Grande Western Railway company; motion to strike from the files the reply to the plea in abatement.

Alexander Mackel, as trustee, vs. Ras Rochester; cause for re-trial on the 24th of this month.

In the matter of Oliver Gardner, bankrupt; trial on objections to the discharge of the bankrupt; set for the 24th inst.

Mac Thorne vs. the Northern Pacific and Pullman Car companies; demurrer of Pullman company to be heard Thursday.

Postal Telegraph company vs. the Oregon Short Line; action for right of way; set for March 6.

Truly Pecksniffian.
(Washington Star.)

"It is wrong to say that I buy votes," said Senator Sorghum. "Very wrong."

"But you have spent a great deal of money in politics."

"I simply depend on that noble attribute of the human intelligence known as gratitude. A man wants money and I give it to him. Now the chances are that he isn't going to be so ungrateful as not to reciprocate with a vote or two. And if he is so ungrateful I feel justified in making him feel that he is totally unworthy of my further friendship."

What's in a Name.
(Exchange.)

"Good morning, Mr. Smythe, would you please loan me your horse blanket?"

"Certainly; but what do you wish to do with it?"

"I am going to cover my feet in the automobile. It is dreadfully cold."

"A good idea; and will you loan me your automobile coat?"

"What for?"

"I am going to the horse show."

FITZGERALD FIGHTS

SLUGS BOY DRIVER OVER HIS UNPAID WASH BILL.

CHOKED AND KNOCKED DOWN

Attorney Charged With Assault in Third Degree for Indulging in Conduct Prejudicial to Dignity of Bar.

Attorney James T. Fitzgerald, once a deputy in the county attorney's office, but removed for reasons contained in an affidavit still on file in Mr. Ereen's papers, was made the defendant in a complaint charging him with assault in the third degree, issued by Deputy County Attorney Lynch today.

Fitzgerald is accused of slugging a boy laundry driver over an unpaid account which he owes the C. O. D. laundry.

The boy's name is Arthur Smith, and he is 18 years old. The complaint was sworn to by Constable Gleason and filed with a Walkerville justice of the peace.

The practice of the law is a strenuous vocation, as any one will soon learn upon looking into it. But attorneys are supposed to be outside the limits of good form in the premises.

Attorney Fitzgerald, however, is not so narrowly restricted in his methods of meeting the exigencies of life, within and without practice, as some members of the profession, if the story of Arthur Smith be true.

An Alternate Writ.

Smith says he took a package of laundry belonging to Fitzgerald yesterday to the latter's office in the Curtis block yesterday afternoon. He told Fitzgerald that he came to enter the collar and the other things in the record, or file the parcel, or make an appearance in the laundry case in which the lawyer was a party, or something of the sort; but that his instructions from the proprietor of the laundry were in the nature of an alternative writ or an order to pay a back bill owed the laundry or do without the collar and the socks enclosed in the tissue paper under the boy's arm, which were to be brought back to the laundry.

Usually attorneys attack the opposite party with complaints, demurrers, petitions, writs, notices, applications, answers and motions to strike.

Motions to strike were not even warlike enough for Fitzgerald, according to Smith. He had to go all the way and land. Smith says that although the back bill had not been set aside, vacated, subrogated upon another or declared null and void, but was still in force and effect, when he said he should return the cuff and the bandana handkerchief to the laundry, Fitzgerald fell upon him and threw him to the office floor.

Contrary to the Statutes.

Then the lawyer put his knee upon the boy's chest, took him by the throat and applied the garrote to his neck, thus wresting away and divesting and totally despoiling the aforesaid boy of the night-shirt as hereinafter will be more particularly stated.

Having thus, and by the means alleged, extracted the collar from the said Smith's grasp, the attorney allowed him to rise.

Smith here alleges that when upon his feet again the lawyer, without the five days' notice usually and customarily allowed by the statute, suddenly and of his own motion struck him, the said boy, violently upon the side of the head and knocked him down, with deliberation, premeditation, malice aforethought and without authority of law and against the statute made and provided.

Smith lost his senses, and when he regained them Fitzgerald was gone and with him the bandana. The lawyer will be required to clear himself in the justice court or be punished for misdemeanor.

Smith's employer told the deputy county attorney that when Smith returned from his session with the lawyer the side of his face was swollen and puffed up like a balloon.

SCORES ANOTHER SUCCESS.

Again Large and Fashionable Audience Beholds "Barbara Fretliche."

"Barbara Fretliche, the Frederick Girl," was again presented by Mr. James Neill and the Neill company at the Sutton Grand theater last evening, and the audience that witnessed it was ultra-fashionable and very large. The body of theater and the galleries were filled with play-goers, and the storms of applause were evidence of the tremendous success of the play.

The rendition of the play last night was even happier and smoother than on the first night, and the work done by the Neill company and its popular star indicated a complete mastery of the drama by every member in the organization.

The person to whom the play affords the best opportunity for an expression of ability is Miss Edythe Chapman, the lady who takes the title role, and she is equal to the part, which is great in an emotional way. From the presentation of "Barbara Fretliche" by the Neill company the spectators can get a keen conception of the intense tragedy of the war between the North and South and the terrible effect it had on the lives of the people who took part in its storms and discords.

Cheaper and Better.
(Yonkers Statesman.)

Church—What did your wife give you for Christmas—cigars?

Gotham—Worse than that; advice.

Lady (at the employment office)—But why did you leave your last place? I suppose you have a recommendation from the family you have been with?

Lady's Maid—No, marm, I haven't. Naturally they didn't like it to have me go; but when I heard you wanted a lady's maid, I couldn't resist the temptation. I had heard of what a beautiful home yours is, marm, you see.

Lady—Really, I ought not to take you; you may be serving me the same way some time. But, under the circumstances—well, do you think you can come today?

WIFE WITH PISTOL

MR. AND MRS. JOHN ROCK HAVE MORE TROUBLE.

HUSBAND WANTS PROTECTION

Rock Applies to the County Attorney's Office for the Arrest of His Spouse—Says She Has Threatened His Life.

The Rocks had more trouble today. The Rocks consist of John Rock, the husband, and Mary Rock, the wife. Rock lives on North Montana street and works in the mines. Mrs. Rock lived at the same number until a month or so ago, where she conducted a small boarding house.

Since she left the house Mrs. Rock has begun suit for a divorce, charging Rock with cruelty. There is $900 worth of furniture in the house, and the woman asked the court to set it aside for her. It would seem that things were brought to an issue with the Rocks, and that all that remained to be done was to secure the decree of the court and put it into effect.

But John Rock visited the county attorney's office and poured another story into Deputy County Attorney Lynch's ear today. His reason for visiting the office was to have Mrs. Rock arrested for threatening his life and pointing a pistol at his head and driving him out of a lodging house, and his tale was interesting.

The Call Was Interrupted.

He said that he went to a lodging house on Park street to see a lady friend, and that while he was talking to the lady Mrs. Rock jerked the door of the room open and came in flourishing a pistol at his head and driving him out of a lodging house, and his tale was interesting.

He fled and took refuge in a lawyer's office, from which harbor of safety he could hardly be persuaded to depart.

The deputy county attorney declined to issue a complaint to Rock on the ground that the alleged offense of Mrs. Rock was not sufficiently shown by the evidence presented and because it is against the policy of the county attorney's office to sow the seeds of discord in the bosom of families and to make the rifts of disruption more disrupted.

Mrs. Rock was hardly gone when Mrs. Rock appeared in the office looking for the county attorney. She would have nothing to do with Deputy Lynch, for the reason that earlier complaints had failed to extract the sympathy from his flinty breast that she had looked for.

FROM THE PUPILS

CHILDREN OF BUTTE CONTRIBUTE $124 TO MCKINLEY FUND.

LINCOLN SCHOOL LEADS LIST

If All Schools in United States Contribute in Same Proportion Amount Subscribed Would Exceed $500,000.

If the school children of the other cities of the United States contribute to the McKinley memorial fund as generously as did the pupils in the Butte schools there will be a children's fund of more than half a million dollars to erect a worthy tribute to the martyred president.

This morning Superintendent Young announced that the total amount handed in on last Wednesday by the children in the various schools was $124.68.

Most of the money was in nickels and dimes, every little tot contributing to the fund according to his ability.

The amounts collected from other sources have not yet been ascertained, but the children's proportion alone would make a very creditable showing.

Contributions of Various Schools.

The amounts distributed among the various schools are as follows:

High school...$ 8.10
Washington...13.50
Lincoln...19.05
Grant...19.54
Garfield...18.49
Webster...14.25
Franklin...5.25
Monroe...9.50
Jefferson...5.00
Adams...7.05
Blaine...5.25
Greely...2.82
Madison...4.49

Total...$124.68
The contribution of the school at Rucker was $2.25.

The First Steps.

Standing up bravely beside the chair,
Stepping out bravely, too,
But steady! It's very much further there
Than it looked, little chap, to you.

Three whole steps; it's a weary way;
It is perilous, hard and long,
No babies may journey upon it till they
Have grown to be brave and strong!

And little feet and wobbly knees,
And a balance that's hard to keep
Will fall; but roughly on roads like
These—
So easy, if one may creep.

Why should you want to walk at all?
For the erring feet but lead
O'er the slippery floor to a cruel fall,
And a pain that is hard, indeed.

And we who have learned, go stumbling
Through
Life's dangerous pathways, and meet
With many a long, long step, that's too
Severe for our faltering feet.

So be content, for a little while,
To escape the wild alarms
Of those three steps, and just soo and Smile
Safe up in your mother's arms.
—Portland Oregonian.

COPPER MINING QUOTATIONS
(Special to Inter Mountain.)
Boston, Mass., Feb. 4.—The copper mining shares closed today as follows:

Amalgamated	$ 73.87
Anaconda	33.87
Farrot	33.00
Calumet & Hecla	630.00
Tamarack	265.00
Osceola	84.50

WALL STREET MARKET.

Supporting Orders Helped Hold Up Amalgamated and Sugar.
(By Associated Press.)
New York, Feb. 4.—In the opening dealings Sugar gained nearly a point and the large demand for Southern Pacific lifted it a large fraction. Amalgamated Copper sold at 72 1/2 to 75, compared with 75 1/2 last night, and the price sagged further on subsequent dealings.

Stocks weakened immediately, and the railroads lost their small rise. Supporting orders appeared in Amalgamated Copper, and when that stock regained 75 1/2, Sugar was taken in hand and lifted to 128 1/2.

This buying helped other stocks somewhat. Lackawanna jumped 6 1/2 points to 236 1/2. The advance in Sugar and Copper was checked by realizing sales, but the general market was maintained by strength at other points. Bonds were irregular.

Prices broke sharply on the announcement of gold exports for Thursday. Lackawanna reacted 4, Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis jumped 10 1/2 on light transactions and Canadian Pacific rose over a point. Amalgamated fell to 74. The market became almost lifeless, but hardened slightly.

A spurt of Metropolitan Street Railway to 172 1/2 helped the other tractions, but did not benefit the general market, which dropped slowly. Amalgamated extended its loss 2 1/2 and Sugar fell to 127. The closing was dull and heavy.

Gold for Export.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Feb. 4.—It is announced that the National City bank has engaged $1,000,000 in gold for export on Thursday. Lazard Freres have engaged $1,500,000 for export on the same date.

Copper Buying Checked.

(By Associated Press.)
London, Feb. 4.—Fresh buying orders for copper today was checked by weak New York reports, inducing realizations. The market was very professional. Two thousand tons were sold.

"I'll be glad when I'm a grown-up man," said the thoughtful youngster.
"Why?"
"Because then I can get my Christmas presents without having to be good beforehand."

"Yes, ma'am," said the facetious clerk, "these are genuine Indian moccasins."
"You don't say," said the old lady.
"Fact, ma'am, I assure you. Made on the 'Last of the Mohicans.'"—Philadelphia Press.
